Typhoon Hits Lethal Blow In Hong Kong

39 Known Dead, 397 Injured By Powerful Storm

HONG KONG (AP) — Typhoon Wanda swooped down on this refugee crowded British colony Saturday and in a few nightmarish hours left at least 39 persons dead 13 missing, 397 injured and more than 10,000 homeless.

Rescue workers still digging into flooded and demolished homes late Saturday night feared the death toll could be doubled before their grim task was completed.

WORST IN YEARS

It was the most destructive typhoon to hit Hong Kong in a quarter century.

Damage—still unestimated — is expected to run into millions of dollars.

The Royal Observatory said Wanda drenched the colony, which had been suffering its worst drought in 50 years, with six inches of rain in 16 hours.

Wanda's savage winds, with peak gusts of 160 miles an hour, also triggered a six-foot tide that left half of Shatin, a small satellite town near the Chinese Communist border, under water. Shatin's fire station was flooded to the roof, and more than 1,000 refugees huddled for shelter in the wind-whipped railroad station.

Wanda churned Hong Kong's usually placid picture-postcard harbor into a raging cauldron that sent three oceangoing freighters aground, tore seven others loose from their moorings and swamped or sank uncounted hundreds of sampans, junks and other small craft.

"It is a miracle hundreds were not drowned in the harbor," a Marine Department spokesman said. He reported crewmen from the distressed major vessels safely brought ashore.

Most of the casualties on land were refugees from Communist China. Their flimsy fishing village shacks were inundated. Squatter huts clinging to Hong Kong's sheer hillsides were swept away by wind and landslides.

New Year Of School To Begin

School bells ring Tuesday for approximately 26,000 public school students in the City of Monroe and Ouachita Parish.

The first four days, Tuesday through Friday, of the 1962-63 school year will be on a partial schedule -- mornings only.

St. Matthew's Catholic High School will also open Tuesday.

Officials said these four days will be devoted to registration of students, room assignments, issuing books and classwork assignments.

Regular full - day class schedules will begin on Monday, Sept. 10.

Superintendent W. W. Ward anticipates approximately 15,500 students to enroll in parish schools.

In the Monroe City System, Superintendent Van D Odom is anticipating about 10,500 students.

Both systems are expected to show a sizeable increase in enrollment over the 1961-62 school year. Parish schools had 14,984 students enrolled on the final day of the past school year, while the city schools had about 10,000.

Odom has predicted an increase of five to eight per cent in this year's enrollment over the past year.

The new school year is scheduled to end May 31, 1963.

Holidays during the year will include Nov. 19-21, Louisiana Teachers Association convention in New Orleans; Nov. 22-23, Thanksgiving; Dec. 20 (noon)-Jan. 2, Christmas; and April 11-12, spring vacation.

Georgia Gets 10-Inch Deluge

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Labor Day weekenders had drenching rains to cope with in some sections Saturday, and steamy heat made for limp celebrating in others.

Thunderstorms splashed the Brunswick, Ga., area with up to 10 inches of rainfall and caused extensive flooding on St. Simons Island nearby.

Rain was spotty elsewhere but heavy in some sections. Much of it was shed by a collision of an eastward driving cold front with warm humid air in the Ohio Valley region. The cold front extended in mid-afternoon from western New York State to Texas.

STATE SUPREME COURT

Chief Justice Runoff Victor

Louisiana Chief Justice John B. Fournet won renomination to the State Supreme Court in Saturday's Democratic primary runoff, surviving one of the toughest battles of his long political career.

With only one precinct missing from the third Supreme Court district, Fournet defeated his 38-year - old opponent, City Judge James Nelson Lee of Bunkie, by 2,700 votes. Fournet, 67, won his first election battle before Lee was born.

CHIEF JUSTICE FOURNET

Returns from 410 of 411 precincts gave Fournet 44,804 votes to 42,085 for Lee.

Fournet, a veteran political leader was standing beside the late Huey P. Long when the self-styled Kingfish was felled by an assassin's bullet 27 years ago. Fournet, who lives in Jennings, faced his first opposition for the tribunal since being elected shortly before Long died.

Fournet, who had served as lieutenant governor, acting governor and speaker of the state House, has served on the Supreme Court since 1935.

Lee ran only 1,500 votes behind the veteran Fournet in the first primary July 28. Lee attacked Fournet's age, claiming the chief justice would be forced to retire in 1970 when he will be 75 and could not serve out his 14-year term.

Crosses Burned In Monroe, Area

Flaming crosses burned across north Louisiana Saturday night in an apparently coordinated effort by the Ku Klux Klan.

Crosses were reported burning in Tallulah, Winnsboro, Waverly, Crowville, Monroe, West Monroe, Caldwell Parish and at Darnell.

A statement was gained from a hooded Klansman at Tallulah threatening to light up areas in all of northeast Louisiana. He said crosses would appear in Lake Providence, Tallulah, Newellton, Oak Grove, St. Joseph, Waterproof, Ferriday, Winnsboro, Delhi, Rayville, Monroe, West Monroe, Bastrop, Jonesville, Harrisonburg, Jena, Columbia, Wisner, Sicily Island and Vidalia.

BURNINGS REPORTED

He said about 1,000 to 1,500 were scheduled to be burned throughout the state. He said the burnings were a protest against racial activities in Louisiana.

Reports from Columbia said that there were three crosses burned in Caldwell Parish.

From Tallulah it was learned that a cross was burned on West Green Street and another near Talla-Bena. Literature was said to have been distributed but the chief of police of Tallulah, Jimmy Rogan, said there was no evidence of local people being involved. He said a fire truck was dispatched to the scene.

Franklin Parish reported the largest outbreak with crosses burned in six sites, including the Winnsboro courthouse square. They were also reported at the Franklin Parish Training School, the Waverly Negro school, at Crowville, and on the east edge of Winnsboro.

Morning World correspondent Otis Hassell said they were all alike; four and a half feet high with the cross bolted on. A sign was stuck in the ground in front of each one with this inscription:

"Thousands of Klansmen Watching, Waiting. Ku Klux Klan, Don't Be Misled. Let Your Conscience Guide You."

In the Twin Cities cross burnings were confirmed at the parking lot across the street from the

Dog Is 'Buying' Big Supermart

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)— A silver-haired German schnauzer is buying a $100,000 supermarket that, being a dog, she isn't allowed to enter.

John Foster Veltmann, 43, sold his supermarket to his pet because he is having a battle over a community property settlement with his estranged wife.

Veltmann, his lawyer and Junior Crickett, the pooch, went Friday to an escrow company and completed negotiations for a six month escrow.

ST. JOSEPH GIRL

Soybean Festival Queen Is Named

By JIMMY HATTEN
State Editor

JONESVILLE — The second annual Soybean Festival ended a three day run here Saturday night with the crowning of a new queen, brown eyed Jane Parks, 17, of St. Joseph.

Miss Parks, blackhaired, 5 feet 4 inches and 36-22½-36, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Parks.

Earlier in the day the Ark.-La.-Tex. sky divers of Shreveport performed at the local air strip here. Both the air show and the pageant drew large crowds. Championship stunt flyer Marion Cole of Monroe and sky diver Ray Routen of Harrisonburg also performed.

Second runner up at the pageant was 17-year-old Marty Guinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Guinn of Jonesville. She is a hazel eyed blonde, 5 ft. 5 in. and 35-22½-35.

Rounding out the top five were Beverly Jane Burrill of Monterey, Gladys Wynn Osborn of Vidalia and Patsy Ann Vanya of Ferriday.

Miss Parks, a graduate of Joseph Davidson High School at St. Joseph will enter LSU as a freshman this fall. She was sponsored by the St. Joseph Rotary Club.

The festival opened Thursday with a teen day swim meet at the Jonesville swimming pool and a fire works display.

Friday there was an all day art show and parade. Another attraction at the festival was a fishing contest held Monday through Saturday. Winners are General Hewitt, of Mansville, bass; Allen Whittington of Jena, white perch; and Mrs. Imogene McMillin of Jonesville, bream. J. C. Oxley won chairman of the fishing contest.

State Board Results Are Incomplete

By SAM HANNA
World Staff Writer

W. E. Whetstone, a telephone company executive of Monroe, captured a Democratic victory Saturday in a run-off for the State Board of Education with a 3,000-vote lead over John Mulhearn.

With all but eight precincts reporting, unofficial returns from 266 precincts in 13 parishes gave Whetstone a total 13,488 votes.

But Mulhearn, a Monroe insurance man who ran about 7,000 votes behind Whetstone in the first primary, ran a close second with 10,315 votes.

SMALLER LEAD

Whetstone carried all but three parishes, but failed to build expected big lead in Ouachita where he polled 5,425 votes to Mulhearn's 4,203.

The Democratic victor now goes into a general election on Nov. 6 against Republican George Snellings, a Monroe attorney.

With over 70,000 Democrats registered in the second primary, the turn-out was light with 23,302 persons voting in the 266 precincts.

Precincts still out Saturday night reportedly were small.

Shortly after his election trend was evident, Whetstone said, "I will do everything I can to live up to the fine reputation that was made by Col. George T. Madison during his long tenure in this office."

Madison, a Bastrop attorney, served on the board for over 30 years before retiring.

While expressing his appreciation to the voters, Whetstone explained, "The State Board of Education controls our three fine colleges in the Fifth District, our trade schools and our local schools. The board sets the education policies for the entire state."

He added, "Realizing that the post that I now seek in the general election is of extreme im-

Cuba Agents Claim Soviet Troops Land

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—A Cuban underground leader produced written reports Saturday he said came from Havana agents claiming an estimated 6,000 Soviet troops arrived in Cuba on July 31 on four Soviet ships.

The reports, shown to a reporter, were dated Aug. 12. The leader said they were delayed in transit.

DETAILS GIVEN

The messages said half of the troops landed at Mariel, a port 30 miles west of Havana, and the other half at Nicaro, Bay of Nipe, in Oriente Province. Nicaro is about 50 miles northwest of the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo Bay.

The Soviet soldiers wore green uniforms and carried heavy packs and submachine guns, the reports said. Trucks, light artillery and antiaircraft weapons were unloaded, the messages added.

Cuban exiles in the United States also claim that thousands of Soviet troops have landed in Cuba recently.

President Kennedy said at an Aug. 22 news conference that an increased number of Soviet technicians have reached Cuba but that the United States had no information about Soviet troop arrivals there.

The reports shown by the underground leader here said that most of the soldiers who landed at Nicaro now are concentrated at a base in Mayari Arriba, about 30 miles northwest of Guantanamo.

Another large concentration was reported stationed at San Julian air base near Mariel, the underground dispatches said, adding that it appeared rocket launching sites were under construction there.

Soviet submarines were reported in El Mariel harbor, the dispatches said.

State's Beauty Winner Departs For Contest

Miss Louisiana departed early Saturday for the Miss America Pageant to be held at Atlantic City, N. J.

Diana Jane Smith of Oak Ridge, selected as the state's outstanding beauty at the Louisiana Pageant at Lake Providence, boarded a plane at Selman Field for her trip northeastward.

Since her selection at Lake Providence in July, she has appeared at numerous functions around the state.

She will be competing with entrants from all states of the union at the pageant, scheduled Sept. 3-9.

When, as predicted by sociologists, the nation is all one big city, crime should plummet. There wouldn't be any out-of-town mobs to rob the bank.

HOLIDAY TRAFFIC TOLL

Deaths Soaring At Record Pace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Deaths on the nation's roadways continued a swift rise toward a predicted record Saturday as the Labor Day holiday was one-third gone.

The National Safety Council said the death toll "is running ahead of any previous Labor Day weekend including the 1951 record of 461. The toll is running 20 per cent of last year."

The president of the Minnesota Automobile Association, E. Ray Cory, 70, of Austin, Minn., was one of the victims. Cory, a vice president of the American Automobile Association, was killed in a collision north of Hastings, Minn.

TRAGIC CRASHES

Twenty-two persons perished in four crashes in Arkansas, Minnesota, West Virginia and Nebraska, swelling the total early in the holiday.

Widespread rain from New England to the southern Great Plains added to the normal hazards of holiday driving.

Howard Pyle, National Safety Council president, described the increase as "alarming," and attributed it "to one of the biggest traffic jams in the nation's history and failure to compensate for it by careful driving."

Traffic	143
Boating	5
Drowning	6
Miscellaneous	17
Total	171

The council said more than 500 persons may be killed unless the trend is reversed.

The record traffic toll for a Labor Day weekend was 461 in 1951. Last year's toll of 386 marked only the third time in 12 years that the count dropped below 400. The lowest traffic toll for the Labor Day holiday in recent years was 246 in 1946.

For comparative purposes, the Associated Press made a nationwide count of accidental deaths in the 78 - hour non - holiday period from 6 p.m. local time Friday, Aug. 17 to Monday midnight, Aug 20. There were 256 traffic deaths, 43 boating fatalities, 54 drownings and 85 deaths from miscellaneous causes for a total of 438.

The safety council said the traffic toll averages 330 for a 78-hour late summer nonholiday weekend.

The six victims of Arkansas' multiple death crash perished when two cars collided head on Friday night in a driving rainstorm near Wemer.

Football Info Appears Today In The World

An outstanding feature of today's Monroe Morning World is a section chocked full of football information. There's a rundown and schedule on high school teams in this area, plus stories about the strong Southeastern Conference, Northeast and Louisiana Tech.

In it, you'll find many hours of pleasant reading. And, too, you'll want to keep this section for reference during the regular football season which officially opens this week.

In addition to the football section, you'll find many other interesting features in Sunday's World — such as the Spotlight page, which gives you background information on the events that are making headlines, the Garden and Home page which features many informative articles on lawns, flowers, cameras, stamps and sewing.

These are only a few of the features you'll find in today's World.

AIR DEFENSE TEST

Fast Jets To Take Over Skies Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 1,000 jet interceptors and bombers will engage in mock combat over a 14-million-square-mile arena Sunday in "Exercise Sky Shield III."

This will be a training exercise for the North American Air Defense Command's manned fighters and missile defense by simulation against bombers of the Strategic Air Command. None of the participating planes will carry nuclear weapons, the defense department said.

It is intended to prove neither that the SAC attacking force nor the NORAD defending force is better.

But it will prove one thing, that the civilian economy of the United States and Canada can get along without commercial air transportation for 5½ hours. Beginning at 2 p.m., all commercial and private aircraft in 49 states and Canada will be grounded, while the sky is turned over to the vast training exercise of the two countries' military.

Hawaii will not be affected and the grounding period in Alaska will be only 3½ hours.

Grounding of all but participating military aircraft is necessary because the fighters and bombers will be using electronic counter measures against radar and communications. Radar and radio are vital in the navigation of commercial and private aircraft.

For the 5½-hour period, more than 1,800 commercial flights in the United States and about 130 in Canada will be grounded. In addition, hundreds of flights normally made on a Sunday by private fliers will be impossible. The Defense Department estimates that 31 foreign airline flights will have to be cancelled or postponed.

2 Members Named To Parish Board

By RICHARD TYLER
World Staff Writer

Complete but unofficial returns from Saturday's second Democratic primary gave victories in the race for two seats on the Ouachita Parish school board to M. L. "Mack" Owens Jr. and Roy Cash.

Both of Ward Five, West Monroe bank executive Owens and paper mill employee Cash were survivors of a first primary July 28 which pared the field of candidates from 18 to four.

Beaten by varying margins in 14 Ward Five precincts balloting Saturday were A. P. Burkett, former West Monroe alderman, and another West Monroe paper miller, Paul L. Crowell.

OWENS LEADS

The totals showed Owens with 2758 votes, Cash with 1861, and Crowell and Burkett with 1708 and 1348, respectively. Their positions mirrored the standings at the close of first primary voting, but for a move up from third to fourth spot by Crowell, who pressed Cash throughout. Burkett fell to last position.

Besides returning members, Owens and Cash join on the school board Charles G. Drennan, Ward One; Warren E. Palmer, Ward Two; and Dr. F. H. Hammonds and Fred McVay, Ward Three, all elected in July.

Voting Saturday was held by most officials to have been light with but 3837 voters bothering to register an opinion in the school board referendum. It represented only about 38 per cent of the total of more than 10,000 persons qualified to vote in Ward Five.

Two Balk On Bonds In Dispute

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (AP) — Two Moss Point women, arrested in a dispute with school authorities over school bus stops, refused Saturday to let their husbands post bond.

Mrs. Mary Stork and Mrs. Romana Bosarge were arrested Friday after they forced a public school bus from the Moss Point School District to stop and pick up their children at an unscheduled stop.

They were charged with disturbing the peace and bond was set at $500 each. When their husbands came to the Jackson County jail, the women refused to let them post the bond.

Sheriff James Grisley said the charges were filed by the bus driver.

Mrs. Stork's husband, W. C. Stork, said the school bus formerly stopped at a point on Bayou Combest Road midway between his house and Bosarge's. Now, he said, it drives past both houses but doesn't stop at either.

Eddie Hans, who said he represented a number of persons protesting the new bus schedule, said the school board claimed the move was necessary to save money. However, he added, it means that some children have to walk up to a mile each morning and afternoon.

Hans said the new stops are a mile and a mile and one-half apart.

New Year Of School To Begin

School bells ring Tuesday for approximately 26,000 public school students in the City of Monroe and Ouachita Parish.

The first four days, Tuesday through Friday, of the 1962-63 school year will be on a partial schedule — mornings only.

St. Matthew's Catholic High School will also open Tuesday.

Officials said these four days will be devoted to registration of students, room assignments, issuing books and classwork assignments.

Regular full - day class schedules will begin on Monday, Sept. 10.

Superintendent W. W. Ward anticipates approximately 15,500 students to enroll in parish schools.

In the Monroe City System, Superintendent Van D Odom is anticipating about 10,500 students.

Both systems are expected to show a sizeabie increase in enrollment over the 1961-62 school year. Parish schools had 14,984 students enrolled on the final day of the past school year, while the city schools had about 10,000.

Whetstone carried all but three parishes, but failed to build expected big lead in Ouachita where he polled 5,425 votes to Mulhearn's 4,203.

The Democratic victor now goes into a general election on Nov. 6 against Republican George Snellings, a Monroe attorney.

With over 70,000 Democrats registered in the second primary, the turn-out was light with 23,802 persons voting in the 266 precincts.

Precincts still out Saturday night reportedly were small.

Shortly after his election trend was evident, Whetstone said, "I will do everything I can to live up to the fine reputation that was made by Col. George T. Madison during his long tenure in this office."

Madison, a Bastrop attorney, served on the board for over 30 years before retiring.

While expressing his appreciation to the voters, Whetstone explained, "The State Board of Education controls our three fine colleges in the Fifth District, our trade schools and our local schools. The board sets the education policies for the entire state."

He added, "Realizing that the post that I now seek in the general election is of extreme im-

Cuba Agents Claim Soviet Troops Land

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—A Cuban underground leader produced written reports Saturday he said came from Havana agents claiming an estimated 6,000 Soviet troops arrived in Cuba on July 31 on four Soviet ships.

The reports, shown to a reporter, were dated Aug. 12. The leader said they were delayed in transit.

DETAILS GIVEN

The messages said half of the troops landed at Mariel, a port 30 miles west of Havana, and the other half at Nicaro, Bay of Nipe, in Oriente Province. Nicaro is about 50 miles northwest of the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo Bay.

The Soviet soldiers wore green uniforms and carried heavy packs and submachine guns, the reports said. Trucks, light artillery and antiaircraft weapons were unloaded, the messages added.

Cuban exiles in the United States also claim that thousands of Soviet troops have landed in Cuba recently.

President Kennedy said at an Aug. 22 news conference that an increased number of Soviet technicians have reached Cuba but that the United States had no information about Soviet troop arrivals there.

The reports shown by the underground leader here said that most of the soldiers who landed at Nicaro now are concentrated at a base in Mayari Arriba, about 30 miles northwest of Guantanamo.

Another large concentration was reported stationed at San Julian air base near Mariel, the underground dispatches said, adding that it appeared rocket launching sites were under construction there.

Soviet submarines were reported in El Mariel harbor, the dispatches said.

State's Beauty Winner Departs For Contest

Miss Louisiana departed early Saturday for the Miss America Pageant to be held at Atlantic City, N. J.

Diana Jane Smith of Oak Ridge, selected as the state's outstanding beauty at the Louisiana Pageant at Lake Providence, boarded a plane at Selman Field for her trip northeastward.

Since her selection at Lake Providence in July, she has appeared at numerous functions around the state.

She will be competing with entrants from all states of the union at the pageant, scheduled Sept. 3-9.

HOLIDAY TRAFFIC TOLL

Deaths Soaring At Record Pace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Deaths on the nation's roadways continued a swift rise toward a predicted record Saturday as the Labor Day holiday was one-third gone.

The National Safety Council said the death toll "is running ahead of any previous Labor Day weekend including the 1951 record of 4661. The toll is running 20 per cent of last year."

The president of the Minnesota Automobile Association, E. Ray Cory, 70, of Austin, Minn., was one of the victims. Cory, a vice president of the American Automobile Association, was killed in a collision north of Hastings, Minn.

TRAGIC CRASHES

Twenty-two persons perished in four crashes in Arkansas, Minnesota, West Virginia and Nebraska, swelling the total early in the holiday.

Widespread rain from New England to the southern Great Plains added to the normal hazards of holiday driving.

Howard Pyle, National Safety Council president, described the increase as "alarming," and attributed it "to one of the biggest traffic jams in the nation's history and failure to compensate for it by careful driving."

Traffic	143
Boating	5
Drowning	6
Miscellaneous	17
Total	171

The council said more than 500 persons may be killed unless the trend is reversed.

The record traffic toll for a Labor Day weekend was 461 in 1951. Last year's toll of 386 marked only the third time in 12 years that the count dropped below 400. The lowest traffic toll for the Labor Day holiday in recent years was 246 in 1946.

For comparative purposes, the Associated Press made a nationwide count of accidental deaths in the 78 - hour non - holiday period from 6 p.m. local time Friday, Aug. 17 to Monday midnight, Aug. 20. There were 256 traffic deaths, 43 boating fatalities, 54 drownings and 85 deaths from miscellaneous causes for a total of 438.

The safety council said the traffic toll averages 330 for a 78-hour late summer nonholiday weekend.

The six victims of Arkansas' multiple death crash perished when two cars collided head on Friday night in a driving rainstorm near Weiner.

Football Info Appears Today In The World

An outstanding feature of today's Monroe Morning World is a section chocked full of football information. There's a rundown and schedule on high school teams in this area, plus stories about the strong Southeastern Conference, Northeast and Louisiana Tech.

In it, you'll find many hours of pleasant reading. And, too, you'll want to keep this section for reference during the regular football season which officially opens this week.

In addition to the football section, you'll find many other interesting features in Sunday's World — such as the Spotlight page, which gives you background information on the events that are making headlines, the Garden and Home page which features many informative articles on lawns, flowers, cameras, stamps and sewing.

These are only a few of the features you'll find in today's World.

AIR DEFENSE TEST

Fast Jets To Take Over Skies Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 1,600 jet interceptors and bombers will engage in mock combat over a 14-million-square-mile arena Sunday in "Exercise Sky Shield III."

This will be a training exercise for the North American Air Defense Command's manned fighters and missile defense (by simulation) against bombers of the Strategic Air Command. None of the participating planes will carry nuclear weapons, the defense department said.

It is intended to prove neither that the SAC attacking force nor the NORAD defending force is better.

But it will prove one thing: that the civilian economy of the United States and Canada can get along without commercial air transportation for 5½ hours. Beginning at 2 p.m., all commercial and private aircraft in 49 states and Canada will be grounded, while the sky is turned over to the vast training exercise of the two countries' military.

Hawaii will not be affected and the grounding period in Alaska will be only 3½ hours.

Grounding of all but participating military aircraft is necessary because the fighters and bombers will be using electronic counter measures against radar and communications. Radar and radio are vital in the navigation of commercial and private aircraft.

For the 5½-hour period, more than 1,800 commercial flights in the United States and about 130 in Canada will be grounded. In addition, hundreds of flights normally made on a Sunday by private fliers will be impossible. The Defense Department estimates that 31 foreign airline flights will have to be cancelled or postponed.

2 Members Named To Parish Board

By RICHARD TYLER
World Staff Writer

Complete but unofficial returns from Saturday's second Democratic primary gave victories in the race for two seats on the Ouachita Parish school board to M. L. "Mack" Owens Jr. and Roy Cash.

Both of Ward Five, West Monroe bank executive Owens and paper mill employee Cash were survivors of a first primary July 28 which pared the field of candidates from 18 to four.

Beaten by varying margins in 14 Ward Five precincts balloting Saturday were A. P. Burkett, former West Monroe alderman, and another West Monroe paper miller, Paul L. Crowell.

OWENS LEADS

The totals showed Owens with 2758 votes, Cash with 1861, and Crowell and Burkett with 1708 and 1348, respectively. Their positions mirrored the standings at the close of first primary voting, but for a move up from third to fourth spot by Crowell, who pressed Cash throughout. Burkett fell to last position.

Besides returning members, Owens and Cash join on the school board Charles G. Drennan, Ward One; Warren E. Palmer, Ward Two; and Dr. F. H. Hammonds and Fred McVay, Ward Three, all elected in July.

Voting Saturday was held by most officials to have been light with but 3837 voters bothering to register an opinion in the school board referendum. It represented only about 38 per cent of the total of more than 10,000 persons qualified to vote in Ward Five.

Two Balk On Bonds In Dispute

PASCAGOULA, Miss. (AP) — Two Moss Point women, arrested in a dispute with school authorities over school bus stops, refused Saturday to let their husbands post bond.

Mrs. Mary Stork and Mrs. Romana Bosarge were arrested Friday after they forced a public school bus from the Moss Point School District to stop and pick up their children at an unscheduled stop.

They were charged with disturbing the peace and bond was set at $500 each. When their husbands came to the Jackson County jail, the women refused to let them post the bond.

Sheriff James Grisley said the charges were filed by the bus driver.

Mrs. Stork's husband, W. C. Stork, said the school bus formerly stopped at a point on Bayou Combest Road midway between his house and Bosarge's. Now, he said, it drives past both houses but doesn't stop at either.

Eddie Hans, who said he represented a number of persons protesting the new bus schedule, said the school board claimed the move was necessary to save money. However, he added, it means that some children have to walk up to a mile each morning and afternoon.

Hans said the new stops are a mile and a mile and one-half apart.

Registration Set For Northeast; Center To Open

Northeast Louisiana State College will hold regular registration for the fall semester on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 19-20, amidst the opening of a new College Union Building that completes a two - year construction program in excess of $5 million.

Registration for Saturday, late afternoon and evening classes will be held Thursday and Friday, Sept. 13-14, and Freshman Orientation will be held Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 17-18.

Classes will begin Friday, Sept. 21.

The elaborate student center being occupied at the beginning of the fall semester is one of three buildings completed during the summer. Ouachita Hall, a modern facility for men, and Monroe Hall, another air - conditioned dormitory for women, are now available, giving Northeast housing for approximately 1,200 students.

EXPECT INCREASE

This fall's enrollment is expected to surpass last year's high of 2,992, and for the first time the College's student body will have an air - conditioned center of entertainment.

The College Union will contain an eight - lane bowling alley, a small theatre, a ballroom, snack bar, barbershop, photography studio, meeting rooms, games rooms, student council offices, and other facilities to make it one of the most functional in the South.

No student will be permitted to register for credit after Thursday, Sept. 20, without special permission. The final date for adding subjects for credit or making subject changes is Sept. 29.

Students wishing to enroll at Northeast and who have not already made application for admission should contact Dr. Lake Oxford, registrar, as soon as possible.

Students are urged to take the Orientation Guidance Tests for Entering Undergraduates, if they have not already had the tests, on Friday, Sept. 7 or Saturday, Sept. 8. The tests will be given in Gunby Dinning Hall starting at 8 a.m.

Those who are unable to take the tests on either of those days will be able to take the tests on Monday, Sept. 17, the first day of Freshman Orientation.

More Talent Is Announced For Festival

COLUMBIA (Special) — Additional talent for the Caldwell Parish Library Art Festival scheduled here Oct. 6 was announced today.

One of the native sons of Caldwell Parish who will participate in the giant autograph party is Rev. Minns S. Robertson.

Rev. Robertson was born near Riverton in Caldwell Parish and has recently been assigned to the Parish and has recently been assigned to the pastorate of the Columbia Methodist Church.

"To God Alone," a Robertson work, is an historical novel of Bible times, portraying the faith of the Jewish people.

REVIEW SLATED

Prior to the festival, the Swift Memorial Bible Class will sponsor a review of "To God Alone" by Rev. Robertson at the Columbia Methodist Church, Oct. 3.

Another author from a well-known family in Caldwell Parish is Rev. Glen Lee Greene, who now lives at Pineville. Rev. Green has written two books, "A History of the Baptist of Oak Ridge, Louisiana" and "Masonry in Louisiana."

Rev. Greene is vice president of Louisiana Baptist Historical Society and is chairman of the Committee on History of the Grand Lodge of the State of Louisiana, F&AM.

Mrs. Joy Eason of Sterlington will display her ceramics at the festival.

Mrs. Eason, a painstaking researcher for her works, has used Columbia clay tuxe mixed with a Texas buff - colored clay for some of her creations. She has a varied collection for display.

Two judges for the festival have also been announced. They are Miss Ashley Hamilton of Monroe, adult division and Mrs. Judith C. Yarberry of Ruston, art consultant for Lincoln Parish Schools, youth division.

Miss Hamilton received a Bachelor of Fine Arts from Newcomb College and Master of Fine Arts from Tulane University.

Mrs. Yarberry is a graduate of Louisiana Tech, receiving a Bachelor of Arts in Education. She has presented art shows in each school in the parish and has also displayed work in downtown Ruston.

Robert Kennedy Action Blasted In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Joe T. Patterson said Saturday the entry of Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy in the Meredith suit "is another evidence of the fact that the house of Kennedy is wholly incapable of resisting pressure from the NAACP and other radical groups."

The suit in mention was filed by the Justice Department as a "friend of the court" in the case of 29-year-old James Meredith, a Kosciusko Negro seeking admittance to the all-white University of Mississippi.

The 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ordered the University of Mississippi to admit Meredith, but the order was revoked by U. S. Dist. Judge Ben Cameron at Biloxi.

Attorneys then asked the Supreme Court to enter the case and revoke Cameron's stay.

Patterson, in a prepared release, said "the entry of Robert Kennedy in the Meredith suit comes as no surprise to me."

Patterson hit comments by Kennedy on the case. Patterson said the U. S. attorny general referred to the action taken by Judge Cameron as being " 'altogether lawless' ".

St. Matthew's Slates Opening Here On Tuesday

The Very Rev. J. C. Marsh, pastor and director of St. Matthew's High School, has announced that school will open Tuesday. Half-day classes will be held the first week. Regular full day schedule will go into effect the following week.

Faculty members include the Rev. Warren LaRoque, Religion and social studies; Sister M. Rita, D.C. Principal and sponsor of grade 12, mathematics, science, English, and Spanish; Sister M. Philomena, D.C., grade 7; Sister Magdalen, D.C., librarian and commerce; Sister M. Dorothea D.C., sponsor of grade 11, English and Latin; Sister M. Michael, D.C. assistant - principal, and sponsor of grade 10, English, French, and choir.

Sister Margaret Rose, D.C., sponsor of grade eight, mathematics, shorthand, science, and debate; Sister Aloysius, D.C., music; Mrs. W. L. Licht, home economics; Mrs. W. M. Blanchard, sponsor of grade nine, English and speech; Mrs. Joy Greene, science and mathematics; Coach John Edward Bartmess, mathematics and world history; and Coach Billy Joe Daniel, social studies.

St. Matthew's High School was founded by The Daughters of the Cross in 1866, under the direction of Father Louis Gergaud, first pastor of the church.

The school is approved by the State Department of Education of Louisiana.

Ellender Raps Military Aid To Western Europe

WASHINGTON (Special) — Sen. Allen J. Ellender said Saturday the U.S. should cut out — or drastically reduce — all foreign aid for Western Europe.

He said that military aid, in particular, should be shut off to force the Western European countires to shoulder a higher share of the burden of armament costs.

The Louisiana Senator said the military aid is supposed "to help those countries strengthen themselves against communism. But far beyond helping them, we are carrying a large part of the burden alone."

Much of the aid money, he stated, is actually going to build up the economies of European countries. This year, he said the State Department is asking $314 million for military aid in Western Europe, part of which is earmarked to build armament plants in those countries.

Ellender said all the Western European countries are now spending about $15 billion a year for defenses, while the U.S. alone is spending about $51 billion.

A member of the Senate appropriations committee, Ellender said he will attempt to make a number of other cuts in the current request for $4.8 billion in foreign aid for the current fiscal year.

N.Y. Has Third Smallpox Scare In Three Weeks

NEW YORK (AP)—Idlewild Airport had a third smallpox score in three weeks Saturday—but this one lasted just one hour and 15 minutes.

The U.S. Health Service at the airport was reluctant to give details.

However, it was learned that 138 passengers and the crew who arrived on a Boac flight from London were held in quarantine when a rash on a child passenger was discovered.

The east wing of the international arrivals building was sealed off while officials checked to determine whether the rash was smallpox. It was a heat rash.

The name of the child was not disclosed.

On Friday some 200 persons were quarantined for up to five hours until health authorities determined that a rash on three small children was a result of mite bites. The children of Mrs. Erecema Castiglione were returning to Philadelphia from a visit to relatives in Sao Paolo, Brazil.

Last Aug. 11, a 15-year-old Canadian boy en route home from Brazil slipped through quarantine at Idlewild without examination and later came down with smallpox. This led to the vaccination of more than 10,000 persons who had come in contact with the boy, James Orr, as he passed through New York.

Johnson Finds Greeks Unhappy Over U.S. Aid

By PHIL DOPOULOS

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—U. S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson did some fence mending Saturday in his first official talks with Greek leaders disappointed by a cut in American aid.

"I'm satisfied with this morning's talks" said Premier Constantine Carmanlis after confering 90 minutes with Johnson. "The American vice president showed a great understanding of our problems."

"We agreed there was a strong and lasting friendship (between Greece and the United States) and that we should face our problems together shoulder to shoulder" said Johnson as he and Caramanlis met newsmen following their conference.

On the surface Greek and American relations are as sunny as the Athenian sky. Down deep they are still close allies. But Greeks cannot hide their disappointment at a $20-million cut ordered in U. S. aid last month.

U.S. Says Evidence Strong Of Cuban Attack On Plane

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Authoritative sources said Saturday the U. S. government has strong eyewitness evidence of Cuban shooting at a U. S. Navy plane Thursday, but no photographs.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro described as absolutely false Friday's White House announcement that two small vessels—believed to be Cuban—fired at the U. S. patrol craft in international waters, 15 miles off Cuba's northern coast.

State Department press officer Joseph W Reap stood by the White House announcement and denied Castro's renewed charge of aggressive designs by the United States.

Authoritative informants gave this account:

The two-engined Navy patrol plane, manned by three reservists, was on a routine training flight Thursday afternoon when it spotted the two small ships on its radar.

The United States has been keeping a close watch for Soviet shipments to Cuba, and the American plane swooped near for a closer look.

It was at this point that the Navy fliers believe they were fired upon. But when they reported the incident higher U. S. authorities at first were skeptical.

The plane had not been hit. One of the crewmen said he had heard the sound of the guns on the craft but this claim was doubted by investigators because of the noise created by the plane's piston engines.

Also, the U. S. plane was not outfitted with photographic gear, and the crewmen presented no pictures of the shooting. And the guns were not using easily seen tracer bullets, the fliers acknowledged.

After intensive interrogration, however, the higher authorities were convinced beyond reasonable doubt that the Navy airmen were telling a straight story.

What was described as conclusive evidence came in details supplied by the fliers from their close-in observation.

While their exact distance from the ships was not released, the airmen were said to have been close enough to see seamen using the shoulder fittings of guns about 20mm. or 50-caliber size mounted on the decks of the boats.

Two of the three crewmen said they saw flashes from the muzzles of the guns aimed in their direction.

The pilot told newsmen in Norfolk, Va., Saturday he could not say for certain the attackers were Cuban.

U.S. officials were inclined to assess the shooting as a spur-of-the-moment response by Castro seamen keyed up by their leader's repeated allegations of U.S. aggression and tense from last week's shelling of a Havana suburb by anti-Castro exiles.

Despite Castro's bellicose speechmaking, it was suggested here that the last thing the leftist dictator wants is to get into a real shooting match with the United States.

Kennedy administration authorities also sought to discount recurring reports that Soviet combat troops have arrived in Cuba. Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., contended Friday that 1,200 Russian troops have arrived in the Caribbean land.

EARTH TREMORS STRIKE

ROME (AP)—The National Geophysical Institute in Rome reported Saturday that 115 earth tremors were registered in Italy in August. The worst occurred Aug. 21 when shocks from Naples to Bari in southern Italy resulted in the death of at least a score of persons and destruction estimated in the millions of dollars.

FOR WORLD RECORD

Hole Diggers Get Challenge By Irish

WOMBWELL, England (AP) — A 39-year-old Irishman challenged the world Saturday to produce a team that could beat a group of his countrymen in a hole-digging match.

Works contractor Patrick Burke described as dawdling the 46-minute unofficial world record for digging a hole six-feet square and four-feet deep.

"Only Irishmen can dig holes really quickly," Burke said in an interview.

Burke announced he is writing to a band of British hole diggers in nearby Lincolnshire daring them formally to take on his champions in the first recorded international contest of its kind.

His letter will go to Frank Johnson, landlord of Ellers Tavern in the Lincolnshire village of Epwort where hole digging as an organized sport began recently.

It all started over several pints of ale in the tavern, where Alfred Brown, a husky digger of local holes for septic tanks, boasted to a friend he could dig a hole "in this floor and bury you in 15 minutes."

There was a prompt response from seven of his companions and Johnson shepherded the contestant diggers to a field in back of the tavern, where all agreed the soil is extremely fastdigging.

Three men, using spades, tied for first place, each digging the required six-feet square, four-feet deep holes in 46 minutes. The other four used shovels.

Word of the Epworth match oozed northward until it reached the ears of Burke and the 50 or 60 workers he employs.

Burke said he intends suggesting to Johnson that three or four of his best men line up against the English diggers of Lincoln. He thinks all should use the same size spade—or shovel.

"But why do they want to dig holes in the first place?" a reporter asked Burke, who settled in England from his native County Mayo 25 years ago.

"Because they're not there," he replied.

MAN DIES OF CHOLERA

HONG KONG (AP)—The government reported Saturday the first cholera fatality this year in Hong Kong. A 20-year-old man admitted to hospital Friday afternoon died that night, the announcement said. Two other cholera cases, a 53-year-old woman and a 36-year-old man are reported improving. A cholera epidemic in Hong Kong last year claimed 15 lives.

Attorneys then asked the Supreme Court to enter the case and revoke Cameron's stay.

Patterson, in a prepared release, said "the entry of Robert Kennedy in the Meredith suit comes as no surprise to me."

Patterson hit comments by Kennedy on the case. Patterson said the U. S. attorny general referred to the action taken by Judge Cameron as being "'altogether lawless'".

Ellender Raps Military Aid To Western Europe

WASHINGTON (Special) — Sen. Allen J. Ellender said Saturday the U.S. should cut out — or drastically reduce — all foreign aid for Western Europe.

He said that military aid, in particular, should be shut off to force the Western European countires to shoulder a higher share of the burden of armament costs.

The Louisiana Senator said the military aid is supposed "to help those countries strengthen themselves against communism. But far beyond helping them, we are carrying a large part of the burden alone."

Much of the aid money, he stated, is actually going to build up the economies of European countries. This year, he said the State Department is asking $314 million for military aid in Western Europe, part of which is earmarked to build armament plants in those countries.

Ellender said all the Western European countries are now spending about $15 billion a year for defenses, while the U.S. alone is spending about $51 billion.

A member of the Senate appropriations committee, Ellender said he will attempt to make a number of other cuts in the current request for $4.8 billion in foreign aid for the current fiscal year.

N.Y. Has Third Smallpox Scare In Three Weeks

NEW YORK (AP)—Idlewild Airport had a third smallpox score in three weeks Saturday—but this one lasted just one hour and 15 minutes.

The U.S. Health Service at the airport was reluctant to give details.

However, it was learned that 138 passengers and the crew who arrived on a Boac flight from London were held in quarantine when a rash on a child passenger was discovered.

The east wing of the international arrivals building was sealed off while officials checked to determine whether the rash was smallpox. It was a heat rash.

The name of the child was not disclosed.

On Friday some 200 persons were quarantined for up to five hours until health authorities determined that a rash on three small children was a result of mite bites. The children of Mrs. Erecema Castiglione were returning to Philadelphia from a visit to relatives in Sao Paolo, Brazil.

Last Aug. 11, a 15-year-old Canadian boy en route home from Brazil slipped through quarantine at Idlewild without examination and later came down with smallpox. This led to the vaccination of more than 10,000 persons who had come in contact with the boy, James Orr, as he passed through New York.

Johnson Finds Greeks Unhappy Over U.S. Aid

By PHIL DOPOULOS

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—U. S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson did some fence mending Saturday in his first official talks with Greek leaders disappointed by a cut in American aid.

"I'm satisfied with this morning's talks" said Premier Constantine Carmanlis after confering 90 minutes with Johnson. "The American vice president showed a great understanding of our problems."

"We agreed there was a strong and lasting friendship (between Greece and the United States) and that we should face our problems together shoulder to shoulder" said Johnson as he and Carmanlis met newsmen following their conference.

On the surface Greek and American relations are as sunny as the Athenian sky. Down deep they are still close allies. But Greeks cannot hide their disappointment at a $20-million cut ordered in U. S. aid last month.

U.S. Says Evidence Strong Of Cuban Attack On Plane

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — Authoritative sources said Saturday the U. S. government has strong eyewitness evidence of Cuban shooting at a U. S. Navy plane Thursday, but no photographs.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro described as absolutely false Friday's White House announcement that two small vessels—believed to be Cuban—fired at the U. S. patrol craft in international waters, 15 miles off Cuba's northern coast.

State Department press officer Joseph W Reap stood by the White House announcement and denied Castro's renewed charge of aggressive designs by the United States.

Authoritative informants gave this account:

The two-engined Navy patrol plane, manned by three reservists, was on a routine training flight Thursday afternoon when it spotted the two small ships on its radar.

The United States has been keeping a close watch for Soviet shipments to Cuba, and the American plane swooped near for a closer look.

It was at this point that the Navy fliers believe they were fired upon. But when they reported the incident higher U. S. authorities at first were skeptical.

The plane had not been hit. One of the crewmen said he had heard the sound of the guns on the craft but this claim was doubted by investigators because of the noise created by the plane's piston engines.

Also, the U. S. plane was not outfitted with photographic gear, and the crewmen presented no pictures of the shooting. And the guns were not using easily seen tracer bullets, the fliers acknowledged.

After intensive interrogration, however, the higher authorities were convinced beyond reasonable doubt that the Navy airmen were telling a straight story.

What was described as conclusive evidence came in details supplied by the fliers from their close-in observation.

While their exact distance from the ships was not released, the airmen were said to have been close enough to see seamen using the shoulder fittings of guns about 20mm. or 50-caliber size mounted on the decks of the boats.

Two of the three crewmen said they saw flashes from the muzzles of the guns aimed in their direction.

The pilot told newsmen in Norfolk, Va., Saturday he could not say for certain the attackers were Cuban.

U.S. officials were inclined to assess the shooting as a spur-of-the-moment response by Castro seamen keyed up by their leader's repeated allegations of U.S. aggression and tense from last week's shelling of a Havana suburb by anti-Castro exiles.

Despite Castro's bellicose speechmaking, it was suggested here that the last thing the leftist dictator wants is to get into a real shooting match with the United States.

Kennedy administration authorities also sought to discount recurring reports that Soviet combat troops have arrived in Cuba. Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., contended Friday that 1,200 Russian troops have arrived in the Caribbean land.

EARTH TREMORS STRIKE

ROME (AP)—The National Geophysical Institute in Rome reported Saturday that 115 earth tremors were registered in Italy in August. The worst occurred Aug. 21 when shocks from Naples to Bari in southern Italy resulted in the death of at least a score of persons and destruction estimated in the millions of dollars.

FOR WORLD RECORD

Hole Diggers Get Challenge By Irish

WOMBWELL, England (AP) — A 39-year-old Irishman challenged the world Saturday to produce a team that could beat a group of his countrymen in a hole-digging match.

Works contractor Patrick Burke described as dawdling the 46-minute unofficial world record for digging a hole six-feet square and four-feet deep.

"Only Irishmen can dig holes really quickly," Burke said in an interview.

Burke announced he is writing to a band of British hole diggers in nearby Lincolnshire daring them formally to take on his champions in the first recorded international contest of its kind.

His letter will go to Frank Johnson, landlord of Ellers Tavern in the Lincolnshire village of Epwort where hole digging as an organized sport began recently.

It all started over several pints of ale in the tavern, where Alfred Brown, a husky digger of local holes for septic tanks, boasted to a friend he could dig a hole "in this floor and bury you in 15 minutes."

There was a prompt response from seven of his companions and Johnson shepherded the contestant diggers to a field in back of the tavern, where all agreed the soil is extremely fastdigging.

Three men, using spades, tied for first place, each digging the required six-feet square, four-feet deep holes in 46 minutes. The other four used shovels.

Word of the Epworth match oozed northward until it reached the ears of Burke and the 50 or 60 workers he employs.

Burke said he intends suggesting to Johnson that three or four of his best men line up against the English diggers of Lincoln. He thinks all should use the same size spade—or shovel.

"But why do they want to dig holes in the first place?" a reporter asked Burke, who settled in England from his native County Mayo 25 years ago.

"Because they're not there," he replied.

MAN DIES OF CHOLERA

HONG KONG (AP)—The government reported Saturday the first cholera fatality this year in Hong Kong. A 20-year-old man admitted to hospital Friday afternoon died that night, the announcement said. Two other cholera cases, a 53-year-old woman and a 36-year-old man are reported improving. A cholera epidemic in Hong Kong last year claimed 15 lives.

Crosses Burn In Monroe, Area Cities

Olin Mathieson mill and in the middle of the Louisville Avenue traffic bridge.

Crosses were also reported burning on the Winnsboro Road and on the Columbia Road.

Monroe and West Monroe police were both dispatched to the scene of the burning on the bridge. Both local crosses were stuck in buckets of sand. There were no signs with the Twin City crosses.

In Tallulah, Chief Rogan said that apparently there was a concerted effort on the part of someone. He said his department was getting calls concerning crosses in several other parishes. However, no official confirmation was available Saturday night on the others around the area.

Another incident was reported at Darnell, 15 miles north of Delhi on the Delhi-Oak Grove highway. At this scene, four persons were reported seen, wearing motorcycle jackets and driving a pickup truck.

One Klansman told newsmen at Tallulah "we believe in upholding the constitution of the United States, but are opposed to communism, integration or any other forces that threaten our way on life."

"We want every one to know that the Ku Klux Klan have reactivated in Louisiana and we are publicly demonstrating our resentment to integration by cross burning," the spokesman said.

Towns designated for the Klansmen to burn crosses in northeast Louisiana included Lake Providence, Tallulah, Newellton, Oak Grove, St. Joseph, Waterproof, Ferriday, Winnsboro, Delhi, Rayville, Monroe, West Monroe, Bastrop, Jonesville, Harrisonburg, Jena, Columbia, Wisner, Sicily Island, and Vidalia.

The Klansman said about 1,000 to 1,500 crosses were to be burned throughout the state.

British Guard Spy Against Suicide Try

LONDON (UPI)— Brixton Prison officials Saturday were reported to have intensified a suicide watch over convicted Soviet spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen whose last legal hopes of escaping deportation to the United States were quashed Friday.

The bail-jumping fugitive's attorneys were preparing a plea for mercy to the Home Office in a him on Monday.

Soblen appeared shaken at the unanimous rejection Friday by the three-justice court of appeals to set aside the deportation order issued by Brooke after Israel had refused to fly the runaway spy back to New York.

The ruling apparently convinced his battery of lawyers that they were fighting a losing cause in the British courts. "There will be no more court fights," attorney Solomon Kaufman said after the hearing .

Kaufman also said "no useful purpose" could be served by appealing to the House of Lords — the highest appellate court in Britain in civil cases—as had been speculated earlier.

Informed sources said Soblen was under particularly close guard in Brixton's hospital ward since losing his stubborn eight-week battle to cheat American justice.

desperate last-ditch effort to keep him from serving a lite prison term for spying for the Russians during World War II.

But informed sources said there was little chance Home Office Secretary Henry Brooke will revoke the deportation order on the basis of "representations" Soblen's lawyers said would be given

2 Members Named To Parish Board

The election fell in the middle of a long Labor Day weekend and, with a reduced field of candidates and fewer offices at stake, many said, failed to generate the interest of the July primary.

Owens duplicated his July performance last night when he swept to victories in each of the 14 precincts. His first primary total of 1972 votes, also representing a win in every box reporting, missed outright election by only 440 ballots.

Cash got 908 in July, Burkett polled 852 and Crowell 672, for a total of 4404 votes, opposed to Saturday's 7675. The full tally of ballots do not reflect directly the number of persons voting, until divided in half.

First box to report last night, at 8:15 p.m., came from precinct Four, voting at Mitchell School in West Monroe, and gave Owens 139 votes to 92 each for Cash and Crowell and 77 for Burkett.

The vote proved significant and foreshadowed a trend maintained throughout, with Owens setting the pace by varying degrees, and Cash and Crowell battling for honors as runner - up.

Voting Saturday was from 6 a.m. until 8 p.m. Half the Ward Five boxes had reported by 8:45 p.m. and showed the pattern of the election still intact — Owens had a total of 1524 votes and Cash was in second position with 1019, followed by Crowell with 330 and Burkett, 834.

The biggest box, at precinct 11, the West Monroe fairgrounds, where over 1,000 persons were qualified, voted heavily throughout the day, reporting some 1400 ballots. Owens took it with 602 votes, while Cash got 342, and Crowell and Burkett, 294 and 272, respectively. About 700 voters turned out.

Surging returns late in the evening brought in the last box to report, precinct 13, from the A & E Grocery on Smith Street in West Monroe, by 9 p.m. Totals were: Owens, 269; Crowell, 225; Cash, 196, and Burkett, 78. It was one of Crowell's strongest showings and one of Burkett's worst.

In victory statements after tabulations at the parish courthouse, Owens, vice president of the Central Savings Bank and Trust Company, said:

"I'm very gratified that the people have honored me with such a tremendous vote of confidence, both in the first and second primaries. Certainly, I'd like to repreat my pledge to them to do the best and most representative job that I possibly can.

"In particular, at this time, I'd like to express my most sincere gratitude to my opponents in the race for the fine and dignified campaign conducted by each of them.

"The entire election was maintained on the very highest of plains and I'm extremely grateful. Each of those men running against me, in my opinion, are good men and close friends. I've known them all for years."

Cash said:

"I'm very pleased and most appreciative for the fine vote I received. My sincere thanks go out to those loyal supporters who went to the polls and cast their ballots for me in his race.

"To those who were unsuccessful I would like to express my appreciation for the high type manner in which they conducted their campaigns.

"Again, I would like to reassure all the citizens of Ouachita Parish that I will attempt to serve on the Ouachita Parish school board in a manner that will match the confidence placed in me Saturday by the voters of Ward Five."

No Settlement Signs In Strike

CHICAGO (UPI) — The three-day Chicago and North Western Railway strike forced Midwest products into warehouses and onto farm fields Saturday. There was no settlement in sight.

The strike pinched supply lines in nine Midwest and Great Plains states and cut off the main source of supply to and from hundreds of communities along the railroad's 10,565-mile right of way.

Layoffs began at some grain elevators. Factories with full warehouses planned more layoffs to cut production.

Grain farmers in the Dakotas, unable to regulate their harvest, filled country elevators and the bins on their farms, and began piling wheat on the ground.

RESULT OF TEST BLAST

Belt Of Radiation May Persist Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The man-made radiation belt created by the U.S. high-altitude hydrogen bomb explosion on July 9 is much stronger than was anticipated and may persist for many years.

Acknowledging this Saturday, the government said transmissions from three U.S. satellites have been knocked out. But the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department insisted the radiation holds no menace to the man-in-space program.

"The new radiation belt clearly lies above the path of currently manned flights and it will not constitute any hazard to manned satellite launchings that we have planned in the near future," a joint statement by the AEC and the Pentagon said.

The nuclear blast left behind a substantial and greater-than-anticipated increase in the intensity of the more distant natural Van Allen radiation belt, the announcement said.

It added, in effect, that this result is not fully understood and that the whole phenomenon is under careful continuing study.

Another result was to create a more or less new belt below the Van Allen belt, but this seems to be disappearing as expected, the statement said.

The new communications satellite Telstar has not suffered any apparent damage, the agencies said. In fact, the statement added, Telstar has sent back data which "permitted more detailed determination of the distribution and intensity of this radiation belt."

The American Telephone & Telegraph Co., which owns Telstar, has said the pioneer relay satellite was deliberately designed with a big safety factor against heavy radiation. AT&T has said Telstar's 3,600 solar cells are covered with various types of shielding to test their effectiveness.

The new radiation belt is made up of energetic particles which damage unshielded silicon cells. These cells concert sunlight into the electricity used by many satellites.

Police In Twin-Cities Kept Busy

Police in Monroe and West Monroe Saturday were kept jumping with cases ranging across the board from aggravated battery to traffic violations.

Held under bond of $350 in Monroe jail was 17-year-old Negro John L. Johnson, 101 Vicksburg St., charged with shoplifting. He is accused of taking a hat downtown valued at approximately one dollar.

Another Negro, Ira Clay Newton, 33, 613 N. 18th St., was booked by Monroe officers with carrying a concealed weapon.

West Monroe police Saturday morning charged three persons with reckless driving, one of them also being booked for driving while under the influence of were identified as: Hershel Don Wheat, 22, 918 Montgomery, picked up at 1:30 a.m. for DWI and reckless driving; and R. L. Dickens, 21, 103 Ransom, and E. B. Buckles, 22, 105 Cherry, both Negroes and both charged withk reckless driving.

In action Saturday evening, 39-year-old Robert Miller, 303 N. 5th St., West Monroe, was booked in West Monroe for simple theft, while Richard L. Getchell, 22 111 Zephyr St., was charged with reckless driving.

Monroe officers booked James E. Burns Jr., 33, 2406 Rowland, Winnsboro, with driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages and reckless driving. Picked up at 9:55 p.m. at South Grand and Forest Streets, he was placed under bond of $335.

Aggravated battery and use of a dangerous weapon were the charges against Negro Rosie Lee Handy, 36, 2400 Calypso. Under $500 bond, she is reported to have slashed 23-year-old Negro Reacy Gaines Jr. during an altercation at her home. Gaines was taken briefly to the E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital and released.

Negro Joe J. Sheppard, 21, Rear No. 5, Toney's Alley, was under $350 bond, charged by Monroe police with theft.

Automobile accidents also marred the day, but just one involved injury.

Investigation was incomplete Saturday night into a crash at the intersection of Texas Avenue and South Third Street, which sent 18-year-old Michael G. Eppinette, 108 Filer St., and E. A. Futch, 23, 3300 Lee Ave., to the St. Francis Hospital for treatment of undetermined injuries.

Eppinette was driver of a car going west on Texas which apparently collided with one going north on South Third driven by Charles Joseph Correro, 22, 1706 N. 3th St. Also involved was a car stopped, facing south on South Third, driven by John William Graham, 27, 310 Brevard St.

The injured pair were rushed to the hospital by Mulhearn ambulance.

Ellender Claims Federals Can't Reduce Prices

WASHINGTON (Special)—Sen. Allen J. Ellender assured farm groups Saturday there is nothing in the pending agriculture bill to allow the government to dump surplus grain and drive down prices.

Ellender, chairman of the Senate agriculture committee, said a "great deal of misinformation" has appeared in Louisiana warning that Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman would use provisions of the farm law to wreck the grain market.

Ellender said the bill specifically forbids the secretary from selling government held surplus gran below 65 per cent of parity, plus carrying charges. This means an average of $1.20 a bushel for corn.

Flood Of Calls Foul Up U.S. Robot System

WASHINGTON (AP)—Popularity was too much for the Labor Department's new robot press agent.

Roby's voice was silenced Friday — temporarily — after seven days of cranking out a bried rundown of labor news for anyone willing to dial his number.

Trouble was, a department spokesman explained, too many were willing.

"Newspapers printed the number," he said, "and every kid in town started calling. There were so many calls it fouled up the system."

So the department turned off the machine it launched Aug. 25 to relieve its public relations staff of part of the burden of routine news calls.

"But this doesn't mean the machine wasn't successful," the spokesman said. "We hope to have a new number soon and be back on the air early next week."

Radiation Belt Fails To Alarm Dr. Van Allen

HAMPTON BAYS, N.Y. (AP)—Dr. James Van Allen said Saturday the artificial radiation belt produced by a U.S. high-altitude hydrogen bomb test is "about the intensity and spatial extent predicted last May."

Van Allen, discoverer of the natural radiation belt which bears his name, said he felt no great alarm about the new belt.

He said its nature and the rate of loss of energetic electrons which constitute it are being observed by the Navy-sponsored Injun I satellite.

"The intensity of radiation has now declined to a sufficiently low level as to not represent serious hazard to manned space flight below an altitude of 200 miles," he said.

Preliminary evidence, Van Allen continued, "suggests that the artificially injected electrons at altitudes of 500 miles will continue to be observable by satellites and by radio telescope in the equatorial regions for as much as a year."

Crosses Burn In Monroe, Area Cities

Olin Mathieson mill and in the middle of the Louisville Avenue traffic bridge.

Crosses were also reported burning on the Winnsboro Road and on the Columbia Road.

Monroe and West Monroe police were both dispatched to the scene of the burning on the bridge. Both local crosses were stuck in buckets of sand. There were no signs with the Twin City crosses.

In Tallulah, Chief Rogan said that apparently there was a concerted effort on the part of someone. He said his department was getting calls concerning crosses in several other parishes. However, no official confirmation was available Saturday night on the others around the area.

Another incident was reported at Darnell, 15 miles north of Delhi on the Delhi-Oak Grove highway. At this scene, four persons were reported seen, wearing motorcycle jackets and driving a pickup truck.

One Klansman told newsmen at Tallulah "we believe in upholding the constitution of the United States, but are opposed to communism, integration or any other forces that threaten our way on life."

"We want every one to know that the Ku Klux Klan have reactivated in Louisiana and we are publicly demonstrating our resentment to integration by cross burning," the spokesman said.

Towns designated for the Klansmen to burn crosses in northeast Louisiana included Lake Providence, Tallulah, Newellton, Oak Grove, St. Joseph, Waterproof, Ferriday, Winnsboro, Delhi, Rayville, Monroe, West Monroe, Bastrop, Jonesville, Harrisonburg, Jena, Columbia, Wisner, Sicily Island, and Vidalia.

The Klansman said about 1,000 to 1,500 crosses were to be burned throughout the state.

British Guard Spy Against Suicide Try

LONDON (UPI)— Brixton Prison officials Saturday were reported to have intensified a suicide watch over convicted Soviet spy Dr. Robert A. Soblen whose last legal hopes of escaping deportation to the United States were quashed Friday.

The bail-jumping fugitive's attorneys were preparing a plea for mercy to the Home Office in a him on Monday.

Soblen appeared shaken at the unanimous rejection Friday by the three-justice court of appeals to set aside the deportation order issued by Brooke after Israel had refused to fly the runaway spy back to New York.

The ruling apparently convinced his battery of lawyers that they were fighting a losing cause in the British courts. "There will be no more court fights," attorney Solomon Kaufman said after the hearing .

Kaufman also said "no useful purpose" could be served by appealing to the House of Lords — the highest appellate court in Britain in civil cases—as had been speculated earlier.

Informed sources said Soblen was under particularly close guard in Brixton's hospital ward since losing his stubborn eight-week battle to cheat American justice.

desperate last-ditch effort to keep him from serving a life prison term for spying for the Russians during World War II.

But informed sources said there was little chance Home Office Secretary Henry Brooke will revoke the deportation order on the basis of "representations" Soblen's lawyers said would be given

2 Members Named To Parish Board

The election fell in the middle of a long Labor Day weekend and, with a reduced field of candidates and fewer offices at stake, many said, failed to generate the interest of the July primary.

Owens duplicated his July performance last night when he swept to victories in each of the 14 precincts. His first primary total of 1972 votes, also representing a win in every box reporting, missed outright election by only 440 ballots.

Cash got 908 in July, Burkett polled 852 and Crowell 672, for a total of 4404 votes, opposed to Saturday's 7675. The full tally of ballots do not reflect directly the number of persons voting, until divided in half.

First box to report last night, at 8:15 p.m., came from precinct Four, voting at Mitchell School in West Monroe, and gave Owens 139 votes to 92 each for Cash and Crowell and 77 for Burkett.

The vote proved significant and foreshadowed a trend maintained throughout, with Owens setting the pace by varying degrees, and Cash and Crowell battling for honors as runner - up.

Voting Saturday was from 6 a.m. until 8 p.m. Half the Ward Five boxes had reported by 8:45 p.m. and showed the pattern of the election still intact — Owens had a total of 1524 votes and Cash was in second position with 1019, followed by Crowell with 880 and Burkett, 834.

The biggest box, at precinct 11, the West Monroe fairgrounds, where over 1,000 persons were qualified, voted heavily throughout the day, reporting some 1400 ballots. Owens took it with 602 votes, while Cash got 342, and Crowell and Burkett, 294 and 272, respectively. About 700 voters turned out.

Surging returns late in the evening brought in the last box to report, precinct 13, from the A & E Grocery on Smith Street in West Monroe, by 9 p.m. Totals were: Owens, 269; Crowell, 225; Cash, 196, and Burkett, 78. It was one of Crowell's strongest showings and one of Burkett's worst.

In victory statements after tabulations at the parish courthouse, Owens, vice president of the Central Savings Bank and Trust Company, said:

"I'm very gratified that the people have honored me with such a tremendous vote of confidence, both in the first and second primaries. Certainly, I'd like to repreat my pledge to them to do the best and most representative job that I possibly can.

"In particular, at this time, I'd like to express my most sincere gratitude to my opponents in the race for the fine and dignified campaign conducted by each of them.

"The entire election was maintained on the very highest of plains and I'm extremely grateful. Each of those men running against me, in my opinion, are good men and close friends. I've known them all for years."

Cash said:

"I'm very pleased and most appreciative for the fine vote I received. My sincere thanks go out to those loyal supporters who went to the polls and cast their ballots for me in his race.

"To those who were unsuccessful I would like to express my appreciation for the high type manner in which they conducted their campaigns.

"Again, I would like to reassure all the citizens of Ouachita Parish that I will attempt to serve on the Ouachita Parish school board in a manner that will match the confidence placed in me Saturday by the voters of Ward Five."

No Settlement Signs In Strike

CHICAGO (UPI) — The three-day Chicago and North Western Railway strike forced Midwest products into warehouses and onto farm fields Saturday. There was no settlement in sight.

The strike pinched supply lines in nine Midwest and Great Plains states and cut off the main source of supply to and from hundreds of communities along the railroad's 10,565-mile right of way.

Layoffs began at some grain elevators. Factories with full warehouses planned more layoffs to cut production.

Grain farmers in the Dakotas, unable to regulate their harvest, filled country elevators and the bins on their farms, and began piling wheat on the ground.

RESULT OF TEST BLAST

Belt Of Radiation May Persist Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—The man-made radiation belt created by the U.S. high-altitude hydrogen bomb explosion on July 9 is much stronger than was anticipated and may persist for many years.

Acknowledging this Saturday, the government said transmissions from three U.S. satellites have been knocked out. But the Atomic Energy Commission and the Defense Department insisted the radiation holds no menace to the man-in-space program.

"The new radiation belt clearly lies above the path of currently manned flights and it will not constitute any hazard to manned satellite launchings that we have planned in the near future," a joint statement by the AEC and the Pentagon said.

The nuclear blast left behind a substantial and greater-than-anticipated increase in the intensity of the more distant natural Van Allen radiation belt, the announcement said.

It added, in effect, that this result is not fully understood and that the whole phenomenon is under careful continuing study.

Another result was to create a more or less new belt below the Van Allen belt, but this seems to be disappearing as expected, the statement said.

The new communications satellite Telstar has not suffered any apparent damage, the agencies said. In fact, the statement added, Telstar has sent back data which "permitted more detailed determination of the distribution and intensity of this radiation belt."

The American Telephone & Telegraph Co., which owns Telstar, has said the pioneer relay satellite was deliberately designed with a big safety factor against heavy radiation. AT&T has said Telstar's 3,600 solar cells are covered with various types of shielding to test their effectiveness.

The new radiation belt is made up of energetic particles which damage unshielded silicon cells. These cells concert sunlight into the electricity used by many satellites.

Police In Twin-Cities Kept Busy

Police in Monroe and West Monroe Saturday were kept jumping with cases ranging across the board from aggravated battery to traffic violations.

Held under bond of $350 in Monroe jail was 17-year-old Negro John L. Johnson, 101 Vicksburg St., charged with shoplifting. He is accused of taking a hat downtown valued at approximately one dollar.

Another Negro, Ira Clay Newton, 33, 613 N. 18th St., was booked by Monroe officers with carrying a concealed weapon.

West Monroe police Saturday morning charged three persons with reckless driving, one of them also being booked for driving while under the influence of were identified as: Hershel Don Wheat, 22, 918 Montgomery, picked up at 1:30 a.m. for DWI and reckless driving; and R. L. Dickens, 21, 103 Ransom, and E. B. Buckles, 22, 105 Cherry, both Negroes and both charged withk reckless driving.

In action Saturday evening, 39-year-old Robert Miller, 303 N. 5th St., West Monroe, was booked in West Monroe for simple theft, while Richard L. Getchell, 22 111 Zephyr St., was charged with reckless driving.

Monroe officers booked James E. Burns Jr., 33, 2406 Rowland, Winnsboro, with driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages and reckless driving. Picked up at 9:55 p.m. at South Grand and Forest Streets, he was placed under bond of $435.

Aggravated battery and use of a dangerous weapon were the charges against Negro Rosie Lee Handy, 38, 2400 Calypso. Under $500 bond, she is reported to have slashed 23-year-old Negro Reacy Gaines Jr. during an altercation at her home. Gaines was taken briefly to the E. A. Conway Memorial Hospital and released.

Negro Joe J. Sheppard, 21, Rear No. 5, Toney's Alley, was under $350 bond, charged by Monroe police with theft.

Automobile accidents also marred the day, but just one involved injury.

Investigation was incomplete Saturday night into a crash at the intersection of Texas Avenue and South Third Street, which sent 18-year-old Michael L. Eppinette, 108 Filer St., and E. A. Futch, 23, 3300 Lee Ave., to the St. Francis Hospital for treatment of undetermined injuries.

Eppinette was driver of a car going west on Texas which apparently collided with one going north on South Third driven by Charles Joseph Correro, 22, 1706 N. 3th St. Also involved was a car stopped, facing south on South Third, driven by John William Graham, 27, 610 Breard St.

The injured pair were rushed to the hospital by Mulhearn ambulance.

Ellender Claims Federals Can't Reduce Prices

WASHINGTON (Special)—Sen. Allen J. Ellender assured farm groups Saturday there is nothing in the pending agriculture bill to allow the government to dump surplus grain and drive down prices.

Ellender, chairman of the Senate agriculture committee, said a "great deal of misinformation" has appeared in Louisiana warning that Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman would use provisions of the farm law to wreck the grain market.

Ellender said the bill specifically forbids the secretary from selling government held surplus gran below 65 per cent of parity, plus carrying charges. This means an average of $1.20 a bushel for corn.

Unity Among Many

Speaking recently in Memphis, Archbishop Iakovos of the Greek Orthodox church, touched on what he called "the dilemma of disunity in Christian religion." The archbishop's view on the so-called disunity of the churches and Christian religion is not peculiar to him. Instead, it is held by many.

One commentator said:

"The Christian paradox is that what was founded as one church has become a fragmented body, its power diffused by many differences. The ecumenical movement underway today seeks to restore the mosaic to a whole.

"Perhaps one of the most compelling reasons for a return to oneness is the threat of communism. This ideology denies God, sets up man as his own master, and makes a religion of the state. It is evangelical. And it has the advantage of unity of purpose with power that is totalitarian.

"Christians of many shades are in the midst of a crusade which gives them a common cause. But still disunity persists, and the challenge of communism is weakened by voices which speak separately instead of in a chorus.

"Archbishop Iakovos, a staunch worker for unity, summed up the dilemma and the hope for its solution thus: 'How can we say we are Christians and not carry out Christ's prayer that all may be one? I cannot foresee the day of unity, but I can say that Christians are becoming more and more unity-minded."

The archbishop, along with many others who share his belief, is working earnestly and in good faith and undoubtedly will accomplish some good but the good he does will come because he fails to reach his goal and not because he accomplishes his purpose. He will succeed to the extent that he helps to bring about unity of purpose, unity of consecration, unity of war against godliness, whether it is in the form of communism or some other form. He will fail to the extent to which he brings about formal consolidation of churches of varying doctrines, teachings and beliefs, so long as those things are directed toward the true worship of God.

Billy Graham, outstanding American and world evangelist, has truthfully said that consolidation of churches forces some abridgement in the beliefs of the members.

Students of the Bible may be amazed at the dirth of church doctrine found in that Book. Christ founded one church but it was a church which believed in Him and not a church bound by certain dogmas and forms. These dogmas and forms may well be respected but they must be in conformity with the beliefs of the members of the different churches. If Christ had wanted all churches which believed in him as a way of salvation to be absolutely in unity in form he could easily have drawn up the rules which all churches must follow. He did no such thing, only laying down rules which could be followed by those of many faiths, such as his sanction of the Ten Commandments.

The Church of England is an outstanding illustration of the fact that a unified church neither tends to increase religious faith nor to combat such forms of disbelief in God as communism. England's church draws support from the government and is largely ruled by the archbishops. It is widely known for the apathy on the part of the people, most of whom do not attend, with most of those who do attend inactive. By no stretch of the imagination could it be considered a greater force against communism than the varied churches of the United States.

To say that there is disunity among the churches of the United States because they are not all one church is as illogical as it would be to say that there is disunity among the 50 states of the United States because they are not all one state.

What has been said here has been generally stated as fact but there are many who will take a diametrically opposite view. We are not striving here for full agreement, accord or unity or whatever it may be called. We seek simply to call things to the attention of our readers. In fact, if there were complete unity of opinion it would lead to stagnation and decay and what has been said would need some one to dispute it.

Aside from a belief in God, the one thing all churches and all citizens should guard most jealously is religious freedom. As long as we have that, no advocates of church unity will ever bring about full church amalgamation for the reason that, as fast as churches are consolidated, others will spring up, because there will always be people who will want to worship according to their own desires and not in accordance with a set of rules formulated by a single church. That is the beauty and the salvation of the freedom of worship and the freedom of souls to find salvation according to their own faith.

Deadly Red Tactics

Flat rejection by the Soviets of the latest, most watered-down US proposal for a nuclear test ban can hardly be considered anything other than a Russian demand for unconditional surrender on the issue of inspections.

On the face of it, the Russian action seems rather stupid. It would seem, with our demands reduced to the point of ineffectiveness, the Commies might well have granted them and allowed the US to delude itself that it had won a great cold war victory. And this would certainly have lulled the country into acceptance of the State Department line that Communism is growing up, that its anti-capitalist belligerency is softening and we can soon play ring-around-a-rosy together.

Thus, perhaps, we should be grateful for the Soviet intransigence that gives us another chance to awaken to the unchanging fact of our planned destruction. Stalin's strategy of encouraging us to spend ourselves to death has been well publicized, almost as widely as Khrushchev's promise to bury us—and his broad inference that this can be most conveniently done after we have dug the hole for him.

And now, thanks to Ralph de-Toledano and his newspaper column "In Washington", we learn of the derisive 1924 pronouncement of Nicolai Lenin in which he laid down the pattern of "outbursts and withdrawals, attacks and lulls, during which the revolutionary forces gain strength in preparation for their final victory". Lenin snorted at the "cultural elements" of the West as "deaf-mutes" who would fall for any Red ruse. In predicting reaction to the Soviet plea (to be made to FDR in 1933) for diplomatic recognition, he said: "Again, the deaf-mutes will believe it. They will even be delighted and fling wide-open their doors, through which the emissaries of the Comintern and Party intelligence agencies will quickly infiltrate these countries as our diplomatic, cultural and trade representatives."

But, it should now be plain, no portals will be carved for us in the Iron Curtain. A test ban treaty remains as simple as ever: Both nations agree to stop testing. We stop. The Russians continue at will. We protest—with the traditional futility.

New Drive For Medicare

President Kennedy Hopes House Will Pass His Measure And Then Senate Can Be Forced Into Line

Medicare, rejected by the Senate at this session under the leadership of Senator Robert Kerr (Dem—Oklahoma) now the Senate's leading powerhouse, will be back to plague Congress next year, regardless of the outcome of the congressional elections.

Though President Kennedy intends to put medicare high up on his chosen list of campaign issues, it is very doubtful that enough Senate votes will be changed to reverse the vote against the current bill. Kennedy expects to win his victory in the House, then swing the Senate into line.

Meanwhile medicare, like most of the New Frontier legislation came out of the White House stable early and raced up the stretch only to encounter a frustrating finish. Now its proposals are being compared with precedents set by other nations, which will be cited both for and against the next medicare bill.

Most European countries now have their own systems of medical care, a historical fact which is much used by those favoring the bill, and most of those plans go back to the 19th century or the early part of the 20th. The British National Health Service established in 1948 is probably the most recent of all. And since the U. S. government has a penchant for following British systems in pattern if not exactly in system, it was no surprise when medicare was included in the "forward looking" program presented by the new administration.

Some of the other instances are: in Denmark under programs dating back to 1892, all persons earning less than $2,000 a year must belong to a "sick club" which is privately administered, with employers and workers contributing 2.5 per cent of the member's pay to the fund, which amounts to about 60 cents a month.

Germany has one of the broadest plans, dating back to 1883. Wage earners are taxed 4.91 per cent of their pay, white collar employees 3.44 per cent. Private health insurance plans are also extensive in Germany to enable the subscribers to get better hospital care.

Sweden has compulsory health insurance for almost the entire population though more than half the cost is financed out of general taxes, which is a growing burden on the government.

The 14 year old British plan is still a subject of controversy but apparently will not be changed soon, since all medical and hospital bills are taken care of. Only minor charges are made for eyeglasses, prescriptions and appliances. One of the principal complaints against the system is that under it, during the first ten years not a single new hospital has been built.

In Italy employers pay the entire cost of medical insurance but Rome doctors recently struck for higher pay. They were being paid on scale. General practicioners received from 55 cent to $1.10 for an office visit, specialists at a higher scale.

The administration plan to finance medicare through social security was based on part of the combined employer - employee worker plan so generally in use over Europe, but the estimates of its cost were probably much below the actual figure which was the case in Great Britain. There the cost in pounds sterling was twice the estimate for the first year, and by 1960 almost five times the original estimate.

In each country there are objections to the particular system in operation, but apparently not sufficient to threaten the continuance of any of the systems in effect. In England, reports say that girls decline to take up nursing because of the inadequance of hospital under socialized medicine.

In Germany, recently shaken from within by the widespread use of thalimode, a drug believed to have caused at least 5,000 deformed babies, many patients are said to spend their own funds for medical treatment because they do not have full confidence in free medical treatment. Thus it would be hard to connect the wide and unchecked prescription of thalimode on either free or paid practicioners.

What's holding back the American economy?

This question is being asked and answered all over the country today as one indicator after another shows hesitancy and decline on the business front.

If you listen to the nation's labor leaders, the trouble is lack of purchasing power.

If you listen to industrial managers, the trouble is burdensome taxes and an unrealistic treatment of depreciation on plants and equipment.

If you listen to Wall Street brokers, the trouble stems from a lack of confidence on the part of the investing public.

The interesting thing about all of these answers is that they relate directly to the government's role in the economic life of the nation. For example, the argument about lack of purchasing power rests on the belief that the government is taking too much money from individuals through the medium of the personal income tax. The argument concerning onerous corporate taxes also places the primary responsibility at the feet of government which levies these taxes. And the contention that there is a nation-wide lack of confidence is related directly to the government's ill - advised action in the steel price dispute.

I suggest that there are many things which prevent the free enterprise system from operating at its maximum potential. And most of these obstacles stem directly from government meddling with the natural laws of economic freedom.

The hand of government in the market place is like the hand of a dishonest butcher on the meat scales. It upsets the balance between supply and demand, which is the essence of brisk commerce. And it injects an element of restraint, fear and sometimes dishonesty among businessmen, business groups and management and labor groups. It is the unwarranted interference by a third party which introduces a foreign element into the free - swinging give-and-take of trade.

This interference by government began justly enough. Government's original role — and its proper role — was in the nature of a policeman checking to see if the butcher's hand cheated the customer. It stood, more or less, as a guarantor of fair play and honesty. It protected one and all from the dangers of monoply in restraint of trade.

This, as I pointed out, was in the beginning. But we have come a long way since then. With a gradualism that has belied its seriousness and obscured its damage, the government has become many more things to the business community. It is today not only a participant in the commercial life of the nation, but also a critic, prosecutor and judge of almost every phase of the private enterprise operation. It engages in production management, in the fixing of prices and in the establishment of wages. It tampers with matters having to do with costs, working conditions, profits, growth and the size of American businesses.

In other words, the government has jumped with both feet into a delicately - balanced mechanism regulated naturally by the forces of supply and demand. It is supplying an artikcial factor which alters the workings of these forces and puts a heavy operational —as well as moral — burden on the private sector of the nation's economy.

This is the same kind of central government interference with man's freedom of action which has ruined civilizations down through the recorded years of history.

It constitutes a rapid drift toward the kind of totalitarianism which stifles the characteristics which enable man to function at his efficient best. It arrogates to the federal government all wisdom connected with the economic health of individual industries and the total economy. It argues that business can be regimented, organized and planned by force of law. It brings the police power of the central government to bear on individuals and organizations to force unnatural business steps which produce unnatural results.

But more than anything else, it denies freedom — freedom of action and freedom of choice — to the individual American. It penalizes those qualities which spawned our superiority. It hampers, frustrates and denies the maximum use of individual initiative, industry, incentive and inventiveness.

And, in so doing, government interference is drying up the wellsprings of a nation's greatness.

What Soviet Premier Says Always Has Propaganda Catch

Those who quote Comrade Khrushchev to prove a point shouldn't. There is always a propaganda catch in it somewhere. Back in 1959, during his famous "kitchen debate" with Vice President Nixon, Nikita looked at the spic and span equipment — the kind a majority of American families have in their kitchens — and snorted that it was hardly impressive. Soviet factories were mass producing washing machines, dishwashers, and stoves of comparable quality, he said, and they were being installed in new apartment developments.

Those who took the trouble to check learned otherwise, of course. By American standards, the Soviet kitchen is primitive, with no automatic equipment of any kind. The electric refrigerator is very rare — a status symbol. And in many new apartments, as I saw, coal stoves were still being used. But Comrade Khrushchev's words were duly reported to the world as truth.

Now Nikita has taken it all back. In a recent speech, he referred to that same kitchen. "It was a kitchen of the future," he told Soviet housewives, "but no such kitchen exists anywhere." This may have been of some comfort to those who saw the U. S. Exhibit in Moscow, but who must reisign themselves to what Americans would consider slum living — the norm in the USSR.

In 1960, Comrade Khrushchev made a grandiose announcement that the Soviet Union would catch up with the U. S. in the production of food by 1970 — and this was used during the Presidential campaign to "prove" that the American economy was stagnant, that it was falling behind the Communist. The "statistics" read very prettily.

But what was the reality? In 1961, production of important dietary items declined — and those items which showed an increase were not keeping up with population growth. Compared to 1960 figures, the decrease in meat production was 2.3 per cent, in whole milk 10 per cent, and in sugar 4.7 per cent. This is only part of the picture. In meat, for example, the Soviet Union could only produce 27 per cent of what Comrade Khrushchev had promised for 1961 under the Seven-Year Plan.

These two examples came to mind when I was reading an excellent series of articles written by Don Dedera, correspondent for the Arizona Republic, after a tour through the Soviet Union. Things obviously have changed very little since I was there in 1959.

Describing the two - month old Hotel Moskva in Kiev, Mr. Dedera says that from a distance if is of "appealing scale and design." Close up, it's something else again, as any Old Moscow Hand would have been able to predict. Here is his itemized account:

Of all the glass front doors, only one worked. Paint was already peeling off the woodwork "in sheets" and wall paint rubbed off on the clothing.

Doors to balconies were badly warped, parquet floors loose and splintered. Pipes for plumbing were exposed, with gaping holes where they went into the walls. There were wide gaps between basebord and wall. The roof leaked. The "chattering plumbing" ran red with rust. Room doors didn't fit the frames and were "cut on a bias."

What surprised Mr. Dedera was the brickwork. "The blocks stagger from grass to the 16th floor like casual dominoes. About a quarter of the joints are unfilled with mortar," he wrote. This, however, is standard for new Soviet structures.

This incredibly bad construction is the result of Seven - Year Plans and of bureaucratic demands that a given number of units must go up each year —no matter how badly they are built or how quickly they begin to crumble. It is already contributing to the tremendous and tragic Soviet housing shortage. The faster the Communists build, the more behind they get.

This is what makes many people — Harry S. Truman included, President Kennedy excluded — doubt Soviet space claims. If their everyday technology is so primitive, then what of highly complex missiles and space capsules? Mr. Dedera was shown a film of the alleged orbital flight of a Soviet cosmonaut. Both the launching and the landing were depicted with models or studio shots. He asked about this and got in reply an argument about American "secrecy."

In time, the West will know just what the Soviets have really accomplished in space. But their achievements on the ground are there for all to see — whatever Nikita may tell you.

Justice's Irony

Attempt Made At Beginning, End To Paint Frankfurter Red

WASHINGTON (AP) — The greatest irony in Justice Felix Frankfurter's life is this: at the beginning and end of his career on the Supreme Court an attempt was made to give him a red tinge.

It is ironic because this prim and pedantic justice who retired at 79 Wednesday because of illness went on the court as a hero to liberals and as the years passed increasingly disappointed them with his conservatism.

His whole life was dedicated to american constitutional and democratic processes but he could be painful. He lectured lawyers before the court, picking and pruning his way through their arguments.

He wrote opinions endlessly, when he was with the majority and when he was against it, particularly when he was against it. These opinions were often tough to read and full of hair-splittings.

He did so much of this he seemed to be writing less for his contemporaries than for history as if in the hope scholars of another day, reading him with the benefit of hindsight, could better attest to his correctness.

When President Roosevelt appointed him to the court Jan. 5, 1939, and the Senate Judiciary Committee held hearings on the nomination, extreme right-wingers protested and made the air of the committee room foul with anti-semitism.

It was Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, author of the "Red Network," who tried to put the red tag on him. She said he had long been one of the principal "aides to the Red revolutionary movement in the United States.

Frankfurter, always a kind of take-charge man, looked back upon those hearings later, said they looked like Madison Square Garden and then added: "I took charge."

Last May, while Frankfurter was home with the illness which forced his retirement, an extremely conservative Mississippi Democrat, Sen. James O. Eastland, attacked the Supreme Court in the Senate and said "a majority of the court voted in favor of the positions advocated by the Communist Party."

He put Frankfurter in the group. Eastland's performance was called a "disgrace" by the assistant Republican leader, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California.

As a justice, Frankfurter seemed to feel—he said as much called upon to be a brake on the enthusiasms of the more liberal justices. He said: "the court is a brake on other men's actions, the judge of other men's decisions."

The day after Roosevelt appointed him, to the delight of liberals, the New York Times in a remarkably clairvoyant editorial predicted he would reveal an "organic conservatism."

Nevertheless, Frankfurter said he belonged to no one camp of opinion. This is understandable. He was never entirely predictable. Perhaps he felt some contradictions within himself.

It would seem so from a statement he made in a series of recorded conversations later published as a book: "Felix Frankfurter Reminisces." Trying to describe his attitude toward religious belief, he called himself a "believing unbeliever" and a "reverent agnostic."

Walton Hamilton, commenting in the Yale Law Review in 1947 on the mind of the conservative wing of the court, in which he placed Frankfurter, described this particular kind of mind as:

"As esoterically judicial that a slight deviation from court procedure—often existing only in the mind of the justice—is a mortal sin . . ."

Hamilton sized up the differences between the court's liberals and conservatives as the difference between the "activist" and "legal" approach to cases.

It was the difference between the "Let's be cautious" and "let's get moving" view of jurisprudence as Frankfurter had demonstrated a year before Hamilton wrote his piece.

In 1946 the court refused to tell state legislatures they had to reapportion their membership to give voters in a state fairer representation. Frankfurter, writing the opinion, said the court should not enter "this political thicket."

The "activists" took over in March this year when a majority, brushing aside Frankfurter's view of 1946, ruled for the first time that the court had to take a hand in reapportionment. It was a landmark decision but Frankfurter was still against it.

Unity Among Many

Speaking recently in Memphis, Archbishop Iakovos of the Greek Orthodox church, touched on what he called "the dilemma of disunity in Christian religion." The archbishop's view on the so-called disunity of the churches and Christian religion is not peculiar to him. Instead, it is held by many.

One commentator said:

"The Christian paradox is that what was founded as one church has become a fragmented body, its power diffused by many differences. The ecumenical movement underway today seeks to restore the mosaic to a whole.

"Perhaps one of the most compelling reasons for a return to oneness is the threat of communism. This ideology denies God, sets up man as his own master, and makes a religion of the state. It is evangelical. And it has the advantage of unity of purpose with power that is totalitarian.

"Christians of many shades are in the midst of a crusade which gives them a common cause. But still disunity persists, and the challenge of communism is weakened by voices which speak separately instead of in a chorus.

"Archbishop Iakovos, a staunch worker for unity, summed up the dilemma and the hope for its solution thus: 'How can we say we are Christians and not carry out Christ's prayer that all may be one? I cannot foresee the day of unity, but I can say that Christians are becoming more and more unity-minded."

The archbishop, along with many others who share his belief, is working earnestly and in good faith and undoubtedly will accomplish some good but the good he does will come because he fails to reach his goal and not because he accomplishes his purpose. He will succeed to the extent that he helps to bring about unity of purpose, unity of consecration, unity of war against godliness, whether it is in the form of communism or some other form. He will fail to the extent to which he brings about formal consolidation of churches of varying doctrines, teachings and beliefs, so long as those things are directed toward the true worship of God.

Billy Graham, outstanding American and world evangelist, has truthfully said that consolidation of churches forces some abridgement in the beliefs of the members.

Students of the Bible may be amazed at the dirth of church doctrine found in that Book. Christ founded one church but it was a church which believed in Him and not a church bound by certain dogmas and forms. These dogmas and forms may well be respected but they must be in conformity with the beliefs of the members of the different churches. If Christ had wanted all churches which believed in him as a way of salvation to be absolutely in unity in form he could easily have drawn up the rules which all churches must follow. He did no such thing, only laying down rules which could be followed by those of many faiths, such as his sanction of the Ten Commandments.

The Church of England is an outstanding illustration of the fact that a unified church neither tends to increase religious faith nor to combat such forms of disbelief in God as communism. England's church draws support from the government and is largely ruled by the archbishops. It is widely known for the apathy on the part of the people, most of whom do not attend, with most of those who do attend inactive. By no stretch of the imagination could it be considered a greater force against communism than the varied churches of the United States.

To say that there is disunity among the churches of the United States because they are not all one church is as illogical as it would be to say that there is disunity among the 50 states of the United States because they are not all one state.

What has been said here has been generally stated as fact but there are many who will take a diametrically opposite view. We are not striving here for full agreement, accord or unity or whatever it may be called. We seek simply to call things to the attention of our readers. In fact, if there were complete unity of opinion it would lead to stagnation and decay and what has been said would need some one to dispute it.

Aside from a belief in God, the one thing all churches and all citizens should guard most jealously is religious freedom. As long as we have that, no advocates of church unity will ever bring about full church amalgamation for the reason that, as fast as churches are consolidated, others will spring up, because there will always be people who will want to worship according to their own desires and not in accordance with a set of rules formulated by a single church. That is the beauty and the salvation of the freedom of worship and the freedom of souls to find salvation according to their own faith.

Deadly Red Tactics

Flat rejection by the Soviets of the latest, most watered-down US proposal for a nuclear test ban can hardly be considered anything other than a Russian demand for unconditional surrender on the issue of inspections.

On the face of it, the Russian action seems rather stupid. It would seem, with our demands reduced to the point of ineffectiveness, the Commies might well have granted them and allowed the US to delude itself that it had won a great cold war victory. And this would certainly have lulled the country into acceptance of the State Department line that Communism is growing up, that its anti-capitalist belligerency is softening and we can soon play ring-around-a-rosy together.

Thus, perhaps, we should be grateful for the Soviet intransigence that gives us another chance to awaken to the unchanging fact of our planned destruction. Stalin's strategy of encouraging us to spend ourselves to death has been well publicized, almost as widely as Khrushchev's promise to bury us—and his broad inference that this can be most conveniently done after we have dug the hole for him.

And now, thanks to Ralph de-Toledano and his newspaper column "In Washington", we learn of the derisive 1924 pronouncement of Nicolai Lenin in which he laid down the pattern of "outbursts and withdrawals, attacks and lulls, during which the revolutionary forces gain strength in preparation for their final victory". They will even be delighted and fling wide-open their doors, through which the emissaries of the Comintern and Party intelligence agencies will quickly infiltrate these countries as our diplomatic, cultural and trade representatives."

But, it should now be plain, no portals will be carved for us in the Iron Curtain. A test ban treaty remains as simple as ever:Both nations agree to stop testing. We stop. The Russians continue at will. We protest—with the traditional futility.

What Soviet Premier Says Always Has Propaganda Catch

Those who quote Comrade Khrushchev to prove a point shouldn't. There is always a propaganda catch in it somewhere. Back in 1959, during his famous "kitchen debate" with Vice President Nixon, Nikita looked at the spic and span equipment — the kind a majority of American families have in their kitchens — and snorted that it was hardly impressive. Soviet factories were mass producing washing machines, dishwashers, and stoves of comparable quality, he said, and they were being installed in new apartment developments.

Those who took the trouble to check learned otherwise, of course. By American standards, the Soviet kitchen is primitive, with no automatic equipment of any kind. The electric refrigerator is very rare — a status symbol. And in many new apartments, as I saw, coal stoves were still being used. But Comrade Khrushchev's words were duly reported to the world as truth.

Now Nikita has taken it all back. In a recent speech, he referred to that same kitchen. "It was a kitchen of the future," he told Soviet housewives, "but no such kitchen exists anywhere." This may have been of some comfort to those who saw the U. S. Exhibit in Moscow, but who must reisign themselves to what Americans would consider slum living — the norm in the USSR.

In 1960, Comrade Khrushchev made a grandiose announcement that the Soviet Union would catch up with the U. S. in the production of food by 1970 — and this was used during the Presidential campaign to "prove" that the American economy was stagnant, that it was falling behind the Communist. The "statistics" read very prettily.

But what was the reality? In 1961, production of important dietary items declined — and those items which showed an increase were not keeping up with population growth. Compared to 1960 figures, the decrease in meat production was 2.3 per cent, in whole milk 10 per cent, and in sugar 4.7 per cent. This is only part of the picture. In meat, for example, the Soviet Union could only produce 27 per cent of what Comrade Khrushchev had promised for 1961 under the Seven-Year Plan.

These two examples came to mind when I was reading an excellent series of articles written by Don Dedera, correspondent for the Arizona Republic, after a tour through the Soviet Union. Things obviously have changed very little since I was there in 1959.

Describing the two - month old Hotel Moskva in Kiev, Mr. Dedera says that from a distance if is of "appealing scale and design." Close up, it's something else again, as any Old Moscow Hand would have been able to predict. Here is his itemized account:

Of all the glass front doors, only one worked. Paint was already peeling off the woodwork "in sheets" and wall paint rubbed off on the clothing.

Doors to balconies were badly warped, parquet floors loose and splintered. Pipes for plumbing were exposed, with gaping holes where they went into the walls. There were wide gaps between basebord and wall. The roof leaked. The "chattering plumbing" ran red with rust. Room doors didn't fit the frames and were "cut on a bias."

What surprised Mr. Dedera was the brickwork. "The blocks stagger from grass to the 16th floor like casual dominoes. About a quarter of the joints are unfilled with mortar," he wrote. This, however, is standard for new Soviet structures.

This incredibly bad construction is the result of Seven - Year Plans and of bureaucratic demands that a given number of units must go up each year —no matter how badly they are built or how quickly they begin to crumble. It is already contributing to the tremendous and tragic Soviet housing shortage. The faster the Communists build, the more behind they get.

This is what makes many people — Harry S. Truman included, President Kennedy excluded — doubt Soviet space claims. If their everyday technology is so primitive, then what of highly complex missiles and space capsules? Mr. Dedera was shown a film of the alleged orbital flight of a Soviet cosmonaut. Both the launching and the landing were depicted with models or studio shots. He asked about this and got in reply an argument about American "secrecy."

In time, the West will know just what the Soviets have really accomplished in space. But their achievements on the ground are there for all to see — whatever Nikita may tell you.

Justice's Irony

Attempt Made At Beginning, End To Paint Frankfurter Red

WASHINGTON (AP) — The greatest irony in Justice Felix Frankfurter's life is this: at the beginning and end of his career on the Supreme Court an attempt was made to give him a red tinge.

It is ironic because this prim and pedantic justice who retired at 79 Wednesday because of illness went on the court as a hero to liberals and as the years passed increasingly disappointed them with his conservatism.

His whole life was dedicated to american constitutional and democratic processes but he could be painful. He lectured lawyers before the court, picking and pruning his way through their arguments.

He wrote opinions endlessly, when he was with the majority and when he was against it, particularly when he was against it. These opinions were often tough to read and full of hair-splittings.

He did so much of this he seemed to be writing less for his contemporaries than for history as if in the hope scholars of another day, reading him with the benefit of hindsight, could better attest to his correctness.

When President Roosevelt appointed him to the court Jan. 5, 1939, and the Senate Judiciary Committee held hearings on the nomination, extreme right-wingers protested and made the air of the committee room foul with anti-semitism.

It was Mrs. Elizabeth Dilling, author of the "Red Network," who tried to put the red tag on him. She said he had long been one of the principal "aides to the Red revolutionary movement in the United States.

Frankfurter, always a kind of take-charge man, looked back upon those hearings later, said they looked like Madison Square Garden and then added: "I took charge."

Last May, while Frankfurter was home with the illness which forced his retirement, an extremely conservative Mississippi Democrat, Sen. James O. Eastland, attacked the Supreme Court in the Senate and said "a majority of the court voted in favor of the positions advocated by the Communist Party."

He put Frankfurter in the group. Eastland's performance was called a "disgrace" by the assistant Republican leader, Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California.

As a justice, Frankfurter seemed to feel—he said as much called upon to be a brake on the enthusiasms of the more liberal justices. He said: "the court is a brake on other men's actions, the judge of other men's decisions."

The day after Roosevelt appointed him, to the delight of liberals, the New York Times in a remarkably clairvoyant editorial predicted he would reveal an "organic conservatism."

Nevertheless, Frankfurter said he belonged to no one camp of opinion. This is understandable. He was never entirely predictable. Perhaps he felt some contradictions within himself.

It would seem so from a statement he made in a series of recorded conversations later published as a book: "Felix Frankfurter Reminisces." Trying to describe his attitude toward religious belief, he called himself a "believing unbeliever" and a "reverent agnostic."

Walton Hamilton, commenting in the Yale Law Review in 1947 on the mind of the conservative wing of the court, in which he placed Frankfurter, described this particular kind of mind as:

"As esoterically judicial that a slight deviation from court procedure—often existing only in the mind of the justice—is a mortal sin . . ."

Hamilton sized up the differences between the court's liberals and conservatives as the difference between the "activist" and "legal" approach to cases.

It was the difference between the "Let's be cautious" and "let's get moving" view of jurisprudence as Frankfurter had demonstrated a year before Hamilton wrote his piece.

In 1946 the court refused to tell state legislatures they had to reapportion their membership to give voters in a state fairer representation. Frankfurter, writing the opinion, said the court should not enter "this political thicket."

The "activists" took over in March this year when a majority, brushing aside Frankfurter's view of 1946, ruled for the first time that the court had to take a hand in reapportionment. It was a landmark decision but Frankfurter was still against it.

NEAR CUBAN COAST

Plane Pilot Tells Of Attack By Ships

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A Navy reserve pilot said Saturday his SF2 patrol plane was fired upon by what appeared to be military vessels without any noticeable flags as he flew within 15 miles of the Cuban shoreline Thursday.

Lt. David F. Fitzgerald's report of the incident followed denials by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro that Cuban ships fired on the Navy aircraft.

The White House said Friday the Grumman attack bomber was fired on by two Cuban patrol boats.

Fitzgerald said the plane was on a routine antisubmarine training mission when it was fired on.

The reserve pilot, who returns to civilian life as a Minnesota Supreme Court law clerk Tuesday, made a statement but gave scant detail on his mission at a press conference at Atlantic Fleet headquarters here.

He and his radar operator, Chief Aviation Ordnanceman Marshall A. Pickett, 40, District Heights, Md., touched down in Norfolk for refueling before returning to their squadron's home base at the naval air facility at Andrews Air Force Base, Maryland.

"The two small vessels each had what appeared to be two 20mm. cannons fore and aft," Fitzgerald told reporters.

"I was unable to positively identify them as Cuban," he said.

Fitzgerald would not go beyond the White House announcement.

He also declined to say how close his aircraft came to the whips or what his reactions were when the vessels fired.

"I don't think he needs to go into that," said Adm. Robert L. Dennison, Atlantic Fleet commander in chief. The press conference was in Dennison's office.

President Kennedy has ordered Navy planes to return fire in case of further attack. The SF2 patrol planes are unarmed but Dennison said "we can send other types of planes" from the Boca Chica, Fla. naval air facility.

Fitzgerald's copilot, Lt. Richard C. West, has already returned to his Washington home.

West is a federal marshal and Pickett is an engineering technician for the Federal Bureau of Standards in civilian life.

High Attendance Sunday Is Slated

The Trenton Baptist Associational Pastor's Conference will observe Sunday, Sept. 30, as High Attendance Day in Sunday school and church. The association is made up of 23 Baptist churches and over 12,000 members in the West Monroe area.

Trenton Baptist Association is composed of members who have voluntarily joined themselves together to work as a unit in promoting the total program of the Kingdom of God.

The Pastor's Conference set as a goal at least 3,000 for Sunday school and church on High Attendance Day. The Moderator expressed a desire that West Monroe might set the pace in attendance.

Paper Makers Set Anniversary Event Tuesday

The 25th anniversary of the Paper Markers Local 364 will be held at 6 p.m. Tuesday. The meeting will be at the Labor Temple on Montgomery Street in West Monroe.

Open house will be held between the hours of six and seven and following will be the main program. Guest speakers will include director of region six, Mark Fisher, and Reps. Mike John Jr. and Lawrence Gibbs.

Local 364 was organized on Sept. 4, 1937, by a group of Brown Paper Mill employees. A contract agreement was secured with the mill after seven years. Total membership for the local today is 375, however, there are three other locals in the company.

This was the first local organized at the mill.

There are four charter members still in the local. They are C. J. Brown, J. W. Spell, Warren Fox and Bill Ingram, all of West Monroe.

BERLIN MAYOR SAYS

Force Ruled Out To Remove Wall

BERLIN (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt told Berliners Saturday the Big Three Western powers will not use force to pull down the Communist wall through their city.

"The real guarantees have always just been for West Berlin," he said in a recorded radio address. "Whether we like it or not, never has a Western statesman—let alone an Eastern one—ever given a guarantee for the four-power status of all Berlin."

After World War II, the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France divided the former German capital into occupation sectors. They were to rule jointly, but this soon broke down. The Soviet sector became East Berlin, the three Western sectors became West Berlin.

The Western powers, however, insist that legally the four-power status still exists. They point to the right of soldiers to move back and forth without interference and to continued Soviet participation in the Berlin Air Safety Center.

"Berliners have always had a sense of realism," the West Berlin leader said, "and they have always been sober. They want a four-power status, but they expect no miracles."

"Why, he's just a kid!"
How often have you thought that about a passing serviceman? Today over half the GI's are under 25 . . . many away from home for the first time. Think what it means to these young Americans to have a USO nearby, where there is spiritual help, an atmosphere of home, laughter and relaxation. The USO is their reassurance that the folks back home care that they're there.
Too often, due to the USO's lack of funds, GI's are being deprived of these things the USO would bring them. They need the USO. But the USO needs your help. So no GI will ever have to wonder—even for a minute . . .

BERLIN MAYOR SAYS

Force Ruled Out To Remove Wall

BERLIN (AP) — Mayor Willy Brandt told Berliners Saturday the Big Three Western powers will not use force to pull down the Communist wall through their city.

"The real guarantees have always just been for West Berlin," he said in a recorded radio address. "Whether we like it or not, never has a Western statesman—let alone an Eastern one—ever given a guarantee for the four-power status of all Berlin."

After World War II, the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France divided the former German capital into occupation sectors. They were to rule jointly, but this soon broke down. The Soviet sector became East Berlin, the three Western sectors became West Berlin.

The Western powers, however, insist that legally the four-power status still exists. They point to the right of soldiers to move back and forth without interference and to continued Soviet participation in the Berlin Air Safety Center.

"Berliners have always had a sense of realism," the West Berlin leader said, "and they have always been sober. They want a four-power status, but they expect no miracles."

Plane Pilot Tells Of Attack By Ships

NORFOLK, Fa. (AP)—A Navy reserve pilot said Saturday his SF2 patrol plane was fired upon by what appeared to be military vessels without any noticeable flags as he flew within 15 miles of the Cuban shoreline Thursday.

Lt. David F. Fitzgerald's report of the incident followed denials by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro that Cuban ships fired on the Navy aircraft.

The White House said Friday the Grumman attack bomber was fired on by two Cuban patrol boats.

Fitzgerald said the plane was on a routine antisubmarine training mission when it was fired on.

The reserve pilot, who returns to civilian life as a Minnesota Supreme Court law clerk Tuesday, made a statement but gave scant detail on his mission at a press conference at Atlantic Fleet headquarters here.

He and his radar operator, Chief Aviation Ordnanceman Marshall A. Pickett, 40, District Heights, Md., touched down in Norfolk for refueling before returning to their squadron's home base at the naval air facility at Andrews Air Force Base, Maryland.

"The two small vessels each had what appeared to be two 20mm. cannons fore and aft," Fitzgerald told reporters.

"I was unable to postively identify them as Cuban," he said.

Fitzgerald would not go beyond the White House announcement.

He also declined to say how close his aircraft came to the whips or what his reactions were when the vessels fired.

"I don't think he needs to go into that," said Adm. Robert L. Dennison, Atlantic Fleet commander in chief. The press conference was in Dennison's office.

President Kennedy has ordered Navy planes to return fire in case of further attack. The SF2 patrol planes are unarmed but Dennison said "we can send other types of planes" from the Boca Chica, Fla. naval air facility.

Fitzgerald's copilot, Lt. Richard C. West, has already returned to his Washington home.

STATE ACT REVISED

Solon Hits Change In Narcotics Laws

BATON ROUGE (AP) —Rep. Richard Bertrand of Lafayette Parish said Saturday a radical change in Louisiana's narcotics laws will weaken enforcement.

Bertrand, father of the state's death penalty law for persons selling narcotics to minors, hit at the change permitting parole of first offenders convicted of possessing, manufacturing or controlling any narcotic drug.

The State Parole Board has the problem of applying the new change to 200 of 500 narcotics violators now in prison in Louisiana.

An amendment to section 981 of title 40 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes changes the old law which did not permit parole or probation of a narcotics offender. The old law had a minimum sentence provided of 10 years at hard labor and permitted the death penalty in cases of sales to minors.

The new changes permit parole, probation or suspension of sentence — taking full responsibility for narcotics offenders away from the courts in instances and placing them under the parole board.

The parole board next Wednesday will hear applications for parole by 16 narcotics held at Angola. A day earlier, the board is scheduled to hear applications from six prisoners at the Louisiana Correctional Institute at DeQuincy.

The board is not sure if the 1962 change in the law is retroactive.

Bertrand, chairman of a special narcotics committee of the legislature for several years, feels it is retroactive.

Bertrand said the Davis administration should have continued the legislative narcotics committee.

He said he will observe the operation of the new law change. And he said he will sponsor legislation to return to the old law of no parole or probation if it does not work.

Bertrand said a federal narcotics officer told the Louisiana Sheriff's Association this year Louisiana had model narcotics laws and said the state led all others in its statutes on narcotics violations.

"This change in the law," he said, "will weaken considerably our fine narcotics laws."

The 1962 law change was sponsored by Reps. Maurice Landrieu and Salvadore Anzelmo, both of New Orleans.

Gov. Davis signed into law the Landrieu-Anzelmo bill.

The act changed another section of the law originally passed in 1934 and amended in 1935, 1948 and 1958.

Under the new law, the violator 21 years old and under is eligible for parole regardless of how many times he has been convicted.

3 Mathematics Instructors Set For Northeast

Three new mathematics instructors have been appointed at Northeast Louisiana State College, Dr. Daniel Dupree, department chairman, has announced.

They are Jimmy R. Campbell, a graduate assistant from Louisiana Tech; Michael H. Merritt, instructor at Texas A & M College; and William L. Smith, a versity.

Campbell, who lives in West Monroe, holds B.S. and M.S. degrees in mathematics from Louisiana Tech. A graduate of Minden High School, he received departmental honors at Tech in 1961.

A native of Dayton, Tex., Merritt holds the B.A. degree from Lamar State College of Technology and the M.S. degree from Texas A & M College. He is married and has one son, David Alan, one year.

Smith is a native of Laurel, Miss., and holds the B.S. degree from Mississippi College and the M.S. degree from Auburn University.

Churchill May Not Run Again

LONDON (AP) — The Sunday Times said it has learned from Conservative party circles that Sir Winston Churchill does not plan to seek re-election to Parliament.

The Conservative newspaper said it was understood the former prime minister had decided to give up his parliamentary career and not to defend his seat at the next national election.

At Sir Winston's London home in Hyde Park Gate his private secretary, Anthony Montague-Browne, declined comment on the report.

BIRTHS EXCEED DEATHS

World Population Now 3.25 Billion

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —With the birth rate doubling the death rate, the word's population has reached an indicated 3.25 billion.

U.N. statistics published Saturday night estimated the world birth rate at 36 per 1,000 population in mid-1961, the death rate at 18 per 1,000.

The baby boom is swelling the world at the rate almost five million monthly.

At its present growth rate, estimated at 1.8 per cent, the world could touch the 4-billion mark in less than 15 years.

The figures, covered in the an-U.N. Demographic Yearbook and the latest quarterly population statistics report, indicate China may be near—if it has not passed—the 700-million mark.

The yearbook reviewed population figures, birth rates, death trends and marriage statistics for 1952-60.

The two documents brought population estimates generally up to mid-1961. The world figure at that date was 3.06 billion. U.N. officials declined to project an official figure for beyond that. But at the growth rate of 1.8 per cent an unofficial projection puts the president figure at about 3.25 billion.

Central America with an annual rate of growth of 2.7 per cent was listed as the fastest growing area. Southwest Asia was next with 2.6 per cent. Countries of northern and western Europe showed an increase of only 0.7 per cent a year.

The latest official estimate of U.S. population was given as 185.8 million, as of last April 1. The annual rate of increase in the United States for the 1953-60 period was 1.7 per cent.

India's population was estimated at 440.3 million in mid-1961, the Soviet Union's at 218 million. The latter had a growth rate of 1.7 per cent, the same as the United States.

The U.S. provisional birth rate in 1961 was estimated at 23.4 per 1,000 population, down two-tenths from 1960 and the lowest in 10 years. The death rate was estimated at 9.3, lowest since 1956. This contrasted with the 36-18 world figure as well as with tropical and southern Africa's highest birth rate, 48, and highest death rate, 27.

The Soviet Union reported the lowest regional death rate, 7.1 in 1960, and a birth rate in that year of 24.9.

The U.S. marriage rate estimated for 1961 was 8.5, down from the 9.9 rate of 10 years ago. The U.S. divorce rate was estimated as 2.24 for 1959, the last reported.

Statistical department officials said census figures generally are understated and that official figures have only a slight margin of error.

Winnsboro Boy Injured In Boat Mishap Saturday

WINNSBORO (Special) — A Winnsboro youth ran into two difficultics Saturday and as a result of one, lost two toes on his right foot.

Tony Durr, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Durr of Winnsboro, was attending a party at the Bert Davis camp on Bayou Louie in Catahoula Parish when he was involved in an accident with a motor on a boat. The Davises were hosts for a party for the Winnsboro First Baptist Church choir. A group of the youths, including young Durr, were experimenting with the motor when it was started. Somehow Durr was hit by the propeller and was cut on his left leg and his right foot.

His older brother Jimmy Durr rushed him to Winnsboro in his father's car. En route, the Durr auto collided with another vehicle driven by state Rep. William Peck. There were no injuries in the wreck, but the car was damaged too badly to be driven.

Peck chauffered the youths on to Winnsboro.

The injured boy is a junior student at Winnsboro High School and is a member of the football team.

SENATE ESTES PROBE

Report Unlikely Before Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators investigating alleged political influence in the Bille Sol Estes deals said Saturday they doubt they can hand down a verdict before the November elections.

Democratic and Republican members of the Senate Investigations subcommittee said in separate interviews they would be surprised if writing a report of findings if completed that early. But they did not rule out the possibility.

They indicated much would depend on how long Congress remains in session and how soon the hearings can be concluded. They expect to hand down a sharply divided report.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., recessing the hearings Friday, announced plans to call Estes as a witness Sept. 12, and said the end of the hearings then would be in sight.

The subcommittee is investigating allegations that gift-giving Estes, who used to buy batches of $100-a-plate tickets to Democratic fund-raising dinners, had political help in swinging farm-aid deals on which he made millions of dollars.

After sharp-toned quizzing of Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy, McClellan told the subcommittee he believes the hearings "may not turn out all the scandals that some people had hoped for." But expressed belief much good would flow from the public airing of the issues involved.

At first, Murphy obviously resented some of McClellan's sharp questions, but finally got acquanted with a fact of life—that's how the senator always runs his hearings. The showing of resentment then vanished.

McClellan did not join in partisan sparring which has marked the hearings, with Republican Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota and Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska charging the evidence showed favoritism, while Democratic Sens. Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina and Edmund S. Muskie of Maine rejecting this idea.

McClellan remained loftily neutral but asked questions that often had a bite, no matter who was on the witness stand. His sole objective, he said, was to get the truth. And against the 2-to-2 background that already is apparent in the five-man group, McClellan holds the key to the content of the majority report.

From Texas came word that Estes, the Pecos promoter who made a fortune in grainstorage, cotton-acreage allotment and fertilizer deals, would ask to be excused from testifying until after his trials on fraud and theft charges.

Now in bankruptcy, he is under indictment on charges of having made extra millions by mortgaging nonexistent fertilizer storage tanks—operations which have no direct connection with his dealing with the Agriculture Department.

School Lunch Price Increase Said Possible

HARRISONBURG Special) — Schools in Catahoula Parish will begin the fall term with no increase in the school lunch program, but it may be necessary to raise the prices during the school year, officials report.

During the last session of the Legislature, the amount paid by the state on the lunches was cut from 12 cents to nine cents, and the schools absorbed the three-cent decrease of each lunch.

Opening term prices will be 15 cents.

All schools except Larto will open Wednesday. The Larto school has already begun classes.

A 177-day session has been budgeted.

Columbia Mail Cites Festival

COLUMBIA (Special) — Stamp collectors, take note.

The Columbia post office has run a "Caldwell Parish Library Art Festival, Oct. 6, 1962" cancellation on every piece of first class mail which has gone through the stamp cancellation machine since July 14.

The postal cancellation stamp has created interest among collectors of what is known among the group as "covers."

Requests for envelopes and cards bearing the postal cancellation have come from all over the United States.

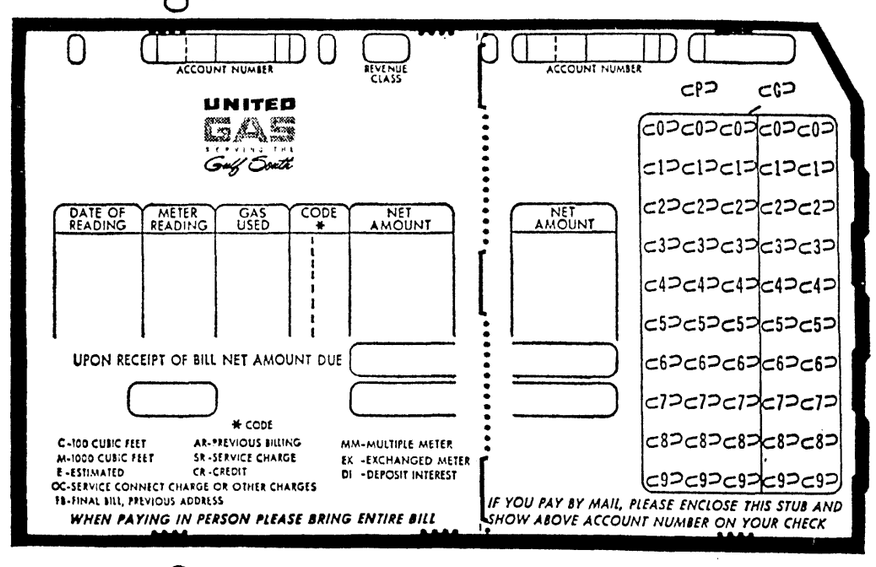
the "NEW LOOK"



...for your Gas Bill

In September your statement for gas service will be prepared on a new IBM machine which processes information about your account, the volume of gas used, then computes the amount due and prints the statement ready for mailing to you.

That is why your September statement will have a "New Look" — as shown in actual size above.

The new statement will go to all of our customers in the Monroe Division, which serves Distribution Division customers in North Louisiana. All of United's 600,000 customers in the Gulf South are now being billed on this new system.

It is anticipated that this new statement will be readily understandable by our customers, but if you should have questions please do not hesitate asking us. Please continue paying your bills at the same location that you now use.

The new billing system is another step forward in our company's continuing program of development and progress in the interest of providing to you the very finest natural gas service possible. Convenient, dependable natural gas, as always, is the finest bargain in your home today.

STATE ACT REVISED

Solon Hits Change In Narcotics Laws

BATON ROUGE (AP) —Rep. Richard Bertrand of Lafayette Parish said Saturday a radical change in Louisiana's narcotics laws will weaken enforcement.

Bertrand, father of the state's death penalty law for persons selling narcotics to minors, hit at the change permitting parole of first offenders convicted of possessing, manufacturing or controlling any narcotic drug.

The State Parole Board has the problem of applying the new change to 200 of 500 narcotics violators now in prison in Louisiana.

An amendment to section 981 of title 40 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes changes the old law which did not permit parole or probation of a narcotics offender. The old law had a minimum sentence provided of 10 years at hard labor and permitted the death penalty in cases of sales to minors.

The new changes permit parole, probation or suspension of sentence — taking full responsibility for narcotics offenders away from the courts in instances and placing them under the parole board.

The parole board next Wednesday will hear applications for parole by 16 narcotics held at Angola. A day earlier, the board is scheduled to hear applications from six prisoners at the Louisiana Correctional Institute at DeQuincy.

The board is not sure if the 1962 change in the law is retroactive.

Bertrand, chairman of a special narcotics committee of the legislature for several years, feels it is retroactive.

Bertrand said the Davis administration should have continued the legislative narcotics committee.

He said he will observe the operation of the new law change. And he said he will sponsor legislation to return to the old law of no parole or probation if it does not work.

Bertrand said a federal narcotics officer told the Louisiana Sheriff's Association this year Louisiana had model narcotics laws and said the state led all others in its statutes on narcotics violations.

"This change in the law," he said, "will weaken considerably our fine narcotics laws."

The 1962 law change was sponsored by Reps. Maurice Landrieu and Salvadore Anzelmo, both of New Orleans.

Gov. Davis signed into law the Landrieu-Anzelmo bill.

The act changed another section of the law originally passed in 1934 and amended in 1935, 1948 and 1958.

Under the new law, the violator 21 years old and under is eligible for parole regardless of how many times he has been convicted.

3 Mathematics Instructors Set For Northeast

Three new mathematics instructors have been appointed at Northeast Louisiana State College, Dr. Daniel Dupree, department chairman, has announced.

They are Jimmy R. Campbell, a graduate assistant from Louisiana Tech; Michael H. Merritt, instructor at Texas A & M College; and William L. Smith, a versity.

Campbell, who lives in West Monroe, holds B.S. and M.S. degrees in mathematics from Louisiana Tech. A graduate of Minden High School, he received departmental honors at Tech in 1961.

A native of Dayton, Tex., Merritt holds the B.A. degree from Lamar State College of Technology and the M.S. degree from Texas A & M College. He is married and has one son, David Alan, one year.

Smith is a native of Laurel, Miss., and holds the B.S. degree from Mississippi College and the M.S. degree from Auburn University.

Churchill May Not Run Again

LONDON (AP) — The Sunday Times said it has learned from Conservative party circles that Sir Winston Churchill does not plan to seek re-election to Parliament.

The Conservative newspaper said it was understood the former prime minister had decided to give up his parliamentary career and not to defend his seat at the next national election.

At Sir Winston's London home in Hyde Park Gate his private secretary, Anthony Montague-Browne, declined comment on the report.

BIRTHS EXCEED DEATHS

World Population Now 3.25 Billion

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —With the birth rate doubling the death rate, the word's population has reached an indicated 3.25 billion.

U.N. statistics published Saturday night estimated the world birth rate at 36 per 1,000 population in mid-1961, the death rate at 18 per 1,000.

The baby boom is swelling the world at the rate almost five million monthly.

At its present growth rate, estimated at 1.8 per cent, the world could touch the 4-billion mark in less than 15 years.

The figures, covered in the an-U.N. Demographic Yearbook and the latest quarterly population statistics report, indicate China may be near—if it has not passed—the 700-million mark.

The yearbook reviewed population figures, birth rates, death trends and marriage statistics for 1952-60.

The two documents brought population estimates generally up to mid-1961. The world figure at that date was 3.06 billion. U.N. officials declined to project an official figure for beyond that. But at the growth rate of 1.8 per cent an unofficial projection puts the president figure at about 3.25 billion.

Central America with an annual rate of growth of 2.7 per cent was listed as the fastest growing area. Southwest Asia was next with 2.6 per cent. Countries of northern and western Europe showed an increase of only 0.7 per cent a year.

The latest official estimate of U.S. population was given as 185.8 million, as of last April 1. The annual rate of increase in the United States for the 1953-60 period was 1.7 per cent.

India's population was estimated at 440.3 million in mid-1961, the Soviet Union's at 218 million. The latter had a growth rate of 1.7 per cent, the same as the United States.

The U.S. provisional birth rate in 1961 was estimated at 23.4 per 1,000 population, down two-tenths from 1960 and the lowest in 10 years. The death rate was estimated at 9.3, lowest since 1956. This contrasted with the 36-18 world figure as well as with tropical and southern Africa's highest birth rate, 48, and highest death rate, 27.

The Soviet Union reported the lowest regional death rate, 7.1 in 1960, and a birth rate in that year of 24.9.

The U.S. marriage rate estimated for 1961 was 8.5, down from the 9.9 rate of 10 years ago. The U.S. divorce rate was estimated as 2.24 for 1959, the last reported.

Statistical department officials said census figures generally are understated and that official figures have only a slight margin of error.

Winnsboro Boy Injured In Boat Mishap Saturday

WINNSBORO (Special) — A Winnsboro youth ran into two difficulties Saturday and as a result of one, lost two toes on his right foot.

Tony Durr, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Durr of Winnsboro, was attending a party at the Bert Davis camp on Bayou Louie in Catahoula Parish when he was involved in an accident with a motor on a boat. The Davises were hosts for a party for the Winnsboro First Baptist Church choir. A group of the youths, including young Durr, were experimenting with the motor when it was started. Somehow Durr was hit by the propeller and was cut on his left leg and his right foot.

His older brother Jimmy Durr rushed him to Winnsboro in his father's car. En route, the Durr auto collided with another vehicle driven by state Rep. William Peck. There were no injuries in the wreck, but the car was damaged too badly to be driven.

Peck chauffered the youths on to Winnsboro.

The injured boy is a junior student at Winnsboro High School and is a member of the football team.

SENATE ESTES PROBE

Report Unlikely Before Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators investigating alleged political influence in the Bille Sol Estes deals said Saturday they doubt they can hand down a verdict before the November elections.

Democratic and Republican members of the Senate Investigations subcommittee said in separate interviews they would be surprised if writing a report of findings if completed that early. But they did not rule out the possibility.

They indicated much would depend on how long Congress remains in session and how soon the hearings can be concluded. They expect to hand down a sharply divided report.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., recessing the hearings Friday, announced plans to call Estes as a witness Sept. 12, and said the end of the hearings then would be in sight.

The subcommittee is investigating allegations that gift-giving Estes, who used to buy batches of $100-a-plate tickets to Democratic fund-raising dinners, had political help in swinging farm-aid deals on which he made millions of dollars.

After sharp-toned quizzing of Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy, McClellan told the subcommittee he believes the hearings "may not turn out all the scandals that some people had hoped for." But expressed belief much good would flow from the public airing of the issues involved.

At first, Murphy obviously resented some of McClellan's sharp questions, but finally got acquanted with a fact of life—that's how the senator always runs his hearings. The showing of resentment then vanished.

McClellan did not join in partisan sparring which has marked the hearings, with Republican Sen. Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota and Carl T. Curtis of Nebraska charging the evidence showed favoritism, while Democratic Sens. Sam J. Ervin Jr. of North Carolina and Edmund S. Muskie of Maine rejecting this idea.

McClellan remained loftily neutral but asked questions that often had a bite, no matter who was on the witness stand. His sole objective, he said, was to get the truth. And against the 2-to-2 background that already is apparent in the five-man group, McClellan holds the key to the content of the majority report.

From Texas came word that Estes, the Pecos promoter who made a fortune in grainstorage, cotton-acreage allotment and fertilizer deals, would ask to be excused from testifying until after his trials on fraud and theft charges.

Now in bankruptcy, he is under indictment on charges of having made extra millions by mortgaging nonexistent fertilizer storage tanks—operations which have no direct connection with his dealing with the Agriculture Department.

School Lunch Price Increase Said Possible

HARRISONBURG Special) — Schools in Catahoula Parish will begin the fall term with no increase in the school lunch program, but it may be necessary to raise the prices during the school year, officials report.

During the last session of the Legislature, the amount paid by the state on the lunches was cut from 12 cents to nine cents, and the schools absorbed the three-cent decrease of each lunch.

Opening term prices will be 15 cents.

All schools except Larto will open Wednesday. The Larto school has already begun classes.

A 177-day session has been budgeted.

Columbia Mail Cites Festival

COLUMBIA (Special) — Stamp collectors, take note.

The Columbia post office has run a "Caldwell Parish Library Art Festival, Oct. 6, 1962" cancellation on every piece of first class mail which has gone through the stamp cancellation machine since July 14.

The postal cancellation stamp has created interest among collectors of what is known among the group as "covers."

Requests for envelopes and cards bearing the postal cancellation have come from all over the United States.

PLANE DITCHING

Units Prepare For Emergency

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Only four times in over a decade have there been commercial plane ditchings in the Pacific. All the same, the Coast Guard — and the airlines — believe in preparedness. That's why hundreds of pilots and crew members go through a realistic exercise of making ends meet adrift.)

By CLAUDE BURGETT

HONOLULU (AP) — First you sit so rigid that your body becomes part of the raft. You have the uneasy feeling that if anyone moves the rubber boat will flip over.

Then you get the feel of the sea and relax a little. Someone digs out emergency equipment from a concealed compartment. Sponges are distributed and you suddenly realize there's water in the bottom.

Is there a leak? You can't seem to get the unsteady bottom dry.

There's nothing in sight but the deep, blue Pacific.

'SMALL WORLD'

Your world suddenly is only a few feet of rubber filled with air and faces that are squeezed in too close.

It's only a drill—but this fact isn't too consoling. The feeling of helplessness manages to seep in with the water.

"Don't worry about that. All these damned things leak a little. Some just splashes over the side.

"All right! We're going to show you what equipment this raft carries. It's the same type that we carry on our planes.

"Let's hope you never need this information. But, if you ever do—your life and the lives of everyone in the raft with you will depend on a cool head. You've got to know and you get just one chance to be wrong. So pay attention!"

The man shouting instructions is a civilian airline pilot. The raft is filled with his crew and military men who do work identical to theirs.

ONE OF MANY

He is one of hundreds of pilots who participate in the Coast Guard's search and rescue training program.

Each year, hundreds of pilots, aviators, stewardesses, airline executives and military men are set adrift in small yellow rafts and left alone with the seas.

Twice each year the Coast Guard holds these realistic drills in the waters off famed Waikiki Beach.

Airline crews are taken far to sea on a Coast Guard cutter. They're placed in a 20-man raft with a pilot and a Coast Guard instructor aboard, and set adrift.

Within three hours, these men and women learn how to signal for help with flares, send a "mayday" radio signal, stay afloat in the open sea, protect themselves from the burning sun, distill fresh water from the salty brine or use a sea anchor to balance the raft and keep it from spinning in the current.

Chances are that this knowledge will never be used.

Coast Guard records show only four Pacific ditchings of commercial aircraft in more than 10 years. This record is amazing when the number of transpacific flights is considered.

There are between 12,000 and 15,000—a conservative estimate—commercial and military flights across the Pacific each year.

What would happen should one of the giant commercial jets be forced to ditch at sea is anybody's guess.

Capt. George D. Synon, head of the 14th Coast Guard District search and rescue program, says nobody can tell with assurance, just exactly what will happen when a jet engine hits the water.

One never has—so far.

"But, sometime, somewhere, somebody is going to put one of them down. When this happens, we hope that the crew has gotten something from these piston ditchings," Synon said.

Curtain Call

This coming Wednesday and Thursday at 7:30 p.m., executive director Richard M. Clark will hold try-outs for "The Solid Gold Cadillac," to be produced in mid-October. In addition to those interested in parts or in backstage work, a cordial invitation to visit Strauss Playhouse on those nights is issued to newcomers to Monroe and to others who would like to know more about Little Theatre. Many a person has walked into our playhouse "cold" and discovered an interest that made his or her life more rewarding.

Even if you have never attended one of our shows, why not come to try outs Wednesday or Thursday, if only as a spectator, to see if Little Theatre has something to offer you. You will not be a stranger long and there is no better time than the start of a new season.

NEW TILES

Several tiles have been added to the Green Room display. We are especially proud of the one for Elizabeth Biedenharn Cutler who took a part in our first play. Other new tiles are for Yvonne Lusk Anderson, Sharon Anderson Davenport, Gail Sawyer, Rick Taylor and George Brian. There are now over 50 plays represented by tiles and eventually we hope to see all 142 so commemorated.

If you were ever in a Little Theatre play and would like your performance recorded on a tile, let Richard Clark know at FA 3-1235 or write him at Box 868. The modest cost is tax-deductible and the proceeds are used to buy needed equipment. Many thanks to Dick Grider for his artistic work in painting the tiles.

Now that we have a list of all major productions done by Little Theatre in its 30-year life, we want to compile a complete program file. In the early years we lack "Ice Bound," "The Cajun," "Dover Road," "Arms And The Man" and "Ninth Guest." Most of 1939 through 1945 is missing. And who can supply "She Stoops To Conquer," "My Three Angels," "Out Of The Frying Pan," "The Man," "Room Service," and "Bell, Book and Candle," from the 1952-55 era? Please call Bob Evans at FA 5-3200 if you can help.

DEADLINE NEAR

We are close to our deadline for going to press with the permanent pages of our Little Theatre play program. To be included in the regular program listing, names of patron members should be submitted by the end of this week to Miss Lallage Feazel (FA 2-8336) or Mrs. Dewitt Milan (FA 2-3535). The same deadline applies to advertisements, which should be turned in at once to Mrs. H. L. Woods Jr. at FA 3-0765.

The news from Orange, Texas, is that their Little Theatre is planning to offer "Bye Bye Birdie," during Thanksgiving week under the direction of Slade Brown who, of course, was co-producer and financial backer of the show on Broadway. Earlier he had starred in our own productions of "The Boy Friend," and "Pajama Game." His Broadway debut as sole producer is scheduled for next spring with the musical "A Happy Lot."

While on the topic of "Birdie," we have heard that Bob Flanagan who played the title role here is now on the Bossier City police force. Jim Fuller who moved to New Orleans after winning plaudits as Albert Peterson in our production is rumored to have won a part in the Gallery Circle Theatre cast for "The Fantasticks." Lead dancer Curtis Rape has joined the Air Force, while musical mainstay John Pierpont is in the process of transferring to Lafayette. Thus our acting ranks are depleted and newcomers gain an opportunity to fill the gaps.

Little Theatre Sets Tryouts For Comedy

Tryouts for the first production of the year in the Monroe Little Theatre, "The Solid Gold Cadillac" will be held Wednesday and Thursday beginning at 7:30 each evening. The tryouts will be in the Strauss Playhouse, located on Lamy Lane.

The production calls for a total of 17 parts with six outstanding for men and two for women.

COMEDY

"The Solid Gold Cadillac" is a comedy about a woman stockholder who goes to the company's board meeting -- and thereby creates havoc with the entire proceedings. The play was a smash hit on Broadway for an extended time and originally starred the late Josephine Hull. It was later made into a motion picture, which also enjoyed success at the box office.

Richard Clark, executive director for the Monroe Little Theatre, said in addition to the 17 parts needed on the stage for the play, many other persons will be needed for backstage and associated work.

PLANS

Current plans call for the play to be shown during the middle of October.

Meanwhile, the membership committee is mapping final plans for the drive, which gets underway later this month. Persons desiring to get memberships may contact Mrs. Dewitt Milam at FA 2-3535; Mrs. Henry Bernstein, Jr., at FA 2-9856; and Miss Lallage Feazel, FA 2-8336.

Yiddish Actress In First Major Role On Screen

NEW YORK (AP) — Molly Picon, veteran Yiddish stage actress, is to play her first major screen role in the film version of Broadway's hit comedy, "Come Blow Your Horn."

On the White Way itself, Miss Picon has been appearing in the musical "Milk and Honey." The part she will play in the motion picture, that of the mother of a roving - eyed bachelor, was originated by Pert Kelton.

Desire Said Big Element In Success

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—When John D. McPherson sets his mind on something, he's like a steamroller moving full-throttle through a high-walled canyon: He will not swerve and he will not stop.

This boyishly handsome 43-year-old "doer" claims the most important key to success is "desire" — and he knows what he is talking about.

During the past 16 years, John D. McPherson has parlayed $6,000 into a business that today grosses more than 15 and a half million dollars a year.

As president of the Airborne Freight Corp. here — the largest volume air-freight forwarding company in the world — the former World War II naval officer has proved that "if you have the fight and desire to build a newer and better mousetrap, you will succeed.

"Forget about the cozy security of big organizations with their 'hidden benefits' and eight-hour working days," he urges. "Keep your eyes and ears open. Keep up your 'desire.' With it, you can accomplish just about anything you want."

McPherson's "better mousetrap" was built this way:

It was 1946. Non-sched airlines were looking for freight to fill "back hauls" after flights from the Eastern seaboard. Airlines often had more planes in the West than they had cargo to ship back East. Something had to be done.

At the time, McPherson was working on an ordinary job for the Veteran's Administration.

"But I had my eyes and ears open," he recalls now.

"I had a tremendous ambition that just wouldn't stop. I was looking for something with more of a challenge. I wanted to try to create something, and I didn't care how much time or how much hard work it took to do it."

And that's when McPherson's break came. He heard about a faltering freight cooperative owned and controlled by the San Mateo county flower shippers.

The cooperative was scheduling shipments of fresh-cut flowers to the East. But there were problems. The airlines often had two planes available while the florists had only enough flowers for one; the next day they would have one airplane but enough flowers for two.

Both sides were losing out and they wanted a coordinating organization to come up with a solution.

McPherson came in. Or rather jumped in — and with both hands, both feet, his $6,000 life savings and more courage than knowledge of the shipping industry.

"It was tough," he remembers. "I worked for six months without a salary developing the business by day and loading and unloading airplanes at night to subsidize the company.

"I found out you cannot do a job at just one end; you must cover both ends. We began opening offices around the country where shipments might arrive so we could handle return freight as well."

McPherson managed, maneuvered and manipulated the company with such still and "full-throttle" daring that the business quickly grew and prospered.

Off-Broadway Production On Brecht Popular

NEW YORK (AP) — The off-Broadway show "Brecht on Brecht" is becoming one of the hottest stage properties around.

The program, which consists of comments about and excerpts from the writings of Playwright Bertolt Brecht, is being sought for production in 20 countries. In addition, 50 college drama groups have sought rights to the script which was assembled by George Tabori.

Da Silva Signs For Two Roles During Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Most actors are glad of one role at a time, but Howard Da Silva has signed for parts in two Broadway productions during the coming season.

Da Silva appears first in the musical "La Belle," that arrives Sept. 18, then switches to a straight portrayal in "In the Counting House," a comedy starring Syndey Chaplin that is marked for opening Dec. 12.

Lunt, Fontanne May Return To Broadway Roles

NEW YORK (AP) — Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne, the theater's no. 1 acting team, may return to Broadway in a new Enid Bagnold play, "The Chinese Prime Minister."

The plot concerns an elderly actress, and the title derives from the Chinese tradition of venerating old people.

The staging rights are held by Bonard Productions, which consists of Donald Seawell, Haila Stoddard and Helen Bonfils.

Large Group Of Sea Films Is Planned

HOLLYWOOD—Moviegoers will be spending a good part of the fall and winter as armchair sailors. The film industry is off on a major deep - sea cycle, first in years.

Already in the can are Peter Ustinov's CinemaScope version of the Herman Melville saga, "Billy Budd," and John Brabourne's "Damn the Defiant," both laid aboard square - rigged British warships of Nelson's fleet and both are filmed on the Mediterranean.

Producer - director Ustinov doubles as co - star of "Billy Budd," with Robert Ryan, Melvyn Douglas, and new British find Terence Stamp, who as the title role. "Defiant" stars Sir Alec Guinness and Dirk Bogarde.

Metro is winding up filming of "Mutiny on the Bounty," with Marlon Brando, Trevor Howard, and Richard Harris.

Warners' is doing the John F. Kennedy war story, "PT 109," with Cliff Robertson as the future President.

John Wayne is in Honolulu finishing "Donovan's Reef," story of post - World War II traders in the South Seas, for John Ford and Paramount.

Now Brabourne is about ready to cast "The Armada," which will depict Spain's ill - starred attempt to invade England in the reign of Elizabeth I, and Sheldon Reynolds is in the scripting stage of "Captain Kidd."

PLANE DITCHING

Units Prepare For Emergency

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Only four times in over a decade have there been commercial plane ditchings in the Pacific. All the same, the Coast Guard — and the airlines — believe in preparedness. That's why hundreds of pilots and crew members go through a realistic exercise of makins ends meet adrift.)

By CLAUDE BURGETT

HONOLULU (AP) — First you sit so rigid that your body becomes part of the raft. You have the uneasy feeling that if anyone moves the rubber boat will flip over.

Then you get the feel of the sea and relax a little. Someone digs out emergency equipment from a concealed compartment. Sponges are distributed and you suddenly realize there's water in the bottom.

Is there a leak? You can't seem to get the unsteady bottom dry. There's nothing in sight but the deep, blue Pacific.

'SMALL WORLD'

Your world suddenly is only a few feet of rubber filled with air and faces that are squeezed in too close.

It's only a drill—but this fact isn't too consoling. The feeling of helplessness manages to seep in with the water.

"Don't worry about that. All these damned things leak a little. Some just splashes over the side.

"All right! We're going to show you what equipment this raft carries. It's the same type that we carry on our planes.

"Let's hope you never need this information. But, if you ever do—your life and the lives of everyone in the raft with you will depend on a cool head. You've got to know and you get just one chance to be wrong. So pay attention!"

The man shouting instructions is a civilian airline pilot. The raft is filled with his crew and military men who do work identical to theirs.

ONE OF MANY

He is one of hundreds of pilots who participate in the Coast Guard's search and rescue training program.

Each year, hundreds of pilots, aviators, stewardesses, airline executives and military men are set adrift in small yellow rafts and left alone with the seas.

Twice each year the Coast Guard holds these realistic drills in the waters off famed Waikiki Beach.

Airline crews are taken far to sea on a Coast Guard cutter. They're placed in a 20-man raft with a pilot and a Coast Guard instructor aboard, and set adrift.

Within three hours, these men and women learn how to signal for help with flares, send a "mayday" radio signal, stay afloat in the open sea, protect themselves from the burning sun, distill fresh water from the salty brine or use a sea anchor to balance the raft and keep it from spinning in the current.

Chances are that this knowledge will never be used.

Coast Guard records show only four Pacific ditchings of commercial aircraft in more than 10 years. This record is amazing when the number of transpacific flights is considered.

There are between 12,000 and 15,000—a conservative estimate—commercial and military flights across the Pacific each year.

What would happen should one of the giant commercial jets be forced to ditch at sea is anybody's guess.

Capt. George D. Synon, head of the 14th Coast Guard District search and rescue program, says nobody can tell with assurance, just exactly what will happen when a jet engine hits the water.

One never has—so far.

"But, sometime, somewhere, somebody is going to put one of them down. When this happens, we hope that the crew has gotten something from these piston ditchings," Synon said.

Da Silva appears first in the musical "La Belle," that arrives Sept. 18, then switches to a straight portrayal in "In the Counting House," a comedy staring Syndey Chaplin that is marked for opening Dec. 12.

Large Group Of Sea Films Is Planned

HOLLYWOOD—Moviegoers will be spending a good part of the fall and winter as armchair sailors. The film industry is off on a major deep - sea cycle, first in years.

Already in the can are Peter Ustinov's CinemaScope version of the Herman Melville saga, "Billy Budd," and John Brabourne's "Damn the Defiant," both laid aboard square - rigged British warships of Nelson's fleet and both are filmed on the Mediterranean.

Producer - director Ustinov doubles as co - star of "Billy Budd," with Robert Ryan, Melvyn Douglas, and new British find Terence Stamp, who as the title role. "Defiant" stars Sir Alec Guinness and Dirk Bogarde.

Metro is winding up filming of "Mutiny on the Bounty," with Marlon Brando, Trevor Howard, and Richard Harris.

Warners' is doing the John F. Kennedy war story, "PT 109," with Cliff Robertson as the future President.

John Wayne is in Honolulu finishing "Donovan's Reef," story of post - World War II traders in the South Seas, for John Ford and Paramount.

Now Brabourne is about ready to cast "The Armada," which will depict Spain's ill - starred attempt to invade England in the reign of Elizabeth I, and Sheldon Reynolds is in the scripting stage of "Captain Kidd."

Their nights are as fast and frantic as their days!

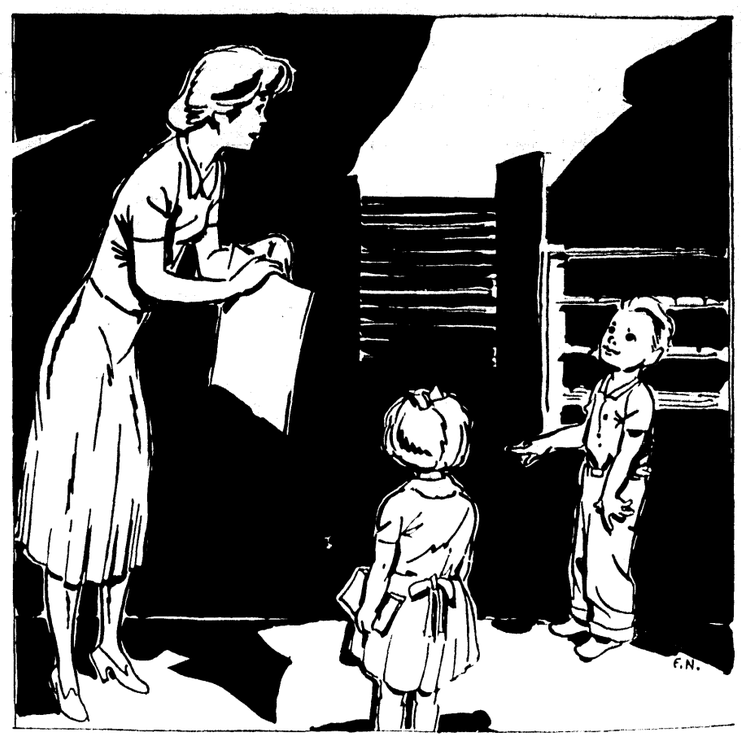
CENTER PROVIDES Help For The Young



The call to classes this week will not be confined to school age children only. At the Monroe Day Care Center training sessions will get under way for pre-school age mentally retarded children to help them learn self-care habits and develop other desirable traits.

THESE PHOTOS taken at the Monroe Day Care Center show various phases of training activity for pre-school age mentally retarded children. They are guided in the erection of toys to improve muscular coordination and are taught to recognize colors. They learn to identify common objects, develop self-care habits such as tying shoe laces, buttoning clothing, and washing. They also learn to share their toys and play with others.

Opening of the 1962-63 school year Tuesday in Monroe and Ouachita Parish also signals the beginning of a new term at the Monroe Day Care Center.

Type of education and training differs, though. But, like the public schools, it is free to the child and his parents.

The care center, in its second year of operation, provides training for pre-school age mentally retarded children.

SPONSORS

Sponsored jointly by the Ouachita Association for Retarded Children and the Junior Woman's Club, the center was first opened in December, 1961. Its located in the American Legion Home on Forsythe Ave.

As a result of this program, mentally retarded children in Monroe are now provided training at a young age.

And as officials of the sponsoring organizations point out, "training at an early age for these youngsters is important since it will better prepare them for future exceptional children's programs, provide them with the opportunity to socialize with others on their own intellectual level and help them begin learning self care habits."

Program at the care center is administered by a board of directors composed of members from the two sponsoring organizations and other interested persons.

The present board includes Eris Ginn, president, Ralph George, vice president, Mrs. John Otnott, secretary, Mrs. R. M. Lemoine, treasurer, Mrs. Hughes Mendel, Sam Rubin Jr., Mrs. Jack Gentry, Mrs. Hugo Angelini, Willis Knight and Mrs. Ronald Gill.

TWO CLASSES

There are two classes, meeting daily, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. in the American Legion Home on Forsythe Avenue.

Classes are taught by Mrs. Joy Shoemaker, assisted by Miss Sally Jo Testa.

Operating expense for the program is provided by the Louisiana State Department of Hospitals and local contributions.

Funds for the local day center, as well as similar programs throughout the state, are allocated to the department of hospitals by legislative Act 561. The department also provides professional consultation for the care center.

Admissions to the care center are accepted from such references as parents, physicians, friends and social agencies.

EVALUATION

All children admitted to the care center must have had a social and psychological evaluation and medical examination. This is necessary to determine at what level the child is functioning socially and intellectually in order to determine if the program offered is suitable for his needs. Also, it is necessary to determine if the child meets the admission requirements.

Examinations also are necessary to determine the physical condition of the child.

Social and psychological evaluations are provided by the staff of the Monroe Area Guidance Center. In most cases, medical examinations are conducted by the family physician or a pediatrician.

POLICIES

Policies relative to admission and dismissal are formulated by a special committee appointed by the center's board of directors.

Ralph George, local psychologist, is chairman of the committee. Policies outlined by the committee are reviewed by the board.

Parents provide transportation for their children to and from the classes.

Philosophy of the care center's program is two-fold, child centered and parent centered.

At the center, a daily routine or schedule is maintained. Officials point out that a familiar routine is helpful to all children and especially to mentally retarded children. They explained that mentally retarded children adjust much slower to new situations than do those of average intelligence.

Therefore, they explain, the daily schedule is maintained to give the mentally retarded children a routine with which they can become familiar so they can function comfortably in this atmosphere which does not have numerous changes.

"To teach these children to live in a social environment and form proper habits of behavior is very important because learning in the ordinary academic sense is denied them by reason of a limited intellectual endowment," officials point out.

EMPHASIS

As part of the daily schedule, emphasis is placed on such habit training factors as personal care and neatness, proper toilet habits, care of property, safety and eating habits.

Also, social experience is an important part of the schedule and the children are taught to participate together in simple games, share with others and recognize the rights of others.

Poor muscular coordination often is a problem for the young retardates. To improve this problem, exercises designed to increase coordination such as musical games, marching and simple activity games are used daily.

Recognition of everyday objects, assembling toys and blocks, and matching colors and shapes are a daily part of the schedule designed to better acquaint the child with his environment and to encourage him to follow directions and complete tasks.

GOAL

All daily activities have as their goal helping each child improve his social functioning, lengthen his attention span, improve his muscular coordination, encourage use of words and to give him a background of experiences that will be beneficial in his adjustment in other classroom situations.

Officials of the center explained, "We have a service to offer. It is not a baby sitting program. We hope to help develop children to the maximum of their potentialities. The reason for the center is to give the children an earlier start than they ordinarily would get."

The center helps children learn some of the things which most average children learn at home, such as proper care of themselves, and getting along with others.

Center officials said that in the past many parents with retarted children have tried to hide the fact and "keeping children hidden does not alleviate the problem."

They emphasized that it is up to parents to ask for help, since the center does not seek out he children, and observed, "We hope parents will come to realize that the problem is well known and no longer taboo, and that we can help the children."

In regard to the parent center phase of the program, officials believe that the relief offered parents, especially mothers, should contribute to a better emotional tone of the parents and family as a whole.

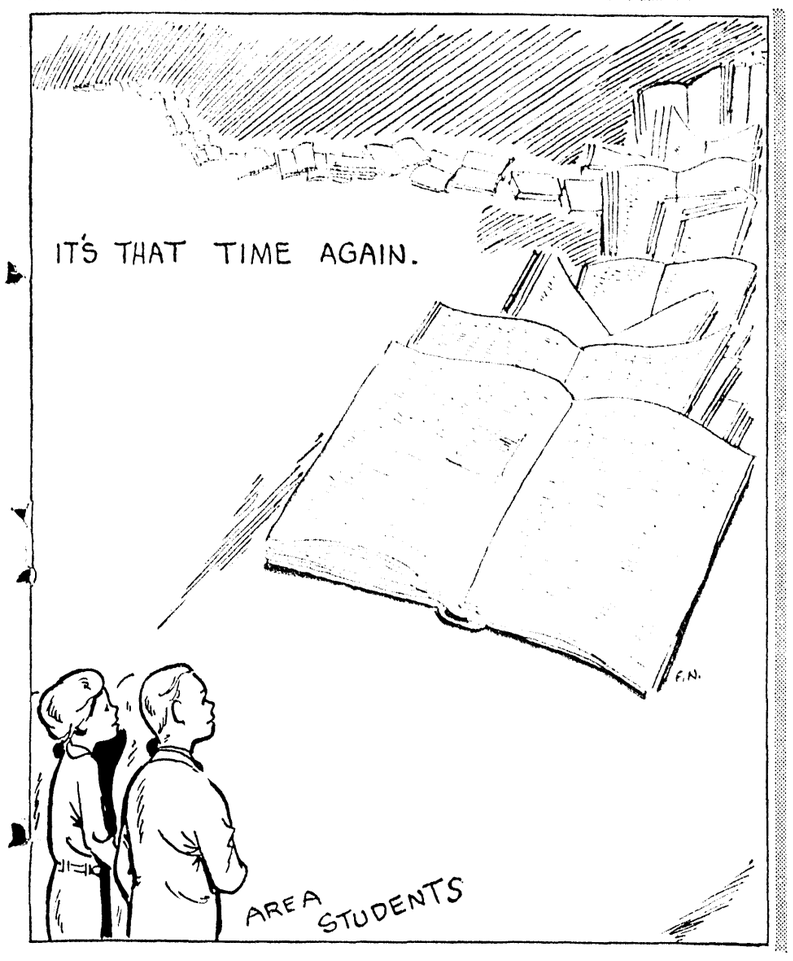
Social casework services, if needed, are offered parents of children in the care center to help them handle the impact of having a retarded child in the family.

First class of the new school year at the care center begins Tuesday at 8:30 a.m.

Parents of mentally retarted children desiring additional information or to make application for their child should contact C. B. Roberts at the Monroe Area Guidance Center, 405 Roselawn, phone 325-9605.

Minimum admission age is four years. However, parents have been asked to contact Roberts about the program regardless of the age of their child.

Officials pointed out that if there are enough children needing services who do not fit into the existing special programs, beginning of a class for another age group is a possibility.



Canvas Mirror

Amid the uproar of political crisis, riots and revolutions, many Latin Americans add to the hemisphere's cultural achievement. One of them is a French-born painter, whose works, little known now but perhaps destined for fame, starkly capture the basic problem of South America.

By SAM SUMMERLIN

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — His long, slender fingers curled over the top of a black cane, a dark-skinned Latin Indian stares out from the canvas and asks the civilized world: "Que hay en comun entre uds Y yo?"

This Indian, his mouth sad and silent, speaks with his slanted eyes: "What is there in common between you and me?"

His question is a simple one. As simple as the gaunt Indian himself who hovers over a stoic-eyed peasant woman. Strands of coarse black hair fall over his sharp cheek bones.

WORLD OF MISERY

Through his dark eyes, this Indian stares out from a world of misery unknown to us toward a world of the good life that lies beyond his native understanding. His bony fingers will never touch this outside world, nor will his bare feet ever reach its good earth. This Indian, and his woman, are doomed. Born, reared and buried in poverty and ignorance. Prisoners of an existence bounded by hunger and disease. Yet they survive — resigned to their fate but nourished by a nobility of spirit.

This Indian, and his woman, are portrayed on canvas by a retiring, noncomformist painter named Bernard Bouts. A Frenchman by birth, Bouts stands in the forefront of artists who have brought Latin America to life with their talented brushes.

ELOQUENT EXPRESSIONS

With masterful strokes, Bouts has painted what to my mind, as an amateur art lover, are the most eloquent expressions of our day of the drama unfolding in this troubled hemisphere. The late Diego Rivera gained worldwide fame when he depicted the Mexican revolution across the walls of his country. Candido Portinari's recent death in Brazil deprived us of a talent seldom seen. But in his own way, unobstrusive way, Bernard Bouts today portrays the land and the people of this continent with a skill few can match.

While putting his works to canvas, Bouts has quite unconsciously, of course told precisely the story which so many others have sought to record. Why, of all the world's regions, is Latin America more plagued than any other by revolution and all manner of political, economic and social disorders?

Why is the threat of Communist encroachment so grave throughout the Americas?

Step back two paces and stare silently for a few moments at "La Richese." You will then understand. This is probably the greatest work of Bernard Bouts. "The Riches." As you study the dark Indian and his woman, repeat to yourself the question which Bouts, in his native tongue, scribbled behind the canvas: "Qu'y a-t-il de comun entre vous et moi? What is there in common between you and me?"

NO RICHES

This Indian, of course, has no riches at all, except for the crooked wooden cane on which he leans, the ragged clothes and shawl that hang from his scrawny frame, and the hollow-cheeked Indian woman at his feet.

What, indeed, does this campesino, so typical of millions in Latin America, have in common with us?

Scholars, philosophers, politicians, diplomats and economists daily disect this question. But the people, these kind of people, are impatient. That is where the danger of communism and Castroism lie.

Other Attempts On Life Of DeGaulle Expected

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS (AP)— The hail of bullets that narrowly missed Charles de Gaulle on a lonely street near Villacoublay airfield raised in dramatic form the question:

Who and what are likely to follow?

The subversive Secret Army Organization is scattering handbills calling De Gaulle a traitor who must be "shot down like a mad dog." In other words, other attempts against De Gaulle's life are likely despite the greatly increased security around him.

In any case De Gaulle is 71. If he should decide to run for re-election at the end of 1965 when his term expires, the question of his successor certainly would figure in the campaign.

Many people are thinking of what might happen if De Gaulle dies before then.

If the secret army's assassins were successful, it surely would attempt a putsch to install a tight military - type dictatorship. It would appeal to extreme right-wing army elements and diehard, fanatic officers from North Africa to help take over.

AMID TURMOIL

Amid the turmoil, secret army commandos probably would try to release ex-Gen. Raoul Salan from prison to be their candidate-dictator, and would summon home exiles like Jacques Soustelle and Georges Bidault to give political guidance to the new regime.

Opinions vary as to how successful the commandos could be.

Barring a putsch, the most likely sequel would be the emergence of a strong premier under a relatively modest president, backed by a center party agreement to share De Gaulle's impressive powers. Center party leaders met last May to study such a contingency—and are scheduled to confer again this fall.

Only De Gaulle's towering personality, the Algerian upheaval, and widespread public disgust with governmental instability enabled the president to take so much power into his own hands. The constitution, on its face, splits executive power between the president and the premier.

But De Gaulle's stature enabled him to tilt the balance to a point where the premier became a sort of glorified messenger boy.

Algeria was a great help in this maneuver; other politicians were only too happy to let De Gaulle take the rap for a nasty business. Then, too, there was a conviction that under the circumstances De Gaulle was the only public figure with sufficient prestige to carry it off.

If De Gaulle should disappear, the constitution says that the Senate's presiding officer takes over as acting president pending election of a new president by an electoral college consisting of members of Parliament, members of the country councils and delegates from municipal councils.

The Senate president is Gaston Monnerville, 65, a Negro from French Guiana who has represented a county of Southern France in the Senate since 1948. He might replace Premier Georges Pompidou with a much stronger person from middle-road parties. The leaders would then work out some compromise for the presidency, with the premiership probably remaining in the new man's hands.

Normally, Frenchmen are willing to see a strong personality as premier, but not as president.

Once installed, a premier cannot be removed except by an absolute majority of the assembly on a motion of censure. The opposition is virtually forced to agree on an alternate premier before a censure ballot begins.

Last May three ex-premiers, Guy Mollet, Pierre Pflimlin and Antoine Pinay, secretly discussed what to do in case De Gaulle suddenly disappeared. They agreed to meet again before the end of the year. Other leaders who would play a key role include Edgar Faure and Maurice Faure (not relatives) and Jacques Chaban-Delmas.

Any one of these six would be a possibility for the premiership if Monnerville ever has to face the presidential crisis. These same six probably could decide De Gaulle's successor in such a situation.

There is one other possibility—an orderly transition to a Gaullist heir-apparent, selected in advance by De Gaulle himself and his followers. This is embodied in informal proposals for a vice president on the United States model.

The trouble is that this would require a constitutional amendment, and public opinion is either apathetic or hostile to such a change. Another obstacle is that, aside from De Gaulle, most Frenchmen do not want to entrust so much presidential power to any one man.

Jobless Men In N. Ireland Total 38,000

Nearly Half Have Had No Jobs For Three Months

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Unshaven, worried men loiter about Belfast's windy street corners.

Northern Ireland has 38,000 jobless men—a twelfth of the total labor force. Nearly half have had no job for three months. One in 10 hasn't had steady work in two years.

The shipbuilding and textile industries, foundations of Northern Ireland's economy, are in decline. The aircraft industry is sick. The linen industry is a shadow of past pre-eminence.

Ulstermen seek healthy new industries to replace the ailing ones. A government team has the job of selling Northern Ireland as a site for American industry.

Already 16 American firms have moved in, attracted by cut-rate offers. At least 3,000 Ulstermen are employed in these industries, ranging from nylon stockings to machine tools.

"There are still quite a number of American firms sitting on the fence," said one spokesman.

"What's holding them back is the Common Market negotiations. If Britain does join, Ulster surely will become an even more attractive proposition for American industry wanting to move its operations closer to the European market."

American enterprises operating new plants include Hughes Tool, Monsanto, du Pont, National Distillers, International Telephone and Telegraph.

These companies, and others like them, have invested about $70 million in Ulster, the British-tied northern corner of Ireland.

The sports goods firm of Spalding is established in Monkstown, in County Antrim. Not far away, at Carnmoney, Camco of Houston, Tex., is turning out oil well drilling equipment.

To the south, at Newry in lovely County Down, the New York firm of T. J. Stevenson and Co. employs hundreds of people in its big cotton and rayon-spinning plant. The old skills of the Irish textile workers count well here.

On the coast of County Down, at Bangor, Oneida Ltd., produces cutlery.

In Belfast Norton Tool Co. turns out industrial abrasives.

This area, with a population of less than 1½ million, hails its advantages in brochures and statistics.

It has this reserve pool of idle labor, much of it highly skilled and talking English — their own brand of richly rounded English.

You can move in, build your factory and equip it. The government will pay a third of what you spend, subject to an annual limit.

Or there's the package deal. The government will build a factory, up to 300,000 square feet, and rent it to you. The government makes a financial grant towards labor training and a machinery grant as well.

"And after that," officials say, "we leave you alone. There's no government meddling. No hidden strings. All we ask is that you try to reach a certain employment target."

More Nightlife In Tokyo Than In Western Cities

EDITOR'S NOTE — According to some Western visitors, there's more gay night life in Tokyo on any given evening than in New York, Miami and Las Vegas combined.

By KENNETH ISHII

TOKYO (AP) — As you walk through the doors of the Copacabana night club in Tokyo, past three bowing doormen, past the hat check girl, and turn right into the softly lit bar, a dazzling spectacle meets the eye.

Around the tables and against the walls sit as beautiful a bevy of hostesses a man would want to feast his eyes on. There may be 40 or 50 if the night is young, fewer as the evening progresses. Customers call for their company at tables around the dance floor.

A stranger has only to beckon and they will sit with him, dance with him, light his cigarette, listen to his troubles, laugh at his jokes and inflate his ego. The hostess charge is 1,000 yen ($2.77) an hour. Drinks are separate.

The Copa is one of some 300 night clubs and cabarets in Tokyo, each of which employ anywhere from 10 to 150 hostesses. There are 1,740 bars, also with hostesses and another 12,500 without.

Congregated in the city's amusement districts the brilliantly lighted islands of gaiety have earned Tokyo the reputation of the night life capital of the world.

How did Tokyo get this way?

Part of the answer lies in the population of 10 million, making Tokyo the world's largest city. Part of the answer lies in the nation's economic prosperity which has raised living standards and wages.

A bigger reason is the Japanese system of expense accounts, along with a tradition which rules that entertainment after dark is for men alone.

A Japanese earning the equivalent of around $130 a month, hardly could afford the $20 to $30 it would cost him for an evening in a top nitery.

In the company of someone from a firm with which he does business, his organization will give him a generous expense account. Between 70 and 90 per cent of night club earnings come from the "Shayo - zoku," a Japanese term which means "spenders of company money."

But in a country where women's place remains largely in the home, no company however generous would look favorably upon paying for a wife's entertainment as well.

This accounts for the hostesses. In prewar days it was the geisha girl who catered to the pleasures of the male. While the geisha still retains a strong following she is now outnumbered by the hostess. There are an estimated 10,000 hostesses in Tokyo alone.

These girls of the "Mizu-shobai" (gay trade) have their own niche in the Japanese social pattern which distinctly separates girls one marries from girls whose company one seeks for entertainment.

As a hostess, a girl earns 10 to 30 times as much as she would as a secretary or clerk. At the Copa, for example, many girls take in close to $1,000 a month including "tips." Many drive their own cars and live in luxurious apartments.

The Copa, one of Tokyo's five top night clubs, is frequented more by Westerners, mostly Americans, than by Japanese.

"I'd say the ratio is 70 to 30 in favor of Westerners," said Mrs. Hisako Nagao, the Copa proprietress, more familiarly known as Mama-Cherry.

Mama-Cherry, 42, is at the Copa every night. "When I'm around you can be sure that the waiters, the bartenders and hostesses are on their toes every minute."

To keep the hostesses in line, Mama-Cherry calls them in on the first of every month for a meeting at which she reminds them that "the most important job of a hostess is to provide good service."

This means the hostess must adjust her mood and conversation to her customer's. Each must have some knowledge of English.

To keep her girls looking their best, Mama-Cherry insists that every girl show up for the monthly meeting in a new dress.

The general feeling among nitery operators is that Tokyo today has about all the night life the traffic will stand.

As Mama-Cherry put it, "If a new place opens, an old place may close. There doesn't seem to be room for much more."

Communists Will Try Again In Chile Vote

By JOSE M. ORLANDO

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Two years ago the Communists almost won the presidency of Chile. Two years from now they will try again. An interim test of their strength comes Monday when they back a Roman Catholic candidate in a special congressional election.

Seemingly full of confidence, the Reds are making their bid in a traditionally Conservative district.

The candidate they are backing in Sergio Recabarren, 43, a lawyer running in a House seat vacated by the death of a Conservative deputy.

President Jorge Alessandri's right - of - center coalition government is supporting Gustavo Monckeberg, 49, a doctor and conservative who is a political newcomer. The third candidate is Bernardo Leighton, 53, a moderately leftist Christian Democrat and minister of labor and education in previous governments.

NOT THREATENED

The Allessandri government with a clear working majority in the House of Deputies, is not threatened. But a Communist victory - or even good showing - could give the Reds a propaganda boost for 1964 elections.

Recabarren himself is a member of the National Democratic party, a former neo-Fascist group which joined the leftist Popular Action Front set up after a Communist - Socialist coalition barely missed winning the 1958 elections.

Predicting a pro - Communist government will take over the government in 1964 Recabarren says: "Marxist and non - Marxist parties are joined in the common goal of dislodging, by democratic means, the present minority government and satisfying the anguish and needs of the Chilean people.

"Everybody has the duty to participate in this urgent task the Freemason, the atheist Marxist and the practicing Roman Catholic as well."

The Communist leadership, in supporting Recabarren, has openely declared it aims to establish a regime in Chile patterned after Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Like Castro at the beginning, the Reds in this predominantly Roman Catholic republic claim there is no incompatibility between communisum and the Catholic Church.

Recabarren has taken a slightly softer line than the Red hierarchy in an attempt to attract votes of independents but his basic platform follows the Communist line. He wants nationalization of industries, the biggest being the American - owned copper and nitrate industries. He also urges redistribution of wealth among the poor.

Recabarren denounces President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress program as "just a good wish" and declares: "As St. Paul said, hell is full of good wishes."

The contested congressional district covers Santiago City, and is thus a stiff challenge for the Communists. They have shown most strength in the country where poverty has made the people receptive to propaganda.

The Communist party was outlawed 12 years but became legal in 1952. It is a small but well - oiled political machine. The Communists have a majority — but not absolute control - in the leadership of the labor union movement. They get support among university students, young intellectuals and peasants.

There are only 16 Red deputies in the 147 - seat House. However, the Communist - backed presidential candidate, Senator Salvador Allende, was beaten by only 34,000 votes by Alessandri in 1958 out of a total ballot of 1.25 million.

Allende is expected to make another try in 1964 with backing from the popular action front.

SERGIO RECABARREN, right, carries his electioneering to the San Jose Hospital in Santiago, Chile. Recabarren's is a 43 year old lawyer and Roman Catholic who is being supported by the leftist Action front. Recabarren's campaign for a congressional seat is seen as the Communist's opening bid for a peaceful takeover of the Chilean government. Recabarren himself says that a pro-Communist Chilean government will be elected in the presidential elections two years hence. (AP Wirephoto)

Soviet Action Taken To Prop Up Cuba Regime

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Soviet Union appears to have made a major policy decision to prop up the faltering Castro regime in Cuba and draw it more closely into the Communist camp expert U.S. observers said Saturday.

They viewed this as the most significant fact to emerge from a week of stormy Cuban developments climaxed by U.S. charges that two of Communist Premier Fidel Castro's naval vessels fired on an unarmed U.S. Navy plane over international waters Thursday.

Administration officials who a week ago reported a big increase in Soviet military aid to Castro, gave this updated account of the situation:

Military supplies believed to include transportation, electronics and construction equipment which had been reported being unloaded at Cuban ports during late July and early August, apparently are being transported to sites around the island.

TENSION INCREASING

Cambodia Putting U.S., Reds On Spot

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) —A Southeast Asian kingdom with fewer total inhabitants than New York is putting the great powers on the spot.

Neutralists Cambodia and its fiery young Prince Sihanouk pose problems that could be embarrassing and dangerous for the United States, the Soviet Union and Communist China. He parlays his pull with all three into a potentially powerful weapon against his nation's ancient enemies, Thailand and South Viet Nam.

Tension is increasing in this peaceful little capital. Some Cambodian businessmen and white collar workers express fear their prince may have bitten off more than he can chew.

Cambodian armed forces are under orders to start shooting at all foreign planes that come over the border. Cambodia charges that Thai, Vietnamese or American planes are over Cambodian soil illegally nearly every day.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commander of U.S. forces in Thailand and South Viet Nam, must give Sihanouk three days' notice if he plans a flight between Bangkok and Saigon over Cambodian territory. Usually the general chooses to detour over the Gulf of Siam.

Sihanouk demands an 11-nation conference on Cambodian neutrality to consider "united States represenion of its allies, Thailand and South Viet Nam." He wants cessation of anti-Cambodian propaganda in the Vietnamese press, and also $28.5 million from Saigon.

Sihanouk says that is his share of funds owed to Cambodia by the old Bank of Indochina, which handled funds of the associated states of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia up to the end of the French colonial era in 1954. The bank, with its headquarters in Saigon, offered Cambodia a smaller payment several years ago. No money has changed hands.

Union Miniere Is Strong

By PETER GROSE

KOLWEZI, Katanga (AP)— After two rounds of Katanga-U.N. warfare, the Union Miniere du Haut Katanga offered to release any of its mining engineers who wanted to return to the safety of their homes in Europe.

It has 700 European employes in this placid company town. Exactly two chose to leave.

This is a place where Union Miniere really counts, at the copper and cobalt mines of President Moise Tshombe's province.

Warnings have been sounded at U.N. headquarters that the world's third largest copper producer will have to cooperate before peace can settle over the Congo. Such storm-cloud declarations seem a long way off as little trains chug out of the open-face mines loaded to the brim with treasures of pale green mud.

Kolwezi is the site of the Union Miniere's three most important copper mines. From here the raw ore is taken by rail to the electrolysis plant and smelter of Jadotville, 75 miles away.

The ore is dissolved in acid solution and transformed by electric current into rough sheets which are thrust into great furnaces. Out of little spouts comes the molten copper, 99.5 per cent pure, looking like a sort of irredescent orange juice pouring into a bar mold.

A sharp blow of an African's hammer impresses the company hallmark "UMK" onto the finished bar. Another $90 worth of Katanga copper moves onto the world market.

"It's obvious that Katanga and Tshombe wouldn't amount to much without us," says a Union Miniere official. "Where the United Nations and the United States in particular go wrong is in deducing that therefore we—and not Tshombe—thought up the Katanga secession."

That much said, this and most other Union Miniere officials call Tshombe a statesman among African leaders. Tshombe was a businessman before entering politics, they point out.

To the outside world the Union Miniere may seem an abstract and rather sinister thing, a little group of European financiers plotting deals around a table.

To the people here Union Miniere is a way of life. It's the landlord, the boss, the school superintendent, the doctor.

The Union Miniere population is over 100,000 in Katanga, including the wives and children of 21,000 employes.

Maps of Elisabethville designate one whole district "Union Miniere," works and plush residential streets where the families live.

"They don't go out of their own part of town much," said a Belgian businessman. "They don't really have to—everything they need is laid out for them."

Hospitals, schools, whole towns —like Kolwezi—are built by a Union Miniere construction subsidiary.

Each important production center is managed by a single man, representing the board of governors. In Kolwezi he is a metallurgical engineer named Jean-Jacques Saquet. He arrived from Belgium in 1948, and moved to Kolwezi in 1961 to preside over the opening of the Luilu electrolysis plant.

There copper ore is taken automatically through the stages of purification. The whole plant is managed by a few technicians in a control room.

"It would be foolish not to concede that our future is somewhat in doubt," Saquet, 39, says. "We had to decide whether to keep advancing and expanding in confidence or gradually retrench in expectation of bad days ahead.

"All along the line we chose the former. We're going ahead with new works and projects and every week two or three new technicians arrive to keep up with the added demands in specialized manpower."

Seventy per cent of Union Miniere's production income last year went to Katanga public authorities. But production and revenues continue at their preindependence highs. Officials say Union Miniere this year should produce at least last year's 293,509 tons of copper and perhaps top last year's 8,326 tons of cobalt.

This resilient success is partly due to the devotion of the company's staff, which knows that Union Miniere will take care of its own.

Another reason is the extraordinary benevolence of nature. Only recently did Union Miniere have to dig underground for profitable copper. Even now the most productive veins are close to the surface. Easy open-face methods of extraction account for the bulk of Union Miniere's production.

Rivers nearby enabled Union Miniere to build its own system of dam- and harness hydroelectric power, enough for its own vast operation and the adjoining copper belt of Northern Rhodesia.

Peter Grose, an Evanston, Ill. newsman educated at Yale and Oxford universities, is chief AP correspondent in the Congo.

World Spotlight; A Look Behind the Headlines

THESE MEN may play roles in the future leadership of France if President Charles de Gaulle should leave the scene. SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Two years ago the Communists almost won the presidency of Chile. Two years from now they will try again. An interim test of their strength comes Monday when they back a Roman Catholic candidate in a special congressional election.

Seemingly full of confidence, the Reds are making their bid in a traditionally Conservative district.

The candidate they are backing in Sergio Recabarren, 43, a lawyer running in a House seat vacated by the death of a Conservative deputy.

President Jorge Alessandri's right - of - center coalition government is supporting Gustavo Monckeberg, 49, a doctor and conservative who is a political newcomer. The third candidate is Bernardo Leighton, 53, a moderately leftist Christian Democrat and minister of labor and education in previous governments.

NOT THREATENED

The Allessandri government with a clear working majority in the House of Deputies, is not threatened. But a Communist victory - or even good showing - could give the Reds a propaganda boost for 1964 elections.

Recabarren himself is a member of the National Democratic party, a former neo-Fascist group which joined the leftist Popular Action Front set up after a Communist - Socialist coalition barely missed winning the 1958 elections.

Predicting a pro - Communist government will take over the government in 1964. Recabarren says: "Marxist and non - Marxist parties are joined in the common goal of dislodging, by democratic means, the present minority government and satisfying the anguish and needs of the Chilean people.

"Everybody has the duty to participate in this urgent task-the Freemason, the atheist Marxist and the practicing Roman Catholic as well."

The Communist leadership, in supporting Recabarren, has openely declared it aims to establish a regime in Chile patterned after Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Like Castro at the beginning, the Reds in this predominantly Roman Catholic republic claim there is no incompatibility between communisum and the Catholic Church.

Recabarren has taken a slightly softer line than the Red hierarchy in an attempt to attract votes of independents but his basic platform follows the Communist line. He wants nationalization of industries, the biggest being the American - owned copper and nitrate industries. He also urges redistribution of wealth among the poor.

Recabarren denounces President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress program as "just a good wish" and declares: "As St. Paul said, hell is full of good wishes."

The contested congressional district covers Santiago City, and is thus a stiff challenge for the Communists. They have shown most strength in the country where poverty has made the people receptive to propaganda.

The Communist party was outlawed 12 years but became legal in 1952. It is a small but well - oiled political machine. The Communists have a majority — but not absolute control - in the leadership of the labor union movement. They get support among university students, young intellectuals and peasants.

There are only 16 Red deputies in the 147 - seat House. However, the Communist - backed presidential candidate, Senator Salvador Allende, was beaten by only 34,000 votes by Alessandri in 1958 out of a total ballot of 1.25 million.

Allende is expected to make another try in 1964 with backing from the popular action front.

SERGIO RECABARREN, right, carries his electioneering to the San Jose Hospital in Santiago, Chile. Recabarren's is a 43 year old lawyer and Roman Catholic who is being supported by the leftist Action front. Recabarren's campaign for a congressional seat is seen as the Communist's opening bid for a peaceful takeover of the Chilean government. Recabarren himself says that a pro-Communist Chilean government will be elected in the presidential elections two years hence. (AP Wirephoto)

TENSION INCREASING

Cambodia Putting U.S., Reds On Spot

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) —A Southeast Asian kingdom with fewer total inhabitants than New York is putting the great powers on the spot.

Neutralists Cambodia and its fiery young Prince Sihanouk pose problems that could be embarrassing and dangerous for the United States, the Soviet Union and Communist China. He parlays his pull with all three into a potentially powerful weapon against his nation's ancient enemies, Thailand and South Viet Nam.

Tension is increasing in this peaceful little capital. Some Cambodian businessmen and white collar workers express fear their prince may have bitten off more than he can chew.

Cambodian armed forces are under orders to start shooting at all foreign planes that come over the border. Cambodia charges that Thai, Vietnamese or American planes are over Cambodian soil illegally nearly every day.

Gen. Paul D. Harkins, commander of U.S. forces in Thailand and South Viet Nam, must give Sihanouk three days' notice if he plans a flight between Bangkok and Saigon over Cambodian territory. Usually the general chooses to detour over the Gulf of Siam.

Sihanouk demands an 11-nation conference on Cambodian neutrality to consider "united States represenion of its allies, Thailand and South Viet Nam." He wants cessation of anti-Cambodian propaganda in the Vietnamese press, and also $28.5 million from Saigon.

Sihanouk says that is his share of funds owed to Cambodia by the old Bank of Indochina, which handled funds of the associated states of Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia up to the end of the French colonial era in 1954. The bank, with its headquarters in Saigon, offered Cambodia a smaller payment several years ago. No money has changed hands.

Union Miniere Is Strong

By PETER GROSE

KOLWEZI, Katanga (AP)— After two rounds of Katanga-U.N. warfare, the Union Miniere du Haut Katanga offered to release any of its mining engineers who wanted to return to the safety of their homes in Europe.

It has 700 European employes in this placid company town. Exactly two chose to leave.

This is a place where Union Miniere really counts, at the copper and cobalt mines of President Moise Tshombe's province.

Warnings have been sounded at U.N. headquarters that the world's third largest copper producer will have to cooperate before peace can settle over the Congo. Such storm-cloud declarations seem a long way off as little trains chug out of the open-face mines loaded to the brim with treasures of pale green mud.

Kolwezi is the site of the Union Miniere's three most important copper mines. From here the raw ore is taken by rail to the electrolysis plant and smelter of Jadotville, 75 miles away.

The ore is dissolved in acid solution and transformed by electric current into rough sheets which are thrust into great furnaces. Out of little spouts comes the molten copper, 99.5 per cent pure, looking like a sort of irredescent orange juice pouring into a bar mold.

A sharp blow of an African's hammer impresses the company hallmark "UMK" onto the finished bar. Another $90 worth of Katanga copper moves onto the world market.

"It's obvious that Katanga and Tshombe wouldn't amount to much without us," says a Union Miniere official. "Where the United Nations and the United States in particular go wrong is in deducing that therefore we—and not Tshombe—thought up the Katanga secession."

That much said, this and most other Union Miniere officials call Tshombe a statesman among African leaders. Tshombe was a businessman before entering politics, they point out.

To the outside world the Union Miniere may seem an abstract and rather sinister thing, a little group of European financiers plotting deals around a table.

To the people here Union Miniere is a way of life. It's the landlord, the boss, the school superintendent, the doctor.

The Union Miniere population is over 100,000 in Katanga, including the wives and children of 21,000 employes.

Maps of Elisabethville designate one whole district "Union Miniere," works and plush residential streets where the families live.

"They don't go out of their own part of town much," said a Belgian businessman. "They don't really have to—everything they need is laid out for them."

Hospitals, schools, whole towns —like Kolwezi—are built by a Union Miniere construction subsidiary.

Each important production center is managed by a single man, representing the board of governors. In Kolwezi he is a metallurgical engineer named Jean-Jacques Saquet. He arrived from Belgium in 1948, and moved to Kolwezi in 1961 to preside over the opening of the Luilu electrolysis plant.

There copper ore is taken automatically through the stages of purification. The whole plant is managed by a few technicians in a control room.

"It would be foolish not to concede that our future is somewhat in doubt," Saquet, 39, says. "We had to decide whether to keep advancing and expanding in confidence or gradually retrench in expectation of bad days ahead.

"All along the line we chose the former. We're going ahead with new works and projects and every week two or three new technicians arrive to keep up with the added demands in specialized manpower."

Seventy per cent of Union Miniere's production income last year went to Katanga public authorities. But production and revenues continue at their preindependence highs. Officials say Union Miniere this year should produce at least last year's 293,509 tons of copper and perhaps top last year's 8,326 tons of cobalt.

This resilient success is partly due to the devotion of the company's staff, which knows that Union Miniere will take care of its own.

Another reason is the extraordinary benevolence of nature. Only recently did Union Miniere have to dig underground for profitable copper. Even now the most productive veins are close to the surface. Easy open-face methods of extraction account for the bulk of Union Miniere's production.

Rivers nearby enabled Union Miniere to build its own system of dams and harness hydroelectric power, enough for its own vast operation and the adjoining copper belt of Northern Rhodesia.

Peter Grose, an Evanston, Ill. newsman educated at Yale and Oxford universities, is chief AP correspondent in the Congo.

GUIDE TO GOOD READING

1,019 Books Are Added In August

By FRANCES FLANDERS
Ouachita Parish Librarian

During the month of August a total of 1,019 books were added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. This is an extremely large number and represented many hours of hard work on the part of the Technical Processes staff. Of these new books 456 were purchased with Library funds, 136 were memorial books and 427 were other gifts. The total book collection now stands at 76,904 books. It is growing every month and we hope to soon reach our goal of one book per person in the parish.

NEW BOOK

An interesting book of western historical fiction is "A Time in the Sun" by Jane Barry. This is the story of a white girl who was for a time a captive of the Indians in Arizona. This is not a tale for the thin-skinned, but presents a remarkably accurate picture of the conflict between the Indians and the white settlers in the last years of the nineteenth century. One of the best and most popular authors of sea stories is C. S. Forester, author of the "Hornblower and the Hotspur." This book fills in many of the details which were missing from some of the earlier books and is a splendid addition to the literature of the sea. "Magnificent Destiny" is the title of the latest biographical novel by Paul I. Wellman. This book tells the story of two great Americans, Andrew Jackson and Sam Houston. It also tells the story of the years when the young Republic was growing and expanding. This is a long book, full of rich detail and interesting antidote. The interpretation of the characters of these two men will not satisfy all historians, but it makes exciting reading.

Readers of mystery stories have three new titles to entertain them. Brett Halliday is the editor of "Best Detective Stories of the Year." This collection is drawn from periodicals and will appeal to those who like mysteries of the tough school. Frances and Richard Lockridge have written an exciting story of a lady who inherits a large house in Westchester and there finds mystery and intrigue. It is called "The Ticking Clock." Bart Spicer is the aurhor of the other mystery called "Act of Anger."

For sheer enjoyment there is nothing funnier than a book by Mary Lasswell. Her newest one is called "Let's go for Broke" and has a laugh on every page.

The Library touches the lives of many people and we are always happy when we find that we have helped one of our patrons achieve success in some project. We wish to congratulate Betsy Taylor, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor who won first place in a contest conducted for Jr. members of the Society of Mayflower Descendants. The contest consisted of 25 questions about the voyage of the Mayflower and the descendants of those who came on this boat. Betsy spent hours in the Library searching for the answers to the questions. We helped her locate the material and were most interested in her project. Mrs. Taylor told me that she gave the Library credit for Betsy's accomplishment, for without the resources found in the Library she could not have done it. Out of the many children who entered from all parts of the country, Betsy was the only one who answered all 25 of the questions correctly. This is a wonderful honor and we are very proud of her.

An interesting book in the field of child psychology is "Parents Ask" by Frances Ilg. This should be most useful. A problem which confronts many businessmen is the problem of losses from within a firm. The library has a new book by Keith M. Rogers, which should be most valuable. It is called "Detection and prevention of Business Losses." Another fine book for parents was written by Ruth Strang with the title "Helping Your Child Improve his Reading."

In the field of science and space there are a number of new titles "Radar Observes the Weather" was written by Louis J. Battan. Another useful book is "Civil Air Regulations and Flight Standards for Pilots." Lincoln Bloomfield is the author of "Space Handbook." There is a new edition of "The Exploration of Space" by Arthur C. Clarke, while Dr. Ralph E. Lapp is the author of "Man and space; the Next Decade." Willy Ley has brought out a new edition of his book "Rockets, Missiles and Space Travel." If you have not done any reading in the field of space, you should do so in order to bring yourself up-to-date.

There are also a number of new books in the field of the arts. "The new vision and abstract of an Artist" is the title of the book by Laszlo Moholy-Nagy. Ralph M. Kovel has compiled a directory of American silver, "Pewter and Silver Plate" which will be most useful to the collector. Ernest Satow is the author of a book for photographers called "Taking Pictures After Dark."

One of the most beautiful books which we have had in many months is "America's Historylands" published by the National Geographic Society. Another book in the field of U.S. history is "They Signed for Us" by Merle Sinclair. This book tells about the men who signed "The Declaration of Independence."

I would like to call the attention of all the Library patrons to the library hours. Every day we answer hundreds of telephone calls about what hours we are open. The main library, the Anna Meyer Library, and the West Monroe Library, have the same hours. We open at 9:00 o'clock each morning. We are open until 8:00 p.m. from Monday through Thursday. We close at 5:00 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays. These have been the library hours for years. Please clip this announcement and keep it on file. You can save yourself time and effort if you will keep this announcement for future reference. We will not be open tomorrow, because it is Labor Day. We will open at 9:00 on Tuesday morning for business as usual and will not have another holiday until Thanksgiving.

CONCERT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Because the full and proper playing of Mendelssohn's incidental music to "A Midsummer Night's Dream" requires two top - quality female singers and a well - trained chorus as well as a good orchestra and an imaginative conductor, it isn't recorded often. Usually records get only the overture. It requires only an orchestra and it is such a natural that almost any competent conductor will do.

All these are good reasons for rejoicing in a full and proper recording of the whole work by Otto Klemperer conducting the Philharmonia Orchestra and Chorus with Heather Harper, soprano, and Janet Baker, contralto (Angel-35881). Klemperer has the imagination to project the imaginative and often subtle genius with which the composer transliterated Shakespeare's fairy world and its humor into music.

A remarkably versatile conductor, this Klemperer. Also current is his recording of Schubert's 9th symphony, called "The Great," also made with the Philharmonia Orchestra (Angel-35946).

A conductor can make this symphony of "heavenly length," as Schumann called it, seem much too long by mismanaging. He can make its repetitiousness stand out to the point of monotony. Not Klemperer. The way he projects it, it could be even longer and you'd never complain. Indeed, you'd probably not even think of its length. Each time the score comes around again to a similar utterance, Klemperer does something and rather than being similar it becomes a different aspect of a single beauty.

POPULAR

NEW YORK (UPI) — Del Wood is back with us again after too long an absence. And that is good news for record collectors.

Dell will be remembered as the pianist whose bouncy "Down Yonder" became a best - seller overnight. After a while she settled down to being a housewife.

Now Del has put aside the apron strings and rattled off a dozen tingly tunes with a Latin - American beat. They may be heard on "Ragtime Goes South of the Border" (Mercury SR 60678).

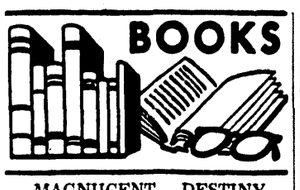
The tunes are Latin standards, such as "Mama Inez," "La Paloma" and "Alla En El Rancho Grande." And there are some U. S.-made, too, among them "Mexicali Rose" and "My Adobe Hacienda."

Harry James appeared on the scene long before Del Wood and happily survived when the big bands lost favor. His name still is a synonym for trumpet.

The tunes that Harry made during his early days are included in "Requests On-the-Road" (MGM E 4003). All of them are there: "Ciribiribin," "Cherry," "Sleepy Lagoon" and "You Made Me Love You."

Before Harry James hit it big, Ray Noble was a favorite on two continents. And some of the tunes he recorded in England during the 1930's have been reproduced on "Ray Noble and His Renowned London Mayfair Orchestra" (Capitol TBO-10314). Here are 24 numbers arranged for dancing, beginning with Ray's theme, "The Very Thought of You."

Selected Singles — "There You Go" by Paul Anka (RCA Victor 47-8068), "My Geisha" by Jerry Vale (Columbia 4-42513), "Tennessee Waltz" by Damito Jo (Mercury 72019), "Work Song" by the Deltas (Philips (40023).



MAGNIICENT DESTINY, by Paul I. Wellman (Doubleday. $5.95): A substantially historical account of the relationship between two great 19th - century Americans — Andrew Jackson and Sam Houston. Although they came from different backgrounds and were a generation apart in age, the two men had a good deal in common. Each was a remarkably forceful leader in politics or in war, and each is remembered for a fantastic military victory—Jackson at New Orleans and Houston at San Jacinto. Each of them rose from obscurity to his greatest triumphs, and marriage complicated both of their careers. Most of all, both were dedicated to what came to be called "manifest destiny" — the need of expansion to insure U. S. domination of the North American continent. Wellman presents his story as a novel, presumably because of the freedom of the form. While he admits "transposing a few minor events for smoothness," he says his descriptions of major events "are as accurate as a good deal of research and study can make them."

HORNBLOWER AND THE HOTSPUR, by C. S. Forester (Littler, Brown. $4.95): Another chapter in the career of Horatio Hornblower, naval nonpareil of Georgian England. Although latest in time of publication, this book comes third in chronological order among the 10 Hornblower novels, between "Lieutenant Hornblower" and "Hornblower and the Atropos." It picks up young Cmdr. Hornblower as he passes a double milestone: his first marriage unhappy, anyone familiar with the saga knows(and his first real sea command,which wrenches him from his bride's arms less than two days afters the wedding. Hornblower's ship is the 20-gun sloop of war Hotspur, smallest but under his command by no means least of the fighting craft in the Channel Fleet commanded (1803-04) by Vice Adm. Sir William Cornwallis, brother of the luckless lord who lost the battle of Yorktown. This force, probably more than any other, wrecked Napoleon's plans to invade England, and Hornblower of course played a leading part. Like every Hornblower book, "Hotspur" is a first - class historical novel.

THE REALM OF THE GREAT GODDESS, by Sibylle von ClesReden (Prentice-Hall. $10): Man since earliest times has always devoted much thought and energy to the mystery of death and ways to make himself immortal. In the religions of thousands of years ago this basic urge was expressed in the erection of huge stone monuments and tombs all over Europe. They are tourist attractions today — Stonehenge, Carnac, etc. Mrs. von ClesReden has researched these stone piles and tells here an absorbing story of the people who built them and why. There are scores of fine photographs.

REVOLUTION IN HUNGARY, by Paul E. Zinner (Columbia.): A review and analysis of the events which led to the Hungarian revolution of 1956 and of what followed. Zinner, who teaches political science at the University of California, writes lucidly and objectively of this "Unique historic event." He sees the Hungarian revolution as underscoring the "inseparable nature of national and international politics in our time," and warns that "Unless this is recognized by the makers of United States policy and some means are found to cope with the complex problems . . . other revolutions may also end in defeat."

FOR THE FIRST time in three weeks the Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined, closing Friday at 225.2 from 226.4 a week ago. The commodity index advanced slightly this week to 163.0 from 162.9 in the preceeding period. Livestock showed the largest gain. (AP Wirephoto)

BEFORE LABOR DAY

Caution Hovers At 'New Year'

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market Sunday stood on the verge of the traditional "business new year"—Labor Day — with more than usual caution.

In the week preceding the long Labor Day weekend, trading dwindled to the lowest total in a month as traders cleared the decks for whatever the autumn season would bring.

The market had one sharp decline, on Tuesday, and a surprising rally in the final hour Friday. On the other days the market dwadled, with the emphasis slightly more to the selling than the buying side.

The Dow Jones industrial average ended the week with a net loss of 4.56 at 609.18.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.2 to 225.2.

Both declines were minor. Both averages were up considerably from their closing lows for the year, reached June 26—the Dow industrials from 535.76 and the AP 60 stocks from 200.6.

The market enjoyed a good traditional "summer rally." it now faces the month of September, which has a tradition for being almost always a down month when the major trend of the stock market is down, as it is at present, according to most theoretical standards.

Volume this week faded to 14,327,660 shares from 20,493,852 the week before and was the lightest since the week ended July 28, when turnover was 13,914,661 shares.

The week began in lethargic fashion with brokers already beginning to talk about the weekend ahead. Steel production declined in the latest week. Although there was a slight rise in steel mill orders, steel shares edged to the downside.

Tuesday, stocks wilted in one of the sharpest drops of the summer but volume was moderate and brokers took the decline with relative calm. They remarked that many traders had profits to take after the summer advance and that profit taking was normal in advance of the Labor Day milestone. The cost of living rose to a record high and building contracts were greater, but this brought no enthusiasm.

Wednesday, the market continued to drift downward but found support just above the psychologically important 600 level in the Dow Jones industrial average. A divided cut by Wheeling Steel followed similar action by Republic Steel in the previous week, but the market found support in spite of this.

Steels did not begin to weaken until the Thursday session, when the Wheeling divided action was reinforced by the news that some steel companies had refused to comply with subpoenas from the Senate subcommittee on antitrust and monopoly.

Friday, motors were pacemakers in a late rally, accompanied by stocks of the savings-and-loan holding companies. Reports of the 1963 auto models were good. The savings-and-loans were cheered by prospects of anther delay in pending tax legislation, which is designed to increase their taxes. Improvement, however, spread through the whole list.

Pre-holiday, end-of-summer lethargy dominated both the government and corporate bond markets. Two-thirds of the government list fell, other issues were unchanged. Corporates managed a fair gain. Corporate volume totaled $19,361,000, lowest nor a non-holiday week in two years, compared with $22,222,000 the previous week.

TRAVELING AROUND

N. Mexico Land Of Big Contrasts

By FRANK MORGAN

SANTE FE, N. M. (UPI) — The state's promoters have tagged it "The Land of Enchantment," but New Mexico really is the land of strange contrasts.

On the surface it is an eager, booming state, opening its doors to tourists and industries.

Man - made lakes and recreational areas are springing up rapidly, land developments are mushrooming in the sun-baked deserts and its only metropolis, Albuquerque, is spreading.

The space age and civilization have come to the 47th state, which is celebrating its golden anniversary of statehood this year.

MODERN

But behind the new symbols of modernization stands an old world and way of life that dates back to before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth.

The awesome formations of land and rock, the washboard appearance of the rolling arroyos (gulches), the dense forests and wilderness, the ocean of deserts that tax the eye, the intensely blue sky and the fierce sun all leave no doubt that nature rules life in New Mexico.

Man has veneered parts of the land with modern comforts. But a short walk from the ribbons of road and the concrete sidewalks leads one to a primeval existence.

Within the state's boundaries are 15 national forests and monuments, nine state parks, four Indian reservations, 18 Indian pueblos, 32 ghost towns, 18 old fort sites and a Spanish heritage that pervades every facet of life.

INFANT STATE

The infant state has opened its eyes to the benefits of tourism and is scurrying to attract visitors.

But beneath this development are contrasts rarely seen in a brief visit.

At the bottom of the winding road to Los Alamos — birthplace of the atomic bomb and still the center of nuclear development—sit the cliff - dwellings of the Puye Ruins, inhabited thousands of years ago.

Albuquerque's "Old Town," with the pleasing architecture of Spanish buildings built 250 years ago, is but a few blocks from "Motel Row" where gaudy neon signs blot out the horizon.

Economic Legislation Wrestled In Congress

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Congress wrestled during the week with legislation of high importance to business. The preliminary actions generally supported views of business and financial circles.

Elsewhere, the lassitude of late summer spread over the economic scene. The automobile industry was slow in getting production of 1963 models under way, steel output lagged and the stock market sagged.

Here is what Congress did in the field of economic legislation:

The Senate rejected an administration-supported proposal to impose withholding taxes on income from dividends and interest. The House had approved a plan expected to produce $520 million annually in currently uncollected revenues.

The Senate approved a watered-down version of House-approved curbs on expense accounts. The Senate would allow businessmen greater latitude in deducting entertainment expenses.

The Senate defeated an attempt to remove from the tax revision bill a section providing tax credits for businessmen who buy new equipment.

For the first time in weeks the nation's economic outlook failed to be a subject of discussion at President Kennedy's news conference. This was a welcome development to businessmen, who saw in it indication that apprehension had diminished.

The First National City Bank of New York said in its monthly review that business reports for the summer months show that the vacation-time letdown in activity was no greater than usual, and that talk of a probable recession next winter had waned.

Automobile production picked up some speed during the week but indications were that the industry would build fewer passenger cars this month than in any month since September 1958.

The week's output was estimated at 35,000 cars, up from 8,109 the previous week but far below the 91,098 a year ago. General Motors still was shut down for the model changeover but the four other big makers were in production.

Steel production dipped during the week for the first time since the holiday-shortened July 4 week. The total of 1,611,000 tons was .03 per cent below the previous week. Industry sources said a substantial pickup may not come before November because big users still are working off inventories.

Wheeling Steel Corp., No. 11 producer, cut its quarterly common stock dividend from 50 cents to 25 cents because of what it said was a cost-price squeeze. Republic Steel Corp. had sliced its dividend earlier for the same reason.

Pre-Labor Day caution gripped the stock market, drying up buying and sending it sharply lower.

The cost of living reached another record high, rising by two-tenths of one per cent in July, mainly because of higher prices for food and services. The Department of Labor's index rose to 105.5 per cent of the average prices in 1957-1959.

As a result about 950,000 workers in the automobile, automobile parts, farm equipment, aerospace and metalworking industries will receive pay raises of one cent an hour under union contracts.

Building contract awards in July increased six per cent from a year earlier. The rate of gain, however, was the smallest for any month this year.

The nation's third-largest railroad, the 10,000-mile Chicago & North Western, was closed down by a strike of 1,000 members of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers in a dispute over job security.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg spent the entire night after his appointment as a justice of the U.S. Supreme Court in a vain effort to bring the union and the railroad together. President Kennedy appointed Undersecretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to succeed Goldberg in the Cabinet post upon Goldberg's confirmation by the Senate.

Briefly around the business scene: The bedding industry will spend $1 million on an advertising campaign to convince adults and teen-agers that they are sleeping in too-small beds . . . Scheduled domestic trunk and all-cargo airlines carried 10.4 per cent more freight last month than in July 1961 . . Bank deposits rose $172 million in July, compared with a gain of $22 million a year earlier.

DURING SEVEN YEARS

Home Gas Usage Up 70 Per Cent

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — Home use of natural gas has increased 70 per cent in seven years.

The gas industry now heats 41 per cent of all the nation's dwelling units.

Industry sources estimate they are gaining more than 4,000 home heating customers each working day.

Distributors are confident the future is bright but admit one competitive problem is irritating if not embarrassing.

They say too many gas heating furnaces are turned on and off by electricity.

This prompted one distributor this week to call on the industry to set a goal of supplying its customers with their total energy requirements.

Marvin Chandler, president of the Northern Illinois Gas Co., Chicago, advocates such a goal.

"With total requirements as our goal, we will have to provide electricity as well as gas at the point of use," Chandler told the annual meeting of the Independent Natural Gas Association of America.

"So it is up to us to find means of converting the energy at the site of its use, at the customers' premises. For all our customers, that isn't easy, but for some the equipment is available now and we should be out selling it. I am referring to gas-burning reciprocating engines to generate the electricity."

Chandler also said a device is being developed to permit gas furnaces to operate free of any external source of electricity.

"This would be a fine step forward to dependability under all weather conditions," he said.

Chandler asked producers and pipeliners to assist in research programs designed to improve gas equipment and attract new customers from groups now making use of coal, electricity and oil.

He said the industry has been too complacent about its equipment.

"Today's gas burner is fairly efficient," he said. "Experts differ, but most opinions or studies place it between 65 and 80 per cent. Since this has been good enough to get a major share of the market, we have tended to be complacent. I think we need to get to work."

Producers, pipeliners, distributors, and federal regulators predict continued sharp growth of the gas industry.

Clarence Unneveher, chief of the Federal Power Commission's bureau of natural gas, said the period when most of the postwar boom has leveled off in other areas of our economy, natural gas went ahead to increase by 70 per cent," Unnevehr said. "I forecast gas will hold its share of the total national energy market well into the 1980s if not beyond that."

A Texas producer said gas reserves will have to be increased sharply.

Harold Decker, Houston, said additions to gas reserves the last 10 years totaled 181 trillion cubic feet.

"In order to satisfy the expected demand the next 10 years and maintain our present reserves-to-production ratio, we must find about 275 trillion cubic feet," said the president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

"This means we will have to find about 50 per cent more gas than we found the last 10 years."

Cites Service Completes 2nd Producing Well

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Cities Service Petroleum Co. has completed its Dixon No. 1, sec. 29-12n-3e, as the second producer in the recently found new producing horizon in the 22-year-old Pickens field of Yazoo and Madison counties.

The venture is on the Yazoo County side, and flowed at the rate of 156 barrels of 40 gravity oil per day from sand at 5,017 feet in the Eutaw formation.

The new producing horizon in the old field is from the Wilburn sand which is productive in the field on the high side of the major fault. The successful completion is expected to increase drilling activity in the Pickens area.

In Lamar County, Larco Drilling Co. is below 4,500 feet in its wildcat, the Lewis No. 1, sec. 19-9n-14w, located approximately two miles southwest of Purvis. The venture is scheduled to be drilled to 12,500 feet, and is the deepest test yet drilled in this particular area.

Continental Oil Co. is drilling below 7,300 feet in its Madison County wildcat, the Defore No. 1, sec. 27-9n-1w, with the test scheduled to be drilled to 11,600 feet. The wildcat is located about a mile and one-half northwest of the shallow Flora field, and four miles south of the Bentonia oil field.

In the two well Collins field of Covington County, Pan American Petroleum Corp. is below 12,700 feet in its Collins operating unit No. 3, sec. 25-8n-15w, and nearing depth of 13,900 feet.

Drilling activity is increasing in the Pool Creek field of Jones County, with two ventures drilling and two wells in the process of being completed as dual producers. Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. is drilling below 3,500 feet in its Masonite No. 1, sec. 15-9n-10w, with the well scheduled to be drilled to 12,200 feet. Gammill & Briggs are below 6,100 feet in their Ruston No. 1, sec. 22-9n-10w, a scheduled 11,500 foot try. Texaco, Inc., is installing dual completion equipment at its Byrd No. 1, sec. 14-9n-10w, and its Foote No. 4, sec. 15-9n-10w. Texaco has location staked for its J. J. Musgrove No. 1, sec. 22-9n-10w, a 11,500 foot test.

In Marion County, approximately two miles north of the Dexter field, Skelly Oil Co. is drilling below 12,100 feet in its Stringer No. 1, sec. 20-2n-13e, a scheduled 12,800 foot test.

Field drilling during the past week saw one new oiler and one gas condensate well completed.

COMING CONFERENCE

Fleet Vs. Carrier Debate Gets Ammo

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YOR K (UPI) — The continuing debate whether a company with goods to ship should use its own trucks or common carrier truck lines and railroads will get some fresh ammunition for all parties late next month in a midwestern conference.

Several hundred representatives of such differing and often warring groups as the Teamsters' Union, major railroads and some of the nation's biggest intercity truck lines will gather at the transportation center at Northwestern University in Evanston.

They will hear results of a survey made by a team of university researchers who spent two years and $125,000 assembling information for industry-wide use. The money was posted by shippers, carriers and labor, who all are affected by the common-vs-private carriage controversy.

Questionnaires on transportation were sent to 10,000 manufacturing companies with headquarters in the United States. Special data was furnished from shippers' surveys by the bureau of the census.

Franklin M. Kreml, director of the center, turned up figures showing that common carriers increased the number of intercity ton miles hauled by them three times between 1943 and 1958, but their proportion of ton miles fell from 50.66 per cent in 1943 to 35.14 per cent in 1949. At least 18,000 companies now have fleets of 10 vehicles or more and about 85 per cent of 12 million motor vehicles in the nation are operated in private carriage.

Reasons behind the growth of private carriage include the development of modern highways and the growth of production techniques which require one-story plant layouts of considerable area. This in turn has pushed many industries to edges of metropolitan areas in search of space but where common carrier facilities may be hard to find.

Additionally, companies using private carriage argue they feel they can haul their goods for less than the common carrier rates filed with government regulatory groups and that they can give service tailored to their own schedules.

But common carriers can argue in return that when a private company sets up its own network it puts itself into the transportation business and must provide managerial time and effort; and that quite often they do not know or discover too late what are their real costs.

Common carriers also say some companies fail to put a proper value on the return from their investment in a private carrier service; that more money could be made by investment elsewhere.

They argue that some practices of private carriers are illegal, particularly back-hauls. If a company truck which has moved a shipment from city A to city B is scheduled to return empty, it might be hired out to carry goods of another company on the trip back home. This can be illegal unless the shipment is confined to agricultural goods or some of the list of exempt products in movement within a state.

GUIDE TO GOOD READING

1,019 Books Are Added In August

By FRANCES FLANDERS
Ouachita Parish Librarian

During the month of August a total of 1,019 books were added to the collection of the Ouachita Parish Public Library. This is an extremely large number and represented many hours of hard work on the part of the Technical Processes staff. Of these new books 4[illegible] were purchased with Library funds, 136 were memorial books and 427 were other gifts. The total book collection now stands at 76,904 books. It is growing every month and we hope to soon reach our goal of one book per person in the parish.

NEW BOOK

An interesting book of western historical fiction is "A Time in the Sun" by Jane Barry. This is the story of a white girl who was for a time a captive of the Indians in Arizona. This is not a tale for the thin-skinned, but presents a remarkably accurate picture of the conflict between the Indians and the white settlers in the last years of the nineteenth century. One of the best and most popular authors of sea stories is C. S. Forester, author of the "Hornblower and the Hotspur." This book fills in many of the details which were missing from some of the earlier books and is a splendid addition to the literature of the sea. "Magnificent Destiny" is the title of the latest biographical novel by Paul I. Wellman. This book tells the story of two great Americans, Andrew Jackson and Sam Houston. It also tells the story of the years when the young Republic was growing and expanding. This is a long book, full of rich detail and interesting antidote. The interpretation of the characters of these two men will not satisfy all historians, but it makes exciting reading.

Readers of mystery stories have three new titles to entertain them. Brett Halliday is the editor of "Best Detective Stories of the Year." This collection is drawn from periodicals and will appeal to those who like mysteries of the tough school. Frances and Richard Lockridge have written an exciting story of a lady who inherits a large house in Westchester and there finds mystery and intrigue. It is called "The Ticking Clock." Bart Spicer is the aurhor of the other mystery called "Act of Anger."

For sheer enjoyment there is nothing funnier than a book by Mary Lasswell. Her newest one is called "Let's go for Broke" and has a laugh on every page.

The Library touches the lives of many people and we are always happy when we find that we have helped one of our patrons achieve success in some project. We wish to congratulate Betsy Taylor, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor who won first place in a contest conducted for Jr. members of the Society of Mayflower Descendants. The contest consisted of 25 questions about the voyage of the Mayflower and the descendants of those who came on this boat. Betsy spent hours in the Library searching for the answers to the questions. We helped her locate the material and were most interested in her project. Mrs. Taylor told me that she gave the Library credit for Betsy's accomplishment, for without the resources found in the Library she could not have done it. Out of the many children who entered from all parts of the country, Betsy was the only one who answered all 25 of the questions correctly. This is a wonderful honor and we are very proud of her.

An interesting book in the field of child psychology is "Parents Ask" by Frances Ilg. This should be most useful. A problem which confronts many businessmen is the problem of losses from within a firm. The library has a new book by Keith M. Rogers, which should be most valuable. It is called "Detection and prevention of Business Losses." Another fine book for parents was written by Ruth Strang with the title "Helping Your Child Improve his Reading."

In the field of science and space there are a number of new titles "Radar Observes the Weather" was written by Louis J. Battan. Another useful book is "Civil Air Regulations and Flight Standards for Pilots." Lincoln Bloomfield is the author of "Space Handbook." There is a new edition of "The Exploration of Space" by Arthur C. Clarke, while Dr. Ralph E. Lapp is the author of "Man and space; the Next Decade." Willy Ley has brought out a new edition of his book "Rockets, Missiles and Space Travel." If you have not done any reading in the field of space, you should do so in order to bring yourself up-to-date.

There are also a number of new books in the field of the arts. "The new vision and abstract of an Artist" is the title of the book by Laszlo Moholy-Nagy. Ralph M. Kovel has compiled a directory of American silver, "Pewter and Silver Plate" which will be most useful to the collector. Ernest Satow is the author of a book for photographers called "Taking Pictures After Dark."

One of the most beautiful books which we have had in many months is "America's Historylands" published by the National Geographic Society. Another book in the field of U.S. history is "They Signed for Us" by Merle Sinclair. This book tells about the men who signed "The Declaration of Independence."

I would like to call the attention of all the Library patrons to the library hours. Every day we answer hundreds of telephone calls about what hours we are open. The main library, the Anna Meyer Library, and the West Monroe Library, have the same hours. We open at 9:00 o'clock each morning. We are open until 8:00 p.m. from Monday through Thursday. We close at 5:00 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays. These have been the library hours for years. Please clip this announcement and keep it on file. You can save yourself time and effort if you will keep this announcement for future reference. We will not be open tomorrow, because it is Labor Day. We will open at 9:00 on Tuesday morning for business as usual and will not have another holiday until Thanksgiving.

CONCERT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Because the full and proper playing of Mendelssohn's incidental music to "A Midsummer Night's Dream" requires two top - quality female singers and a well - trained chorus as well as a good orchestra and an imaginative conductor, it isn't recorded often. Usually records get only the overture. It requires only an orchestra and it is such a natural that almost any competent conductor will do.

All these are good reasons for rejoicing in a full and proper recording of the whole work by Otto Klemperer conducting the Philharmonia Orchestra and Chorus with Hether Harper, soprano, and Janet Baker, contralto (Angel-35881). Klemperer has the imagination to project the imaginative and often subtle genius with which the composer transliterated Shakespeare's fairy world and its humor into music.

A remarkably versatile conductor, this Klemperer. Also current is his recording of Schubert's 9th symphony, called "The Great," also made with the Philharmonia Orchestra (Angel-35946).

A conductor can make this symphony of "heavenly length," as Schumann called it, seem much too long by mismanaging. He can make its repetitiousness stand out to the point of monotony. Not Klemperer. The way he projects it, it could be even longer and you'd never complain. Indeed, you'd probably not even think of its length. Each time the score comes around again to a similar utterance, Klemperer does something and rather than being similar it becomes a different aspect of a single beauty.

POPULAR

NEW YORK (UPI) — Del Wood is back with us again after too long an absence. And that is good news for record collectors.

Dell will be remembered as the pianist whose bouncy "Down Yonder" became a best - seller overnight. After a while she settled down to being a housewife.

Now Del has put aside the apron strings and rattled off a dozen tingly tunes with a Latin - American beat. They may be heard on "Ragtime Goes South of the Border" (Mercury SR 60678).

The tunes are Latin standards, such as "Mama Inez," "La Paloma" and "Alla En El Rancho Grande." And there are some U. S.-made, too, among them "Mexicali Rose" and "My Adobe Hacienda."

Harry James appeared on the scene long before Del Wood and happily survived when the big bands lost favor. His name still is a synonym for trumpet.

The tunes that Harry made during his early days are included in "Requests On-the-Road" (MGM E 4003). All of them are there: "Ciribiribin," "Cherry," "Sleepy Lagoon" and "You Made Me Love You."

Before Harry James hit it big, Ray Noble was a favorite on two continents. And some of the tunes he recorded in England during the 1930's have been reproduced on "Ray Noble and His Renowned London Mayfair Orchestra" (Capitol TBO-10314). Here are 24 numbers arranged for dancing, beginning with Ray's theme, "The Very Thought of You."

Selected Singles — "There You Go" by Paul Anka (RCA Victor 47-8068), "My Geisha" by Jerry Vale (Columbia 4-42513), "Tennessee Waltz" by Damito Jo (Mercury 72019), "Work Song" by the Deltas (Philips (40023).

MAGNIICENT DESTINY, by Paul I. Wellman (Doubleday. $5.95): A substantially historical account of the relationship between two great 19th - century Americans — Andrew Jackson and Sam Houston. Although they came from different backgrounds and were a generation apart in age, the two men had a good deal in common. Each was a remarkably forceful leader in politics or in war, and each is remembered for a fantastic military victory—Jackson at New Orleans and Houston at San Jacinto. Each of them rose from obscurity to his greatest triumphs, and marriage complicated both of their careers. Most of all, both were dedicated to what came to be called "manifest destiny" — the need of expansion to insure U. S. domination of the North American continent. Wellman presents his story as a novel, presumably because of the freedom of the form. While he admits "transposing a few minor events for smoothness," he says his descriptions of major events "are as accurate as a good deal of research and study can make them."

HORNBLOWER AND THE HOTSPUR, by C. S. Forester (Littler, Brown. $4.95); Another chapter in the career of Horatio Hornblower, naval nonpareil of Georgian England. Although latest in time of publication, this book comes third in chronological order among the 10 Hornblower novels, between "Lieutenant Hornblower" and "Hornblower and the Atropos." It picks up young Cmdr. Hornblower as he passes a double milestone: his first marriage unhappy, anyone familiar with the saga knows(and his first real sea command,which wrenches him from his bride's arms less than two days afters the wedding. Hornblower's ship is the 20-gun sloop of war Hotspur, smallest but under his command by no means least of the fighting craft in the Channel Fleet commanded (1803-04) by Vice Adm. Sir William Cornwallis, brother of the luckless lord who lost the battle of Yorktown. This force, probably more than any other, wrecked Napoleon's plans to invade England, and Hornblower of course played a leading part. Like every Hornblower book, "Hotspur" is a first - class historical novel.

THE REALM OF THE GREAT GODDESS, by Sibylle von ClesReden (Prentice-Hall. $10): Man since earliest times has always devoted much thought and energy to the mystery of death and ways to make himself immortal. In the religions of thousands of years ago this basic urge was expressed in the erection of huge stone monuments and tombs all over Europe. They are tourist attractions today — Stonehenge, Carnac, etc. Mrs. von ClesReden has researched these stone piles and tells here an absorbing story of the people who built them and why. There are scores of fine photographs.

REVOLUTION IN HUNGARY, by Paul E. Zinner (Columbia.): A review and analysis of the events which led to the Hungarian revolution of 1956 and of what followed. Zinner, who teaches political science at the University of California, writes lucidly and objectively of this "Unique historic event." He sees the Hungarian revolution as underscoring the "inseparable nature of national and international politics in our time," and warns that "Unless this is recognized by the makers of United States policy and some means are found to cope with the complex problems . . . other revolutions may also end in defeat."

FOR THE FIRST time in three weeks the Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined, closing Friday at 225.2 from 226.4 a week ago. The commodity index advanced slightly this week to 163.0 from 162.9 in the preceeding period. Livestock showed the largest gain. (AP Wirephoto)

BEFORE LABOR DAY

Caution Hovers At 'New Year'

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market Sunday stood on the verge of the traditional "business new year"—Labor Day — with more than usual caution.

In the week preceding the long Labor Day weekend, trading dwindled to the lowest total in a month as traders cleared the decks for whatever the autumn season would bring.

The market had one sharp decline, on Tuesday, and a surprising rally in the final hour Friday. On the other days the market dwadled, with the emphasis slightly more to the selling than the buying side.

The Dow Jones industrial average ended the week with a net loss of 4.56 at 609.18.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.2 to 225.2.

Both declines were minor. Both averages were up considerably from their closing lows for the year, reached June 26—the Dow industrials from 535.76 and the AP 60 stocks from 200.6.

The market enjoyed a good traditional "summer rally." it now faces the month of September, which has a tradition for being almost always a down month when the major trend of the stock market is down, as it is at present, according to most theoreical standards.

Volume this week faded to 14,327,660 shares from 20,493,852 the week before and was the lightest since the week ended July 28, when turnover was 13,914,661 shares.

The week began in lethargic fashion with brokers already beginning to talk about the weekend ahead. Steel production declined in the latest week. Although there was a slight rise in steel mill orders, steel shares edged to the downside.

Tuesday, stocks wilted in one of the sharpest drops of the summer but volume was moderate and brokers took the decline with relative calm. They remarked that many traders had profits to take after the summer advance and that profit taking was normal in advance of the Labor Day milestone. The cost of living rose to a record high and building contracts were greater, but this brought no enthusiasm.

Wednesday, the market continued to drift downward but found support just above the psychologically important 600 level in the Dow Jones industrial average. A divided cut by Wheeling Steel followed similar action by Republic Steel in the previous week, but the market found support in spite of this.

Steels did not begin to weaken until the Thursday session, when the Wheeling divided action was reinforced by the news that some steel companies had refused to comply with subpoenas from the Senate subcommittee on antitrust and monopoly.

Friday, motors were pacemakers in a late rally, accompanied by stocks of the savings-and-loan holding companies. Reports of the 1963 auto models were good. The savings-and-loans were cheered by prospects of anther delay in pending tax legislation, which is designed to increase their taxes. Improvement, however, spread through the whole list.

Pre-holiay, end-of-summer lethargy dominated both the government and corporate bond markets. Two-thirds of the government list fell, other issues were unchanged. Corporates managed a fair gain. Corporate volume totaled $19,361,000, lowest nor a non-holiday week in two years, compared with $22,222,000 the previous week.

TRAVELING AROUND

N. Mexico Land Of Big Contrasts

By FRANK MORGAN

SANTE FE, N. M. (UPI) — The state's promoters have tagged it "The Land of Enchantment," but New Mexico really is the land of strange contrasts.

On the surface it is an eager, booming state, opening its doors to tourists and industries.

Man - made lakes and recreational areas are springing up rapidly, land developments are mushrooming in the sun-baked deserts and its only metropolis, Albuquerque, is spreading.

The space age and civilization have come to the 47th state, which is celebrating its golden anniversary of statehood this year.

MODERN

But behind the new symbols of modernization stands an old world and way of life that dates back to before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth.

The awesome formations of land and rock, the washboard appearance of the rolling arroyos (gulches), the dense forests and wilderness, the ocean of deserts that tax the eye, the intensely blue sky and the fierce sun all leave no doubt that nature rules life in New Mexico.

Man has veneered parts of the land with modern comforts. But a short walk from the ribbons of road and the concrete sidewalks leads one to a primeval existence.

Within the state's boundaries are 15 national forests and monuments, nine state parks, four Indian reservations, 18 Indian pueblos, 32 ghost towns, 18 old fort sites and a Spanish heritage that pervades every facet of life.

INFANT STATE

The infant state has opened its eyes to the benefits of tourism and is scurrying to attract visitors.

But beneath this development are contrasts rarely seen in a brief visit.

At the bottom of the winding road to Los Alamos — birthplace of the atomic bomb and still the center of nuclear development—sit the cliff - dwellings of the Puye Ruins, inhabited thousands of years ago.

Albuquerque's "Old Town," with the pleasing architecture of Spanish buildings built 250 years ago, is but a few blocks from "Motel Row" where gaudy neon signs blot out the horizon.

Economic Legislation Wrestled In Congress

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Congress wrestled during the week with legislation of high importance to business. The preliminary actions generally supported views of business and financial circles.

Elsewhere, the lassitude of late summer spread over the economic scene. The automobile industry was slow in getting production of 1963 models under way, steel output lagged and the stock market sagged.

Here is what Congress did in the field of economic legislation:

The Senate rejected an administration-supported proposal to impose withholding taxes on income from dividends and interest. The House had approved a plan expected to produce $520 million annually in currently uncollected revenues.

The Senate approved a watered-down version of House-approved curbs on expense accounts. The Senate would allow businessmen greater latitude in deducting entertainment expenses.

The Senate defeated an attempt to remove from the tax revision bill a section providing tax credits for businessmen who buy new equipment.

For the first time in weeks the nation's economic outlook failed to be a subject of discussion at President Kennedy's news conference. This was a welcome development to businessmen, who saw in it indication that apprehension had diminished.

The First National City Bank of New York said in its monthly review that business reports for the summer months show that the vacation-time letdown in activity was no greater than usual, and that talk of a probable recession next winter had waned.

Automobile production picked up some speed during the week but indications were that the industry would build fewer passenger cars this month than in any month since September 1958.

The week's output was estimated at 35,000 cars, up from 8,109 the previous week but far below the 91,098 a year ago. General Motors still was shut down for the model changeover but the four other big makers were in production.

Steel production dipped during the week for the first time since the holiday-shortened July 4 week. The total of 1,611,000 tons was .03 per cent below the previous week. Industry sources said a substantial pickup may not come before November because big users still are working off inventories.

Wheeling Steel Corp., No. 11 producer, cut its quarterly common stock dividend from 50 cents to 25 cents because of what it said was a cost-price squeeze. Republic Steel Corp. had sliced its dividend earlier for the same reason.

Pre-Labor Day caution gripped the stock market, drying up buying and sending it sharply lower.

The cost of living reached another record high, rising by two-tenths of one per cent in July, mainly because of higher prices for food and services. The Department of Labor's index rose to 105.5 per cent of the average prices in 1957-1959.

As a result about 950,000 workers in the automobile, automobile parts, farm equipment, aerospace and metalworking industries will receive pay raises of one cent an hour under union contracts.

Building contract awards in July increased six per cent from a year earlier. The rate of gain, however, was the smallest for any month this year.

The nation's third-largest railroad, the 10,000-mile Chicago & North Western, was closed down by a strike of 1,000 members of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers in a dispute over job security.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg spent the entire night after his appointment as a justice of the U.S. Supreme Court in a vain effort to bring the union and the railroad together. President Kennedy appointed Undersecretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz to succeed Goldberg in the Cabinet post upon Goldberg's confirmation by the Senate.

Briefly around the business scene: The bedding industry will spend $1 million on an advertising campaign to convince adults and teen-agers that they are sleeping in too-small beds . . . Scheduled domestic trunk and all-cargo airlines carried 10.4 per cent more freight last month than in July 1961 . . Bank deposits rose $172 million in July, compared with a gain of $22 million a year earlier.

DURING SEVEN YEARS

Home Gas Usage Up 70 Per Cent

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON (AP) — Home use of natural gas has increased 70 per cent in seven years.

The gas industry now heats 41 per cent of all the nation's dwelling units.

Industry sources estimate they are gaining more than 4,000 home heating customers each working day.

Distributors are confident the future is bright but admit one competitive problem is irritating if not embarrassing.

They say too many gas heating furnaces are turned on and off by electricity.

This prompted one distributor this week to call on the industry to set a goal of supplying its customers with their total energy requirements.

Marvin Chandler, president of the Northern Illinois Gas Co., Chicago, advocates such a goal.

"With total requirements as our goal, we will have to provide electricity as well as gas at the point of use," Chandler told the annual meeting of the Independent Natural Gas Association of America.

"So it is up to us to find means of converting the energy at the site of its use, at the customers' premises. For all our customers, that isn't easy, but for some the equipment is available now and we should be out selling it. I am referring to gas-burning reciprocating engines to generate the electricity."

Chandler also said a device is being developed to permit gas furnaces to operate free of any external source of electricity.

"This would be a fine step forward to dependability under all weather conditions," he said.

Chandler asked producers and pipeliners to assist in research programs designed to improve gas equipment and attract new customers from groups now making use of coal, electricity and oil.

He said the industry has been too complacent about its equipment.

"Today's gas burner is fairly efficient," he said. "Experts differ, but most opinions or studies place it between 65 and 80 per cent. Since this has been good enough to get a major share of the market, we have tended to be complacent. I think we need to get to work."

Producers, pipeliners, distributors, and federal regulators predict continued sharp growth of the gas industry.

Clarence Unneveher, chief of the Federal Power Commission's bureau of natural gas, said the period when most of the postwar boom has leveled off in other areas of our economy, natural gas went ahead to increase by 70 per cent," Unnevehr said. "I forecast gas will hold its share of the total national energy market well into the 1980s if not beyond that."

A Texas producer said gas reserves will have to be increased sharply.

Harold Decker, Houston, said additions to gas reserves the last 10 years totaled 181 trillion cubic feet.

"In order to satisfy the expected demand the next 10 years and maintain our present reserves-to-production ratio, we must find about 275 trillion cubic feet," said the president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

"This means we will have to find about 50 per cent more gas than we found the last 10 years."

Cites Service Completes 2nd Producing Well

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Cities Service Petroleum Co. has completed its Dixon No. 1, sec. 29-12n-3e, as the second producer in the recently found new producing horizon in the 22-year-old Pickens field of Yazoo and Madison counties.

The venture is on the Yazoo County side, and flowed at the rate of 156 barrels of 40 gravity oil per day from sand at 5,017 feet in the Eutaw formation.

The new producing horizon in the old field is from the Wilburn sand which is productive in the field on the high side of the major fault. The successful completion is expected to increase drilling activity in the Pickens area.

In Lamar County, Larco Drilling Co. is below 4,500 feet in its wildcat, the Lewis No. 1, sec. 19-9n-14w, located approximately two miles southwest of Purvis. The venture is scheduled to be drilled to 12,500 feet, and is the deepest test yet drilled in this particular area.

Continental Oil Co. is drilling below 7,300 feet in its Madison County wildcat, the Defore No. 1, sec. 27-9n-1w, with the test scheduled to be drilled to 11,600 feet. The wildcat is located about a mile and one-half northwest of the shallow Flora field, and four miles south of the Bentonia oil field.

In the two well Collins field of Covington County, Pan American Petroleum Corp. is below 12,700 feet in its Collins operating unit No. 3, sec. 25-8n-15w, and nearing depth of 13,900 feet.

Drilling activity is increasing in the Pool Creek field of Jones County, with two ventures drilling and two wells in the process of being completed as dual producers. Sinclair Oil & Gas Co. is drilling below 3,500 feet in its Masonite No. 1, sec. 15-9n-10w, with the well scheduled to be drilled to 12,200 feet. Gammill & Briggs are below 6,100 feet in their Ruston No. 1, sec. 22-9n-10w, a scheduled 11,500 foot try. Texaco, Inc., is installing dual completion equipment at its Byrd No. 1, sec. 14-9n-10w, and its Foote No. 4, sec. 15-9n-10w. Texaco has location staked for its J. J. Musgrove No. 1, sec. 22-9n-10w, a 11,500 foot test.

In Marion County, approximately two miles north of the Dexter field, Skelly Oil Co. is drilling below 12,100 feet in its Stringer No. 1, sec. 20-2n-13e, a scheduled 12,800 foot test.

Field drilling during the past week saw one new oiler and one gas condensate well completed.

COMING CONFERENCE

Fleet Vs. Carrier Debate Gets Ammo

By JESSE BOGUE
UPI Financial Editor

NEW YOR K(UPI) — The continuing debate whether a company with goods to ship should use its own trucks or common carrier truck lines and railroads will get some fresh ammunition for all parties late next month in a midwestern conference.

Several hundred representatives of such differing and often warring groups as the Teamsters' Union, major railroads and some of the nation's biggest intercity truck lines will gather at the transportation center at Northwestern University in Evanston.

They will hear results of a survey made by a team of university researchers who spent two years and $125,000 assembling information for industry-wide use. The money was posted by shippers, carriers and labor, who all are affected by the common-vs-private carriage controversy.

Questionnaires on transportation were sent to 10,000 manufacturing companies with headquarters in the United States. Special data was furnished from shippers' surveys by the bureau of the census.

Franklin M. Kreml, director of the center, turned up figures showing that common carriers increased the number of intercity ton miles hauled by them three times between 1943 and 1958; but their proportion of ton miles fell from 50.66 per cent in 1943 to 35.14 per cent in 1949. At least 18,000 companies now have fleets of 10 vehicles or more and about 85 per cent of 12 million motor vehicles in the nation are operated in private carriage.

Reasons behind the growth of private carriage include the development of modern highways and the growth of production techniques which require one-story plant layouts of considerable area. This in turn has pushed many industries to edges of metropolitan areas in search of space but where common carrier facilities may be hard to find.

Additionally, companies using private carriage argue they feel they can haul their goods for less than the common carrier rates filed with government regulatory groups and that they can give service tailored to their own schedules.

But common carriers can argue in return that when a private company sets up its own network it puts itself into the transportation business and must provide managerial time and effort; and that quite often they do not know or discover too late what are their real costs.

Common carriers also say some companies fail to put a proper value on the return from their investment in a private carrier service; that more money could be made by investment elsewhere.

They argue that some practices of private carriers are illegal, particularly back-hauls. If a company truck which has moved a shipment from city A to city B is scheduled to return empty, it might be hired out to carry goods of another company on the trip back home. This can be illegal unless the shipment is confined to agricultural goods or some of the list of exempt products in movement within a state.

Hubbs Ties Record Of 73 Errorless Games In Row

KEN HUBBS, Chicago Cubs' twenty-year-old rookie second baseman leaps aside to avoid Houston Colts' pitcher, George Bruney, sliding into second as he successfully handles another chance while trying the major league fielding record Saturday in Chicago. Hubbs now shares the standard with Bobby Doerr, who established the mark of 73 consecutive errorless games while playing with the Boston Red Sox in 1948. The sensational Chicago rookie's relay to first base was a little late to double up Johnny Temple who started the play by grounding to third. The Cubs won the game, 4-3. (AP Wirephoto)

Chicago Defeats Houston

CHICAGO (AP) — Ken Hubbs matched a major league record for second basemen Saturday by completing 73 successive games without an error. It added frosting to the Chicago Cubs' 4-3 victory over the Houston Colts on Ron Santo's two-run homer in the seventh inning.

The 20-year-old Cub rookie equalled the record streak of flawless games set by the Boston Red Sox' Bobby Doerr in 1948. Hubbs surpassed the National League mark of 57 by Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1950 on Aug. 15.

Hubbs handled seven chances Saturday to run his string to 389. The listed major league mark for this is 414 by Doerr in 1948.

A ladies day crowd of 12,784 applauded when shortstop Andre Rodgers was charged with a throwing error to Hubbs in a close official call in the third inning.

Rodgers scooped up Al Heist's grounder and rifled it to Hubbs on second. Hubbs just had time to get his glove up but missed it.

The play logically was to first base and Hubbs was surprised by Rodgers' shot at him in trying to force Johnny Temple. George Brunet scored on the error.

Temple drove in two runs in the seventh to put Houston ahead 3-2.

Santo's 16th homer then sewed it up for the Cubs as they supplanted the Colts in eighth place.

The other two Cubs runs were driven in by Rodgers, one on a squeeze bunt that got Ernie Banks home in the sixth.

DEFENDING CHAMPION Gene Dahlbender of Atlanta, Ga. sinks a long putt on the par three, 185-yard ninth hole in Saturday's opening round of the Cotton States Invitational. Dahlbender, who shot a 67 for the first round lead, parred the ninth. (Staff Photo by Ben Bradford)

Defending champion Gene Dahlbender, "The Monster" from Atlanta, Ga., used spectacular shots around the greens to card a three-under-par 67 and jump off to a two stroke lead in the opening round of the 14th Annual Cotton States Invitational Golf Tournament Saturday.

The second round of the classic begins this morning at 8 a.m. and the final two rounds are to be played Monday on the 6,285-yard, par 70 Bayou DeSiard Country Club layout.

The tournament, which started in 1949 as not much more than a local event but has now developed into one of the largest and finest in the South, boasts some of the fastest field ever.

One hundred sixth-six of the best amateurs compose the Twin City classic.

"The top six players in the Championship Division hold more than 25 top tournament titles alone," stated club pro Winnie Cole in illustrating the fastness of the field.

National collegiate champion Fred Marti finished strong with a two-under-par 33 on the back nine after slipping to one-over-par on the front nine to nail down the second spot with a 69 total.

Medalist Homero Blancas, Louisiana State Amateur Champ Burt Burdick and Monroe's Clayton Cole and Jack Rivers share the third position with par 70's

Everything got off smoothly and on schedule in the remaining flights which will play four 18-hole matches, thanks to the fine work of starter Don Richards, scorer Bob DeMoss and the tournament committee. The committee, headed by chairman Lester High, is composed of Owen McCleary, Bill Webb, Ben Marshall and E. C. Brimberry.

Second flight winners were William P. Eyre, Gene Adams, Jerry Grigg, Carl Kinney, Thomas C. Wicker, Mike Gregory, George Luffey and Paul Jones.

Victors in the third flight were Jimmy Warren, Amos Shelton, Leo Trulock, Ernest Allen, Toby Bancroft, Hymie Bradford, Peter Harris and William Bilbo.

Dahlbender, the Georgia State Amateur champ and current holder of his sixth Atlanta City crown, was superb on all shots, but displayed spectacular approach and chip shots as he carded four birdies to offset his lone bogie and pared the other 13 holes on his lead-gaining round.

The Atlanta ace got off to a good start by birdying the 390-yard, par 4 first hole and matched the standard on the next eight holes to make the turn one below par. He ran his string of pars to nine before birdying the 11th and 12th holes to go three under par.

However, the three - time winner faultered on the short 170-yard, par three 13th for his only bogey. He promptly registered a birdie four on the 560-yard 15th and parred the final three holes for his 67.

Marti, nicknamed "The Wild One," got off to a bad start by taking a bogey on the first hole. The College champion got back on coarse by birdying the 520-yard, par 5 no. 3, but slipped to bogeys on the 6th and 8th holes, to start in one over par.

The Wild One was warmed up for the back nine and birdied the 11th, 12th and 15th holes while taking a bogey on the tough 13th to get two under par on the back nine and finish with a one-under, 69.

Ralph Terry Wins No. 20 As Yankees Tumble A's

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Terry pitched a seven-hitter and became the first American Leaguer to register 20 victories as the league-leading New York Yankees defeated the Kansas City Athletics 3-1 Saturday.

The victory, coupled with Minnesota's 5-4 loss to Boston, boosted the Yankees' first place lead to four games over the Twins.

Elston Howard snapped a 1-1 tie with a two-run triple in the sixth inning. The big catcher, victim of sparkling catches in deep right field in each of his first two times at bat by outfielder Gino Cimoli, slammed a 450-foot drive over center fielder Bobby Del Greco's head, scoring Mickey Mantle and Hector Lopez with the winning runs.

Bill Fischer was the A's starter and loser. The A's gave him a 1-0 lead in the fourth when Jerry Lumpe hit his 10th homer of the season. The Yankees tied the score in the fifth, Terry driving in the run with one of his three singles. Bill Skowron had opened the inning with a double.

Terry, who never had won more than 16 games before this year, walked one and struck out five. He has lost 10.

Fischer was tagged for nine of the Yankees' 10 hits before he gave way for a pinch hitter in the seventh. John Wyatt finished up for the A's, striking out five in two innings.

The defeat was the seventh of the season for Fischer, who has won four.

Fischer, a right-hander, did not issue a walk in six innings, extending his string of innings to 53 in which he has not issued a pass. The major league record is 68 by Christy Mathewson of the New York Giants and the American League record is 65 1-3 by G. Harris (Doc) White of the Chicago White Sox in 1907.

DEFEATS BAKER

Miss Gunderson Amateur Champ

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Jo-Anne Gunderson, a 23-year-old strawberry blonde from Kirkland, Wash., riddled the Country Club of Rochester course with slashing, sub-par golf Saturday and captured her third Women's National Amateur Championship with a 9 and 8 victory over 17-year-old Ann Baker of Maryville, Tenn.

Miss Gunderson, who won her first championship when she was 18 in 1957 and repeated in 1960, blended her power with remarkable putting in shooting a 2-under-par 70 while building a 6-up lead in the morning 18 holes over the 6,161-yard, par 36-36—72 course.

The 90-minute break for lunch didn't cool her off a bit on this hot, humid day. She promptly picked up three more birdies to go with the four birdies and a spectacular eagle she had during the morning round, made the turn in a 1-under-par 35 and closed out the match with a par 5 on the 525-yard, 28th hole.

Thus the affable, fun - loving daughter of a carpenter nailed down a spot in amateur golf history that leaves her second only to Glenna Collett Vare as a multi-winner of the national championship. Four others have won three titles, Mrs. Vare holds the record of six.

Insisting she's not interested in turning professional, Miss Gunderson will have countless chances to win more titles. And the way she's learned to control her man-sized power and to putt on even the toughest of greens, she will take a lot of beating.

In the 122 holes she played in the 62nd championship, she was eight over par. For her last two matches—in beating Tish Preuss in the semifinals and pretty Miss Baker — she was four under par for 44 holes. For the 28 the match lasted Saturday, she had seven birdies, one eagle and was three under par in playing the lush country club course like no woman has done it before.

Schmidt Homer In 11th Gives Nats 3-2 Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bob Schmidt lined a home run into the Washington bullpen with two out in the 11th inning Saturday night to give the Senators a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Angels and preserve a superb pitching performance by Tom Cheney.

The loss dropped the Angels 4½ games behind the league-leading New York Yankees.

Jim King's 11th home run in the fourth gave Cheney a second run to work with after the Senators scored one in the first off Dean Chance.

Delta League Playoffs Will Begin Monday

Semifinal playoffs in the Delta League will begin Monday and Tuesday nights in Monroe's Legion Stadium, according to President Don Lomax.

McGuffee Construction of Calhoun, the unbeaten first place team over the regular season, will meet fourth - place Southside in the first playoff opener Monday at 8 p.m. with third-place Swartz and runnerup Chatham to meet Tuesday night at 8.

Both playoffs will be best two-out-of-three with the winners to meet in the finals. League officials said the second games of the semifinals may be played Thursday and Friday nights but plans are not definite yet.

The league was scheduled to end its regular season Sunday but all the games were called off in favor of starting the playoffs Monday.

Saget Could Return In A Few Weeks

Injured Neville quarterback Don Saget may not be lost for the entire campaign after all, Tiger Head Coach Bill Ruple said Saturday.

Ruple reported the boy's doctors as saying the 192-pound Neville senior might be back in action in two of three weeks.

Saget injured his knee Thursday in a practice game in Shreveport and Ruple feared his first stringer might miss the entire campaign.

According to Ruple the doctors were still not certain whether any ligaments were torn. He said they were still draining blood from the boy's swollen knee and that it had been imbolized with a cast, however, they thought surgery might not be necessary.

Ruple said he would to with quarterback DeWitt Beckett in the meantime.

Pirates Rally In 6th To Take 7-6 Nod Over Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates pounded out 15 hits and came from behind with a three-run rally in the sixth inning to beat the Philadelphia Phillies 7-6 Saturday night.

Dick Groat led the Pirate assault on three pitchers with a triple, double and two singles in five trips.

Dodgers Sneak By Milwaukee

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mury Wills and Jim Gilliam pulled a double steal, then scored the deciding runs on a single by Willie Adavis as the Los Angeles Dodgers came from behind in the seventh inning Saturday night and defeated Milwaukee 5-3.

The victory put the league-leading Dodgers 3½ games ahead of the second-place San Francisco Giants, who were beaten earlier by Cincinnati.

Left-hander Johnny Podres, who struck out 11 before being lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh, picked up his 12th victory in 22 decisions. The loss went to rookie left-hander Denny Lemaster (1-3), who went the distance for the Braves.

Frank Howard produced an insurance run for the Dodgers in the eighth when he slammed his 23rd homer.

With two out in the seventh, Wills doubled and Gilliam walked. Then they pulled their double steal and Willie Davis scored them with a sharp single to center. Wills' steal was his 74th of the season. He is only six short of the National League record, set in 1911 by Bob Bescher of Cincinnati.

Bolt Leading Dallas Open

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Tommy Bolt put on a great putting splure Saturday to shoot a 5-under-par 65 and pull himself from 15th place into the lead at 36 holes in the $35,000 Dallas Open Golf Tournament.

The tempestuous Bolt, once noted more for throwing tantrums and clubs than his golf, had 10 one-putt greens and would have had virtually perfect putting day but for a hunk of mud. He said it caused him to miss an 18-footer on No. 11 where he took his only bogey.

His 136 for 36 holes gave him a stroke lead.

Juan (Chi-Chi) Rodriguez, the tiny Puerto Rican, and Paul Bondeson, the long hitter from Illinois, who were co-leaders of the tournament with 67 after the first round, found the 6,658-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course suddenly grown into a monster—they soared to 75 and 76 respectively and fell down with the hungry pack.

Hubbs Ties Record Of 73 Errorless Games In Row

KEN HUBBS, Chicago Cubs' twenty-year-old rookie second baseman leaps aside to avoid Houston Colts' pitcher, George Bruney, sliding into second as he successfully handles another chance while trying the major league fielding record Saturday in Chicago. Hubbs now shares the standard with Bobby Doerr, who established the mark of 73 consecutive errorless games while playing with the Boston Red Sox in 1948. The sensational Chicago rookie's relay to first base was a little late to double up Johnny Temple who started the play by grounding to third. The Cubs won the game, 4-3. (AP Wirephoto)

Chicago Defeats Houston

CHICAGO (AP) — Ken Hubbs matched a major league record for second basemen Saturday by completing 73 successive games without an error. It added frosting to the Chicago Cubs' 4-3 victory over the Houston Colts on Ron Santo's two-run homer in the seventh inning.

The 20-year-old Cub rookie equalled the record streak of flawless games set by the Boston Red Sox' Bobby Doerr in 1948. Hubbs surpassed the National League mark of 57 by Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1950 on Aug. 15.

Hubbs handled seven chances Saturday to run his string to 389. The listed major league mark for this is 414 by Doerr in 1948.

A ladies day crowd of 12,784 applauded when shortstop Andre Rodgers was charged with a throwing error to Hubbs in a close official call in the third inning.

Rodgers scooped up Al Heist's grounder and rifled it to Hubbs on second. Hubbs just had time to get his glove up but missed it.

The play logically was to first base and Hubbs was surprised by Rodgers' shot at him in trying to force Johnny Temple. George Brunet scored on the error.

Temple drove in two runs in the seventh to put Houston ahead 3-2.

Santo's 16th homer then sewed it up for the Cubs as they supplanted the Colts in eighth place.

The other two Cubs runs were driven in by Rodgers, one on a squeeze bunt that got Ernie Banks home in the sixth.

Atlanta Veteran In Front By Two

By WAYNE KING
World Sports Writer

Defending champion Gene Dahlbender, "The Monster" from Atlanta, Ga., used spectacular shots around the greens to card a three-under-par 67 and jump off to a two stroke lead in the opening round of the 14th Annual Cotton States Invitational Golf Tournament Saturday.

The second round of the classic begins this morning at 8 a.m. and the final two rounds are to be played Monday on the 6,285-yard, par 70 Bayou DeSiard Country Club layout.

The tournament, which started in 1949 as not much more than a local event but has now developed into one of the largest and finest in the South, boasts some of the fastest field ever.

One hundred sixth-six of the best amateurs compose the Twin City classic.

"The top six players in the Championship Division hold more than 25 top tournament titles alone," stated club pro Winnie Cole in illustrating the fastness of the field.

National collegiate champion Fred Marti finished strong with a two-under-par 33 on the back nine after slipping to one-over-par on the front nine to nail down the second spot with a 69 total.

Medalist Homero Blancas, Louisiana State Amateur Champ Burt Burdick and Monroe's Clayton Cole and Jack Rivers share the third position with par 70's

Everything got off smoothly and on schedule in the remaining flights which will play four 18-hole matches, thanks to the fine work of starter Don Richards, scorer Bob DeMoss and the tournament committee. The committee, headed by chairman Lester High, is composed of Owen McCleary, Bill Webb, Ben Marshall and E. C. Brimberry.

Second flight winners were William P. Eyre, Gene Adams, Jerry Grigg, Carl Kinney, Thomas C. Wicker, Mike Gregory, George Luffey and Paul Jones.

Victors in the third flight were Jimmy Warren, Amos Shelton, Leo Trulock, Ernest Allen, Toby Bancroft, Hymie Bradford, Peter Harris and William Bilbo.

Dahlbender, the Georgia State Amateur champ and current holder of his sixth Atlanta City crown, was superb on all shots, but displayed spectacular approach and chip shots as he carded four birdies to offset his lone bogie and pared the other 13 holes on his lead-gaining round.

The Atlanta ace got off to a good start by birdying the 390-yard, par 4 first hole and matched the standard on the next eight holes to make the turn one below par. He ran his string of pars to nine before birdying the 11th and 12th holes to go three under par.

However, the three - time winner faultered on the short 170-yard, par three 13th for his only bogey. He promptly registered a birdie four on the 560-yard 15th and parred the final three holes for his 67.

Marti, nicknamed "The Wild One," got off to a bad start by taking a bogey on the first hole. The College champion got back on coarse by birdying the 520-yard, par 5 no. 3, but slipped to bogeys on the 6th and 8th holes, to start in one over par.

The Wild One was warmed up for the back nine and birdied the 11th, 12th and 15th holes while taking a bogey on the tough 13th to get two under par on the back nine and finish with a one-under, 69.

Ralph Terry Wins No. 20 As Yankees Tumble A's

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralph Terry pitched a seven-hitter and became the first American Leaguer to register 20 victories as the league-leading New York Yankees defeated the Kansas City Athletics 3-1 Saturday.

The victory, coupled with Minnesota's 5-4 loss to Boston, boosted the Yankees' first place lead to four games over the Twins.

Elston Howard snapped a 1-1 tie with a two-run triple in the sixth inning. The big catcher, victim of sparkling catches in deep right field in each of his first two times at bat by outfielder Gino Cimoli, slammed a 450-foot drive over center fielder Bobby Del Greco's head, scoring Mickey Mantle and Hector Lopez with the winning runs.

Bill Fischer was the A's starter and loser. The A's gave him a 1-0 lead in the fourth when Jerry Lumpe hit his 10th homer of the season. The Yankees tied the score in the fifth, Terry driving in the run with one of his three singles. Bill Skowron had opened the inning with a double.

Terry, who never had won more than 16 games before this year, walked one and struck out five. He has lost 10.

Fischer was tagged for nine of the Yankees' 10 hits before he gave way for a pinch hitter in the seventh. John Wyatt finished up for the A's, striking out five in two innings.

The defeat was the seventh of the season for Fischer, who has won four.

Fischer, a right-hander, did not issue a walk in six innings, extending his string of innings to 53 in which he has not issued a pass. The major league record is 68 by Christy Mathewson of the New York Giants and the American League record is 65 1-3 by G. Harris (Doc) White of the Chicago White Sox in 1907.

DEFEATS BAKER

Miss Gunderson Amateur Champ

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Jo-Anne Gunderson, a 23-year-old strawberry blonde from Kirkland, Wash., riddled the Country Club of Rochester course with slashing, sub-par golf Saturday and captured her third Women's National Amateur Championship with a 9 and 8 victory over 17-year-old Ann Baker of Maryville, Tenn.

Miss Gunderson, who won her first championship when she was 18 in 1957 and repeated in 1960, blended her power with remarkable putting in shooting a 2-under-par 70 while building a 6-up lead in the morning 18 holes over the 6,161-yard, par 36-36—72 course.

The 90-minute break for lunch didn't cool her off a bit on this hot, humid day. She promptly picked up three more birdies to go with the four birdies and a spectacular eagle she had during the morning round, made the turn in a 1-under-par 35 and closed out the match with a par 5 on the 525-yard, 28th hole.

Thus the affable, fun - loving daughter of a carpenter nailed down a spot in amateur golf history that leaves her second only to Glenna Collett Vare as a multi-winner of the national championship. Four others have won three titles, Mrs. Vare holds the record of six.

Insisting she's not interested in turning professional, Miss Gunderson will have countless chances to win more titles. And the way she's learned to control her man-sized power and to putt on even the toughest of greens, she will take a lot of beating.

In the 122 holes she played in the 62nd championship, she was eight over par. For her last two matches—in beating Tish Preuss in the semifinals and pretty Miss Baker — she was four under par for 44 holes. For the 28 the match lasted Saturday, she had seven birdies, one eagle and was three under par in playing the lush country club course like no woman has done it before.

Schmidt Homer In 11th Gives Nats 3-2 Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bob Schmidt lined a home run into the Washington bullpen with two out in the 11th inning Saturday night to give the Senators a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Angels and preserve a superb pitching performance by Tom Cheney.

The loss dropped the Angels 4½ games behind the league-leading New York Yankees.

Jim King's 11th home run in the fourth gave Cheney a second run to work with after the Senators scored one in the first off Dean Chance.

Delta League Playoffs Will Begin Monday

Semifinal playoffs in the Delta League will begin Monday and Tuesday nights in Monroe's Legion Stadium, according to President Don Lomax.

McGuffee Construction of Calhoun, the unbeaten first place team over the regular season, will meet fourth - place Southside in the first playoff opener Monday at 8 p.m. with third-place Swartz and runnerup Chatham to meet Tuesday night at 8.

Both playoffs will be best two-out-of-three with the winners to meet in the finals. League officials said the second games of the semifinals may be played Thursday and Friday nights but plans are not definite yet.

The league was scheduled to end its regular season Sunday but all the games were called off in favor of starting the playoffs Monday.

Pirates Rally In 6th To Take 7-6 Nod Over Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates pounded out 15 hits and came from behind with a three-run rally in the sixth inning to beat the Philadelphia Phillies 7-6 Saturday night.

Dick Groat led the Pirate assault on three pitchers with a triple, double and two singles in five trips.

Bolt Leading Dallas Open

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Tommy Bolt put on a great putting splure Saturday to shoot a 5-under-par 65 and pull himself from 15th place into the lead at 36 holes in the $35,000 Dallas Open Golf Tournament.

The tempestuous Bolt, once noted more for throwing tantrums and clubs than his golf, had 10 one-putt greens and would have had virtually perfect putting day but for a hunk of mud. He said it caused him to miss an 18-footer on No. 11 where he took his only bogey.

His 136 for 36 holes gave him a stroke lead.

Juan (Chi-Chi) Rodriguez, the tiny Puerto Rican, and Paul Bondeson, the long hitter from Illinois, who were co-leaders of the tournament with 67 after the first round, found the 6,658-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course suddenly grown into a monster—they soared to 75 and 76 respectively and fell down with the hungry pack.

More McClendon

Work says Louisiana State's Charley McClendon is the main ingredient to football success, particularly when the work is spent on fundamentals.

Forty-five minutes to one hour of each two-hour afternoon session the Tiger will hold before school opens is going to be devoted to fundamentals the new head coach told sportswriters during his press conference beneath Tiger stadium Thursday.

Morning drills, to be run in shorts, will be somewhat shorter-an hour and half long. The squad will work in gear in the afternoon.

Tiger practice, McClendon said will start with the traditional warm - up calisthenics.

Agility drills follow. "If you can't move," McClendon commented, you can't play."

"We don't tell our kids they won't be blocked," he went on. "We know better than that, the offense has the angles on them. What we tell them is not to stay blocked." This is where agility comes in.

McClendon a few comments on pursuit. "Everybody talks about LSU pursuit," he said, "but actually we don't mention the word to the kids. What we say is you make the tackle, don't leave it for your teammate."

In reference to fundamentals and simplicity versus a multiple offense such as the 28 - formation attack he fears Texas A&M may use in the opener at Tiger stadium Sept. 22, Coach Mac was all for the simplier method, particularly if avoided changing blocking assignments. "We will use some variations," he said, "but we won't change our blocking assignments. As long as we can run the same play from a different formation it's okay."

The Tigers have been said to have no problems but replacing the two White - team guards. McClendon doesn't see it this way. At least 11 positions on the three-deep squad may be manned by men who have had no game experience in that type work.

For example five Chinese Bandits, who never played offense to any extent, will hold down White Team berths, while the Bandit unit is expected to have at least six new performers. Because the Go Team moved the ball so well last year, McClendon wants to keep it as much intact as possible.

Among the sophomores who are expected to be the most help this fall are halfback Danny LeBlanc and quarterback Pat Screen. LeBlanc, a 190 - pounder from Lake Charles, is considered a better offensive player at present, while Screen, the 175 - pound wizzard from New Orleans, is a definite offensive possibility.

McClendon tabbed four Bandit team positions as open and said he'd give everybody on board a crack at filling them. The posts are right guard, right tackle and the two halfback slots.

The Tiger head Mentor said former Neville back Neal Gunn (185) was a possibility for one of the positions. Gunn, he indicated, had been too troubled by illness during spring training to prove himself, but would certainly get a chance this fall.

Branching off into other subjects, McClendon said he thought the wild card substitution had helped specialists, letting more one - way players get in the game.

But the Tiger system, he said, was to keep the best men on the field as much as possible. "We operate (the three - team system) by the clock and the White team will play almost as much as the Go team and the Bandits together."

The new rule change on downing the ball within the 10-yard line will cause an emphasis on the soft toe kick, he said.

Whether or not a football player participated in spring sports depended on how critical he felt he was to the team, McClendon said. It was an individual thing, he added.

What is the biggest change he has found in being head coach? Coach Mac, nine - years an assistant at LSU said it was the time element - organizing the work plan to get everything in. But he has it pretty well worked out. McClendon says he has it down by calender and he can tell you what play he will put in each day.

ROWAN'S DEEPEST TEAM

62 Report For First Indian Grid Practice

By RICK BRYAN
World Sports Editor

Northeast State college with its deepest squad in years, opened fall football practice with drills Saturday morning and picture taking in the afternoon. A second drill was held after "Picture Day" activities.

Head Coach Jack Rowan, in his fifth year with the Indians, reported 62 candidates turned out. One more, halfback Gordon Salsman, was expected in today. Salsman was playing in a baseball tournament.

Several times before Rowan had commented that his 1962 edition would be deeper than any in his previous four years here. It may also be his best.

Saturday he said the team was generally in good shape, particularly the boys he would be counting on, and that the team spirit was there.

Only two boys showed up hampered by any kind of injuries. End Tommy Latham, from Winnfield, mashed a toe and Monroe flanker Jimmy Love sprained an ankle in a touch football game. Both are expected to make quick recoveries, however.

Four boys are expected to casualties of a more permanent nature. Ends Dewey Smith from Bernice and Bossier City's Gene Harbert have decided not to play football, while fullback Donnie Brunson is going to enter law school at Louisiana State and fullback Roy Godwin from Waskom, Texas did not report in.

This still gives the Indians 26 lettermen and at least fair depth at every position. Some posts will be loaded with material.

Though a number of berths appeared pretty well - sewed up in spring training there will be position wars at others during the 6:30 to 8:15 a.m. and 4-6 p.m. daily drills.

NOLAN AT TACKLE

Ross Nolan, a 6-3, 237-pound senior from Monroe, probably has a tackle slot sewed up.

Two guards apparently rate the nod for first unit duty. They are senior Larry Rambin (215) and three - year letterman Billy Foster (230).

Sophomore Ronnie Myrick of Oak Grove should be the number one quarterback. Myrick, a real speedster, was the Tribe's top signal caller as a freshman last year.

However, he may get competition from triple - threat Pete Vincent of Indianola, Miss. and Mike Cooper from Houston, Texas. Vincent lettered in 1960, but was out last season. Cooper is a transfer.

Expected to run behind Nolan at one tackle post are Tony Allen (220) a sohpomore from Atlanta, Georgia and freshman Alden Fontenot (230) from Sulphur.

Joe Alewin (215) from Groesbeck, Texas has the edge in the race for the other tackle slot, but can expect competition from Jim LaCoste (230) from Baton Rouge.

Rambin and Foster, who the Indians feel may be two of the best guards in the Gulf States Conference, will be abetted by soph Joe McClain (195), Don King (200), and freshman Jewel McBroom (180), Fred Morris (200) and Billy Ross Graves (215).

STAR CENTER

Stanley Star, a 200-pounder from Winter Garden, Fla. looks like the No. 1 center, but may have trouble from sophomore Tom Beaube (215) and Johnny Nolan (180), a freshman from Shreveport.

Battling for end posts will be soph Wendell Drost (195), Love Carlyle Williams (200), from Pensacola, Florida, Stanley Willson (190), Latham, and freshman Sherrel Smith from Springhill. Smith was the pass - catching leader in the high school all - star game this summer.

Eight lettermen halfbacks return including one 1959 monogram winner and one from 1960 who did not play last fall. Giving the Tribe some of the fastest ball carriers in the league are Ken Newton (180) from Delhi, Selsman, Dean Mann (180), Ken Thornhill (185), and Joe Thrailkill (180), a 1959 letterman from Duncan, Oklahoma. Ticketed for probable defensive duty are Morris Douglas (170) and R. F. Wilson (160). Other halfbacks are punter John (Mule Hide) Kelly plus freshmen Robert Payne and Alton Thomas.

BACK TO FULLBACK

Second team All - GSC fullback Willie Raggan will head that position, though he may see some duty at quarterback. Raggan worked at that post some in spring practice. He will also kick field goals.

Behind Raggan are Devone Payne from Monroe, red-shirted Ronnie Graham, and freshman Sonny Boudurant of Wisner.

FEWER HOMERS, MORE SHUTOUTS

Lively Ball Furor Diminishes In 1962

NEW YORK (AP)—Where, oh where, has the rabbit run?

Just about a year ago, big league sluggers, led by Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, were causing consternation among devotees of inside ,strategic baseball by blasting a record number of home runs, many of them for unprecedented distances.

"There's too much jackrabbit in the ball," wailed the low runscoring game lovers. "The hitters are making a joke of the game. Something should be done to deaden the ball and help the poor pitchers."

All sorts of investigations short of congressional and all kinds of tests shy of saliva were taken to determine whether the official 1961 baseball was livelier than the brand of some 30 years ago when Babe Ruth set the home run fashion. The results proved conclusively inconclusive, but the criticism increased rather than lessened, especially when Maris finally passed Ruth's total of 60 home runs on the final day of the season.

The wails have diminished noticeably this year. You hardly ever hear a complaint against the ball. No one is clamoring for tests to determine whether the 1962 baseball is livelier than last year's, or that of 1930 or even that of 1910. The people up at Chicopee Falls, Mass., where the official baseballs are manufactured, are being left alone to weave and wind and stitch to the heart's content.

What has caused the laments against the lively ball to all but cease? The answer lies in the sharp drop of home runs and the rise in the number of low hit and shutout games this year.

Already five no-run, no-hit games have been pitched in the major leagues this year, a record for a single season dating back to the very beginning in 1876. Last year produced just one no-hitter, by wondrous Warren Spahn of Milwaukee.

Six no-hitters were pitched in 1917 but only four were shutouts.

The 1961 season featured 13 players with 40 or more home runs. One player (Willie Mays with 38) having passed 35, it is unlikely that more than half a dozen will reach the 40 mark this year. Certainly no one will match Maris' 61 or even Mantle's 54.

On the other hand, the pitchers have hurled 167 shutouts so far this season, only six shy of the entire total of runless games pitched in 1961.

Four pitchers, led by Whitey Ford with 25, reached the 20-victory mark last season. Three — Don Drysdale, Joey Jay and Bob Purkey — already have reached that magic figure for pitchers this year with the possibility that the number may reach a dozen.

Significantly, the "pity the poor pitcher" cry of last year has died down with fellows like Ray Herbert turning in a string of 37 consecutive scoreless innings, Lindy McDaniel a skein of 28, Ken McBride 27, Dick Farrell 25, and a flock of others fashioning streaks of 20 or more, the pitchers don't need much sympathy.

Nuxhall Thwarts SF As Reds Win

Pinson Paces 16-Hit Attack In 10-5 Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Cincinnati's comeback pitcher Joe Nuxhall won his fourth straight without defeat Saturday by handcuffing San Francisco while the Reds blasted a 10-5 victory over the Giants with a 16-hit attack.

Vada Pinson returned to the Cincinnati line-up after two days resting his injured leg and hit safely in all five times at bat—a double and four singles.

The setback washed out any San Francisco hope of gaining on first place Los Angeles.

Cincinnati jumped on San Francisco's 17-game winner, Juan Marichal, with four runs on five hits in the opening inning. The Reds nicked Juan for two more in the sixth inning, including Marty Keough's solo homer.

At about that time Giants' President Horace Stoneham was announcing Alvin Dark has been retained as manager for the next two years.

Called up from San Diego a month ago, the 33-year-old Nuxhall baffled the Giants with his southpaw slants and did not allow a runner to reach third until Harvey Kuenn homered with Jose Pagan on base in the seventh. Kuenn also singled in one of the three ninth - inning runs, when Nuxhall finally needed relief from Jim Brosnan with two out.

Don Blasingame, an ex-Giant, opened the Cincinnati attack in the first with a single. Before Marichal could retire the side, Pinson and Keough had doubled and both Gordie Coleman and Leo Cardenas singled. That was enough to hand Juan his 10th loss.

WORK LABOR DAY

2-A-Day Drills Start At Tech

RUSTON (Special) — Labor Day will be just that for Louisiana Tech gridders, who will undergo two drills as usual during the holiday.

About 60 footballers reported in for the beginning of drills, including all the freshmen who had signed letters of intent with Tech.

The enthusiastic group got preliminaries over with Friday, underwent their first two practice sessions Saturday and were off Sunday before resuming the training grind Labor Day.

Conditioning exercises and fundamentals were stressed in the opening drills Saturday. Bulldog squad candidates also had to run the mile in six minutes, or repeat the run daily until they can reach or come under that mark. Jay Westbrook, Ruston halfback, set a new record in the Bulldog mile with a 5:08 clocking.

Tech Coach Joe Aillet said the squad didn't quite come in the condition expected, with a number of the gridders failing in their first try at the six minute miles. "They will be given other chances though," he said.

With the assembling of the squad, it became more obvious that a number of the freshmen will see a lot of action in their first season, Aillet said.

Tech's first action will be here Sept. 29 in a Gulf States conference headliner with McNeese State.

Whitney Reed Beats Ralston In Long Battle

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Whitney Reed, the forgotten No. 1 man of American tennis, scrambled out of a prolonged slump Saturday with a victory over Dennis Ralston, the young U.S. Davis Cupper, in the national championships.

The blond junk-ball specialist from Alamaeda, Calif., survived a 2½-hour battle which kept a West Side Stadium crowd of 9,000 enthralled for the large part of a lazy, humid Saturday afternoon. The scores were 4-6, 6-2, 10-8, 2-6, 6-3.

The moody, 20-year-old Ralston blew the match with a rash of double-faults in the final set—a malady which helped bring about the defeat of the U.S. Davis Cup team last month in Mexico City.

The rest of the 82nd annual tournament went according to form with the Australians dominant in both men's and women's divisions, the Russians showing up well and the Americans generally holding their own against the heavy influex of foreign invaders.

The left-handed Laver, an overwhelming favorite to complete the sweep of major championships as Don Budge did in 1938 toyed with Eleazar Davidman, Israel's top player, in winning, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.

The lightning quick little red head was joined in the second round by another Australian seeded ace, Fred Stolle; Davis Cupper Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., and Charles Passarell of Puerto Rico, the talented junior champ who is rated the fresh new hope of American tennis.

Tech Coaches Old-Timers At Ruston School

RUSTON, La. (Special) — That old business about a coach's job always being in jeopardy may generally be true, but they apparently have never heard of such at Louisiana Tech.

For instance.

1—Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Joe Aillets starts his 37th year of coaching this fall — 22 of them at Louisiana Tech.

2—Assistant Football and Track Coach Jim Mize begins his 20th year this season — 16 of them at Louisiana Tech.

3—Assistant Football Coach and Recruiter Huey Williamson begins his 20th year this fall — 16 of them at Louisiana Tech.

4—Assistant Football and Assistant Track Coach George Doherty is starting his 15th year — five of them at Louisiana Tech with five years of pro football thrown in.

5—Basketball Coach Cecil Crowley begins his 29th year in the coaching ranks — 19 of them at Louisiana Tech.

6—Baseball Coach and Assistant Dean of Men Berry Hinton starts his 33rd year of coaching — 19 of them at Louisiana Tech.

7—And for good measure, Athletic Trainer Glenn Tilley has 10 years' experience — nine of them as Tech wound healer.

Aillet is a Southwestern Louisiana Institute graduate, Mize, Doherty, Williamson and Hinton are Tech grads, and Crowley and Tilley are Centenary graduates.

Season Tickets Now On Sale At Northeast

Season tickets are now on sale at Northeast State for perhaps the most attractive home gridiron slate ever scheduled at the College.

Season ducates will cost $5 for the three games, with regular admission price being $2 per contest. Persons wishing the same reserved seats they had last year must purchase the tickets before Sept. 3, when the tickets go on sale on a first - come first-served basis.

Rated as a definite contender for the Gulf States Conference championship this year, the Indians open in Monroe on Sept. 22 against highly touted Lamar Tech, last year's Tangerine Bowl Champion. The aggregation from Beaumont, Tex., is favored to repeat as champion of the Lone Star Conference.

The other two Tribe home contests find the Indians hosting two arch - rival GSC foes. They meet Northwestern Louisiana in Northeast's Homecoming on Oct. 6 and Louisiana Tech on Nov. 10.

These two contests very well could have a definite bearing on the outcome of the GSC pennant chase, for all three teams, along with Southeastern, could be in the running for the championship.

Out-of-town games on the Indian trek are East Texas State at Commerce, Sept. 29; McNeese at Lake Charles, Oct. 13; Southeastern at Hammond, Oct. 20; Southwestern at Shreveport's State Fair Stadium, Oct. 27; Nov. 3, open; and Delta State at Cleveland, Miss., Nov. 17.

SMU Gridder Passes Out

DALLAS (AP)—Mike Kelsey, first-string center for Southern Methodist University, collapsed from what a university spokesman called a heat stroke Saturday—first day of Southwest Conference football practice. He was hospitalized at Baylor Medical Center.

Lester Jordan, spokesman for the athletic department, said Kelsey probably will be out for several days.

Kelsey, a junior, played high school ball at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Pinson Paces 16-Hit Attack In 10-5 Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Cincinnati's comeback pitcher Joe Nuxhall won his fourth straight without defeat Saturday by handcuffing San Francisco while the Reds blasted a 10-5 victory over the Giants with a 16-hit attack.

Vada Pinson returned to the Cincinnati line-up after two days resting his injured leg and hit safely in all five times at bat—a double and four singles.

The setback washed out any San Francisco hope of gaining on first place Los Angeles.

Cincinnati jumped on San Francisco's 17-game winner, Juan Marichal, with four runs on five hits in the opening inning. The Reds nicked Juan for two more in the sixth inning, including Marty Keough's solo homer.

At about that time Giants' President Horace Stoneham was announcing Alvin Dark has been retained as manager for the next two years.

Called up from San Diego a month ago, the 33-year-old Nuxhall baffled the Giants with his southpaw slants and did not allow a runner to reach third until Harvey Kuenn homered with Jose Pagan on base in the seventh. Kuenn also singled in one of the three ninth - inning runs, when Nuxhall finally needed relief from Jim Brosnan with two out.

Don Blasingame, an ex-Giant, opened the Cincinnati attack in the first with a single. Before Marichal could retire the side, Pinson and Keough had doubled and both Gordie Coleman and Leo Cardenas singled. That was enough to hand Juan his 10th loss.

Colts Attempt To Put Hex On Phils

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—If the Phillies feel a chill running down their backs Monday and Tuesday they can't blame the weather.

It will be a combination of rabbit feet, horseshoes and the whammy of a pro whammy maker.

The Houston Colts, who meet Philadelphia on those days, arranged the mass demonstration of magic in an effort to avoid humiliation. For never in modern baseball history has one major league team won all the season's games from another.

And the Phillies are just three games away from placing such a record in the book.

The Colts and the Phillies meet in a twi-night doubleheader Monday and a single game Tuesday night to end their season series.

The teams have met 15 times and the Phillies have taken every game.

The Colts have hired a professional jinx man, and Houston pitcher Dick Farrell will wear No. 13 on his uniform, shifting from his usual No. 43.

All fans who carry a horseshoe, four-leaf clover or rabbit's foot to the opener will be admitted for half price.

The hex man, young Kid Dugan of Hot Springs, Ark., is full of optimism about the Colts.

"There ain't no cinches on anything," Dugan said, "but I want to tell you something. I got more going for the Colts in this series than I ever had before. I got one Philly player picked out—and I mean I have put the triple whammy on him. He's dead now and don't know it."

Dugan said he had heard Phillies Manager Gene Mauch plans to start his No. 1 pitcher, Art Mahaffey, against the Colts in the Monday opener.

"I got nothing against him (Mauch), but I am really giving my very best stuff to the Phillies because I love Houston and Galveston. I have friends here. Mauch may not know it, but his luck has run out on him."

Concerning Mahaffey, Dugan said:

"I have my Slobotkee Stare ready for him. He won't finish the game. And I've been praying for Dick Farrell and he'll have all the leprechauns in Ireland working on his side.

"When I put my Slobotkee Stare on the Phillies, their luck will turn all bad," Dugan said. "I am going to make their hitters pop up and their pitchers lose control. The Colts must regain their confidence and know that I am behind them. They can do no wrong."

Orioles Run Up 6-0 Lead, Beat Cleveland, 8-2

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles, helped by Brooks Robinson's 21st home run, took a 6-0 lead on Cleveland's Sam McDowell in three innings Saturday and went on to win 8-2.

Jack Fisher (7-6) limited the Indians to seven hits, including Willie Kirkland's 20th home run, and went the distance.

McDowell (2-7) walked Jerry Adair to open the game, and Dick Williams doubled Adair home. Three more walks forced in another run.

Aguirre Pitches Detroit Tigers Past White Sox

DETROIT (AP)—Hank Aguirre, with timely hitting and defensive support from Rocky Colavito, pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 2-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox Saturday.

Colavito drove in the Tigers' first run with a sacrifice fly in the third. In the sixth, he foiled Chicago's first scoring opportunity with a leaping catch against the left field fence.

More McClendon

Work says Louisiana State's Charley McClendon is the main ingredient to football success, particularly when the work is spent on fundamentals.

Forty-five minutes to one hour of each two-hour afternoon session the Tiger will hold before school opens is going to be devoted to fundamentals the new head coach told sportswriters during his press conference beneath Tiger stadium Thursday.

Morning drills, to be run in shorts, will be somewhat shorter-an hour and half long. The squad will work in gear in the afternoon.

Tiger practice, McClendon said will start with the traditional warm - up calisthenics.

Agility drills follow. "If you can't move," McClendon commented, you can't play."

"We don't tell our kids they won't be blocked," he went on. "We know better than that, the offense has the angles on them. What we tell them is not to stay blocked." This is where agility comes in.

McClendon a few comments on pursuit. "Everybody talks about LSU pursuit," he said, "but actually we don't mention the word to the kids. What we say is you make the tackle, don't leave it for your teammate."

In reference to fundamentals and simplicity versus a multiple offense such as the 28 - formation attack he fears Texas A&M may use in the opener at Tiger stadium Sept. 22, Coach Mac was all for the simplier method, particularly if avoided changing blocking assignments. "We will use some variations," he said, "but we won't change our blocking assignments. As long as we can run the same play from a different formation it's okay."

The Tigers have been said to have no problems but replacing the two White - team guards. McClendon doesn't see it this way. At least 11 positions on the three-deep squad may be manned by men who have had no game experience in that type work.

For example five Chinese Bandits, who never played offense to any extent, will hold down White Team berths, while the Bandit unit is expected to have at least six new performers. Because the Go Team moved the ball so well last year, McClendon wants to keep it as much intact as possible.

Among the sophomores who are expected to be the most help this fall are halfback Danny LeBlanc and quarterback Pat Screen. LeBlanc, a 190 - pounder from Lake Charles, is considered a better offensive player at present, while Screen, the 175 - pound wizzard from New Orleans, is a definite offensive possibility.

McClendon tabbed four Bandit team positions as open and said he'd give everybody on board a crack at filling them. The posts are right guard, right tackle and the two halfback slots.

The Tiger head Mentor said former Neville back Neal Gunn (185) was a possibility for one of the positions. Gunn, he indicated, had been too troubled by illness during spring training to prove himself, but would certainly get a chance this fall.

Branching off into other subjects, McClendon said he thought the wild card substitution had helped specialists, letting more one - way players get in the game.

But the Tiger system, he said, was to keep the best men on the field as much as possible. "We operate (the three - team system) by the clock and the White team will play almost as much as the Go team and the Bandits together."

The new rule change on downing the ball within the 10-yard line will cause an emphasis on the soft toe kick, he said.

Whether or not a football player participated in spring sports depended on how critical he felt he was to the team, McClendon said. It was an individual thing, he added.

What is the biggest change he has found in being head coach? Coach Mac, nine - years an assistant at LSU said it was the time element - organizing the work plan to get everything in. But he has it pretty well worked out. McClendon says he has it down by calender and he can tell you what play he will put in each day.

ROWAN'S DEEPEST TEAM

62 Report For First Indian Grid Practice

By RICK BRYAN
World Sports Editor

Northeast State college with its deepest squad in years, opened fall football practice with drills Saturday morning and picture taking in the afternoon. A second drill was held after "Picture Day" activities.

Head Coach Jack Rowan, in his fifth year with the Indians, reported 62 candidates turned out. One more, halfback Gordon Salsman, was expected in today. Salsman was playing in a baseball tournament.

Several times before Rowan had commented that his 1962 edition would be deeper than any in his previous four years here. It may also be his best.

Saturday he said the team was generally in good shape, particularly the boys he would be counting on, and that the team spirit was there.

Only two boys showed up hampered by any kind of injuries. End Tommy Latham, from Winnfield, mashed a toe and Monroe flanker Jimmy Love sprained an ankle in a touch football game. Both are expected to make quick recoveries, however.

Four boys are expected to casualties of a more permanent nature. Ends Dewey Smith from Bernice and Bossier City's Gene Harbert have decided not to play football, while fullback Donnie Brunson is going to enter law school at Louisiana State and fullback Roy Godwin from Waskom, Texas did not report in.

This still gives the Indians 26-lettermen and at least fair depth at every position. Some posts will be loaded with material.

Though a number of berths appeared pretty well - sewed up in spring training there will be position wars at others during the 6:30 to 8:15 a.m. and 4-6 p.m. daily drills.

NOLAN AT TACKLE

Ross Nolan, a 6-3, 237-pound senior from Monroe, probably has a tackle slot sewed up.

Two guards apparently rate the nod for first unit duty. They are senior Larry Rambin (215) and three - year letterman Billy Foster (230).

Sophomore Ronnie Myrick of Oak Grove should be the number one quarterback. Myrick, a real speedster, was the Tribe's top signal caller as a freshman last year.

However, he may get competition from triple - threat Pete Vincent of Indianola, Miss. and Mike Cooper from Houston, Texas. Vincent lettered in 1960, but was out last season. Cooper is a transfer.

Expected to run behind Nolan at one tackle post are Tony Allen (220) a sohpomore from Atlanta. Georgia and freshman Alden Fontenot (230) from Sulphur.

Joe Alewin (215) from Groesbeck, Texas has the edge in the race for the other tackle slot, but can expect competition from Jim LaCoste (230) from Baton Rouge.

Rambin and Foster, who the Indians feel may be two of the best guards in the Gulf States Conference, will be abetted by soph Joe McClain (195), Don King (200), and freshman Jewel McBroom (180), Fred Morris (200) and Billy Ross Graves (215).

STAR CENTER

Stanley Star, a 200-pounder from Winter Garden, Fla. looks like the No. 1 center, but may have trouble from sophomore Tom Beaube (215) and Johnny Nolan (180), a freshman from Shreveport.

Battling for end posts will be soph Wendell Drost (195), Love Carlyle Williams (200), from Pensacola, Florida, Stanley Willson (190), Latham, and freshman Sherrel Smith from Springhill. Smith was the pass - catching leader in the high school all - star game this summer.

Eight lettermen halfbacks return including one 1959 monogram winner and one from 1960 who did not play last fall. Giving the Tribe some of the fastest ball carriers in the league are Ken Neweton (180) from Delhi, Selsman, Dean Mann (180), Ken Thornhill (185), and Joe Thrailkill (180), a 1959 letterman from Duncan, Oklahoma. Ticketed for probable defensive duty are Morris Douglas (170) and R. F. Willson (160). Other halfbacks are punter John (Mile High) Kelly plus freshmen Robert Payne and Alton Thomas.

BACK TO FULLBACK

Second team All - GSC fullback Willie Ragan will head that position, though he may see some duty at quarterback. Ragan worked at that post some in spring practice. He will also kick field goals.

Behind Ragan are Devone Payne from Monroe, red-shirted Ronnie Graham, and freshman Sonny Boudurant of Wisner.

FEWER HOMERS, MORE SHUTOUTS

Lively Ball Furor Diminishes In 1962

NEW YORK (AP)—Where, oh where, has the rabbit run?

Just about a year ago, big league sluggers, led by Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris, were causing consternation among devotees of inside strategic baseball by blasting a record number of home runs, many of them for unprecedented distances.

"There's too much jackrabbit in the ball," wailed the low runscoring game lovers. "The hitters are making a joke of the game. Something should be done to deaden the ball and help the poor pitchers."

All sorts of investigations short of congressional and all kinds of tests shy of saliva were taken to determine whether the official 1961 baseball was livelier than the brand of some 30 years ago when Babe Ruth set the home run fashion. The results proved conclusively inconclusive, but the criticism increased rather than lessened, especially when Maris finally passed Ruth's total of 60 home runs on the final day of the season.

The wails have diminished noticeably this year. You hardly ever hear a complaint against the ball. No one is clamoring for tests to determine whether the 1962 baseball is livelier than last year's, or that of 1930 or even that of 1910. The people up at Chicopee Falls, Mass., where the official baseballs are manufactured, are being left alone to weave and wind and stitch to the heart's content.

What has caused the laments against the lively ball to all but cease? The answer lies in the sharp drop of home runs and the rise in the number of low hit and shutout games this year.

Already five no-run, no-hit games have been pitched in the major leagues this year, a record for a single season dating back to the very beginning in 1876. Last year produced just one no-hitter, by wondrous Warren Spahn of Milwaukee.

Six no-hitters were pitched in 1917 but only four were shutouts.

The 1961 season featured 13 players with 40 or more home runs. One player (Willie Mays with 38) having passed 35, it is unlikely that more than half a dozen will reach the 40 mark this year. Certainly no one will match Maris' 61 or even Mantle's 54.

On the other hand, the pitchers have hurled 167 shutouts so far this season, only six shy of the entire total of runless games pitched in 1961.

Four pitchers, led by Whitey Ford with 25, reached the 20-victory mark last season. Three (Don Drysdale, Joey Jay and Bob Purkey) already have reached that magic figure for pitchers this year with the possibility that the number may reach a dozen.

Significantly, the "pity the poor pitcher" cry of last year has died down with fellows like Ray Herbert turning in a string of 31 consecutive scoreless innings, Lindy McDaniel a skein of 28, Ken McBride 27, Dick Farrell 25, and a flock of others fashioning streaks of 20 or more, the pitchers don't need much sympathy.

BoSox Rally For 5-4 Win Over Twins

BOSTON (AP)—Boston second baseman Chuck Schilling drew a bases-loaded walk to cap a ninth-inning uprising as the Red Sox beat Minnesota 5-4 Saturday and knocked the Twins four full games off the American League pace.

A walk, two singles, a wild pitch and an intentional walk preceded the deciding play. The final base on balls was served up by veteran Ray Moore, third pitcher of the inning for the losers.

Until then it had appeared that Harmon Killebrew's 36th homer, a two-run belt in the sixth inning and Frank Sullivan's relief had saved a 4-3 triumph for southpaw Jack Kralick, who tossed a no-hitter his 1st time out.

COURT LADY LUCK

Colts Attempt To Put Hex On Phils

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—If the Phillies feel a chill running down their backs Monday and Tuesday they can't blame the weather.

It will be a combination of rabbit feet, horseshoes and the whammy of a pro whammy maker.

The Houston Colts, who meet Philadelphia on those days, arranged the mass demonstration of magic in an effort to avoid humiliation. For never in modern baseball history has one major league team won all the season's games from another.

And the Phillies are just three games away from placing such a record in the book.

The Colts and the Phillies meet in a twi-night doubleheader Monday and a single game Tuesday night to end their season series.

The teams have met 15 times and the Phillies have taken every game.

The Colts have hired a professional jinx man, and Houston pitcher Dick Farrell will wear No. 13 on his uniform, shifting from his usual No. 43.

All fans who carry a horseshoe, four-leaf clover or rabbit's foot to the opener will be admitted for half price.

The hex man, young Kid Dugan of Hot Springs, Ark., is full of optimism about the Colts.

"There ain't no cinches on anything,' Dugan said, "but I want to tell you something. I got more going for the Colts in this series than I ever had before. I got one Philly player picked out—and I mean I have put the triple whammy on him. He's dead now and don't know it."

Dugan said he had heard Phillies Manager Gene Mauch plans to start his No. 1 pitcher, Art Mahaffey, against the Colts in the Monday opener.

"I got nothing against him (Mauch), but I am really giving my very best stuff to the Phillies because I love Houston and Galveston. I have friends here. Mauch may not know it, but his luck has run out on him."

Concerning Mahaffey, Dugan said:

"I have my Slobotkee Stare ready for him. He won't finish the game. And I've been praying for Dick Farrell and he'll have all the leprechauns in Ireland working on his side.

"When I put my Slobotkee Stare on the Phillies, their luck will turn all bad," Dugan said. "I am going to make their hitters pop up and their pitchers lose control. The Colts must regain their confidence and know that I am behind them. They can do no wrong."

Orioles Run Up 6-0 Lead, Beat Cleveland, 8-2

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles, helped by Brooks Robinson's 21st home run, took a 6-0 lead on Cleveland's Sam McDowell in three innings Saturday and went on to win 8-2.

Jack Fisher (7-6) limited the Indians to seven hits, including Willie Kirkland's 20th home run, and went the distance.

McDowell (2-7) walked Jerry Adair to open the game, and Dick Williams doubled Adair home. Three more walks forced in another run.

Aguirre Pitches Detroit Tigers Past White Sox

DETROIT (AP)—Hank Aguirre, with timely hitting and defensive support from Rocky Colavito, pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 2-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox Saturday.

Colavito drove in the Tigers' first run with a sacrifice fly in the third. In the sixth, he foiled Chicago's first scoring opportunity with a leaping catch against the left field fence.

WORK LABOR DAY

2-A-Day Drills Start At Tech

RUSTON (Special) — Labor Day will be just that for Louisiana Tech gridders, who will undergo two drills as usual during the holiday.

About 60 footballers reported in for the beginning of drills, including all the freshmen who had signed letters of intent with Tech.

The enthusiastic group got preliminaries over with Friday, underwent their first two practice sessions Saturday and were off Sunday before resuming the training grind Labor Day.

Conditioning exercises and fundamentals were stressed in the opening drills Saturday. Bulldog squad candidates also had to run the mile in six minutes, or repeat the run daily until they can reach or come under that mark. Jay Westbrook, Ruston halfback, set a new record in the Bulldog mile with a 5:08 clocking.

Tech Coach Joe Aillet said the squad didn't quite come in the condition expected, with a number of the gridders failing in their first try at the six minute miles. "They will be given other chances though," he said.

With the assembling of the squad, it became more obvious that a number of the freshmen will see a lot of action in their first season, Aillet said.

Tech's first action will be here Sept. 29 in a Gulf States conference headliner with McNeese State.

Whitney Reed Beats Ralston In Long Battle

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Whitney Reed, the forgotten No. 1 man of American tennis, scrambled out of a prolonged slump Saturday with a victory over Dennis Ralston, the young U.S. Davis Cupper, in the national championships.

The blond junk-ball specialist from Alamaeda, Calif., survived a 2½-hour battle which kept a West Side Stadium crowd of 9,000 enthralled for the large part of a lazy, humid Saturday afternoon. The scores were 4-6, 6-2, 10-8, 2-6, 6-3.

The moody, 20-year-old Ralston blew the match with a rash of double-faults in the final set—a malady which helped bring about the defeat of the U.S. Davis Cup team last month in Mexico City.

The rest of the 82nd annual tournament went according to form with the Australians dominant in both men's and women's divisions, the Russians showing up well and the Americans generally holding their own against the heavy influex of foreign invaders.

The left-handed, Laver, an overwhelming favorite to complete the sweep of major championships as Don Budge did in 1938 toyed with Eleazar Davidman, Israel's top player, in winning, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.

The lightning quick little red head was joined in the second round by another Australian seeded ace, Fred Stolle; Davis Cupper Donald Dell of Bethesda, Md., and Charles Passarell of Puerto Rico, the talented junior champ who is rated the fresh new hope of American tennis.

Season Tickets Now On Sale At Northeast

Season tickets are now on sale at Northeast State for perhaps the most attractive home gridiron slate ever scheduled at the College.

Season ducates will cost $5 for the three games, with regular admission price being $2 per contest. Persons wishing the same reserved seats they had last year must purchase the tickets before Sept. 3, when the tickets go on sale on a first - come first-served basis.

Rated as a definite contender for the Gulf States Conference championship this year, the Indians open in Monroe on Sept. 22 against highly touted Lamar Tech, last year's Tangerine Bowl Champion. The aggregation from Beaumont, Tex., is favored to repeat as champion of the Lone Star Conference.

The other two Tribe home contests find the Indians hosting two arch - rival GSC foes. They meet Northwestern Louisiana in Northeast's Homecoming on Oct. 6 and Louisiana Tech on Nov. 10.

These two contests very well could have a definite bearing on the outcome of the GSC pennant chase, for all three teams, along with Southeastern, could be in the running for the championship.

Out-of-town games on the Indian trek are East Texas State at Commerce, Sept. 29; McNeese at Lake Charles, Oct. 13; Southeastern at Hammond, Oct. 20; Southwestern at Shreveport's State Fair Stadium, Oct. 27; Nov. 3, open; and Delta State at Cleveland, Miss., Nov. 17.

Tech Coaches Old-Timers At Ruston School

RUSTON, La. (Special) — That old business about a coach's job always being in jeopardy may generally be true, but they apparently have never heard of such at Louisiana Tech.

For instance:

1—Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Joe Aillets starts his 37th year of coaching this fall — 22 of them at Louisiana Tech.

2—Assistant Football and Track Coach Jim Mize begins his 20th year this season — 16 of them at Louisiana Tech.

3—Assistant Football Coach and Recruiter Huey Williamson begins his 20th year this fall — 16 of them at Louisiana Tech.

4—Assistant Football and Assistant Track Coach George Doherty is starting his 15th year — five of them at Louisiana Tech with five years of pro football thrown in.

5—Basketball Coach Cecil Crowley begins his 29th year in the coaching ranks — 19 of them at Louisiana Tech.

6—Baseball Coach and Assistant Dean of Men Berry Hinton starts his 33rd year of coaching — 19 of them at Louisiana Tech.

7—And for good measure, Athletic Trainer Glenn Tilley has 10 years' experience — nine of them as Tech wound healer.

Aillet is a Southwestern Louisiana Institute graduate, Mize, Doherty, Williamson and Hinton are Tech grads, and Crowley and Tilley are Centenary graduates.

SMU Gridder Passes Out

DALLAS (AP)—Mike Kelsey, first-string center for Southern Methodist University, collapsed from what a university spokesman called a heat stroke Saturday—first day of Southwest Conference football practice. He was hospitalized at Baylor Medical Center.

Lester Jordan, spokesman for the athletic department, said Kelsey probably will be out for several days.

Kelsey, a junior, played high school ball at Corpus Christi, Tex.

Pinson Paces 16-Hit Attack In 10-5 Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Cincinnati's comeback pitcher Joe Nuxhall won his fourth straight without defeat Saturday by handcuffing San Francisco while the Reds blasted a 10-5 victory over the Giants with a 16-hit attack.

Vada Pinson returned to the Cincinnati line-up after two days resting his injured leg and hit safely in all five times at bat—a double and four singles.

The setback washed out any San Francisco hope of gaining on first place Los Angeles.

Cincinnati jumped on San Francisco's 17-game winner, Juan Marichal, with four runs on five hits in the opening inning. The Reds nicked Juan for two more in the sixth inning, including Marty Keough's solo homer.

At about that time Giants' President Horace Stoneham was announcing Alvin Dark has been retained as manager for the next two years.

Called up from San Diego a month ago, the 33-year-old Nuxhall baffled the Giants with his southpaw slants and did not allow a runner to reach third until Harvey Kuenn homered with Jose Pagan on base in the seventh. Kuenn also singled in one of the three ninth - inning runs, when Nuxhall finally needed relief from Jim Brosnan with two out.

Don Blasingame, an ex-Giant, opened the Cincinnati attack in the first with a single. Before Marichal could retire the side, Pinson and Keough had doubled and both Gordie Coleman and Leo Cardenas singled. That was enough to hand Juan his 10th loss.

Louisiana Duck Season

Under the circumstances, the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission has done the best job possible regarding this year's duck season.

Following a public hearing Monday at New Orleans, the commission set the season—within the framework determined by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service — from noon November 30 through sunset December 24.

This means that the Northeast Louisiana hunters will get 24½ days of hunting in a period during which this area usually has good waterfowl concentrations.

The biggest objection that could be voiced on the dates of the season regards the schoolboy hunters, some of whom will be away at college during the season. The season, of course, will be closed for most of the Christmas holidays.

But the North Louisiana hunter should keep in mind that the commission is under pressure from the South Louisiana interests to set the season early, which happened last year despite the recommendations of the biologists.

With this in mind, the dates of the season are about as fair as anyone could ask for.

Hunters, meantime, are confused — or at least some people are — about the restricted bag limits that the federal service handed down to the states in the Mississippi Flyway.

The two-duck daily bag limit will include only one mallard, the king bird of the waterfowl family. This means that the hunter can kill a mallard and one other duck to fill his daily bag.

But, the Louisiana hunter also has a bonus of two scaup. You can kill a mallard, one other duck and two scaup.

You can kill two woodducks and two scaup, but the mallard cannot be included. Nor can you substitute two woodducks for your two-scaup bonus.

POSITIVELY YOU CANNOT KILL FOUR SCAUP.

Black Bayou hunters are most familiar with the scaup duck in the Monroe area, since the scaup is an open-water diving duck that goes for the big water areas like Black Bayou.

The scaup is not to be confused with the blackjack, which is a ringneck duck that goes for areas like Wham Brake. A scaup has a white belly, a dark back, a white stripe on the wings and a light blue bill.

While the scaup bonus will not add too much to the season for North Louisiana hunters, it will mean a great deal in South Louisiana where there are 1½-million scaups on the coast. Last year North Louisiana had between 50,000 and 75,000 scaups.

In South Louisiana, the cajun hunter knows the scaup as a dos-gris.

Besides the duck season, the Louisiana commission selected the latest possible goose season to extend from November 15 through January 13, or 60 days with a daily limit of five.

The Canada goose, however, is off-limits, thanks again to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The coot season, consisting of 25 days, was fixed to run concurrently with the duck season. The bag and possession limit on coots is six.

Louisiana is being cut off from shooting Canadas — the big honkers — simply because we aren't getting many of them anymore. The states up the flyway are making their areas so attractive that the honkers quit coming south in big numbers.

In addition to Canadian geese, the redheads and canvasbacks in the duck family are off limits.

While the Louisiana commission was unable to get more for the hunter rhis year, it should be recognized by the sportsmen that if it hadn't been for our own commission, plus the efforts of some of our neighbors, the season in the Mississippi Flyway would have been closed all together.

We understand that at the hearing in New Orleans this week the commission, joined by the Louisiana Wildlife Federation, impressed on the representatives of the federal service that Louisiana wants an improvement next year.

This ray of hope could be snuff out by the continuation of drouth conditions in the Canada nesting grounds, some of which have been converted into grain producing areas to enable Canada to sell wheat to Red China.

Believe It Or Not

Howard Barker of Monroe has a problem.

He killed a banded duck in Wham Brake in 1955 that sported the number 577-75499.

But in 1961, while hunting in Wham Brake with a friend, Howard Barker's friend killed the same duck again, or at least a duck with the same banded number — 577-75499.

"This looks like a 'believe it or not'," Barker explained in a letter.

In search for an answer, we talked to Dick Yancey, the assistant wildlife director, but Dick said he had never heard of anything like that happening before.

He explained that identical numbers are not used on duck bands.

What really made the question confusing was the fact that the identical numbers were brought to the attention of the hunters by the bird banding laboratory of the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Apparently what happened the interior department slipped up and repeated the number.

But you can believe it or not.

Arkansas Hunting Season

Arkansas hunters opened the dove season over the weekend, but from a Crossett veteran comes a gloomy report.

Crossett Erwin, considered in some circles as The dove hunter of Ashley County, reports that the doves are scare this year in the Crossett area.

The Arkansas dove season runs from September 1 to October 8, then from December 20 to January 10.

Crossett Erwin also says that squirrels are scare in the Crossett area, mainly because the big freeze last January got the pecans while the drouth hurt the acron crop.

This same forecast can be applied to Northeast Louisiana.

The squirrel season in Arkansas is split in zones — September 15 through December 31 for the north zone; October 1 through January 15 for the south zone.

Here are the other Arkansas seasons:

Ducks — December 6 through December 30. Same limits as Louisiana.

Geese — October 1 through October 30 and December 1 through December 30. Same limits as Louisiana.

Woodcock — December 1 through January 9. Limits 4 and 8.

Deer with gun — November 12 through November 17, December 10 through December 15 and December 27 through December 31.

Little Man's Corner

Fishing improved with the weather, but most of the little men who normally make news afield were busy getting ready for the opening of the dove season.

But there were some who made news afield fishing.

For instance, Sam Smith and B. T. Smith landed some nice catches of spec at Black Bayou while Sam LaDart and Pat Hayes were making news with the bass.

Other successful bass fishermen at Black Bayou included Tony Maltor, Pete Shambro and Sam Danna. Louis Savannah and Frank Savannah had luck bream fishing.

From Winnsboro, Mark Butler and Maurice Dye landed 24 bass at Lake St. John.

Natchez fishermen getting the limit of bass at Lake Concordia included Jimmy Hodges, Al Strickland and Albert Cameron.

And at Gassoway in East Carroll, from Monroe, Dump Holcomb and Slick Lawson came close to the limit of bass. C. A. King and his son, Charlie Lee, caught five bass averaging four pounds.

On another trip, C. A. King got six.

Old River fishermen having luck were Earl Smith and L. L. Warren, both of Bastrop, with limits of bream; Dan Brown, Delhi, bream limit and 15 nice bass; Harry Bernard of Pioneer, bream limit and nine bass; Billy Brown, Darnell, bream limit.

Locally, the Pine Hills Gun Club plans its Third Annual Fall Pine Hills Gun Club Trophy Shoot and Party for September 23. Members are urged to make plans to attend the skeet shooting.

The club plans to shoot clay targets until some time in November.

Opening day of the dove season was spotty.

We joined a party of Monroe hunters who joined a party of Bastrop hunters headed up by Wesley Garrett and Lindy Houston for a hunt in West Carroll Parish.

A few limits of doves were taken, but most hunters there were having their troubles, simply because the doves weren't bunched up like they have been.

Last year in this particular spot there were thousands of doves, but it was a different story this year. At any rate Wesley and Lindy showed their colleagues a good time, including the Joe Lipsey party from Baton Rouge.

Enjoying fair success from Monroe were Mike Tarver, Bill Rodriguez, Odis Fontenot, Jim Thurman and his young son.

VADA PINSON, Cincinnati center fielder, does it the hard way, making a tumbling catch of Willie Mays' fly to center field in the sixth inning of Saturday's game in San Francisco with the Giants. Second baseman Don Blasingame backs up Pinson on the play. (AP Wirephoto)

Jena Giants Rely On 15 Lettermen

By ROBERT C. WAGNER

JENA, La. (Special) — Winning football games has been a tough chore at Jena for the past few years and, with only seven seniors on the club, the Giants will fade another uphill climb this fall.

Coach Jimmie Gilbert will have to draw heavily on 22 juniors and 13 sophomores to fill out the ranks of the young squad.

The return of 15 lettermen brightens the picture somewhat, but several key players were lost through graduation.

Early in the practice season, Gilbert predicted that some of the starters picked in spring practice may be bumped by young and eager squadsmen. "We are having plenty of competition for a number of spots including left end, tackles, quarterback, fullback and center."

This intensive competition for starting positions could be an advantage to the Giants. There's nothing like pressure from the substitutes to keep the starters playing at peak performance.

Returning lettermen include Edwin Burnum, Tommy Cruse, Raymond Clary, Kenneth Cockerham, Jerrol Calk, Ken Duke, Allen Fortson, Raymond Bell, Gerald Pritchard, Glen Roark, Don Smith, David Taylor, James Willis, Greg Wilbanks and Jimmie Willis.

Southwestern Has 18 Letter Winners Back

LAFAYETTE,

Louisiana Duck Season

Under the circumstances, the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission has done the best job possible regarding this year's duck season.

Following a public hearing Monday at New Orleans, the commission set the season—within the framework determined by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service — from noon November 30 through sunset December 24.

This means that the Northeast Louisiana hunters will get 24½ days of hunting in a period during which this area usually has good waterfowl concentrations.

The biggest objection that could be voiced on the dates of the season regards the schoolboy hunters, some of whom will be away at college during the season. The season, of course, will be closed for most of the Christmas holidays.

But the North Louisiana hunter should keep in mind that the commission is under pressure from the South Louisiana interests to set the season early, which happened last year despite the recommendations of the biologists.

With this in mind, the dates of the season are about as fair as anyone could ask for.

Hunters, meantime, are confused — or at least some people are — about the restricted bag limits that the federal service handed down to the states in the Mississippi Flyway.

The two-duck daily bag limit will include only one mallard, the king bird of the waterfowl family. This means that the hunter can kill a mallard and one other duck to fill his daily bag.

But, the Louisiana hunter also has a bonus of two scaup. You can kill a mallard, one other duck and two scaup.

You can kill two woodducks and two scaup, but the mallard cannot be included. Nor can you substitute two woodducks for your two-scaup bonus.

POSITIVELY YOU CANNOT KILL FOUR SCAUP.

Black Bayou hunters are most familiar with the scaup duck in the Monroe area, since the scaup is an open-water diving duck that goes for the big water areas like Black Bayou.

The scaup is not to be confused with the blackjack, which is a ringneck duck that goes for areas like Wham Brake. A scaup has a white belly, a dark back, a white stripe on the wings and a light blue bill.

While the scaup bonus will not add too much to the season for North Louisiana hunters, it will mean a great deal in South Louisiana where there are 1½-million scaups on the coast. Last year North Louisiana had between 50,000 and 75,000 scaups.

In South Louisiana, the cajun hunter knows the scaup as a dos-gris.

Besides the duck season, the Louisiana commission selected the latest possible goose season to extend from November 15 through January 13, or 60 days with a daily limit of five.

The Canada goose, however, is off-limits, thanks again to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The coot season, consisting of 25 days, was fixed to run concurrently with the duck season. The bag and possession limit on coots is six.

Louisiana is being cut off from shooting Canadas — the big honkers — simply because we aren't getting many of them anymore. The states up the flyway are making their areas so attractive that the honkers quit coming south in big numbers.

In addition to Canadian geese, the redheads and canvasbacks in the duck family are off limits.

While the Louisiana commission was unable to get more for the hunter rhis year, it should be recognized by the sportsmen that if it hadn't been for our own commission, plus the efforts of some of our neighbors, the season in the Mississippi Flyway would have been closed all together.

We understand that at the hearing in New Orleans this week the commission, joined by the Louisiana Wildlife Federation, impressed on the representatives of the federal service that Louisiana wants an improvement next year.

This ray of hope could be snuff out by the continuation of drouth conditions in the Canada nesting grounds, some of which have been converted into grain producing areas to enable Canada to sell wheat to Red China.

Believe It Or Not

Howard Barker of Monroe has a problem.

He killed a banded duck in Wham Brake in 1955 that sported the number 577-75499.

But in 1961, while hunting in Wham Brake with a friend, Howard Barker's friend killed the same duck again, or at least a duck with the same banded number — 577-75499.

"This looks like a 'believe it or not'," Barker explained in a letter.

In search for an answer, we talked to Dick Yancey, the assistant wildlife director, but Dick said he had never heard of anything like that happening before.

He explained that identical numbers are not used on duck bands.

What really made the question confusing was the fact that the identical numbers were brought to the attention of the hunters by the bird banding laboratory of the U.S. Department of the Interior.

Apparently what happened the interior department slipped up and repeated the number.

But you can believe it or not.

Arkansas Hunting Season

Arkansas hunters opened the dove season over the weekend, but from a Crossett veteran comes a gloomy report.

Crossett Erwin, considered in some circles as The dove hunter of Ashley County, reports that the doves are scare this year in the Crossett area.

The Arkansas dove season runs from September 1 to October 8, then from December 20 to January 10.

Crossett Erwin also says that squirrels are scare in the Crossett area, mainly because the big freeze last January got the pecans while the drouth hurt the acron crop.

This same forecast can be applied to Northeast Louisiana.

The squirrel season in Arkansas is split in zones — September 15 through December 31 for the north zone; October 1 through January 15 for the south zone.

Here are the other Arkansas seasons:

Ducks — December 6 through December 30. Same limits as Louisiana.

Geese — October 1 through October 30 and December 1 through December 30. Same limits as Louisiana.

Woodcock — December 1 through January 9. Limits 4 and 8.

Deer with gun — November 12 through November 17, December 10 through December 15 and December 27 through December 31.

Deer with longbow and arrow —October 1 through December 31.

Deer with crossbow — October 15 through October 21.

Quail—December 1 through January 31. Daily limit 8.

Rabbit — September 15 through January 31 in the north zone; October 1 through January 31 in the south zone. Daily limit 8.

Little Man's Corner

Fishing improved with the weather, but most of the little men who normally make news afield were busy getting ready for the opening of the dove season.

But there were some who made news afield fishing.

For instance, Sam Smith and B. T. Smith landed some nice catches of spec at Black Bayou while Sam LaDart and Pat Hayes were making news with the bass.

Other successful bass fishermen at Black Bayou included Tony Maltor, Pete Shambro and Sam Danna. Louis Savannah and Frank Savannah had luck bream fishing.

From Winnsboro, Mark Butler and Maurice Dye landed 24 bass at Lake St. John.

Natchez fishermen getting the limit of bass at Lake Concordia included Jimmy Hodges, Al Strickland and Albert Cameron.

And at Gassoway in East Carroll, from Monroe, Dump Holcomb and Slick Lawson came close to the limit of bass. C. A. King and his son, Charlie Lee, caught five bass averaging four pounds.

On another trip, C. A. King got six.

Old River fishermen having luck were Earl Smith and L. L. Warren, both of Bastrop, with limits of bream; Dan Brown, Delhi, bream limit and 15 nice bass; Harry Bernard of Pioneer, bream limit and nine bass; Billy Brown, Darnell, bream limit.

Locally, the Pine Hills Gun Club plans its Third Annual Fall Pine Hills Gun Club Trophy Shoot and Party for September 23. Members are urged to make plans to attend the skeet shooting.

The club plans to shoot clay targets until some time in November.

Opening day of the dove season was spotty.

We joined a party of Monroe hunters who joined a party of Bastrop hunters headed up by Wesley Garrett and Lindy Houston for a hunt in West Carroll Parish.

A few limits of doves were taken, but most hunters there were having their troubles, simply because the doves weren't bunched up like they have been.

Last year in this particular spot there were thousands of doves, but it was a different story this year. At any rate Wesley and Lindy showed their colleagues a good time, including the Joe Lipsey party from Baton Rouge.

Enjoying fair success from Monroe were Mike Tarver, Bill Rodriguez, Odis Fontenot, Jim Thurman and his young son.

VADA PINSON, Cincinnati center fielder, does it the hard way, making a tumbling catch of Willie Mays' fly to center field in the sixth inning of Saturday's game in San Francisco with the Giants. Second baseman Don Blasingame backs up Pinson on the play. (AP Wirephoto)

Jena Giants Rely On 15 Lettermen

By ROBERT C. WAGNER

JENA, La. (Special) — Winning football games has been a tough chore at Jena for the past few years and, with only seven seniors on the club, the Giants will fade another uphill climb this fall.

Coach Jimmie Gilbert will have to draw heavily on 22 juniors and 13 sophomores to fill out the ranks of the young squad.

The return of 15 lettermen brightens the picture somewhat, but several key players were lost through graduation.

Early in the practice season, Gilbert predicted that some of the starters picked in spring practice may be bumped by young and eager squadsmen. "We are having plenty of competition for a number of spots including left end, tackles, quarterback, fullback and center."

This intensive competition for starting positions could be an advantage to the Giants. There's nothing like pressure from the substitutes to keep the starters playing at peak performance.

Returning lettermen include Edwin Burnum, Tommy Cruse, Raymond Clary, Kenneth Cockerham, Jerrol Calk, Ken Duke, Allen Fortson, Raymond Bell, Gerald Pritchard, Glen Roark, Don Smith, David Taylor, James Willis, Greg Wilbanks and Jimmie Willis.

The Schedule:

Sept. 14 — LaSalle at Olla
Sept. 21 or 22 — Ferriday, here
Sept. 27 — Neville at Monroe
Oct. 5 — Natchitochesx, there

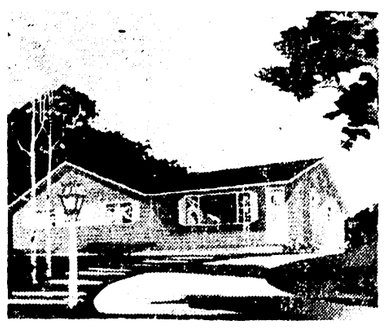
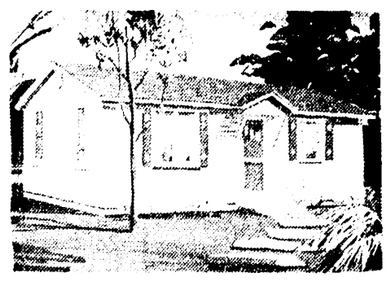
WHY PAY RENT?



A ... home providing ample space for the large family. The El Dorado offers more livable space for less cost than any other shell home on the market today. The exterior styling makes this home an asset to any neighborhood and the interior is designed especially for the wife with a discerning taste for future arrangements. As low as $58.98 per month in shell form for 98 months.



For compactness, convenience, and attractive design, Modern Homes offers you the Corvette. This model has two bedrooms which are ideal for a small family or couple and it features the increasingly popular living and dining room combination. The Corvette boasts a large kitchen to make cooking a pleasure. The gabled entrance lends itself to arrangements of flowering annual plants. As low as $34.98 per month in shell form for 98 months.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES WILLIAM HARPER

Constance Keller Weds James William Harper

Our Lady of Fatima Catholic Church was scene of the wedding of Miss Constance Louise Keller and James William Harper which was solemnized Friday, August 24, at 6 p.m. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fredrick Keller, 101 Delano Drive and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Simonton Harper, 2739 Bayou Lane, all of Monroe.

Father Dave Dabria performed the double ring ceremony in a setting of white lighted tapers and gold vases of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Jack White, organist who also accompanied J. M. McBeth as he sang "Ava Maria" and "Panis Angelicus." Joe Talley and Charles Wilds III served as altar boys.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a princess gown of silk organza and reembroidered Alencon lace, with pearls and sequins adorning the short sleeves and Sabrina neckline. The bouffant skirt, accented with a bustle bow, extended into a full chapel train. Her veil of illusion was attached to a crown of Alencon lace, edged with tiny seed pearls. She wore white wrist length gloves and carried a bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and stephanotis.

Miss Carolyn Wills, maid of honor, wore a gown of white silk organza over polished cotton. A lace crown held her short illusion veil and she carried a nosegay of white chyrsanthemums and roses. She wore white wrist length gloves and polished kid slippers.

Bridesmaid, dressed identically to the honor attendant were Miss Kathryn Coon, Miss Ann Hobgood, Miss Patricia Holloway and Miss Mary Jane Young. Bridget Coon, of Midland, Tex., flower girl, was dressed like the bridesmaids and carried a white basket of rose buds. Ring bearer was Bruno Coon, Midland, Texas. Both are cousins of the bride.

Edward S. Harper, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen-ushers were Wayne Coon, cousin of the bride; Jay Goldsmith, Clayton Cole and Joe Thomas.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Keller wore a beige lace dress, lined with mint green taffeta, with bone accessories and hat in shades of green and tan. Her corsage was of white roses. Mrs. Harper, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue silk gown with blue accessories and corsage of gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Bayou DeSiard Country Club. In the entrance a cupid epergne held a massive arrangement of gladioli and chrysanthemums. Miss Marjorie Gilstrap presided at the bride's book, placed on a table with a memory candle.

The bride's cake was served from a table covered with a white net cloth over satin, adorned with white rosebuds and fern. Mrs. Irene Reid and Mrs. J. M. Gilstrap alternated with Mrs. John Loftin and Mrs. J. W. Cummins in serving the cake. The groom's cake, made into the form of a miniature golf course was served on the porch overlooking the bayou, from a table covered with beige linen and decorated with golf tees. Centering the table was a lantern with one lighted candle. Serving the cake were Mrs. F. M. Goldsmith and Mrs. Mills Dunn of Collinston and presiding at the antique coffee service opposite were Mrs. Amos Smelser of Sterlington and Mrs. Ike Hamilton.

Punch was served from two silver bowls encircled with fern and rosebuds with a mass arrangement of chrysanthemums, stock and gladioli centering the table. Mrs. J. S. Osterland, Mrs. Jack Rushing, Mrs. Winnie Cole and Mrs. Joe Thomas served punch. Receiving at the door were Mrs. Clifton Flinn and Mrs. H. W. McSherry, with Mrs. Charles Wilds Jr. receiving at the reception room entrance.

Tea girls were Miss Ellen Walker, Miss Julia Scott, Miss Sandra Johnson, Miss Sara Hamilton, Miss Lila Loftin, Mrs. Clayton Cole, and Miss Sarite Currier of New Iberia.

For travel the bride changed into an advanced fall suit with brown lizard accessories and brown feather hat. She wore a corsage of brown cymbidium orchids. Upon their return the couple will reside at 114 Cecile Drive in Monroe. The bride graduated from Ouachita Parish high school, attended Louisiana State University and is presently attending Northeast. She is a member of Phi Mu sorority. Mr. Harper graduated from Neville high school and is attending Northeast Louisiana State College and is employed by a local accounting firm. He is a member of Kappa Alpha social fraternity; Alpha Mu Upsilon professional fraternity and Phi Sigma Epsilon professional business fraternity.

Double Ring Vows Unite Miss McKay, Mr. Thacker

Fan shaped arrangements of white gladioli in gold and white urns formed a setting at Pollock Baptist Church for the wedding Friday, August 31 of Miss June Elizabeth McKay of Columbia and Charles Nemnich Thacker of Monroe. Rev. Moses E. Mercer officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. McKay of Pollock and parents of Mr. Thacker are Mr. and Mrs. Clayborne W. Thacker, 606 Filhiol Ave., Monroe.

Tall cathedral tapers in branched candelabra, entwined with ivy were lighted by the groom's cousins, Marc and Chris Cooper of Little Rock, Ark., following a program of nuptial music by Miss Petty Pope, Brookhaven, Miss., who also accompanied Mrs. L. N. Blair, Monroe, as she sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. McKay gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown featured a fitted bodice of imported handclipped Galloon lace with scalloped neckline and long sleeves forming petal points over the hands. The voluminous pleated skirt of white peau de soie ended in a chapel train and was styled with front panels of lace. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was attached to a crown of orange blossoms and pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom and carried a cascade of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. James King of Monroe, attended her sister as matron of honor. Her gown of peacock blue silk organza over taffeta featured basque bodice, Sabrina neckline, cap sleeves and bouffant skirt. She wore an open crown shallow pillbox of peacock blue silk organza with scalloped veil of matching illusion and matching slippers. Her bouquet was a cascade of white chrysanthemums. Miss Virginia Shaw of Pollock and Mrs. R. P. Andrews of Pineville, bridesmaids, were dressed identically to the honor attendant.

Serving as best man was Jerry Malone of Baton Rouge and groomsmen were Ed Roberts of Baskin and Harper McKay of West Monroe.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McKay wore a sheath of embroidered voile in shades of blue, with matching sequin hat, shoes and bag. Her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Thacker, mother of the groom, wore a beige lace over taffeta sheath with beige feather hat, accented by green leaves and veil in shades of green. Her corsage was of green cymbidium orchids.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents were hosts at a reception in the social room of the church. The refreshment table was covered with a white cutwork cloth over pink and held a central arrangement of pink stock and carnations flanked by tall pink tapers in crystal candelabra. The tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Harper McKay and Mrs. Don Cheek and presiding at the punch bowl opposite were Misses Martha Stockstill and Patsy Hearne. The bride's book was presided over by Miss Dorthy Marsh and assisting with courtesies were Mrs. Charles Denham, Mrs. A. F. McKay and Miss Kathleene Gates. Rice bags were distributed by Miss Catherine McKay, cousin of the bride.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to New Orleans the bride was wearing a Persian blue crepe sheath with white feather hat and matching accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

The couple will establish a home in Columbia. Mrs. Thacker graduated from Pollock high school and Northeast Louisiana State College and is presently employed with the L. S. U. Extension Service. Mr. Thacker graduated from Neville high school, attended Louisiana Tech and was graduated from Northeast. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha and Pi Sigma Epsilon, sales fraternity and is employed by Louisiana Power and Light Co.

Miss Linda Gail Hobgood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hobgood, Monroe, became the bride of Ernest Loyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Loyd, also of this city, on Saturday, August 25. The double ring ceremony was performed at 7:30 p.m. in the Church of God by Rev. L. A. Brannen.

Branched candelabra entwined with Southern smilax with fan shaped arrangements of white gladioli at either end of the altar formed a background for the satin covered prie dieu where the couple exchanged vows.

Mrs. Love Anderson, organist accompanied Miss Pat Dixon who sang "O Promise Me," "Whither Thou Goest," and "The Wedding Prayer."

Mr. Hobgood gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown was fashioned with bodice of imported Chantilly lace with Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves and voluminous skirt of bridal satin with strips of lace extending into a chapel train. She wore a tiara of iridescent sequins and pearls to which her veil of illusion was attached and carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis with a white orchid interlaced with white streamers.

Miss Irene DeLaSalle, was maid of honor and Mrs. Dot Anderson, matron of honor, with Miss Regina Harper and Mrs. Dorothy Coleman, bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of blue satin, styled with scalloped necklines and full skirts. Their headdresses were crowns of matching satin with circular illusion veils and they wore blue satin shoes and mitts, and carried cascades of small white chrysanthemums entwined with blue ribbon.

Miss Carol Anderson and Miss Karen Hobgood, flower girls, wore white taffeta dresses with wide blue sashes and matching headpieces. They carried small baskets of white chrysanthemums with blue streamers.

Clyde Loyd attended the bridegroom as best man. Lawrence Harper was groomsman and ushers were Delbert Anderson and Robert Anderson.

The bride's mother chose a pink cotton satin dress with pink net hat and a corsage of pink Frenched carnations. The groom's mother was wearing a dress of beige linen with green feather hat and a corsage of green carnations.

The church social room was scene of the reception which followed the ceremony, and was decorated throughout with green foliage entwined with white wedding bells and blue streamers. The table, covered with a lace cloth over blue was centered with the bridesmaids' bouquets. Miss Sandra Ferguson served punch, assisted by Miss Judy Fairchild. Mrs. Nellie Loyd served the cake, assisted by Miss Bonita Brannen and the bride's book was presided over by Miss Mary Alford. Others assisting were Mrs. L. L. Harper and Mrs. L. A. Brannen.

For a wedding trip to Dallas, Tex. the bride wore a three piece beige ensemble with white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. They will establish a home in Dallas.

Miss Bryant Is Married Saturday

St. Thomas Episcopal Church of Monroe was scene of the ceremony Saturday, September 1 which united in marriage Miss Evelyn Geraldine Bryant of this city and Minor Frazier Terry of Little Rock, Arkansas. The Very Rev. Richard W. Wilson performed the 3 p.m. ceremony in the presence of family members.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bryant of Monroe and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam D. Burnette of North Little Rock, with whom she has spent the summer. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Terry of Little Rock.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. Burnette, the bride wore a royal blue silk shantung model, styled with slim skirt and blouson bodice. Her accessories were navy, featuring a lace work pillbox hat with navy blue veil and she wore a corsage of white carnations and stephanotis.

After a two week wedding trip to the Ozarks the couple will be at home at 864 West Grant Street in Baton Rouge, where both will be in graduate school at Louisiana State University, the bride in sociology and Mr. Terry in the school of forestry.

Mrs. Terry received her B. A. degree in sociology from Northeast Louisiana State College in 1961, where she was a member of Social Science club, Phi Alpha Theta, national honor history fraternity and the Honor Society. She will receive her M. A. degree in Sociology from LSU in May, 1963 and is a member of Alpha Kappa Delta, national honor sociology fraternity and of the American Sociological Association.

Mississippi Girl Bride Of Larry Truett Brooks

Miss Dorothy Jeanne Quigley, daughter of Mrs. John N. Quigley Jr., Hattiesburg, Miss., and the late Mr. Quigley, became the bride of Larry Truett Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Brooks, 2410 North 9th, West Monroe, in a ceremony solemnized Sunday, August 26 at 2 p.m. in Sacred Heart Catholic Church at Hattiesburg.

Msgr. John T. Martin performed the double ring vows before the altar which was banked with woodwardia fern and massive arrangement of white chrysanthemums, gladioli and Fuji mums in gold altar vases. Palms and scheffaria banked either side of the altar and gold candelabra holding white tapers were used on either side of the prie dieu.

Mrs. Ronald Pace, organist and Mrs. John Bounds, soloist, presented appropriate wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, John N. Quigley III. She wore a gown of imported Italian silk over satinback taffeta, designed with basque bodice and long tapered sleeves, embellished with lavish Swiss embroidered design. The fullness of the bouffant skirt was accented by an embroidered front and back panel, sweeping into a court train. Her voluminous veil of English silk illusion fell from an open halo crown of simulated pearls. Her bouquet was composed of a white orchid with white rosebuds, interlaced with white streamers.

Miss Carol Jane Quigley, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Betty Joe Gregory, Miss Laura Burkett and Mrs. Joe Phillips, all of Hattiesburg, and junior bridesmaids were Miss Faye Ann Quigley and Miss Jo Ann Thompson, cousins of the bride. Their gowns were of Montego blue silk organza over taffeta, designed with oval neckline and elbow length sleeves piped in satin. The moulded bodices featured satin midriffs and the semi-belled skirts were accented with unpressed pleats and back double satin panels. They wore crowns edged in pearls with circular veils of silk maline and matching satin shoes and white gloves. They carried large fan shaped bouquet of pink chrysanthemums with pink streamers.

Flower girl was Gena Beverly, who was dressed like other attendants and serving as ringbearer was Perry Edwin Doleac, cousin of the bride.

Mr. Brooks served as best man for his son's wedding. Groomsmen were James Farmer, Neal Nethery and Robert Perkins, all of Monroe, and ushers included Richard Earl Taylor, Hattiesburg, cousin of the bride; William Tubbs and Stuart Hill, both of Monroe.

For the occasion the bride's mother wore a gown of champange lace with which she wore matching accessories and a corsage of champagne rosebuds. Mrs. Brooks, mother of the groom, wore a sheath gown of pink embroidered organza with hat of pink silk organza petals, outlined in pearls, pink accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony the bride's mother entertained with a reception at the Hattiesburg Country Club. The refreshment table was covered with a white imported cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums and fern, flanked by silver candelabra and held silver and crystal punch bowls at either end. The bride's table which held the tiered wedding cake, was adorned with white roses and lily of the valley. Cousins of the bride served as tea girls.

Members of the house party were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gore, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm C. Doleac, Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Hays, Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Millard A. Quigley, Mrs. Joe Mailson, Mrs. A. N. Odom and Mrs. Rube C. Small.

For a wedding trip to the Mississippi Gulf Coast, the bride changed into a brown and white imported silk tweed suit with brown patent accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. They will make their home in El Paso, Texas, where Mr. Brooks is presently stationed.

The bride graduated from Hattiesburg High school and University of Southern Mississippi and is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha. Mr. Brooks graduated from West Monroe high school and also attended the University of Southern Mississippi. His social fraternity is Kappa Sigma.

MRS. CHARLES EVANS JARRETT

Jarrett-Colvin Nuptials Solemnized In Jonesboro

The wedding of Miss Olivia Ann Colvin to Dr. Charles Evans Jarrett was solemnized Friday, August 24, in the First Baptist Church at Jonesboro, at 7 p.m. with Rev. John Swint Hurt of Baton Rouge, a former pastor, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ansley Hall Colvin Jr. of Jonesboro and Mr. and Mrs. Branyon Orville Jarrett of Augusta, Ga.

Vows were exchanged in a setting of green and white with a massed arrangement of stock, pompons and gladioli flanked by ivy entwined candelabra holding lighted tapers. White flower trees and palms completed the setting and candles in votive cups marked pews.

Keith Colvin, cousin of the bride, was organist and Mrs. Sam Ledbetter, soloist. Candles were lighted by Misses Vicki Colvin of Jonesboro and Debbie Rogers of Opelousas, cousins of the bride, who wore leaf green dresses with matching velvet hair bows and wrist corsages of pompons.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of candlelight peau de soie. The moulded bodice was fashioned with bateau neckline and elbow length sleeves and the controlled dome skirt was overlaid with imported white reembroidered Alencon lace. Loops of peau de soie marked the back waist from which fell a full chapel train. Her short veil of imported silk illusion fell from a demi hat of Alencon lace and she carried a shower bouquet of white stephanotis and stock.

Miss Ginger Colvin, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Jarrett, New York City, sister of the groom; Mrs. Skippy Duncan Buford of Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri; Miss Loyce Kilpatrick and Mrs. W. C. McDonald Jr. of Jonesboro. They were identically dressed in boccarrat gold ottoman satin gowns with wide bertha collars, with which they wore matching pillbox hats and carried cascade bouquets of bronze fuji chrysanthemums and green grapes.

The bridegroom's father served as best man and ushers were Dr. Randy Hensley of Waynesboro, Ga., Tommy Tygart of Jacksonville, Fla., Ted Colvin and John Michaud Jr. of Jonesboro.

The bride's mother wore a gown of emerald green peau de soie with matching ostrich feather hat and a corsage of yellow tuberoses. The groom's mother chose a frost green peau de soie model with matching flower hat and corsage of cymbidium orchids. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. C. Starks, wore lace in tones of mauve with a matching hat.

The bride's aunts, Mrs. F. E. Johnstone Jr., Mrs. James E. Bryan Jr., Mrs. Lester Colvin, Mrs T. L. Colvin Sr., Mrs. Harold Bourg, Mrs. Nolen Smith, Mrs. Joe Kees, Mrs. Wilbur Rogers, Mrs. Carroll Robertson and Mrs. O. E. Starks were hostesses at a reception in the church parlors and alternated in serving courtesies with the groom's aunts, Miss Julie Tygart of Miami, Fla. and Mrs. Leo J. Long of St. Petersburg, Fla.

White roses, stock and clusters of white grapes adorned the bride's table and slender tapers in a brass candelabra graced the groom's table.

Miss Cheryl Evans and Miss Anita Michaud registered the guests and other members of the house party were Misses Vickie Johnson, Martha Mobley, Jackie McCostlin and Donna Price. Rice bags were presented by Tavie Jo Colvin and Marsha Bryan and Melanie Michaud.

For a wedding trip to Mexico City the bride wore a green Italian cotton suit with matching accessories. Mrs. Jarrett is a graduate of LSU where she was a member of Delta Zeta and until last year served her sorority as National Field Secretary. She is now on the faculty at Mark Twain School in Dallas, Texas. Dr. Jarrett attended Boes Military Academy in Jacksonville, Fla., and graduated from Emory University. He received his doctor's degree in medicine at the University of Georgia Medical school, where he was a member of Kappa Sigma and Phi Chi Medical fraternity. He is presently a resident physician at Parkland Hospital. They will be at home in Dallas.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES WILLIAM HARPER

Constance Keller Weds James William Harper

Our Lady of Fatima Catholic Church was scene of the wedding of Miss Constance Louise Keller and James William Harper which was solemnized Friday, August 24, at 6 p.m. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fredrick Keller, 101 Delano Drive and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Simonton Harper, 2739 Bayou Lane, all of Monroe.

Father Dave Dabria performed the double ring ceremony in a setting of white lighted tapers and gold vases of white gladioli and chrysanthemums. Nuptial music was provided by Mrs. Jack White, organist who also accompanied J. M. McBeth as he sang "Ava Maria" and "Panis Angelicus." Joe Talley and Charles Wilds III served as altar boys.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a princess gown of silk organza and reembroidered Alencon lace, with pearls and sequins adorning the short sleeves and Sabrina neckline. The bouffant skirt, accented with a bustle bow, extended into a full chapel train. Her veil of illusion was attached to a crown of Alencon lace, edged with tiny seed pearls. She wore white wrist length gloves and carried a bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and stephanotis.

Miss Carolyn Wills, maid of honor, wore a gown of white silk organza over polished cotton. A lace crown held her short illusion veil and she carried a nosegay of white chyrsanthemums and roses. She wore white wrist length gloves and polished kid slippers.

Bridesmaid, dressed identically to the honor attendant were Miss Kathryn Coon, Miss Ann Hobgood, Miss Patricia Holloway and Miss Mary Jane Young. Bridget Coon, of Midland, Tex., flower girl, was dressed like the bridesmaids and carried a white basket of rose buds. Ring bearer was Bruno Coon, Midland, Texas. Both are cousins of the bride.

Edward S. Harper, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen-ushers were Wayne Coon, cousin of the bride; Jay Goldsmith, Clayton Cole and Joe Thomas.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Keller wore a beige lace dress, lined with mint green taffeta, with bone accessories and hat in shades of green and tan. Her corsage was of white roses. Mrs. Harper, mother of the bridegroom, wore a blue silk gown with blue accessories and corsage of gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Bayou DeSiard Country Club. In the entrance a cupid epergne held a massive arrangement of gladioli and chrysanthemums. Miss Marjorie Gilstrap presided at the bride's book, placed on a table with a memory candle.

The bride's cake was served from a table covered with a white net cloth over satin, adorned with white rosebuds and fern. Mrs. Irene Reid and Mrs. J. M. Gilstrap alternated with Mrs. John Loftin and Mrs. J. W. Cummins in serving the cake. The groom's cake, made into the form of a miniature golf course was served on the porch overlooking the bayou, from a table covered with beige linen and decorated with golf tees. Centering the table was a lantern with one lighted candle. Serving the cake were Mrs. F. M. Goldsmith and Mrs. Mills Dunn of Collinston and presiding at the antique coffee service opposite were Mrs. Amos Smelser of Sterlington and Mrs. Ike Hamilton.

Punch was served from two silver bowls encircled with fern and rosebuds with a mass arrangement of chrysanthemums, stock and gladioli centering the table. Mrs. J. S. Osterland, Mrs. Jack Rushing, Mrs. Winnie Cole and Mrs. Joe Thomas served punch. Receiving at the door were Mrs. Clifton Flinn and Mrs. H. W. McSherry, with Mrs. Charles Wilds Jr. receiving at the reception room entrance.

Tea girls were Miss Ellen Walker, Miss Julia Scott, Miss Sandra Johnson, Miss Sara Hamilton, Miss Lila Loftin, Mrs. Clayton Cole, and Miss Sarite Currier of New Iberia.

For travel the bride changed into an advanced fall suit with brown lizard accessories and brown feather hat. She wore a corsage of brown cymbidium orchids. Upon their return the couple will reside at 114 Cecile Drive in Monroe. The bride graduated from Ouachita Parish high school, attended Louisiana State University and is presently attending Northeast. She is a member of Phi Mu sorority. Mr. Harper graduated from Neville high school and is attending Northeast Louisiana State College and is employed by a local accounting firm. He is a member of Kappa Alpha social fraternity; Alpha Mu Upsilon professional fraternity and Phi Sigma Epsilon professional business fraternity.

Double Ring Vows Unite Miss McKay, Mr. Thacker

Fan shaped arrangements of white gladioli in gold and white urns formed a setting at Pollock Baptist Church for the wedding Friday, August 31 of Miss June Elizabeth McKay of Columbia and Charles Nemnich Thacker of Monroe. Rev. Moses E. Mercer officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. McKay of Pollock and parents of Mr. Thacker are Mr. and Mrs. Clayborne W. Thacker, 606 Filhiol Ave., Monroe.

Tall cathedral tapers in branched candelabra, entwined with ivy were lighted by the groom's cousins, Marc and Chris Cooper of Little Rock, Ark., following a program of nuptial music by Miss Petty Pope, Brookhaven, Miss., who also accompanied Mrs. L. N. Blair, Monroe, as she sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mr. McKay gave his daughter in marriage. Her gown featured a fitted bodice of imported hand-clipped Galloon lace with scalloped neckline and long sleeves forming petal points over the hands. The voluminous pleated skirt of white peau de soie ended in a chapel train and was styled with front panels of lace. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was attached to a crown of orange blossoms and pearls. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the groom and carried a cascade of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. James King of Monroe, attended her sister as matron of honor. Her gown of peacock blue silk organza over taffeta featured basque bodice, Sabrina neckline, cap sleeves and bouffant skirt. She wore an open crown shallow pillbox of peacock blue silk organza with scalloped veil of matching illusion and matching slippers. Her bouquet was a cascade of white chrysanthemums. Miss Virginia Shaw of Pollock and Mrs. R. P. Andrews of Pineville, bridesmaids, were dressed identically to the honor attendant.

Serving as best man was Jerry Malone of Baton Rouge and groomsmen were Ed Roberts of Baskin and Harper McKay of West Monroe.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McKay wore a sheath of embroidered voile in shades of blue, with matching sequin hat, shoes and bag. Her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Thacker, mother of the groom, wore a beige lace over taffeta sheath with beige feather hat, accented by green leaves and veil in shades of green. Her corsage was of green cymbidium orchids.

Following the ceremony the bride's parents were hosts at a reception in the social room of the church. The refreshment table was covered with a white cutwork cloth over pink and held a central arrangement of pink stock and carnations flanked by tall pink tapers in crystal candelabra. The tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Harper McKay and Mrs. Don Cheek and presiding at the punch bowl opposite were Misses Martha Stockstill and Patsy Hearne. The bride's book was presided over by Miss Dorthy Marsh and assisting with courtesies were Mrs. Charles Denham, Mrs. A. F. McKay and Miss Kathleene Gates. Rice bags were distributed by Miss Catherine McKay, cousin of the bride.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to New Orleans the bride was wearing a Persian blue crepe sheath with white feather hat and matching accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid.

The couple will establish a home in Columbia. Mrs. Thacker graduated from Pollock high school and Northeast Louisiana State College and is presently employed with the L. S. U. Extension Service. MRS. CHARLES EVANS JARRETT

Jarrett-Colvin Nuptials Solemnized In Jonesboro

The wedding of Miss Olivia Ann Colvin to Dr. Charles Evans Jarrett was solemnized Friday, August 24, in the First Baptist Church at Jonesboro, at 7 p.m. with Rev. John Swint Hurt of Baton Rouge, a former pastor, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ansley Hall Colvin Jr. of Jonesboro and Mr. and Mrs. Branyon Orville Jarrett of Augusta, Ga.

Vows were exchanged in a setting of green and white with a massed arrangement of stock, pompons and gladioli flanked by ivy entwined candelabra holding lighted tapers. White flower trees and palms completed the setting and candles in votive cups marked pews.

Keith Colvin, cousin of the bride, was organist and Mrs. Sam Ledbetter, soloist. Candles were lighted by Misses Vicki Colvin of Jonesboro and Debbie Rogers of Opelousas, cousins of the bride, who wore leaf green dresses with matching velvet hair bows and wrist corsages of pompons.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a gown of candlelight peau de soie. The moulded bodice was fashioned with bateau neckline and elbow length sleeves and the controlled dome skirt was overlaid with imported white reembroidered Alencon lace. Loops of peau de soie marked the back waist from which fell a full chapel train. Her short veil of imported silk illusion fell from a demi hat of Alencon lace and she carried a shower bouquet of white stephanotis and stock.

Miss Ginger Colvin, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Ruth Jarrett, New York City, sister of the groom; Mrs. Skippy Duncan Buford of Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri; Miss Loyce Kilpatrick and Mrs. W. C. McDonald Jr. of Jonesboro. They were identically dressed in boccarrat gold ottoman satin gowns with wide bertha collars, with which they wore matching pillbox hats and carried cascade bouquets of bronze fuji chrysanthemums and green grapes.

The bridegroom's father served as best man and ushers were Dr. Randy Hensley of Waynesboro, Ga., Tommy Tygart of Jacksonville, Fla., Ted Colvin and John Michaud Jr. of Jonesboro.

The bride's mother wore a gown of emerald green peau de soie with matching ostrich feather hat and a corsage of yellow tuberoses. The groom's mother chose a frost green peau de soie model with matching flower hat and corsage of cymbidium orchids. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. W. C. Starks, wore lace in tones of mauve with a matching hat.

The bride's aunts, Mrs. F. E. Johnstone Jr., Mrs. James E. Bryan Jr., Mrs. Lester Colvin, Mrs T. L. Colvin Sr., Mrs. Harold Bourg, Mrs. Nolen Smith, Mrs. Joe Kees, Mrs. Wilbur Rogers, Mrs. Carroll Robertson and Mrs. O. E. Starks were hostesses at a reception in the church parlors and alternated in serving courtesies with the groom's aunts, Miss Julie Tygart of Miami, Fla. and Mrs. Leo J. Long of St. Petersburg, Fla.

White roses, stock and clusters of white grapes adorned the bride's table and slender tapers in a brass candelabra graced the groom's table.

Miss Cheryl Evans and Miss Anita Michaud registered the guests and other members of the house party were Misses Vickie Johnson, Martha Mobley, Jackie McCostlin and Donna Price. Rice bags were presented by Tavie Jo Colvin and Marsha Bryan and Melanie Michaud.

For a wedding trip to Mexico City the bride wore a green Italian cotton suit with matching accessories. Mrs. Jarrett is a graduate of LSU where she was a member of Delta Zeta and until last year served her sorority as National Field Secretary. She is now on the faculty at Mark Twain School in Dallas, Texas. Dr. Jarrett attended Boes Military Academy in Jacksonville, Fla., and graduated from Emory University. He received his doctor's degree in medicine at the University of Georgia Medical school, where he was a member of Kappa Sigma and Phi Chi Medical fraternity. He is presently a resident physician at Parkland Hospital. They will be at home in Dallas.

THE SWEATER SET

Sweater sets gain fall importance, look new with sleeveless pullovers under cardigans.

True Colors Are Basic For Fall

Fashion is true to the red and the green, the blue and the gold. These clear, lively "true colors" are basic in many of the new fall styles.

Along with hues of bold clarity go rich and impressive neutrals. Brown tones are particularly important. Gray, camel, winter white offer strong competition to that perennial and always fashionable neutral, black.

Muted and blended colors echo the true hues in enchanting variations. Wine and jewel reds, mossy greens, heather grays and greens, enriched royal blues have a sophisticated look as seen in the simpler, shapelier silhouettes of fall.

Wedding Of Northeast Students Held In Delhi

The wedding of Miss Linda Lou Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Patrick Lane to Joe Kenneth Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray J. Newton, all of Delhi was solemnized Saturday, August 25 in the First Methodist church of Delhi. Rev. William V. Sirman performed the double ring vows at 4 p.m.

Twin arrangements of yellow gladioli and yellow pompons with commodore foliage, alternated with branched and spiral candelabra entwined with greenery and yellow pompons and holding yellow tapers formed a setting for the ceremony, flanked by floor standards of Jade foliage. Pews were marked with yellow satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white silk organza over net and satin. The basque bodice featured a Sabrina neckline outlined in Alencon lace and brief sleeves. The reembroidered lace was repeated on sides and back of the voluminous skirt which swept to a chapel train. A tiara of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white tulle centered with a white orchid on a white satin Bible, from which extended a garland of natural grape leaves entwined with yellow roses.

Miss Margie McElwee, maid of honor, wore a sheath gown of champagne silk organza over taffeta with lace overskirt. Her headdress was a silk organza rose with circular illusion veil. She wore matching lace shoes and gloves and carried a nosegay of miniature yellow chrysanthemums with moss green tulle and velvet streamers. Mrs. William Patrick Lane Jr., matron of honor and bridesmaies, Miss Pat Newton, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Winnifred Willey, were dressed identical to the maid of honor.

Miss Susan Baxter, flower girl, wore a frock of white silk organza and carried a basket of yellow chrysanthemums.

Serving as best man was Billy Ray Newton, brother of the groom. Groomsmen - ushers were Pat Lane Jr., brother of the bride; Preston Hammons and Jesse Bee Newcomer Jr. Mike Lane, brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

The bride's mother wore a gown of blue silk organza over taffeta with matching accessories and a corsage of honeydew cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a sheath of beige lace with fuschia accessories and corsage of honeydew cymbidium orchids.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The registry table held the bride's book with a memory candle and the bride's bouquet and a round table held the tiered wedding cake, encircled with greenery and yellow pompons. A long table covered in white held the punch bowl and a five - branched silver candelabra with white tapers opposite. The bridesmaids' bouquets were arranged in a garland encircling the candelabra and down the center of the table. Yellow gladioli and chrysanthemums formed a background for the receiving line.

For a wedding trip to Dallas, Texas the bride wore a suit of brown double knit wool with beige embroidered blouse and beige feather hat with brown lizard accessories. The couple will be at home in Monroe where both are attending Northeast Louisiana State College.

MRS. HENRY RAY PARKS

Parks-McGehee Nuptials Read In Monroe Church

Miss Kitty Barr McGehee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Stone Jr., 3112 Gordon Avenue, became the bride of Henry Ray Parks, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Vernon Parks, of Winnsboro, Saturday, August 18 in Gordon Avenue Methodist Church. Rev. Walter M. Allen performed the double ring ceremony at 7 p.m.

Fern trees, southern smilax, and two arrangements of white gladioli alternated with wrought iron candelabra formed a background for the ceremony.

Mrs. DeJuana Pitts, organist played appropriate selections and accompanied Phares Corder who sang "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white peau de soie, styled with short lace sleeves and scalloped Sabrina neckline. Lace applique motifs outlined in seed pearls embellished the voluminous skirt of the gown which terminated in a cathedral train. Her waist length veil of illusion was attached to a pillbox of lace over peau de soie. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid in cascade design.

Miss Nina Jo Osborn, maid of honor, and bridesmaids, Miss Mary Ann Neal, Miss LaJune Hayes and Miss Sharon Boyd, wore short white brocade sheaths with organza cummerbunds accented by white organza roses and sashes to the hemline. They wore white brocade pillbox hats with brief nose veils, white gloves and satin pumps and carried nosegays of happiness roses.

Ted Booth attended the bridegroom as best man and groomsmen ushers were Amos Price, Danny Duke and Billy Tomlinson.

Mrs. Stone chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of aqua blue lace over matching peau de soie, with aqua satin shoes, and other accessories to match. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue brocade dress with matching accessories and both had corsages of white carnations. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mabel Ross wore a blue chiffon dress with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church annex. The cake table was covered with white net over taffeta, as were the punch and bride's book tables. Mrs. Danny Duke presided at the bride's book table which was adorned with a memory candle and the bride's bouquet. Nosegays of red happiness flanked by silver candelabra holding white tapers centered the refreshment table with crystal punch bowls at either end presided over by Mrs. Neil Mott of Oak Ridge and Mrs. W. E. Beadle Jr. of Lafayette. Mrs. W. E. Beadle Sr., great aunt of the bride of Lafayette, served the cake.

Others assisting were Mrs. Minnie Boughton and Mrs. L. Collier. Tea girls were Miss Evelyn McGowan and Miss Ann Glass and rice bags were distributed by Miss Martha Fraley.

For a wedding trip to Hot Springs, Ark., the bride wore a lime green silk shantung ensemble with white accessories and the white orchid from her bouquet. They will be at home in Monroe.

THE SWEATER SET

Sweater sets gain fall importance, look new with sleeveless pullovers under cardigans.

True Colors Are Basic For Fall

Fashion is true to the red and the green, the blue and the gold. These clear, lively "true colors" are basic in many of the new fall styles.

Along with hues of bold clarity go rich and impressive neutrals. Brown tones are particularly important. Gray, camel, winter white offer strong competition to that perennial and always fashionable neutral, black.

Muted and blended colors echo the true hues in enchanting variations. Wine and jewel reds, mossy greens, heather grays and greens, enriched royal blues have a sophisticated look as seen in the simpler, shapelier silhouettes of fall.

MRS. FELIX JOSEPH PETRAS

Vows Unite Couple In Baton Rouge

White gladioli banked the altar of St Augustine's Episcopal church in Baton Rouge for the wedding of Miss Barbara Ann Simmons and Felix Joseph Petras, which was solemnized August 25 at 3 p.m. Rev. Willis Henton performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. D. Monk of Franklinton and Mr. Petras is the son of Mrs. Stella Petras of Monroe, formerly of Wilkes Barre, Pa.

James H. Simmons, Franklinton, gave his sister in marriage. She wore a gown of ivory bridal satin, fashioned on princess lines with square neckline and pouf back with a sweeping court train extending from an obi sash. Pearl appliques embellished front of the voluminous skirt. Her veil of ivory silk illusion was attached to a crown of pearls and crystals and she carried a white orchid atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Donald Singleton, Franklinton, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Pat Turner, Oak Grove, and flower girl was the bride's niece, Ramona Singleton. They wore identical sheaths in street length of orchid polished cotton with pouf back and floating chiffon panels. They carried bouquets of purple chrysanthemums on white lace fans. The flower girl wore a white frock with orchid sash and carried a basket of white carnations.

Teddy Payne, Baton Rouge served as best man and groomsman was Paul Simmons, brother of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church parlor. The bride's mother was wearing a blue lace sheath with blue accessories and a white carnation corsage.

For a wedding trip to Wilkes Barre and New York, the bride wore a red fall suit with black patent accessories and an orchid corsage. Upon their return the couple will be at home at 1709 College Avenue. Mr. Petras will graduate in January from Northeast Louisiana State College, from where Mrs. Petras was a June graduate.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS OWENS

West Monroe Couple Wed

Baskets of white gladioli and branched candelabra against a background of nandina foliage formed a setting in Trinity Baptist Church for the wedding of Miss Peggy Conrad and Thomas Owens Friday, August 24 at 7:30 p.m. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin C. Conrad, 320 Smith, West Monroe, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Dwight E. Owens, Route 3, West Monroe.

An arch of greenery and a prie dieu completed the setting for the ceremony performed by Rev. James Evans. Mrs. Sally North, organist, accompanied Mrs. Margaret Conrad as she sang "The Lord's Prayer" "Whither Thou Goest," and "Always."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of embroidered cotton lace over white taffeta, fashioned with round neckline, and scalloped hem with chapel train. A crown of pearlized orange blossoms held her waist length veil and she carried a white orchid with garlands of feathered chrysanthemums atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Ray Edwards, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Janie Conrad, also her sister, and Miss Ila Kay Guraedy. They wore identical frocks of crystallene taffeta in seafoam blue, with circular veils attached to headpieces of tulle petals outlined with pearls. Their bouquets were blue tinted pompons.

The flower girl, Miss Patti Edwards, niece of the bride, was also dressed like the other attendants and carried a basket of blue pompons.

Rabeon Owens attended his brother as best man and groomsmen ushers were Benny Gewin, and Fred Riser Jr., cousins of the groom.

Mrs. Conrad wore a pink lace sheath with matching accessories and corsage of pink feathered chrysanthemums. The bridegrooms's mother wore a blue embroidered satin model with matching accessories and blue feathered chrysanthemums.

A reception followed in the youth center of the church where the bride's table was covered in pink with a floor length skirt of white tulle. Centerpiece was a branched candelabra, encircled with the bridesmaids' bouquets. Mrs. J. L. Furlow Sr. served the wedding cake and Mrs. Rabeon Owens and Mrs. Holly Owens alternated at the punch bowl. Mrs. Dorothy Roberts presided at the guest book and tea girls were Miss Pat Guraedy and Miss Patsy Knox.

Comings and goings and parties celebrating same keep the calendar filled—particularly at this time of year. There is a last flurry before everyone settles down for school and more subdued fall schedules.

Guests of LUCILLE TURPIN for a late summer visit have been MABEL DAVENPORT of Bowling Green, Kentucky, and ANITA MORRISON of Baton Rouge, who have been honored at several parties this week. Last Saturday afternoon Lucille was hostess at tea for old friends of her visitors.

In the living room, where hostess and honorees greeted the guests, pink chrysanthemums decorated the base of the lovely old pier mirror. In the den, branches of pink crape myrtle in a tall cut glass vase stood at one side of the wide window with its sweeping view of the bayou.

Lavender chrysanthemums were arranged with burning tapers in a silver epergne on the dining room table. MAE WALSWORTH poured pink punch from a cut glass pitcher. At the opposite end of the table, DIAISY GRAY presided at the silver punch bowl, filled with frosted coffee. This was a luscious concoction of coffee, whipped cream, spices, and coffee ice cream. Other goodies included dainty sandwiches and petit fours.

Green and white calladium leaves and rose of Montana were banked at the base of the fountain in the garden room. Here LESSIE GARRETT served sherry. Others who assisted included DOLLY DAWKINS, VELMA WILLEY, DOTTIE AMMAN, DOLL BURGOYNE, JUDY TURPIN, DOT AMMAN, MARY RUTH TURPIN, and JOYCE BRAKEFIELD.

Other affairs honoring Anita and Mabel included luncheon at Bayou DeSiard country club last Friday, with Daisy Gray hostess. Sixteen guests were seated at the table on the porch, which was decorated with pink chrysanthemums . . Dinner at the club was the compliment of the BUDDY MADISONS and Lessie Garrett on Thursday evening .... On Monday, the group motored to Mer Rouge for luncheon in the home of LETTIE DAVENPORT.

On Tuedsay at noon, NINA BONNELL was hostess for luncheon at Bayou DeSiard country club. White chrysanthemums centered the table. The menu served to seven guests included chicken breasts in mushroom sauce, wild rice dressing, and a choice of desserts.

An old - fashioned "at home" was given by Dot Amman Tuesday night in honor of Mabel and Anita. Late summer flowers decorated the Amman home for the party. Banana blooms were used with their own foliage in a vertical arrangement. In the lavabo were seasonal greenery and tuberoses. The dining room table, decorated with pink chrysanthemums, offered a standing buffet including shrimp salad, crab Newburg, fresh fruit with powdered sugar, and petit fours with coffee.

A yellow and green theme was carried out in appointments when ALLYNE PETTY was hostess for luncheon at Bayou DeSiard country club on Friday. The table in the private dining room was covered with a yellow cloth and centered with an epergne holding yellow chrysanthemums and green grapes. Similar arrangements were used in smaller containers at each side. The menu included tomatoes stuffed with shrimp and jellied cucumbers, with cold chocolate mousse for dessert.

Yesterday MARY HELEN TURPIN entertained at luncheon at her home in Bastrop ... Anita has returned to her home in Baton Rouge, but Mabel will be here for a longer visit.

Lucille took time off from this round of parties to be hostess to an entirely different group Monday night, when she invited sixty members of the college set for a barbecue and dance at her home.

Miss Kitty Jenkins was at the bride's book.

For a wedding trip to the East Coast the bride changed into a gray fall cotton ensemble with red velvet hat, black accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. They will establish a home in Athens, Georgia.

Mrs. Veech is a graduate of Ruston High School and prior to her wedding was a senior at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. Mr. Veech graduated from Passaic High School and received his B. S. degree in forestry from Louisiana Tech in June of this year. He will study for a master degree in pathology at the University of Georgia.

Honor guests were three of her grandchildren who will be going away to college this fall: CORBIN TURPIN, DOTTIE AMMAN, and BILLY TURPIN. Japanese lanterns lighted the scene, where tables were set up on the lawn and on the pier. Barbecue supper was served to the group, who came attired in sport clothes. After supper, the Abstracts played for dancing on the terrace and in the garden room.

Thursday at noon, REGINA HAMMONDS and LAVERNE BODRON invited a group of college - bound girls for luncheon with MAUREEN KELLY, soon to leave for the University of Dallas. College pennants, football colors, and giant mums decorated the table for the party. The menu included a shrimp salad plate, with home made ice cream and cakes lettered in Greek for dessert.

Farewell parties honored MYRNA JO and DAVE ROBINSON, who left Thursday for their new home in Stillwater, Oklahoma, where he will be on the staff of Oklahoma State university. Last Friday IRENE KEELING was hostess for luncheon at her home on Sherwood Drive. Ten guests were seated at the table decorated with a gold and crystal compote filled with fruit and ivy. A salad plate consisting of tomatoes stuffed with tuna, frozen fruit salad, and asparagus marinated in sour cream, was served, with Brownies and coffee for dessert.

On Saturday, CAROLYN SEEGERS invited thirty ladies for coffee and a last visit with Myrna Jo. Ginger lilies decorated the entrance, while hibiscus were used in the living room. Roses centered the table where HAZEL ANN OLIVER and ANN ROWLAND alternated at the coffee service. Tiny sandwiches and pastries were served with coffee between the hours of ten and twelve.

The home of DOTTY and RALPH LAW on Mallory place was scene of a potluck supper last Friday night given by a group of friends for the Robinsons. Dotty used an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums and greenery on her dining table, where guests helped themselves before being seated at individual tables. With each bringing his specialty, the meal included some elegant dishes: shrimp remoulade, chicken spaghetti, ham potato salad, and an assortment of luscious cakes. About thirty six attended.

Neighbors of the Robinsons on Sherwood Drive were invited for dinner on Tuesday night by the BILL BRANDLES and HARRY LaFOES, who entertained at the Brandle home. Pink roses decorated the living room and den, with assorted late summer flowers centering the dining table. Standing rib roast, ham, scalloped potatoes, asparagus casserole, fruit salad, hot rolls and homemade candies and cookies comprised the menu served to ten guests.

For Labor Day, we know no finer poem than Kahlil Gibran's lines on Work, as given in "The Prophet:"

You work that you may keep pace with the earth and the soul of the earth.
For to be idle is to become a stranger unto the seasons and to step out of life's procession that marches in majesty and proud submission towards the infinite.
Life is darkness save when there is urge,
And all urge is blind save when there is knowledge,
And all knowledge is vain save when there is work,
And all work is empty save when there is love;
And when you work with love you bind yourself to yourself and to one another and to God.
Work is love made visible.
And if you cannot work with love but only with distaste, it is better that you should leave your work and sit at the gate of the temple and take alms of those who work with joy.
For if you bake bread with indifference, you bake a bitter bread that feeds but half man's hunger.
And if you grudge the crushing of the grapes, your grudge distils a poison in the wine.
And if you sing though as angels, and love not the singing, you muffle man's ears to the voices of the day and the voices of the night.

MRS. FELIX JOSEPH PETRAS

Vows Unite Couple In Baton Rouge

White gladioli banked the altar of St. Augustine's Episcopal church in Baton Rouge for the wedding of Miss Barbara Ann Simmons and Felix Joseph Petras, which was solemnized August 25 at 3 p.m. Rev. Willis Henton performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. D. Monk of Franklinton and Mr. Petras is the son of Mrs. Stella Petras of Monroe, formerly of Wilkes Barre, Pa.

James H. Simmons, Franklinton, gave his sister in marriage. She wore a gown of ivory bridal satin, fashioned on princess lines with square neckline and pouf back with a sweeping court train extending from an obi sash. Pearl appliques embellished front of the voluminous skirt. Her veil of ivory silk illusion was attached to a crown of pearls and crystals and she carried a white orchid atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Donald Singleton, Franklinton, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Pat Turner, Oak Grove, and flower girl was the bride's niece, Ramona Singleton. They wore identical sheaths in street length of orchid polished cotton with pouf back and floating chiffon panels. They carried bouquets of purple chrysanthemums on white lace fans. The flower girl wore a white frock with orchid sash and carried a basket of white carnations.

Teddy Payne, Baton Rouge served as best man and groomsman was Paul Simmons, brother of the bride.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church parlor. The bride's mother was wearing a blue lace sheath with blue accessories and a white carnation corsage.

For a wedding trip to Wilkes Barre and New York, the bride wore a red fall suit with black patent accessories and an orchid corsage. Upon their return the couple will be at home at 1709 College Avenue. Mr. Petras will graduate in January from Northeast Louisiana State College, from where Mrs. Petras was a June graduate.

MR. AND MRS. THOMAS OWENS

West Monroe Couple Wed

Baskets of white gladioli and branched candelabra against a background of nandina foliage formed a setting in Trinity Baptist Church for the wedding of Miss Peggy Conrad and Thomas Owens Friday, August 24 at 7:30 p.m. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin C. Conrad, 320 Smith, West Monroe, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Dwight E. Owens, Route 3, West Monroe.

An arch of greenery and a prie dieu completed the setting for the ceremony performed by Rev. James Evans. Mrs. Sally North, organist, accompanied Mrs. Margaret Conrad as she sang "The Lord's Prayer" "Whither Thou Goest," and "Always."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of embroidered cotton lace over white taffeta, fashioned with round neckline, and scalloped hem with chapel train. A crown of pearlized orange blossoms held her waist length veil and she carried a white orchid with garlands of feathered chrysanthemums atop a white Bible.

Mrs. Ray Edwards, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Janie Conrad, also her sister, and Miss Ila Kay Guraedy. They wore identical frocks of crystallene taffeta in seafoam blue, with circular veils attached to headpieces of tulle petals outlined with pearls. Their bouquets were blue tinted pompons.

The flower girl, Miss Patti Edwards, niece of the bride, was also dressed like the other attendants and carried a basket of blue pompons.

Rabeon Owens attended his brother as best man and groomsmen ushers were Benny Gewin, and Fred Riser Jr., cousins of the groom.

Mrs. Conrad wore a pink lace sheath with matching accessories and corsage of pink feathered chrysanthemums. The bridegrooms's mother wore a blue embroidered satin model with matching accessories and blue feathered chrysanthemums.

A reception followed in the youth center of the church where the bride's table was covered in pink with a floor length skirt of white tulle. Centerpiece was a branched candelabra, encircled with the bridesmaids' bouquets. Mrs. J. L. Furlow Sr. served the wedding cake and Mrs. Rabeon Owens and Mrs. Holly Owens alternated at the punch bowl. Mrs. Dorothy Roberts presided at the guest book and tea girls were Miss Pat Guraedy and Miss Patsy Knox.

Pace of Haile and the late Mr. Pace. Rev. Charles B. Litleton performed the 6:30 p.m. ceremony. The bridegroom will enter the air force next week and Mrs. Pace will remain in Monroe until he is permanently assigned.

Vows Exchanged By Texas Girl, Charles Everitt Jr.

In a double ring ceremony solemnized Sunday, August 26 in First Christian Church at Plainview, Texas, Charles Edward Everitt Jr. of Amarillo, Tex., formerly of Monroe, claimed as his bride Miss Mary Katharine Panciera, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Panciera of Hereford, Texas. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Everitt Sr., 706 Lakeshore Drive, Monroe.

Rev. Arthur Digby Jr. officiated at the 3 p.m. vows in a setting of blue and white chrysanthemums and spiral candelabra of votive lights. Plumosa and emerald fern with votive lights banked the rails and lectern. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

Mrs. Inez Ferrell, organist and Miss Randee Taylor, soloist, presented appropriate nuptial music.

Mr. Panciera gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of silk organza and Alencon lace, styled with fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline and long tapering sleeves. The bouffant skirt was appliqued with motifs of the Alencon lace and drifted into a chapel train. A pillbox of Alencon lace, encrusted with pearls, held her veil of silk imported illusion and she carried a bouquet of roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid atop a seed pearl Bible. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom, and an heirloom pin.

Miss Judi Mathis of Amarillo, was maid of honor and wore a gown of silk organza and lace in Copen blue, with fitted bodice and bell skirt. Her headdress was a circlet of blue tulle caught at the back with a tiny velvet bow and she carried a colonial bouquet of blue Fuji and white feathered chrysanthemums. Miss Martha Gail Panciera of Hereford, Tex., sister of the bride, was maiden of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Sylvia Ferguson of Plainview; Miss Dian Huff of Pampa, Tex., Miss Nancy Elizabeth Bell of Plainview and Miss Lee Blocker of Hereford. They were dressed identically to the maid of honor in Heaven blue shade.

Neil Hess of Amarillo, served as best man and groomsmen-ushers were Leon Krupp, Bob Wright, Amarillo; Hank Hughes of Whitedeer, Tex., Gary Wertenberger of Hereford and Guy Smith of Amarillo.

The bride's mother wore a gown of peacock blue silk lace and peau de soie with matching shoes, small pillbox of white cord and sequins and corsage of white cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Everitt, mother of the groom, wore a gown of ice blue silk organza over taffeta with full length matching coat, shoes and bag to match and open crown hat of Dior blue feathers. She also wore a white orchid.

A reception followed in the church parlor. Members of the house party were Mrs. M. A. Dunn, Mrs. F. W. Clinkscales, Mrs. Dan MacNaughton, Mrs. P. L. Ferguson, Mrs. Leland Terrell, Mrs. Louis Cummings, Mrs. Freddie Lanford, Mrs. R. M. Carter, Mrs. T. M. Chesser, Mrs. Garland Wolfington, Mrs. Manuel Ayres, all of Plainview; Mrs. Dale Scott of Hereford; Mrs. Leon Krupp of Amarillo and Mrs. Walter Weir and Mrs. R. W. Rea Jr. of Monroe.

After a wedding trip to Santa Fe, New Mexico the couple will be at home in Amarillo. For travel the bride wore a blue silk shantung suit with black and white accessories and an orchid corsage. The bride graduated from Plainview high school and attended West Texas State College in Canyon. Mr. Everitt graduated from Neville high school and attended Northeast State College before joining the air force. He is presently employed in Amarillo, where he is also enrolled in Amarillo College and both will continue their studies. They are also active in Amarillo Little Theatre work.

Aloma Collins Becomes Bride Of David R. DeLand

College Place Baptist Church was scene of the ceremony Saturday, August 25 which united in marriage Miss Annis Aloma Collins and David Ray DeLand. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Collins, 3803 Webster and Mr. DeLand is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. DeLand, 807 McGuire.

Rev. T. Earl Ogg performed the double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m. before the altar which was decorated with two candle trees and gold candelabra, banked with magnolia foliage. Baskets of orchid and white gladioli and white stock completed the setting. Mrs. DeJuana Pitts played organ selections and accompanied Larry Kulcke, who sang "Because," "O Promise Me," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of traditional design in Chantilly lace and tulle, with Sabrina neckline etched with sequins and long sleeves. The lace extended over the billowing skirt which formed a chapel train from multiple tiers of tulle in back with the lace draped in pannier style over the sides. A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of tuberoses, centered with an orchid, atop a white Bible and also wore a blue sapphire lavalier, which belonged to her mother.

Mrs. C. W. Funderburk, Shreveport, was matron of honor and wore a dress of orchid cotton brocade, styled with scoop neck and bell skirt caught at the waist with soft loop sashes. Bridesmaids were Miss Beth Allen, Brookhaven, Miss., and Miss Lee Ann Lewis, Monroe, who were dressed identical to the honor attendant. They all wore petite caplet veils in matching shade with orchid linen shoes and carried bouquets of white glamelias with orchid centers and white satin streamers.

Candlelighters, Miss Becky Beckworth of Monroe and Miss Yvonne Gaither of Bossier City, were dressed identical to the other attendants as was the flower girl, Miss Martha Brooks, Monroe. They wore wrist corsages of white carnations.

James West, served as best man and groomsmen were James Lipscomb and Bill Beckworth, all of Monroe. Serving as ushers were Earl Posey, Monroe and Frank Martin, Montgomery, Ala. and ring bearer was Ricky Harrison.

Mrs. Collins wore a mauve sheath accented with chiffon, with sequin hat and bag, long white gloves and mauve linen shoes. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige lace sheath with beige accessories and both wore orchid corsages.

A reception was held in the church reception hall following the ceremony. The table, covered with a white lace cloth over orchid satin, was centered with wedding bells. Cake and orchid punch were served from opposite ends. Miss Peggy Arwood presided at the guest book on a table covered with white net over orchid satin and graced with a memory candle. Serving at the reception were Mrs. J. E. Nelson, Mrs. Jerry Robinson, Mrs. A. K. Crowe, Mrs. Louie Wilkinson, Mrs. A. A. Chase, Mrs. R. B. Harrison, Mrs. J. T. Beckworth, Mrs. J. E. Nelson and Mrs. C. L. Dillingham and distributing rice bags were Misses Kay Allen and Dianne Lipscomb.

Comings and goings and parties celebrating same keep the calendar filled—particularly at this time of year. There is a last flurry before everyone settles down for school and more subdued fall schedules.

Guests of LUCILLE TURPIN for a late summer visit have been MABEL DAVENPORT of Bowling Green, Kentucky, and ANITA MORRISON of Baton Rouge, who have been honored at several parties this week. Last Saturday afternoon Lucille was hostess at tea for old friends of her visitors.

In the living room, where hostess and honorees greeted the guests, pink chrysanthemums decorated the base of the lovely old pier mirror. In the den, branches of pink crape myrtle in a tall cut glass vase stood at one side of the wide window with its sweeping view of the bayou.

Lavender chrysanthemums were arranged with burning tapers in a silver epergne on the dining room table. MAE WALSWORTH poured pink punch from a cut glass pitcher. At the opposite end of the table, DIAISY GRAY presided at the silver punch bowl, filled with frosted coffee. This was a luscious concoction of coffee, whipped cream, spices, and coffee ice cream. Other goodies included dainty sandwiches and petit fours.

Green and white calladium leaves and rose of Montana were banked at the base of the fountain in the garden room. Here LESSIE GARRETT served sherry. Others who assisted included DOLLY DAWKINS, VELMA WILLEY, DOTTIE AMMAN, DOLL BURGOYNE, JUDY TURPIN, DOT AMMAN, MARY RUTH TURPIN, and JOYCE BRAKEFIELD.

Other affairs honoring Anita and Mabel included luncheon at Bayou DeSiard country club last Friday, with Daisy Gray hostess. Sixteen guests were seated at the table on the porch, which was decorated with pink chrysanthemums . . Dinner at the club was the compliment of the BUDDY MADISONS and Lessie Garrett on Thursday evening .... On Monday, the group motored to Mer Rouge for luncheon in the home of LETTIE DAVENPORT.

On Tuedsay at noon, NINA BONNELL was hostess for luncheon at Bayou DeSiard country club. White chrysanthemums centered the table. The menu served to seven guests included chicken breasts in mushroom sauce, wild rice dressing, and a choice of desserts.

An old - fashioned "at home" was given by Dot Amman Tuesday night in honor of Mabel and Anita. Late summer flowers decorated the Amman home for the party. Banana blooms were used with their own foliage in a vertical arrangement. In the lavabo were seasonal greenery and tuberoses. The dining room table, decorated with pink chrysanthemums, offered a standing buffet including shrimp salad, crab Newburg, fresh fruit with powdered sugar, and petit fours with coffee.

A yellow and green theme was carried out in appointments when ALLYNE PETTY was hostess for luncheon at Bayou DeSiard country club on Friday. The table in the private dining room was covered with a yellow cloth and centered with an epergne holding yellow chrysanthemums and green grapes. Similar arrangements were used in smaller containers at each side. The menu included tomatoes stuffed with shrimp and jellied cucumbers, with cold chocolate mousse for dessert.

Yesterday MARY HELEN TURPIN entertained at luncheon at her home in Bastrop ... Anita has returned to her home in Baton Rouge, but Mabel will be here for a longer visit.

Lucille took time off from this round of parties to be hostess to an entirely different group Monday night, when she invited sixty members of the college set for a barbecue and dance at her home.

Miss Kitty Jenkins was at the bride's book.

For a wedding trip to the East Coast the bride changed into a gray fall cotton ensemble with red velvet hat, black accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. They will establish a home in Athens, Georgia.

Mrs. Veech is a graduate of Ruston High School and prior to her wedding was a senior at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. Mr. Veech graduated from Passaic High School and received his B. S. degree in forestry from Louisiana Tech in June of this year. He will study for a master degree in pathology at the University of Georgia.

Honor guests were three of her grandchildren who will be going away to college this fall: CORBIN TURPIN, DOTTIE AMMAN, and BILLY TURPIN. Japanese lanterns lighted the scene, where tables were set up on the lawn and on the pier. Barbecue supper was served to the group, who came attired in sport clothes. After supper, the Abstracts played for dancing on the terrace and in the garden room.

Thursday at noon, REGINA HAMMONDS and LAVERNE BODRON invited a group of college - bound girls for luncheon with MAUREEN KELLY, soon to leave for the University of Dallas. College pennants, football colors, and giant mums decorated the table for the party. The menu included a shrimp salad plate, with home made ice cream and cakes lettered in Greek for dessert.

Farewell parties honored MYRNA JO and DAVE ROBINSON, who left Thursday for their new home in Stillwater, Oklahoma, where he will be on the staff of Oklahoma State university. Last Friday IRENE KEELING was hostess for luncheon at her home on Sherwood Drive. Ten guests were seated at the table decorated with a gold and crystal compote filled with fruit and ivy. A salad plate consisting of tomatoes stuffed with tuna, frozen fruit salad, and asparagus marinated in sour cream, was served, with Brownies and coffee for dessert.

On Saturday, CAROLYN SEEGERS invited thirty ladies for coffee and a last visit with Myrna Jo. Ginger lilies decorated the entrance, while hibiscus were used in the living room. GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Accessories In Designs

By MRS. JOHN TOLAR

"The Use of Accessories with Designs," was the theme of the T. V. and Garden Center program presented by Mrs. Paul Bourg. Hodge, an accredited flower show judge of the Louisiana Fifth District Federated Garden Club. She is a very talented arranger and lecturer.

This is the type program that is appreciated by so many who are truly interested in the art of flower arranging, and it creates new interest for those who are anxious to join this ever increasing group of flower lovers and the artistic arrangement of them in their homes.

Mrs. Bourg gave the meaning of accessories as anything other than fresh cut plant material, be it in the container, or on the lip of the container, or placed apart from the container. This includes plant material placed apart from the the container, background fabrics, lids, figurines, etc.

NINE ARRANGEMENTS

To illustrate the use of the accessories Mrs. Bourg displayed nine lovely arrangements. I cannot describe all of them, but will attempt to tell you about some of them. Mrs. Bourg started her program with a buffet arrangement. Always have a theme or idea in mind, she stressed, when making this type arrangement (using accessories).

A palm spathe filled with fruit was accented by the use of two antique brass candle holders. The creamy - yellow candles tiered to form a complete triangle with the fruit arrangement, thus tying the sticks in with the fruit design.

"Dancing Leaves" was the theme of her next design. This was a harmonious color blending of materials and accessories. The line was accomplished by the use of one stalk of rose - red celosia (cock's comb). The secondary line was the larger blossom of the celosia tiered along this stalk. For a filler she used the red and green caladium leaves also, following the curved stalk of celosia.

The container was a footed antique brass bowl. The accessory for these dancing leaves was two morracas placed at the base of the design to the right thus completing the musical theme.

BRASS CHALICE

A brass chalice was used for the container in the next design. Two long, graceful leaves of the aspidestra established the diagonal line, one that is forceful and dramatic. Two more of these leaves were used within this line to strengthen it. The center of interest was created by the placement of acuba leaves, some rolled to form a rosette. This simple design was balanced by a small brass container (chest) filled with bead strings flowing from within. The colors of the beads were yellow green and white, blending harmoniously with the colors in the design. A design of this type will remain attractive for long periods with little care. This is the beauty of using all foliage in the arrangement. Some tips on conditioning: completely submerge in water until crisp or overnight, canna leaves, banana leaves, caladium, diffenbechia, castor bean and hydrangea. Immerse two - thirds of length for a short period until crisping aspidestra leaves, iris, and bird of paradise. Some plants that can be used without any water for a yong period of time are, cactus, succulents, agave, century plant, and sansaveria. Containers for foliage should be simple, unadorned, greyed and in correct scale.

TOLD STORY

On a smaller scale, Mrs. Bourg's next design told a definite story; "The pixilated Pixies." This would be a Delightful design for a child's room, or to create a happy atmosphere in a den as a conversational centerpiece. Driftwood established a naturalistic line for the small scene placed on a half log round. Wood's fungus and hen and chicken succulents were placed within the design. Five little green pixie figurines "played" gleefully in and around the wood and fungus.

While I write this column a child is admiring this design. A little boy looks at this delightful fairy scene as though he wished he could join in the fun. This design has already accomplished it's goal, to create a happy mood, make a child happy, or make more beautiful our surroundings. It is indeed a challenge and, it can be done with flower designs. The true function of the accessory is to emphasize the design by it's sense of "rightness" in the composition. It has a definite repetition of the main design from one of three points: 1—linear form, 2-color, and 3—texture.

The design starts with the placement of the main element. If flowers feature the most interest, they are placed in the container first, followed by the accessory. If sculpture or driftwood is featured, this is placed first, establishing the best possible position and line to which all other elements will be subordinated. The accessory must be in proper proportion. The plant material plays an integral part in the line of the other art form repeating and merging to lead the eye smoothly.

I wish I could tell you about all the artistic design made by Mrs. Bourg, but space will not permit. I just hope you were one of the ones who came by the garden center to see them or saw the T.V. show Wednesday. One lady came by while I was writing and said "Now don't leave out the beautiful arrangement with the banana stalks." Well, this is one that you could all enjoy making now for your home. The banana stalks are coming to an end pretty soon since there is fall in the air. The frost will get these first. So, enjoy your stalks. Cut them and make line material by peeling the rounds from the stalk. These resemble cathedral columns or pipe organ pipes.

Mrs. Bourg used four tiered stalks in a low white bowl, a rounded square, in shape. Two exotic ginger blossoms formed the center of interest. Large ivy leaves covered the holder. For an accessory she placed to one side a figurine of the madonna which had light colors of blue, lavendar, and delicate pink, a perfect blend of colors for the ginger lily. Her prayerful mood blended with the cathedral spirals of banana canes. If you cut these stalks don't forget to rub the cut edges with lemon. This keeps them from turning brown.

We hope to have Mrs. Bourg again soon. This was a very informative program as well as beautiful and interesting. Thanks, Dorothy.

Those of you who are interested in having the "Pause for Living" flower booklet for your garden club members and haven't obtained it yet, can get copies from the garden center — while they last.

This week, watch for another wonderful show. We always enjoy the garden club shows. The Highland Study Club will present the show. Mrs. A. O. Smith is its president.

Automation continues to take over many of the little chores that have been traditional in photography.

LOADING FILM

Take the matter of loading a movie camera with economical roll film. For years advertisements claimed "easy load" systems. None of them really were easy. Many home movie fans funbled along the sprocket path or had trouble with the take-up reel and came out with light-struck film at the beginning, middle and end.

Now a new method is being introduced in the new Kodak Electric 8 Automatic movie camera which may claim to be, with justification, "easy loading." The trick is accomplished by supplying a special cassette or magazine. The roll film is dropped into a recess in this cassette and it eliminates the conventional winding or threading of film.

The cassette is dropped into the camera with side one uppermost. Electric power, supplied by four AA-batteries in a leakproof cartridge, sends the film on its way. A sensing device in the cassette automatically shuts off the power after the first side of the film roll has been exposed. The cassette is turned over to continue shooting until the roll is finished. The roll of film is removed for processing but the cassette remains handy for the next roll of film.

EXTRAS

Extra cassettes may be purchased (less than $5 each) and preloaded. This permits continuous filming at sports events and on other occasions where the movie fan would prefer a minimum of distractions. One set of four manganese alkaline batteries supplies enough power to expose up to 10 rolls of film.

Other features of the camera: a fixed-focus f-1.6 lens, electric eye automatic exposure settings with two new film speed settings: 16A or 40A. These automatically position a built-in Type A filter in front of the lens and adjust the meter so that Type A film is properly exposed for outdoor use. In addition, there are plus or minus settings on the ASA dial or manual meter lock to produce special exposure effects.

Stamp News

Sam Rayburn, better known as "Mr. Sam" to presidents, potentates and just plain people, will be honored on a new U.S. 4c stamp Sept. 16. This stamp will first be placed on sale in Rayburn's home town, Bonham, Tex., on the 22nd anniversary of his election as speaker to the House of Representatives. He had served continuously in Congress from 1913 until his death at age 79 last Nov. 16.

The main design of this stamp features a portrait of Rayburn with the Capitol Building in the background. Graduated tones of brown and blue give the stamp a three-dimensional effect.

Collectors desiring first - day cancellations of the Rayburn stamp may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Bonham, Tex. Cover requests must be postmarked not later then Sept. 16. The outside envelope to the Postmaster should be clearly marked "First Day Covers Rayburn Stamp."

MR. AND MRS. HARRY L. PORTER

Myra McComb, Harry L. Porter Exchange Vows

In a candlelight ceremony Saturday, August 18 at 8 p.m. in the West Side Baptist Church of Bastrop, Miss Myra Alice McComb became the bride of Harry L. Porter. The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul McComb and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. C. Harry Porter, all of Bastrop.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the bride's father, who is pastor of the church. A white prie dieu centered the altar with two pedestal baskets of white gladioli. Forming a background for the setting was an arch of white tapers, interspersed with greenery.

Miss Sarabeth Boughton, organist, provided a program of nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Ronald Masters, sister of the bride, who sang "God Bless This Day," and "O Perfect Love."

Escorted to the altar by her brother - in - law, Ronald Masters of Columbia, Mo., the bride wore a gown of antique satin with fitted elongated bodice and yoke of tulle, appliqued with lace flowers. The full skirt was accented by wide panels of Chantilly lace which terminated in a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She wore elbow length lace mitts and carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Miss Joyce McComb, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. Homer Herrington, sister of the groom, matron of honor. They wore frocks of pastel pink silk organza over cotton satin, with circular halo veils and matching slippers and carried bouquets of feathered carnations and Fuji chrysanthemums in pink tones.

Miss Susan Craig, flower girl was dressed identically to the other attendants and carried a lace basket of pink carnations. Candles were lighted by Miss Dorothy Fortenberry and Miss Loretta Brothers, who wore pastel blue frocks with matching headpieces and wrist corsages of blue carnations.

La Prade Porter served his brother as best man and groomsman was his brother - in - law, Homer Herrington. Ushers were Tom and Bill Porter, twin brothers of the groom; Hadley Leavell Jr., all of Bastrop and Billy F. Howell of Monroe.

Mrs. McComb wore a dress of rose matelasse crepe with matching accessories and corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore a pale blue linen sheath with corsage of blue feathered carnations.

A reception followed in the church dining hall with Mrs. A. D. Crockett in charge. Miss Grace Cascio served the wedding cake and Miss Patricia Brothers presided at the crystal punch bowl. Miss Donna Martin was in charge of the bride's book.

An all pink motif was carried out in appointments with a pyramid arrangement of carnations as the centerpiece. For travel the bride changed into a taupe suit of raw silk with bone accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. After a trip to the East coast and points of interest in Atlanta, Ga., and Anniston, Ala., the couple is at home in Bastrop.

The bride is a graduate of Ouachita Parish High School in Monroe and is presently a student at Northeast Louisiana State College. Mr. Porter is also a student at Northeast and after completion of his studies there will enter a Southern Baptist Theological Seminary to study for the ministry.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

"Dear Mrs. Farmer:

"A few times after finishing a dress, I have found that I have a gapping neck line. I correct that with what I call 'sunburst' darts, which I make on the RIGHT side of the garment.

Make three or five darts, depending upon the amount of excess fabric, with the center dart the longest."

This suggestion was made by Mrs. William M. Clifford, San Diego, Calif., and is such a helpful idea that she has been awarded the tailor Trix pressing board for the best suggestion of the week.

Incidentally, this is a clever detail on plain fabrics where a tailored effect is attractive. Instead of machine stitching the darts, you can also use buttonhole twist and hand pick them.

When cutting the facing for the bodice front, fold the same darts in your pattern before cutting, this will make it the correct size.

BUTTONHOLES

"Dear Eunice,

"How do you determine whether to make a buttonhole vertical or horizontal and how can I decide on the correct size buttons to use?"

MRS. E.S.

Dear Mrs. E.S.:

Buttonholes are usually made in a horizontal position for several reasons. They will not come unbuttoned as easily and the button hole is not likely to gap. The exception to this is a very tailored dress or blouse where there is a separate band applied to the garment for the buttonholes. The only way the buttonholes can be centered where there is a separate band is by making them in a vertical position. This usually calls for a rather small button.

Buttons should generally be relative to the size of the person wearing the garent. The type and style of a garment also determines the size and number of buttons to use. Since fashion changes so often, there is no set rule to follow.

SEWING LEATHER

"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"With the children back in school, I am back at the sewing macine. I wonder if you know how much courage you give the home-sewer. I have tried making things I would never have dreamt of before Sew Simple. I am planning to work with leather this fall but my only attempt before wasn't too successful. Every pin mark showed and was impossible to remove. Can you please help me?"

MRS. T.H.G.

Dear Mrs. T.H.G.:

Leather and plastics do require a few extra bits of information. Many women have written me and suggested holding the two layers together with paper-clips. This eliminates the pins and also the marks that go with them. This excellent suggestion has worked for me. Once you have machine stitched leather or plastics, they can't be ripped, so please proceed cautiously. Use a slightly larger machine needle and a slightly longer machine stitch, also.

SKIRT LENGTHS

"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"What is the right length for our skirts this fall?"

Mrs. R.R.T.

Dear Mrs. R.R.T.:

From all the fashion news I have read, it seems that the most popular length will be just below the knees. A few foreign designers brought out a few numbers in their recent collections that were decidely longer, however it remains to be seen whether this will be a new trend. I think every designer will still tell the average woman to wear the length that is most becoming to her figure.

TWO DIMENSIONAL

'Rags To Riches' Story Is Unfolded

By ANDREW J. KEESE JR.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—A two dimensional rags to riches story is that of motel magnate Kemmon Wilson and Millionaire Wallace E. Johnon who play host to 12 million Americans a year.

From a childhood marked by hardship, the free-wheeling Wilson parlayed a $50 loan into a financial empire.

He already was well on his way to amassing a fortune when he joined forces in 1953 with another self-made millionaire, Johnson, a deeply religious man who liked to hear himself called the Henry Ford of home-building.

Together they formed Holiday Inns of America, Inc., now one of the largest motor hotel chains in the country with more than 17,000 employes and an annual payroll of $25,000,000. Last year, approximately 12 million persons checked in at the more than 230 Holiday Inns in 35 states and Canada.

BEGAN WITH TRIP

Wilson, who observed his 10th anniversary as the "nation's innkeeper" this summer, recalled that it all began with a vacation trip in 1951 with his wife and three of their five children.

"We stayed at motels along the way," he said. "Almost everywhere the accommodations were poor, and we were charged extra for the children."

"I got to thinking, a man who wasn't rich couldn't afford to take his children along on a trip. I thought I'd like to see if I couldn't do something about it."

Wilson built his first deluxe inn in Memphis in 1952. It proved so successful that he built three more within the next year, including the first with convention facilities.

EXTENSION NEWS

Plant Iris This Month

By AUDREY H. DAWSON

If you planned to add some Louisiana iris to your garden but have not done it, it's not too late. Plant them in September.

There are several Louisiana varities that are excellent. The Carolina Dorman is a light yellow; Kahn a velvety red; Haile Selassie red and gold and Delta Treasure is a buff yellow.

If your verbena has quit blooming, cut back heavily, fertilize and keep watered. This will give beautiful blooms all fall.

To keep your crape myrtle blooming longer (and now is the time we so often need blooms in the garden) clip off the old blossoms. If the seed matures, blooming will cease. Watch for a grayish appearance. This is mildew. Dust with sulphur.

KITCHEN ARRANGEMENT

Are the tools, utensils and provisions stored in your kitchen for ease and convenience in using? Look around in your kitchen and see if it is organized to facilitate such a simple operation as making coffee. For instance, do you have the coffee maker next to the sink and the can of coffee within reach. Not on the other side of the room.

Is the measurer in the coffee can or tucked away in a drawer? Think about some other jobs you do often. If everything is not handy, try to reorganize. Whenever possible put all things you will need for one job in one place especially your repeat jobs. It's also a good idea to keep supplies of to-be heated canned foods next to the stove.

Along with these, go such items as can openers, sauce pans, skillets, lids, seasonings, cooking tools and serving bowls. In the long run, use of the proper materials for counter areas, and organization of utensils in an orderly manner can be a real time and trouble saver in the kitchen.

UPHOLSTERING FABRICS

Many of the new upholstery fabrics are treated for spot and stain resistance. Labels describe the advantages and give directions for care. Many are moth proofed which prevents damage from insects.

Flat fabrics are replacing rough ones. Some have silicone textile finishes, which give durability to the fabric. They have water repellency and wrinkle resistance that greatly improve their serviceability.

There are other materials used for upholstery that are not textiles. Leather has carned its place for durability and ease of care. Plastic fabrics that are serviceable in hard wear situations are available in interesting colors and textures.

HOME, GARDEN WEEK

Yours truly and 29 homemakers from Ouachita Parish attended Home and Garden Week on the campus of LSU a week ago. I am happy to report that Mrs. Sammy Sullivan, who represented Ouachita Parish in the clothing contest, placed in the blue ribbon group with her casual suit in the "dress contest." Congratulations to you Sammy. I know all of the club members were real proud of you.

A THOUGHT

It is not the lack of opportunity that keeps a lot of us down, but a lack of energy and intelligent industry.

SOUTHERN GARDENER

Plant Life In Northland

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

Your columnist has just returned from a trip to the Great Lakes country in northern Michigan and Ontario. This is the land of white birches backed by fir trees and reflected in the lakes.

It is so cool in the daytime that the blue chicory along the roadsides stays open all day. Lilacs grow to be trees and reach up to the middle of second story windows on Makinac Island.

The season is so late up there that service berries were just ripening, and choke cherries were turning red at a time when there was already a hint of autumn in the air.

UNUSUAL

It is hard to believe that the lilacs and white birches of this northland can withstand the low temperatures of from 20 to 35 degrees blow zero.

White birches do not survive our warm climate here in the south, and the old - fashioned type of lilacs rarely become trees in the southern states except in our mountains where the climate is more like that of Canada.

We do not have to go to Canada to see great forests of firs and spruces because our southern mountains are covered with much the same vegetation at elevations above 4,000 feet. As a matter of fact, there are many more different kinds of trees, shurbs and wild flowers growing in the Smoky Mountains and the Blue Ridge Mountains of North Carolina and Tennessee than there are in Canada. The blue delphiniums and the monkshood that I saw growing so luxuriantly in yards and gardens from northern Lake Superior to Toronto can be grown in our southern mountains.

BIG SHOW

At the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, the Horticultural Building was one big flower show. As in most flower and landscape shows of these days, part of the space had been alloted to small, well landscaped sitting terraces and living areas. The Canadians had gone in for house plants in a big way. Three-fourths of this tremendous exhibition hall was given over to displays of different kinds of house plants so important in winter to these dwellers of the snow country.

ANNUALS

Annuals are most important to gardeners in the northern parts of the world, and they make gorgeous display of them everywhere. Canada looked like just one big seed catalogue come into bloom. Every variety of petunia, marigold, and zinnia was in profuse bloom, making a dazzling show before the frosts come again. Down at Hamilton, Ontario, where they are laying out extensive parks and public gardens, the annuals had stood up to a prolonged drought and were still making the rock garden presentable although almost every other plant was wilted and dry.

Perhaps I should not have been surprised to see that the only blue flowered perennial that was standing up to the drought was our native salvia farinacea. A big patch of it provided the only mass of good blue violet in the whole garden except for the petunias. Even in Canada, salvia farinacea is indispensible.

Some British Schools Test New Alphabet

LONDON (AP)—A new 43-letter alphabet being tried out in some British schools is being hailed by its author and by teachers as an outstanding success. It was devised by Sir James Pitman, grandson of a pioneer in shorthand writing.

Sir James says, "The teachers are getting results that are out of this world."

"Reading has lost its terror for the children," said Reginald Yeates, headmaster of the Roxeth Primary School at Harrow. This is one of the 24 schools in England where Pitman's "A.R." augmented Roman alphabet is undergoing a trial run.

INTRODUCED

The augmented Roman alphabet was introduced in Britain a year ago. Some 1,000 children aged 4, 5 and 6 are the guinea pigs.

The new alphabet contains 24 of the 26 traditional letters and 19 new ones. Missing are "Q" and "X" and included are new characters to provide for every sound in the English language.

The new alphabet doesn't remain with the children as they grow up. Its purpose is to teach Johnny how to read. Then, he switches over to the old-fashioned alphabet and reads along with confidence.

GARDEN CENTER NOTES

Accessories In Designs

By MRS. JOHN TOLAR

"The Use of Accessories with Designs," was the theme of the T. V. and Garden Center program presented by Mrs. Paul Bourg, Hodge, an accredited flower show judge of the Louisiana Fifth District Federated Garden Club. She is a very talented arranger and lecturer.

This is the type program that is appreciated by so many who are truly interested in the art of flower arranging, and it creates new interest for those who are anxious to join this ever increasing group of flower lovers and the artistic arrangement of them in their homes.

Mrs. Bourg gave the meaning of accessories as anything other than fresh cut plant material, be it in the container, or on the lip of the container, or placed apart from the container. This includes plant material placed apart from the the container, background fabrics, lids, figurines, etc.

NINE ARRANGEMENTS

To illustrate the use of the accessories Mrs. Bourg displayed nine lovely arrangements. I cannot describe all of them, but will attempt to tell you about some of them. Mrs. Bourg started her program with a buffet arrangement. Always have a theme or idea in mind, she stressed, when making this type arrangement (using accessories).

A palm spathe filled with fruit was accented by the use of two antique brass candle holders. The creamy - yellow candles tiered to form a complete triangle with the fruit arrangement, thus tying the sticks in with the fruit design.

"Dancing Leaves" was the theme of her next design. This was a harmonious color blending of materials and accessories. The line was accomplished by the use of one stalk of rose - red celosia (cock's comb). The secondary line was the larger blossom of the celosia tiered along this stalk. For a filler she used the red and green caladium leaves also, following the curved stalk of celosia.

The container was a footed antique brass bowl. The accessory for these dancing leaves was two morracas placed at the base of the design to the right thus completing the musical theme.

BRASS CHALICE

A brass chalice was used for the container in the next design. Two long, graceful leaves of the aspidestra established the diagonal line, one that is forceful and dramatic. Two more of these leaves were used within this line to strengthen it. The center of interest was created by the placement of acuba leaves, some rolled to form a rosette. This simple design was balanced by a small brass container (chest) filled with bead strings flowing from within. The colors of the beads were yellow green and white, blending harmoniously with the colors in the design. A design of this type will remain attractive for long periods with little care. This is the beauty of using all foliage in the arrangement. Some tips on conditioning: completely submerge in water until crisp or overnight, canna leaves, banana leaves, caladium, diffenbechia, castor bean and hydrangea. Immerse two - thirds of length for a short period until crisping aspidestra leaves, iris, and bird of paradise. Some plants that can be used without any water for a yong period of time are, cactus, succulents, agave, century plant, and sansaveria. Containers for foliage should be simple, unadorned, greyed and in correct scale.

TOLD STORY

On a smaller scale, Mrs. Bourg's next design told a definite story; "The pixilated Pixies." This would be a Delightful design for a child's room, or to create a happy atmosphere in a den as a conversational centerpiece. Driftwood established a naturalistic line for the small scene placed on a half log round. Wood's fungus and hen and chicken succulents were placed within the design. Five little green pixie figurines "played" gleefully in and around the wood and fungus.

While I write this column a child is admiring this design. A little boy looks at this delightful fairy scene as though he wished he could join in the fun. This design has already accomplished it's goal, to create a happy mood, make a child happy, or make more beautiful our surroundings. It is indeed a challenge and, it can be done with flower designs. The true function of the accessory is to emphasize the design by it's sense of "rightness" in the composition. It has a definite repetition of the main design from one of three points: 1—linear form, 2-color, and 3—texture.

The design starts with the placement of the main element. If flowers feature the most interest, they are placed in the container first, followed by the accessory. If sculpture or driftwood is featured, this is placed first, establishing the best possible position and line to which all other elements will be subordinated. The accessory must be in proper proportion. The plant material plays an integral part in the line of the other art form repeating and merging to lead the eye smoothly.

I wish I could tell you about all the artistic design made by Mrs. Bourg, but space will not permit. I just hope you were one of the ones who came by the garden center to see them or saw the T.V. show Wednesday. One lady came by while I was writing and said "Now don't leave out the beautiful arrangement with the banana stalks." Well, this is one that you could all enjoy making now for your home. The banana stalks are coming to an end pretty soon since there is fall in the air. The frost will get these first. So, enjoy your stalks. Cut them and make line material by peeling the rounds from the stalk. These resemble cathedral columns or pipe organ pipes.

Mrs. Bourg used four tiered stalks in a low white bowl, a rounded square, in shape. Two exotic ginger blossoms formed the center of interest. Large ivy leaves covered the holder. For an accessory she placed to one side a figurine of the madonna which had light colors of blue, lavendar, and delicate pink, a perfect blend of colors for the ginger lily. Her prayerful mood blended with the cathedral spirals of banana canes. If you cut these stalks don't forget to rub the cut edges with lemon. This keeps them from turning brown.

We hope to have Mrs. Bourg again soon. This was a very informative program as well as beautiful and interesting. Thanks, Dorothy.

Those of you who are interested in having the "Pause for Living" flower booklet for your garden club members and haven't obtained it yet, can get copies from the garden center — while they last.

This week, watch for another wonderful show. We always enjoy the garden club shows. The Highland Study Club will present the show. Mrs. A. O. Smith is its president.

Camera Notes

By IRVING DESFOR
AP Newsfeatures

As the first phase of Fall gets under way, many of the camera and equipment manufacturers lift a curtain to reveal some of the appetizing new items they have been cooking up for year-end delivery.

Automation continues to take over many of the little chores that have been traditional in photography.

LOADING FILM

Take the matter of loading a movie camera with economical roll film. For years advertisements claimed "easy load" systems. None of them really were easy. Many home movie fans funbled along the sprocket path or had trouble with the take-up reel and came out with light-struck film at the beginning, middle and end.

Now a new method is being introduced in the new Kodak Electric 8 Automatic movie camera which may claim to be, with justification, "easy loading." The trick is accomplished by supplying a special cassette or magazine. The roll film is dropped into a recess in this cassette and it eliminates the conventional winding or threading of film.

The cassette is dropped into the camera with side one uppermost. Electric power, supplied by four AA-batteries in a leakproof cartridge, sends the film on its way. A sensing device in the cassette automatically shuts off the power after the first side of the film roll has been exposed. The cassette is turned over to continue shooting until the roll is finished. The roll of film is removed for processing but the cassette remains handy for the next roll of film.

EXTRAS

Extra cassettes may be purchased (less than $5 each) and preloaded. This permits continuous filming at sports events and on other occasions where the movie fan would prefer a minimum of distractions. One set of four manganese alkaline batteries supplies enough power to expose up to 10 rolls of film.

Other features of the camera: a fixed-focus f-1.6 lens, electric eye automatic exposure settings with two new film speed settings: 16A or 40A. These automatically position a built-in Type A filter in front of the lens and adjust the meter so that Type A film is properly exposed for outdoor use. In addition, there are plus or minus settings on the ASA dial or manual meter lock to produce special exposure effects.

Stamp News

Sam Rayburn, better known as "Mr. Sam" to presidents, potentates and just plain people, will be honored on a new U.S. 4c stamp Sept. 16. This stamp will first be placed on sale in Rayburn's home town, Bonham, Tex., on the 22nd anniversary of his election as speaker to the House of Representatives. He had served continuously in Congress from 1913 until his death at age 79 last Nov. 16.

The main design of this stamp features a portrait of Rayburn with the Capitol Building in the background. Graduated tones of brown and blue give the stamp a three-dimensional effect.

Collectors desiring first - day concellations of the Rayburn stamp may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, Bonham, Tex. Cover requests must be postmarked not later then Sept. 16. The outside envelope to the Pastmaster should be clearly marked "First Day Covers Rayburn Stamp."

MR. AND MRS. HARRY L. PORTER

Myra McComb, Harry L. Porter Exchange Vows

In a candelight ceremony Saturday, August 18 at 8 p.m. in the West Side Baptist Church of Bastrop, Miss Myra Alice McComb became the bride of Harry L. Porter. The bride is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Paul McComb and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. C. Harry Porter, all of Bastrop.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the bride's father, who is pastor of the church. A white prie dieu centered the altar with two pedestal baskets of white gladioli. Forming a background for the setting was an arch of white tapers, interspersed with greenery.

Miss Sarabeth Boughton, organist, provided a program of nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Ronald Masters, sister of the bride, who sang "God Bless This Day," and "O Perfect Love."

"A few times after finishing a dress, I have found that I have a gapping neck line. I correct that with what I call 'sunburst' darts, which I make on the RIGHT side of the garment. Make three or five darts, depending upon the amount of excess fabric, with the center dart the longest."

This suggestion was made by Mrs. William M. Clifford, San Diego, Calif., and is such a helpful idea that she has been awarded the tailor Trix pressing board for the best suggestion of the week.

Incidentally, this is a clever detail on plain fabrics where a tailored effect is attractive. Instead of machine stitching the darts, you can also use buttonhole twist and hand pick them.

When cutting the facing for the bodice front, fold the same darts in your pattern before cutting, this will make it the correct size.

BUTTONHOLES

"Dear Eunice,

"How do you determine whether to make a buttonhole vertical or horizontal and how can I decide on the correct size buttons to use?"

MRS. E.S.

Dear Mrs. E.S.:

Buttonholes are usually made in a horizontal position for several reasons. They will not come unbuttoned as easily and the button hole is not likely to gap. The exception to this is a very tailored dress or blouse where there is a separate band applied to the garment for the buttonholes. The only way the buttonholes can be centered where there is a separate band is by making them in a vertical position. This usually calls for a rather small button.

Buttons should generally be relative to the size of the person wearing the garent. The type and style of a garment also determines the size and number of buttons to use. Since fashion changes so often, there is no set rule to follow.

SEWING LEATHER

"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"With the children back in school, I am back at the sewing macine. I wonder if you know how much courage you give the home-sewer. I have tried making things I would never have dreamt of before Sew Simple. I am planning to work with leather this fall but my only attempt before wasn't too successful. Every pin mark showed and was impossible to remove. Can you please help me?"

MRS. T.H.G.

Dear Mrs. T.H.G.:

Leather and plastics do require a few extra bits of information. Many women have written me and suggested holding the two layers together with paper-clips. This eliminates the pins and also the marks that go with them. This excellent suggestion has worked for me. Once you have machine stitched leather or plastics, they can't be ripped, so please proceed cautiously. Use a slightly larger machine needle and a slightly longer machine stitch, also.

SKIRT LENGTHS

"Dear Eunice Farmer,

"What is the right length for our skirts this fall?"

Mrs. R.R.T.

Dear Mrs. R.R.T.:

From all the fashion news I have read, it seems that the most popular length will be just below the knees. A few foreign designers brought out a few numbers in their recent collections that were decidely longer, however it remains to be seen whether this will be a new trend. I think every designer will still tell the average woman to wear the length that is most becoming to her figure.

Send in your suggestions and questions. They will be answered in this column as soon as possible. Please write to Sew Simple in care of Monroe Morning World.

TWO DIMENSIONAL

'Rags To Riches' Story Is Unfolded

By ANDREW J. KEESE JR.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI)—A two dimensional rags to riches story is that of motel magnate Kemmon Wilson and Millionaire Wallace E. Johnon who play host to 12 million Americans a year.

From a childhood marked by hardship, the free-wheeling Wilson parlayed a $50 loan into a financial empire.

He already was well on his way to amassing a fortune when he joined forces in 1953 with another self-made millionaire, Johnson, a deeply religious man who liked to hear himself called the Henry Ford of home-building.

Together they formed Holiday Inns of America, Inc., now one of the largest motor hotel chains in the country with more than 17,000 employes and an annual payroll of $25,000,000. Last year, approximately 12 million persons checked in at the more than 230 Holiday Inns in 35 states and Canada.

BEGAN WITH TRIP

Wilson, who observed his 10th anniversary as the "nation's innkeeper" this summer, recalled that it all began with a vacation trip in 1951 with his wife and three of their five children.

"We stayed at motels along the way," he said. "Almost everywhere the accommodations were poor, and we were charged extra for the children."

"I got to thinking, a man who wasn't rich couldn't afford to take his children along on a trip. I thought I'd like to see if I couldn't do something about it."

Wilson built his first deluxe inn in Memphis in 1952. It proved so successful that he built three more within the next year, including the first with convention facilities.

Some British Schools Test New Alphabet

LONDON (AP)—A new 43-letter alphabet being tried out in some British schools is being hailed by its author and by teachers as an outstanding success. It was devised by Sir James Pitman, grandson of a pioneer in shorthand writing.

Sir James says, "The teachers are getting results that are out of this world."

"Reading has lost its terror for the children," said Reginald Yeates, headmaster of the Roxeth Primary School at Harrow. This is one of the 24 schools in England where Pitman's "A.R." augmented Roman alphabet is undergoing a trial run.

INTRODUCED

The augmented Roman alphabet was introduced in Britain a year ago. Some 1,000 children aged 4, 5 and 6 are the guinea pigs.

The new alphabet contains 24 of the 26 traditional letters and 19 new ones. Missing are "Q" and "X" and included are new characters to provide for every sound in the English language.

The new alphabet doesn't remain with the children as they grow up. Its purpose is to teach Johnny how to read. Then, he switches over to the old-fashioned alphabet and reads along with confidence.

Plant Iris This Month

By AUDREY H. DAWSON

If you planned to add some Louisiana iris to your garden but have not done it, it's not too late. Plant them in September.

There are several Louisiana varities that are excellent. The Carolina Dorman is a light yellow; Kahn a velvety red; Haile Selassie red and gold and Delta Treasure is a buff yellow.

If your verbena has quit blooming, cut back heavily, fertilize and keep watered. This will give beautiful blooms all fall.

To keep your crape myrtle blooming longer (and now is the time we so often need blooms in the garden) clip off the old blossoms. If the seed matures, blooming will cease. Watch for a grayish appearance. This is mildew. Dust with sulphur.

KITCHEN ARRANGEMENT

Are the tools, utensils and provisions stored in your kitchen for ease and convenience in using? Look around in your kitchen and see if it is organized to facilitate such a simple operation as making coffee. For instance, do you have the coffee maker next to the sink and the can of coffee within reach. Not on the other side of the room.

Is the measurer in the coffee can or tucked away in a drawer? Think about some other jobs you do often. If everything is not handy, try to reorganize. Whenever possible put all things you will need for one job in one place especially your repeat jobs. It's also a good idea to keep supplies of to-be heated canned foods next to the stove.

Along with these, go such items as can openers, sauce pans, skillets, lids, seasonings, cooking tools and serving bowls. In the long run, use of the proper materials for counter areas, and organization of utensils in an orderly manner can be a real time and trouble saver in the kitchen.

UPHOLSTERING FABRICS

Many of the new upholstery fabrics are treated for spot and stain resistance. Labels describe the advantages and give directions for care. Many are moth proofed which prevents damage from insects.

Flat fabrics are replacing rough ones. Some have silicone textile finishes, which give durability to the fabric. They have water repellency and wrinkle resistance that greatly improve their serviceability.

There are other materials used for upholstery that are not textiles. Leather has earned its place for durability and ease of care. Plastic fabrics that are serviceable in hard wear situations are available in interesting colors and textures.

HOME, GARDEN WEEK

Yours truly and 29 homemakers from Ouachita Parish attended Home and Garden Week on the campus of LSU a week ago. I am happy to report that Mrs. Sammy Sullivan, who represented Ouachita Parish in the clothing contest, placed in the blue ribbon group with her casual suit in the "dress contest." Congratulations to you Sammy. I know all of the club members were real proud of you.

A THOUGHT

It is not the lack of opportunity that keeps a lot of us down, but a lack of energy and intelligent industry.

SOUTHERN GARDENER

Plant Life In Northland

By WILLIAM LANIER HUNT

Your columnist has just returned from a trip to the Great Lakes country in northern Michigan and Ontario. This is the land of white birches backed by fir trees and reflected in the lakes.

It is so cool in the daytime that the blue chicory along the roadsides stays open all day. Lilacs grow to be trees and reach up to the middle of second story windows on Makinac Island.

The season is so late up there that service berries were just ripening, and choke cherries were turning red at a time when there was already a hint of autumn in the air.

UNUSUAL

It is hard to believe that the lilacs and white birches of this northland can withstand the low temperatures of from 20 to 35 degrees blow zero.

White birches do not survive our warm climate here in the south, and the old - fashioned type of lilacs rarely become trees in the southern states except in our mountains where the climate is more like that of Canada.

We do not have to go to Canada to see great forests of firs and spruces because our southern mountains are covered with much the same vegetation at elevations above 4,000 feet. As a matter of fact, there are many more different kinds of trees, shurbs and wild flowers growing in the Smoky Mountains and the Blue Ridge Mountains of North Carolina and Tennessee than there are in Canada. The blue delphiniums and the monkshood that I saw growing so luxuriantly in yards and gardens from northern Lake Superior to Toronto can be grown in our southern mountains.

BIG SHOW

At the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto, the Horticultural Building was one big flower show. As in most flower and landscape shows of these days, part of the space had been alloted to small, well landscaped sitting terraces and living areas. The Canadians had gone in for house plants in a big way. Three-fourths of this tremendous exhibition hall was given over to displays of different kinds of house plants so important in winter to these dwellers of the snow country.

ANNUALS

Annuals are most important to gardeners in the northern parts of the world, and they make gorgeous display of them everywhere. Canada looked like just one big seed catalogue come into bloom. Every variety of petunia, marigold, and zinnia was in profuse bloom, making a dazzling show before the frosts come again. Down at Hamilton, Ontario, where they are laying out extensive parks and public gardens, the annuals had stood up to a prolonged drought and were still making the rock garden presentable although almost every other plant was wilted and dry.

Perhaps I should not have been surprised to see that the only blue flowered perennial that was standing up to the drought was our native salvia farinacea. A big patch of it provided the only mass of good blue violet in the whole garden except for the petunias. Even in Canada, salvia farinacea is indispensible.

MRS. ROSS A. LaDART, prior to her marriage Saturday, September 1 was Miss Pat J. Eanes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. Eanes, 610 McCain Drive. Mr. LaDart is the son of Mrs. D. A. LaDart, 812 Oak Street, all of Monroe. The ceremony was performed at 4 p.m. in College Place Baptist church with Rev. T. Earl Ogg officiating. The couple will be at home at 205 Breard Street.

MISS GLORIA ANN ADAMS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Adams of Start, will become the bride of Archie Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Walker of Alexandria on Friday, September 7 at 7:30 p.m. The ceremony will take place in Parkview Baptist Church, Alexandria.

MR. AND MRS. KENNETH EVERETT REEDER

Miss Sinclair Becomes Bride Of Mr. Reeder

In a candlelight ceremony solemnized Friday, August 24 in St. Andrews Methodist Church of Sterlington, Miss Suella Sinclair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Baxter Sinclair of Sterlington, became the bride of Kenneth Everett Reeder, son of Mrs. Callie Reeder of Monroe and Elmer Lee Reeder of Dallas, Texas.

Rev. J. A. Jones of Gibsland performed the double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. in a setting of white gladioli and carnations, flanked by lighted tapers in branched candelabra entwined with greenery.

Mrs. Fred Perry presented a program of nuptial music and accompanied Jimmy Roach as he sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a suit of white brocade satin. Her short bouffant imported veil of illusion was attached to a ring of orange blossoms and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and gladioli buds with satin streamers.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Linda Reeder, sister of the bridegroom, who wore a frock of aqua imported silk with side drape. Her headpiece was of matching bows and veiling and she carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

George Sinclair, brother of the bride, attended Mr. Reeder as best man. Ushers were Johnny Roach of Sterlington and Johnny Bee, of Monroe, who also served as candlelighters.

Mrs. Sinclair chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of blue linen with white accessories and the groom's mother was wearing a pink and black sheath with black accessoriies. Both wore corsages of white and pink orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Fellowship hall of the church where the theme of green and white was further carried out. Baskets of white gladioli and carnations formed a background setting.

Miss Barbara Gulley presided at the bride's book at a table adorned with a white memory candle encircled with English ivy and the bride's bouquet. The tiered cake was served from one end of a table overlaid with a white cutwork cloth by Mrs. Jayne Roshto, aunt of the bride from Baton Rouge. Punch was served opposite by Virginia Sinclair, sister - in - law of the bride. Tea girls were Marilyn Dickey, Betty Gale Earl and Josephine Young.

The couple will reside in Monroe where both are employed.

Simple, Casual Hairdo Replaces Teased Tresses

Topflight New York hairstylists are hearalding a new era in teen hair fashions. With it should come a welcome change in parent-teen and teacher - teen relationships. The battle against over - sized bouffants is finished. Exaggeration and excessive teasing is out. The peace terms call for a return to classrooms is simpler, more casual, more youthful hairdos. Mounds of hair blown up to huge proportions just isn't being worn by any age goup.

The important new look stars naturalness . . . totally uncontrived . . as if hair just happened to fall gently and prettily into place. No one particular length is advanced, although short hair is still the out - front favorite. Leading hair designers continue to urge their patrons to be completely individualistic in their choice of hair lengths. If there is a doubt as to what length is best for you, choose the length most flattering to your face shape, neck and figure proportions. Detail it to complement your features. Further, say these experts, don't overpower your face with a provocative hairdo that will compete for attention. Keep the frame so simple your best feature is the focal point of interest.

Victor Vito, one of New York's leading stylists, advocates a page boy for the teen with thin face and longish neck. His version takes top hair smoothly off-face with a deep wave coming forward to cover the end of the right eye and eyebrow. High on the right, he uses a pair of gingham check bow clips with half of the bows resting on the forehead.

Andre Anouge does beautiful things to medium length hair. One of his favorites is a band-like arrangement of the front hair. Hair in back of the band and at sides moves in flowing lines to end in widely flared ringlets all around. He uses a striped bow clip on each side for jaunty accent and to keep the hair neatly in place.

R. Keith says: "Teens should look young. They won't stay that way forever!" He likes shoulder length hair for them if the face and neck can take it. The top-lock is brushed back off forehead. Sides swell out near temples then fall close to cheeks. Ends fan out and upward.

John Garrison is a forceful advocate of the uncontrived look, and thinks a short gamin - like hairdo is a perfect foil for the teen. He likes to do a jagged cut that falls into all sorts of patterns with a mere turn of the brush. And he advances bow clips at different heights on each side, for flirtatious feminity. His theory is that a pretty, fresh face

Rug Color Is Key To Room Plan

By BETTY PEPIS

Q: We have bought a house and the carpet for the living and dining room is a palm leaf green. I thought the walls were beige but they are grey. I can change this color, but would like to know what color to use for couch and two chairs, also draperies. My children will soon be teenagers and I want a room they will be proud of.

A: Palm leaf green is a pleasant color to select for the carpeting in your new house. I would like a pale yellow for walls and woodwork. The sofa could be a solid leaf green, deeper than carpet. Two chairs and draperies in a print with a pale yellow ground with shades of leaf green and white would give a lively note to room. An occasional chair could be a deep green. Lamps could be yellow and accessories could be in a vibrant aquamarine, bottle green or even brilliant coral.

Q: I plan to redo my kitchen which is 8 by 13 feet. Walls will be white and gold wall - tex, kitchen set is white and gold. What colors should I use for cabinets and window curtains? Would you advise white and gold tile for floor?

A: If the touch of gold appeals to you, by all means have a mixture of white and gold in the floor tiles, or floor could be a mottled or marbleized white. Cabinets should be white to carry out your scheme. If they have a molding, this could be picked out in a narrow line in gold or a lime color. Curtains in white with a motif in lime green and select lime color for accessories, for white and gold calls for a sharp accent color.

Q: My bedroom and bathroom have spruce green linoleum tile floor. Bathroom fixtures are white. Bedroom has white French Provincial bed, walnut dresser and chest, white draperies. What color for walls, rug and accessories?

A: The walls in the bedroom could be white, also white for scatter rug. A French Provincial print with white ground with green, aqua and, perhaps, a touch of coral to be used for ruffled valances and underskirt ruffle for white spread. Slip cover a chair in the print to give a cozy look to room. White lamps and some bright aquamarine accessories. Bathroom could have a vinyl wallpaper in a narrow green and white stripe, white cotton curtains, white washable rug and lemon yellow bath towels.

Wedding Plans Completed By Dixie Howie

Miss Dixie Carolyn Howie, bride-elect of Jack Arthur Morgan, has completed plans for her wedding, which will be Friday, September 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Temple Baptist Church, at Crossett.

Rev. J. W. Buckner will perform the ceremony. Candlelighters will be Butch Howie, brother of the bride, and David Nelson, of Strong, cousin of the groom. Mrs. J. W. Buckner will be organist, and vocalist will be Miss Margaret Caldwell.

The bride will be given in marraige by her father, Dave W. Howie. Her only attendant will be her sister, Miss Becky Howie, who will serve as maid of honor.

Mr. Morgan has chosen his cousin, Ronnie Little, to serve as best man. Ushers will be Harold Nelson, of Strong, uncle of the groom, and Thomas Lancaster, also of Strong.

There will be a reception in Fellowship Hall of the Church following the ceremony.

PTA Council Outlines Plans For Year's Work

Plans of work for the 1962-63 session of school were submitted by various chairmen of the Ouachita Parish P-TA Council at an executive meeting held in the First National Bank of West Monroe. Mrs. Lorena McCoy, president, called the meeting to order and announced the following chairmen: budget and finance, Mrs. M. L. DeFreese; publications, Mrs. Kitty Procell; publicity, Mrs. G. C. Bedenbended; membership, Mrs. Douglas Moore; program, Mrs. Laverne Shell; music, Mrs. Charles Deland; character and spiritual, Mrs. Jack Reigney; legislation, Mrs. Kenneth Garrison; magazine, Mrs. Julius Cathey.

A report on the programs for the year was outlined and a proposed budget was read. Plans were made to combine the first meeting of the year with a school of instruction. The tentative date and meeting place are set for September 19 in the Claiborne Methodist Church.

SPEED MERCHANT Ken Newton of Delhi is rated the top broken-field runner on the Northeast squad. A high-scoring all-state star in his prep days, Newton was third in Indian rushing last fall with 266 yards and tied for first in pass receptions with seven.

The Defending Prep Grid Kings For 31 Districts

Defending state champion high school football teams this season are Istrouma of Baton Rouge, triple-A; Neville of Monroe, double-A; Tallulah, Class A; and Oberlin, Class B.

District races last season closed with the following winners:

Triple-A—Woodlawn of Shreveport (1), Sulphur (2), Istrouma (3); De LaSalle (4), Warren Easton (5).

Double-A—Jesuit of Shreveport (1), Neville (2), Leesville (3), Jennings (4), Morgan City (5), Thibodaux (6), Reserve (7) and Lee of Baton Rouge (8).

Class A—Winnfield (1), Tallulah (2), Basile (3); Oakdale (4), New Iberia (5), Francis DeSales (6), Plaquemine (7), and Zachary (8).

Miami, Pitt 1st On NCAA's TV Series, Sept. 15

NEW YORK, N. Y. (Special) — The University of Miami and the University of Pittsburgh, two of the nation's leading independent football powers, kick off the 1962 NCAA football television schedule Saturday, Sept. 15 when they clash at Pitt Stadium in a game to be broadcast over CBS, starting at 2:15 p.m., CST.

The Miami - Pitt contest will be the first of nine coast-to-coast and 15 regional football attractions to be presented on the network during the fall season.

Lindsey Nelson will describe the Miami - Pitt action, Terry Brennan will handle the color commentary, and Jim Simpson will be on the field for interviews and player introductions.

In the intersectional classic, the Miami Hurricanes, led by their brilliant quarterback, George Mira, will have 22 returning lettermen available for action. The Pitt Panthers, with quarterback Jim Traficant directing the attack, will have 24 veterans on their roster. Last year's game, played in Miami, was won by Pittsburgh, 10-7.

NEW COACH

Lake Providence Has 11 Lettermen

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. (Special) The Lake Providence High Panthers can give new coach Pete Mangum a letterman at every position except center for the football campaign opening Friday.

But the Panthers can boast only eleven such lettermen with a 46-player squad, so Lake Providence is shallow in experience reserve strength. Building bench power as well as developing a regular team is the task facing the new coaching setup that includes Kenneth Brister, John Hopkins, and David Lee as Mangum's assistants.

Returned lettermen are senior quarterback Joe Collins, 155 pounds; halfbacks Jimmy Marsh, 150,, and Harry Murray, 145 both juniors; fullback Tommy Clarkson, 155, senior; tackles Major Winters, 180, senior, and Tim Terral, 195, and Larry Malone, 195, both juniors; guards Tommy Wall, 150, and Jimmy Gilfoil, 165, both juniors; end Gary Shelton, 175, senior; and center Mark Hager, 176, senior.

The big scramble is the challenge for the quarterback job. When Barry Richardson moved from Lake Providence, it left the Panthers with Joe Collins seemingly in possession of the job.

But Billy Bayles, Gary Graham, Van Hicks Jr. and Connie Overby have been challenging in the heated quarterback scramble.

The Panthers open the season Friday against the Eudora Badgers at Eudora, Ark. After three games on the road, Lake Providence has its home opened with Mangham Sept. 28. Other home games are Winnsboro, Oct. 5; LaSalle, Oct. 12; Tallulah Oct. 19; Sterlington, Oct. 26; and Oak Grove, Nov. 9.

Road games include Holly Ridge, Sept. 13; Rayville, Sept. 21, and Delhi, Nov. 2.

2-B CHAMPIONS

Holly Ridge Has Rebuilding Task

HOLLY RIDGE, La. (Special) — At first glance it looks like the Holly Ridge Eagles, defending district 2-B football champions, have had their wings clipped by spring graduation's toll.

There's only one regular back in the starting lineup — right tackle Ed Bryant — which means coach G. C. Kennedy and assistants Faye Thurman and Donnie Easterling are facing a rebuilding program that already promises a fair backfield and good tackles but apparent weaknesses in the interior line at guards and center.

Sophomore lettermen already are Eagles of high promise in blending with some new talent in trying to make up for graduation losses.

All of the returning lettermen, including starter Bryant, are sophomores. Bryant and tackle Ted Lowery each weigh 200 pounds. Then there ends "Bo" Miller, 170, and Loyd Swain, 160; guard Kenneth Hales, 200, and center Allen King, 160.

Looking back at talent losses like ends Elvin Russell and Glynn Sanford, tackle Fred Morris, guards Jerry Donald and J. L. Morgan, center Melvin Bearden, quarterback Jerry Futch, halfbacks Bennie Stansell and Ronald Thompson, all all - state fullback Claude Patrick vividly points out how the district champions have been drained.

But already their shoes are being filled. There's Miller and Swain at ends, Lowery at tackle with Bryant, Tommy Wade and Hales at guards, King at center, Larry Dew at quarterback, Tommy Winstead and Lorence Toney at halfbacks, and Wayne McManus at fullback.

Holly Ridge went undefeated and twice tied through the regular season last-year, beating Rayville, 6-0; Lake Providence, 12-0; Southside of Monroe, 52-6; Sterlington, 56-0; Crowville, 46-0; Columbia, 31-0; Oak Grove, 12-6; and Mangham, 35-7. Ties were 7-7 each with Delhi and Wisner.

The Eagles will be at home for five of their ten scheduled games this year. Rayville opens here Sept. 7, followed by Lake Providence, Sept. 13. Other home dates are Wisner, Oct. 11, Crowville, Oct. 18; and Columbia, Oct. 25.

The team takes visiting roles at Delhi, Sept. 21; Southside of Monroe, Sept. 27; Sterlington, Oct. 5; Bernice, Nov. 2, and Mangham, Nov. 9.

WITH 28 LETTERMEN

Northeast Blending Old With New For Contender

By BOB ANDERSON

Northeast State's 1962 football team will be a mixture of something old and something new. Coach Jack Rowan hopes the combination will add up to a Gulf States Conference contender.

Twenty-nine lettermen, one of the largest totals in the GSC, are the "something old." The "something new" is a multiple-T offense that the Indian mentor hopes will put more points on the scoreboard for the Redskins.

The 29 lettermen include 25 from the 1961 club that won three games and lost seven. In the GSC, Northeast was fifth with a 1-4 record.

Returning "N" winners include such 1961 standouts as big Ross Nolan, the all-conference tackle; the outstanding guard duo of Larry Rambin, second team all-GSC, and Billy Foster; all purpose back Willie Ragan, who made the second all-GSC team as a fullback last fall and is ticketed for action at quarterback, as well as full, this year; end Wendell Drost, a fine sophomore; and another second-year ace, quarterback Ronnie Myrick.

Also on hand are four players who earned letters in previous years, some good junior college transfers and the school's best crop of freshmen footballers.

Among the four gladiators who lettered prior to 1961 is John Kelly. This Maryland lad was one of the GSC's finest punters in 1960 and his presence this fall means Northeast's major 1961 weakness, punting, is now one of the team's top strong points. Kelly averaged 34.8 yards a kick in 1960 and got off a booming 70-plus yarder in the victory over Northwestern that helped earn him "Back of the Week" honors.

Rowan can also call on a couple of fine freshmen punters, Stanley Willson of Sulphur and Robert Payne of Neville, as well as Gordon Salsman, the regular booter in 1961.

Last season Northeast ran from the slot T and got good mileage from it in early season, scoring 28 points against Mexico Polytechnic, 34 against Lamar Tech and 36 against East Texas State.

Beginning with the Northwestern game, Northeast's offense went sour and never really recovered except in the victory over Southwestern, when the Indians scored 27 points.

The inability to get the passing attack working consistently again and a resulting stacking of deground attack was the major reason for the offensive decline but Rowan is of the opinion the use of several offenses will pump new gas into the Indian attack this season.

The slot T will not be abandoned but split T, wing T and regular T plays will be run this year.

Whatever the offense, the man at the controls most of the time will be Mr. Myrick, one of the league's finest freshmen in 1961 and a quarterback many believe will be one of the school's greatest.

Myrick, up to 170 pounds this year but as swift as ever, was the team's total offense leader last fall with 593 yards. He also led the club in passing with 25 connections on 57 throws for 322 yards. Rowan believes the Oak Grove youngster will be a greatly improved thrower this year and will doubtless have him cocking his arm more often this fall.

The No. 2 quarterback at the end of spring practice was Ragan, who played his old high school position throughout most of the off-season workouts in fine fashion. Ragan runs the team well, passes adequately and, as for running, he was the squad's best last year.

Wild Willie gained 382 yards on the ground for a 5.09 average, third best in the conference. The Indians boasted one of the best ground games around, averaging 189.9 yards a game.

Other quarterbacks available are Pete Vincent, a sometime starter in 1960, Texas junior college flash Mike Cooper and frosh Warren LaSalle of Sulphur.

At Ragan's old fullback position will be Devone Payne who, although he wasn't credited with enough carries to qualify for the conference leadership, had the best average on the team last year — a eye-catching 7.27 yards per trip. Payne will be backed up by ex-halfback Donnie Brunson, Roy Goodwin, redshirt Ronnie Graham, freshmen David Elkin and Sonny Bondurant and Ragan, who's expected to log more playing time than any other Tribe back.

Speed is better than average at the halfback posts with Salsman and regular Ken Newton expected to start. Newton is the team's second fastest man—Myrick is a half step swifter — and can really go on the broken field.

Behind this pair are two more speed demons, Dean Mann and Ken Thornhill, plus Joe Trailkill, defensive specialists Morris Douglas and R. F. Wilson and freshmen Alton Thomas, Ray Pommier, and Robert Payne.

The Indians are well stocked with experienced ends with sophomore Drost (195) and junior Jimmy Love (198) expected to start. Back of them are lettermen Tommy Latham, (190), Dewey Smith (187), Gene Harbert (185), and Carlyle Williams, (200) as well as Omar Driskill (185). Only two frosh flankmen are in camp —Willson (290) and Springhill's Sherrel Smith — but Smith (189) is considered one of the finest rookie pass catchers to enroll at Northeast in a long time.

Nolan (237) is set at one of the tackles and big Ross is one of the best. Juco grad Joe Alewine (25) was top man at the other post when spring workout ended. Other lettermen are Jim LaCoste (230), Kirby DesOrmeaux (215) and Tony Allen (22) while Pat Percy (210) is a returning squadman.

Indian recruiters went in heavily for tackles last winter and Rowan and his staff believe they have collected some of the best high school interior linemen in the state. The biggest prizes, literally and figuratively, are the Sulphur wrecker, Alden Fontenot, and Jesuit of Shreveport's Ronnie Chalaire, both 230 and both all-state.

Also on hand is another Sulphur standout (Northeast signed five members of Sulphur's fine line), Joseph Hollier (220), Istrouma's Wayne Clement (210), and Coushatta's Steve Posey (200).

Few, if any, GSC teams can boast two finer guards than Larry Rambin (220) and Billy Foster (230), both seniors. To back up this sterling pair, Rowan has lettermen O. J. Louviere (205), and Don King (200) squadman Joe McClain (195), a star in spring drills, and red shirt Charles Beach (195).

Also ticketed for playing time are junior college transfer Don Broughton (195) and a plentiful supply of good freshmen, Jewei McBroom (190) of West Monroe, Fred Morris (198) of Holly Ridge, Mike Dora (205) and Jim Kirkendall (210) of Sulphur, Dwain Jacobs of Byrd and Melvin Doucet of LaGrange.

Center is in the capable hands of soph Tommy Beaube (210) and junior college grad Stanley Starr (196) with red shirt Johnny Nolan (175) the third ranked pivot at the end of spring training. These are currently the only centers on the roster but Rowan may shift one or more of his other linemen to this post.

NORTHEAST'S ace sophomore field general, Ronnie Myrick, led the team in total offense and passing last year, was second in scoring and second in rushing. The Oak Grove Indian is the squad's fastest man.

JUST 5 LETTERMEN

Delhi Undertakes Rebuilding Task

DELHI, La. (Special) — "Young, small, and inexperienced" are descriptives fitting the Delhi Black Bears this season.

Coach Raymond Richards and assistant James Hogue and "Boots" Thurman could count only five lettermen — and just three of those regulars from 1961 — when the 35-man squad reported for football training recently.

From the 30 inexperienced young athletes Coach Richards must fill big gaps in the Bruin lineup in hopes of fielding a team that will measure up to the kind of Bear machine to which Delhi fans have become accustomed during Richards long reign as coach here.

"Bugs" Irby, 150-pound senior end; Bob Kyle, 130-pound junior center; and Ted Gilly, 150-pound senior fullback, comprise the thinned ranks of returned regulars, and other lettermen back are even leaner — Myer Irby, 150-pound sophomore fulback; and Donald Sikes, 200-pound sophomore tackle.

And Gilley will be playing in an unaccustomed spot. An end last year, he is being moved to a backfield job.

Departed regulars of '61 are Bobby Caviness, Charlie Gaharan, Jerry Sharplin, Jimmy Strong, Penny Pennabaker, Joe Bob Wilson, Bob McKay, Milton Ringle, and L. E. Clifford.

Already, the new machine is shaping up with LeRoy Piercy sharing left end with Bugs Irby, Sikes and Harrison Graham at tackles; Charles Parker and Bo Cooksey at guards; Kyle at center; Shots Adams at right end; Roy Junkin or Frank McKinney, quarterback; Andy Snider and Billy F. Washburne, halfbacks; and Ted Gilley, fullback.

Other squadsmen include Claude Williams, Bobby Dockery, Donald Nichols, Steve Echols, and Bill Bryan, backs; Don Blackwell, Jimmy Gilley, Zack Spivey, Marvin Allen, and Richard Garley, ends; Put Martin, Mike Wilson, Rodney Clarkson, and Michael Mitchell, tackles; Mike Poynter, Sam Bradley, Frank Rundell, Phillip Curtis and Bill Troha, guards; and Lawrence Higgins and Dee Gaharan, centers.

Probably the heaviest conference schedule of any team in the state will be challenged by Delhi, a Class A contender is district two. Every member of the nine-team district, including newcomer LaSalle of Olla, is on the ten-game slate that shows only two non - conference foes, Holly Ridge and Crowville. Half the games will be played at home.

Morgan, center Melvin Bearden, quarterback Jerry Futch, halfbacks Bennie Stansell and Ronald Thompson, all all - state fullback Claude Patrick vividly points out how the district champions have been drained.

But already their shoes are being filled. There's Miller and Swain at ends, Lowery at tackle with Bryant, Tommy Wade and Hales at guards, King at center, Larry Dew at quarterback, Tommy Winstead and Lorence Toney at halfbacks, and Wayne McManus at fullback.

Holly Ridge went undefeated and twice tied through the regular season last year, beating Rayville, 6-0; Lake Providence, 12-0; Southside of Monroe, 52-6; Sterlington, 56-0; Crowville, 46-0; Columbia, 31-0; Oak Grove, 12-6; and Mangham, 35-7. Ties were 7-7 each with Delhi and Wisner.

The Eagles will be at home for five of their ten scheduled games this year. Rayville opens here Sept. 7, followed by Lake Providence, Sept. 13. Other home dates are Wisner, Oct. 11; Crowville, Oct. 18; and Columbia, Oct. 25.

The team takes visiting roles at Delhi, Sept. 21; Southside of Monroe, Sept. 27; Sterlington, Oct. 5; Bernice, Nov. 2, and Mangham, Nov. 9.

Build New Team At Sicily Island

SICILY ISLAND, La. (Special) —The Sicily Island Tigers hope this football season won't have such lean pickings as their forecast indicates.

Loss of ten seniors from last year's stellar district championship playoff outfit, including the four starting backs, leaves principal-coach Raymond Peace with lots of work to plug the leaks.

Twenty-nine boys reported to coaches Peace and Bill Coney for the start of practice and they're busy with their retread job.

Only three regulars are back from the team that finished in a regular season tie with district champion Vidalia for the 3-B crown, and only two of those are back in a familiar role.

Joe Raymond Peace, a 190-pound senior who was all-district center last year, is making the big switch to the backfield. He's being groomed to replace departed Jerry Hinton at fullback.

Regulars back for duty in their usual slot are all-district tackle Kenneth Bird, 175-pound senior, and tackle Jerry Wells, 270-pound junior.

Loss of four starting backs like Hinton, Johnny Young, Albert Krause, and Talmadge Ashley along with regular linemen ends Bill Crawford and Benton Blackman, and guards Carey Fairbanks and Henry Parker, plus having to develop a pivot replacement for Peace is enough to give any Sicily Island fan and idea of what the Tigers have to do.

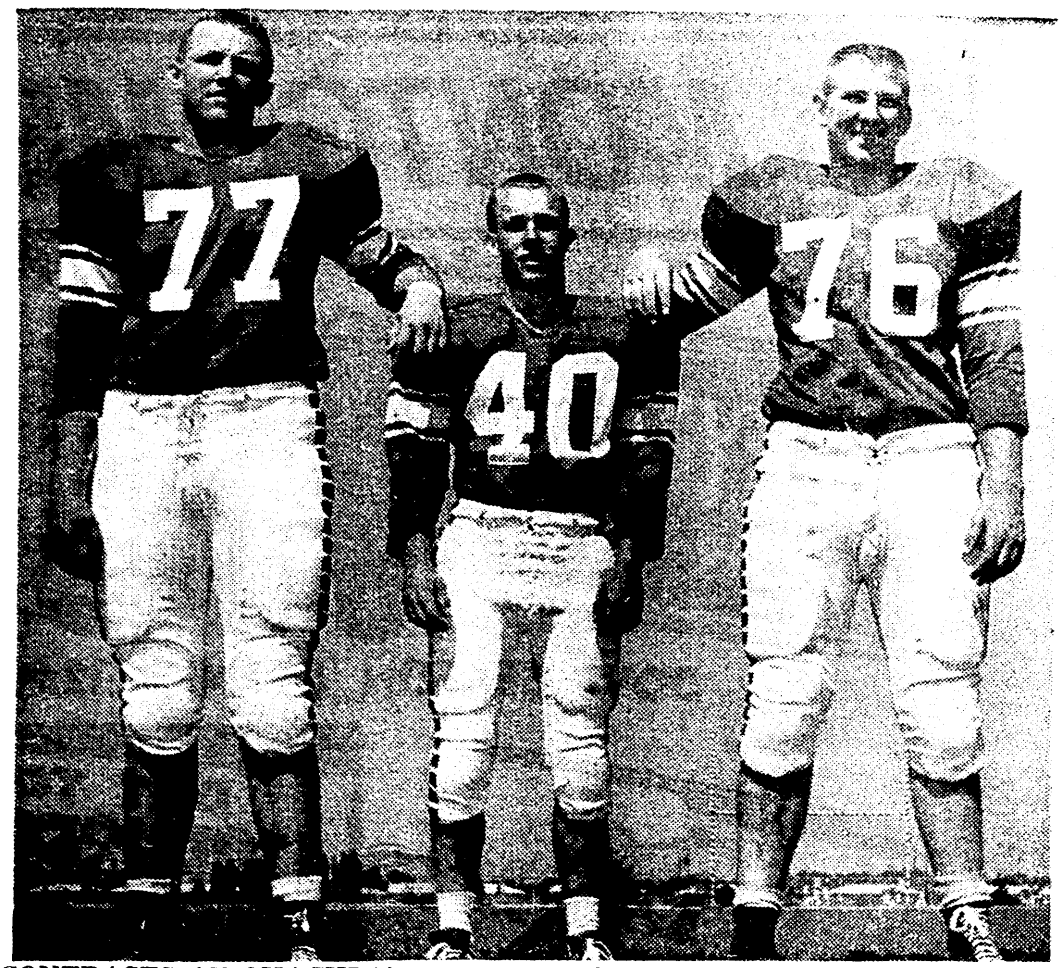
Lettermen who'll get first crack at filling the empty shoes are Craig Brooks, 166-pound senior end; Marvin Nolen, 161-pound sophomore center; Robert Alexander, 160, and Charles Mason, 131, sophomore guards; Gus Watson, 170-pound sophomore tackle; Bill Stubbs, 167, sophomore halfback; Deryle Price, 140, sophomore quarterback; and Bobby Ashley, 130, sophomore fullback. (This list of sophomores should be heartening for 1963 and '64 prospect).

Some non-lettermen getting attention this season will be guard Joe Bondurant, already ticketed for a starting job along with Arnold Ready and possibly John Dennis, halfbacks.

Peace, Dennis and Stubbs are handling passing chores with Peace and Dennis as punters and Bondurant as extra point picker in the Islanders' Notre Dame box system.

Three straight games at home open the Sicily Island schedule. There's Jena "B" of Sept. 7, Crowville, Sept. 14, and Mangham, Sept. 21. Other home dates include Waterproof, Oct. 5, and homecoming with Davidson of St. Joseph, Oct. 19.

The road schedule is Wisner, Sept. 28; Winnsboro, Oct. 12; Cathedral of Natchez, Oct. 26; Newellton, Nov. 9, and Block of Jonesville, Nov. 16.



CONTRASTS AT OUACHITA are exemplified by this trio of Lion gridders. Freddie Monroe, center, a halfback, is the lightest squadman at 130 pounds. Heavyweights of the team are Larry Lolley (77), a 225-pound tackle, and Harvey Carsey (76), also a tackle and tilting the scales at 215. All are juniors. (Staff photo by John Fogleman)

Kicking Artist, Bud Alexander, On Ruston Staff

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Norris "Bud" Alexander, toe artist with the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs in recent years, becomes coach Alexander this year as he takes over duties as freshman coach at Ruston High School.

Alexander wrote his name to two Louisiana Tech kicking records in the last two years by booting four field goals in 1960 and 19 extra points in 1961.

The varsity RHS staff continues as L. J. "Hoss" Garrett, a veteran of the high school coaching farternity, and assistants "Moose" Phillips and Fred Higginbotham.

McCULLEY HERDS RAMS

Bastrop Striving For Speed, Depth

BASTROP, La. (Special) — Seventeen returning lettermen and adequate materials at each position seem to insure Coach Pete McCulley of a good team in his first year as head mentor at Bastrop High this fall.

The former Louisiana Tech quarterback is not overly optimistic, however. McCulley, who was an assistant at Stephen F. Austin and the University of Houston before coming to Bastrop, is afraid he lacks the speed and depth to be outstanding in the tough 1-AAA race.

Though his Bastrop Rams do have 17 back from the squad that won six and lost four a year ago, they also lost 12 lettermen. Among this number are some that will be hard to replace, such as tackle Dan Irby, guard Lawrence Nugent, quarterback Ed Worley and halfbacks Wade Akins and Pete Perot.

Nor does the new coach feel the number of lettermen he has necessarily indicates his team's strength.

The backfield is in good shape with two top quarterback prospects and a number of fine running backs on hand. In the line the Rams will be well manned at center and adequate at tackle. But McCulley is worried about guard where he has only one letterman back and end where the trouble is inexperience.

McCulley should have a good quarterback in Rickey Head (165), who is a capable passer, an intelligent play caller and an all-round athete. McCulley feels he has great potential. Head will get backing from Rickey Reynolds (165).

Fullback will be one of the better positions with Billy Deville (180) back for another year. Deville gained around 700 yards in '61. Depth is present in sophomore John Bailey (185). He's another boy with good prospects and should see lots of action this fall.

The halfback positions are well managed. On board are James Chunn (160), who ground out over 600 yards last fall, letterman Mickey Michaud (170), Scott Rawls (145) and Howard Carver(145). McCully isn't completely sure who he'll use yet.

The biggest question mark is the line.

Two lettermen return at center. Mike Freeland (178) should get the starting nod, with support coming from Bill Nunnally (185).

At tackle the Rams have four lettermen back. Starters will be John Croswell and Sam Boyd (210). Croswell stands 6-3 and weighs 215. He could be one of the best linemen in the district. Others on hand are Bill Ramer (180) and Leonard Benoit (190).

Three lettermen ends return. All three are relatively light. Starters should be Morris Funderburgh (170) and Delbert Kelly (155). Warren Myers (160) could break into the starting eleven.

Charles Brumfield (175), a transfer from Hahnville, could be one answer to the guard problem. Glynn Murphy (185), the only other lettermen, is also gunning for starting berth. Other figures in the guard picture are Ronnie Yates (170) and Nelson Orr (190).

McCulley teams in the past have been noted for their passing ability and the new Ram mentor has indicated it is an important part of his attack plan, not just a third-down and five measure.

With Reynolds and Head under center McCulley may have the material he needs for this type strategy. If he does and the line turns out well, Bastrop could be rough in '62.

CHARLES McCLENDON steps into a major task as head coach of the Louisiana State Tigers this year. A proven ability indicates he'll be equal to the job.

MOODY IS QUESTION

LaSalle Entering Tough 2-A Loop

By ROBERT C. WAGNER

OLLA, La. (Special) — Reorganization of Louisiana high school football has put LaSalle of Olla in probably the toughest Class A district in the state, 2-A.

The district includes such powerhouses as Ferriday, Delhi, Tallulah, Rayville and Lake Providence.

Also in the district are Winnsboro, Farmerville, and Oak Grove.

New opponents for coach Lowell Morrison's Tigers leave game prognosticators a little wary but an even bigger question mark is LaSalle star Jimmie Moody.

The speedy halfback sparked the Tiger offense last year, leading in scoring and yardage gained and performing the extra point kicking.

Moody suffered a knee injury near the close of the season, however, and is still not at full speed. In early practice sessions, he was not working out in pads. Nine lettermen among seven seniors, three juniors and 22 sophomores and freshmen mean Morrison will have to rely on sophomores to fill out a starting lineup. He faces the job of building a group of young, inexperienced boys into a potent football machine.

Lettermen returning include Tommy Cruse, Billy Masters, Buddy Williams, Jimmie Moody, David Williams, Wendell Roberts, Mike Baker, Bobby Loe and Roger Price.

Squadmen are Petey Randall, Kenneth Mauterer, Dwain Kirkham, Danny Cornett, Damon Bradford, Smith Hopkins, Jeffrey Zeagler, Allen Maxwell, Buddy Harris, Everett Williams, David Miles, Phillip Mapp, Bobby Moreau, Joe Cruse, Billy Walsworth, Ricky Tyler, Terry Head, Gary Nelson, Paul Gates, John Coleman, Mike Russell, Mike McCartney and Tim Callender.

Five home games are on the LaSalle schedule that opens as a conference scramble right from the start when the Tigers host Delhi's Black Bears on Sept. 7. Jena will be here Sept. 14, and Winnsboro delivers another 2-A challenge Sept. 21. Other home dates are Mansfield, Oct. 19, and Winnfield, Nov. 16.

The Tigers travel for games at Vidalia, Sept. 28; Lake Providence, Oct. 12; Ferriday, Oct. 26; Rayville, Nov. 2; and Columbia, Nov. 9. Only open date on the LaSalle slate is Oct 5.

Techman Lee Ready To Try Job As Wing

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech grid fans are apt to see a lot more of David Lee, frosh punting specialist from Minden last year, who will step out of the specialist category this campaign.

Lee, who averaged 40 yards on 49 punts last season, had a shoulder injury that confined his action to kicking. A successful off-season operation has him ready to battle for one of the end positions on the Bulldog team.

Many persons contend that the Minden product could already punt with the best of them in the professional ranks. He can consistently boot the ball from 60 to 80 yards in the air and has made good progress in the last year.

Lee was an exceptionally good pass receiver at Minden in the prep ranks and could become one of Mickey Slaughter's top targets this fall. The sophomore terminal is 6-4 and 200 pounds, has good hands but is not exceptionally fast.

Despite distance in punting, Lee's kicks caused Tech some misery early last season. He was kicking the line drive, which enabled the enemy to return them. However, by mid-season, Lee also had the loft to go with the distance and very few kicks were returned.

"We feel our kicking game will be in good shape with Lee and other capable punters on the squad. It is hard to improve on a 40.0 average, but we expect to cut down sharply the number of returns made by opponets in comparison with last year," Coach Joe Aillet said.

SOUTHSIDE OF MONROE

Just 3 Pels Have Grid Experience

Coach Charles Denham begins his second year at Southside High with hopes of improving on last fall's 3-8 record, but a woefully inexperienced squad with which to do it. Only three of Denham's Southside Pelican's have any previous experience.

The three are guard Vernon Weaver (160), end Ronnie Holliday (145) and halfback Albert Thibodeaux (160). Weaver was a starter for Southside in 1961. Holliday was a squad member last year and Thibodeaux did his playing elsewhere.

Yet Denham believes the job can be done. "With work we have prospects of a better season than a year ago," he said, adding that the '61 record was the worst at Southside in several years.

Denham, who has 44 candidates out, already knows who will start at most of the posts but still has battles going on at tackle, guard and end.

His top loss off the '61 team was probably left halfback Wilson Sepulvado, a good all-round athlete. To take his place Denham is counting on 155 - pound Charles Alford.

Thibodeaux will probably team with Alford at the other halfback spot, while Carl Lucas (160) seeems to have the fullback job sewed up. Richard Ladner (150) is the number one quarterback at present.

Other backfield candidates who may break through are quarterback Bradley LaBrosse (160), halfback George Myers (135) and fullback Donald Johnson (175).

Harold Moore (155) gets the nod at center. Weaver or John Bertrand (160) will handle one guard post with James McGraw (165) at the other.

At tackle, James Barnhill (170) is anchoring one spot while Frank Grice (160) and Johnny Schexneyder, the one really big boy on the team at 270, battle for the other.

Anothery Johnny Schexnayder (160), this one spelled with an a, is heir to one end position and Holliday and Haskell Whittington (160) are waging a fight for the other.

At present Southside's schedule is incomplete.

RUSTON HIGH School will be depending a lot this season on back Melvin Ray Shows, veteran Bearcat quarterback.

MARRUS RETURNS

43 Grid Players Toiling For J-H

By RAYMOND JEFFRESS

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — A total of 43 candidates, including nine lettermen from the 1961 team, reported to head coach E. J. Lewis as the Jonesboro - Hodge Hgih School Tigers began practice for the 1962 football season.

The Tigers open their season at home against Bastrop September 7, then go to Ouachita Sept. 14, to West Monroe Sept. 21, to Minden Sept. 28, and to Neville for their first district 2-AA game October 5.

They play Natchitoches at home Oct. 12, and Haynesville at home Oct. 19, the latter a district game. Then they go to Winnfield for a district game Oct. 26, to Pineville November 2, and end the campaign with a home district game against Ruston November 9.

Last year, Jonesboro - Hodge won five, lost five, and tied Mansfield 7-7 in the Jonesboro Paper Bowl.

Robert Marrus, a 198-pound senior, was the leading scorer in District 2-AA last season with 74 points, was a unanimous All-District selection, and is expected to be a contender for All - State honors in 1962. He has two previous letters, as has 172-pound senior halfback Jim Jones. Other lettermen include halfbacks Alden Reeves and Johnny Dye (the latter a transfer student from Virginia), end Johnny Shows, guards Jim Gregory, Richard Vail and Tommy Frey, quarterback Phil Marrus, and center Johnny Dennis.

Co-captains elected by the team are halfback Alden Reeves and guard Jim Gregory.

At quarterback, 147- pound junior Phil Marrus is expected to start. He lettered at the position last year, and will be backed up by 172 - pound sophomore Randy Moffett.

There are nine halfback candidates. Left halfback Jim Jones, 172, a senior with two letters, and 175 - pound senior right halfback Aldern Reeves, give the Tigers as fine a pair of halfbacks as they have had in many a year.

Jones is expected to be an outstanding punter this year, and his passing ability makes him a real triple - threat back. Reeves, a fine blocker, also is a good pass-receiver. Both are hard runners with plenty of speed.

They will be backed up by Johnny Dye, who earned two letters in a Virginia military school and is very fast; Bill DeCou and Eddie McMillan, both expected to see lots of action; Marvin Cavett, Gary Boone, Barry Womack, and Terry Terrell.

At fullback is the incomparable Robert Marrus, who broke all kinds of individual school records last year with his bruising running, giving the Tigers an outstanding backfield. Lowell Mize will also see action at this position, along with Mike Kelly and, if necessary, Johnny Garlington can transfer from his starting end position to play here.

The probable starters at end are 151 - pound senior Johnny Shows, who showed Tiger fans last year some fine pass - catching ability, and 187 - pound junior Johnny Garlington, a fine all-round ballplayer who can play either end or fullback, and has run the 100 - yard dash in 10.5. Ernie Bamberg, Richard Buchan, Mike Page, Rodney Alexander, Kenneth Walker, Gerald Alexander, Ronnie Walsworth, and Travis Ayres are the other end candidates.

Of the nine tackle candidates, not a single one has earned a previous letter. However, 176-pound sophomore Mike Garrett and 197 - pound senior J. W. Tumlin should man these positions quite capably. Robert Harper and Lynn Duke, the latter a 222-pound junior, also will see lots of action.

Other tackle candidates include David Tumlin, Andy Roby, Jerry Pyles, Gary Gatlin, and Gerald Foster. Foster weighs 275 pounds as a 15-year-old junior.

The seven guard candidates are all small, but 138 - pound senior Tommy Frey and 145-pound senior Richard Vail are as tough as they come. Aubrey Futrell and LeRoy Ashley will play a great deal, along with Jim Gregory, a 148 - pound junior linebacker who was outstanding last year, and is a team co - captain. David Stewart and Edward Sones are juniors who are improving steadily.

At center, 181 - pound junior Curtis Swanner will probably start but 152 - pound junior Johnny Dennis will see plenty of action, also. Danny Spring, a sophomore, is the other center candidate.

WIDE OPEN JOBS

Winnsboro Plugs Holes

By OTIS HASSELL

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — Coach Milford Andrews, starting his second year at Winnsboro High School, said that all eleven Winnsboro Wildcat team positions are "wide open" even though he has 13 lettermen and five squadmen returning from last year.

Coach Andrews and assistant coaches John Pickett and Monroe Fowler will have to use these 18 men and a transfer from Rayne High School to replace eight first stringers of the 1961 team who were lost by graduation, and then use them and the new man who have come out in an attempt to mold a winning combination which will top last years record of only three wins in 11 starts.

Lettermen lost by graduation were quarterback Bobby Boyett, fullback David Elkin, halfbacks Randy Shirley and Harold Schooler, end Fabian Geisman, guard Devone Killingsworth, and tackles Bob Schwendimann and Thurman Dickey.

The transfer member of the Wildcat squad is 140 - pound senior Oliver Tyson who comes to Winnsboro from Rayne where he was an outstanding halfback.

The returning lettermen include six seniors, Roger Elkin, Kerry Gordy, Bruce Kolb, Bubba Shaw, Buddy Smith and Jerry Thomas; five juniors, Bill Griffing, Donnie Johnson, Bill Marioneaux, Charles Priest and Danny Priest; and two sophomores, David Shirley and Bobby Smith. Returning squadmen are Donnie Emfinger and Joe Hooper, juniors; and Joe Smith. Returning squadmen Curtis Tyson, Larry Polk and Buie Mays, sophomores.

Coach Andrews said that although the squad as a whole is young and inexperienced and there is a lack of overall team speed, the seniors are expected to do a good job and that the success of the 1962 edition of the Winnsboro Wildcat eleven will depend on the hard work and leadership of the seniors.

WITH 28 LETTERMEN

Northeast Blending Old With New For Contender

By BOB ANDERSON

Northeast State's 1962 football team will be a mixture of something old and something new. Coach Jack Rowan hopes the combination will add up to a Gulf States Conference contender.

Twenty-nine lettermen, one of the largest totals in the GSC, are the "something old." The "something new" is a multiple-T offense that the Indian mentor hopes will put more points on the scoreboard for the Redskins.

The 29 lettermen include 25 from the 1961 club that won three games and lost seven. In the GSC, Northeast was fifth with a 1-4 record.

Returning "N" winners include such 1961 standouts as big Ross Nolan, the all-conference tackle; the outstanding guard duo of Larry Rambin, second team all-GSC, and Billy Foster; all purpose back Willie Ragan, who made the second all-GSC team as a fullback last fall and is ticketed for action at quarterback, as well as full, this year; end Wendell Drost, a fine sophomore; and another second-year ace, quarterback Ronnie Myrick.

Also on hand are four players who earned letters in previous years, some good junior college transfers and the school's best crop of freshmen footballers.

Among the four gladiators who lettered prior to 1961 is John Kelly. This Maryland lad was one of the GSC's finest punters in 1960 and his presence this fall means Northeast's major 1961 weakness, punting, is now one of the team's top strong points. Kelly averaged 34.8 yards a kick in 1960 and got off a booming 70-plus yarder in the victory over Northwestern that helped earn him "Back of the Week" honors.

Rowan can also call on a couple of fine freshmen punters, Stanley Willson of Sulphur and Robert Payne of Neville, as well as Gordon Salsman, the regular booter in 1961.

Last season Northeast ran from the slot T and got good mileage from it in early season, scoring 28 points against Mexico Polytechnic, 34 against Lamar Tech and 36 against East Texas State.

Beginning with the Northwestern game, Northeast's offense went sour and never really recovered except in the victory over Southwestern, when the Indians scored 27 points.

The inability to get the passing attack working consistently again and a resulting stacking of deground attack was the major reason for the offensive decline but Rowan is of the opinion the use of several offenses will pump new gas into the Indian attack this season.

The slot T will not be abandoned but split T, wing T and regular T plays will be run this year.

Whatever the offense, the man at the controls most of the time will be Mr. Myrick, one of the league's finest freshmen in 1961 and a quarterback many believe will be one of the school's greatest.

Myrick, up to 170 pounds this year but as swift as ever, was the team's total offense leader last fall with 593 yards. He also led the club in passing with 25 connections on 57 throws for 322 yards. Rowan believes the Oak Grove youngster will be a greatly improved thrower this year and will doubtless have him cocking his arm more often this fall.

The No. 2 quarterback at the end of spring practice was Ragan, who played his old high school position throughout most of the off-season workouts in fine fashion. Ragan runs the team well, passes adequately and, as for running, he was the squad's best last year.

Wild Willie gained 382 yards on the ground for a 5.09 average, third best in the conference. The Indians boasted one of the best ground games around, averaging 189.9 yards a game.

Other quarterbacks available are Pete Vincent, a sometime starter in 1960, Texas junior college flash Mike Cooper and frosh Warren LaSalle of Sulphur.

At Ragan's old fullback position will be Devone Payne who, although he wasn't credited with enough carries to qualify for the conference leadership, had the best average on the team last year — a eye-catching 7.27 yards per trip. Payne will be backed up by ex-halfback Donnie Brunson, Roy Goodwin, redshirt Ronnie Graham, freshmen David Elkin and Sonny Bondurant and Ragan, who's expected to log more playing time than any other Tribe back.

Speed is better than average at the halfback posts with Salsman and regular Ken Newton expected to start. Newton is the team's second fastest man—Myrick is a half step swifter — and can really go on the broken field.

Behind this pair are two more speed demons, Dean Mann and Ken Thornhill, plus Joe Trailkill, defensive specialists Morris Douglas and R. F. Wilson and freshmen Alton Thomas, Ray Pommier, and Robert Payne.

The Indians are well stocked with experienced ends with sophomore Drost (195) and junior Jimmy Love (198) expected to start. Back of them are lettermen Tommy Latham, (190), Dewey Smith (187), Gene Harbert (185), and Carlyle Williams, (200) as well as Omar Driskill (185). Only two frosh flankmen are in camp —Willson (290) and Springhill's Sherrel Smith — but Smith (189) is considered one of the finest rookie pass catchers to enroll at Northeast in a long time.

Nolan (237) is set at one of the tackles and big Ross is one of the best. Juco grad Joe Alewine (25) was top man at the other post when spring workout ended. Other lettermen are Jim LaCoste (230), Kirby DesOrmeaux (215) and Tony Allen (22) while Pat Percy (210) is a returning squadman.

Indian recruiters went in heavily for tackles last winter and Rowan and his staff believe they have collected some of the best high school interior linemen in the state. The biggest prizes, literally and figuratively, are the Sulphur wrecker, Alden Fontenot, and Jesuit of Shreveport's Ronnie Chalaire, both 230 and both all-state.

Also on hand is another Sulphur standout (Northeast signed five members of Sulphur's fine line), Joseph Hollier (220), Istrouma's Wayne Clement (210), and Coushatta's Steve Posey (200).

Few, if any, GSC teams can boast two finer guards than Larry Rambin (220) and Billy Foster (230), both seniors. To back up this sterling pair, Rowan has lettermen O. J. Louviere (205), and Don King (200) squadman Joe McClain (195), a star in spring drills, and red shirt Charles Beach (195).

Also ticketed for playing time are junior college transfer Don Broughton (195) and a plentiful supply of good freshmen, Jewel McBroom (190) of West Monroe, Fred Morris (198) of Holly Ridge, Mike Dora (205) and Jim Kirkendall (210) of Sulphur, Dwain Jacobs of Byrd and Melvin Doucet of LaGrange.

Center is in the capable hands of soph Tommy Beaube (210) and junior college grad Stanley Starr (196) with red shirt Johnny Nolan (175) the third ranked pivot at the end of spring training. These are currently the only centers on the roster but Rowan may shift one or more of his other linemen to this post.

NORTHEAST'S ace sophomore field general, Ronnie Myrick, led the team in total offense and passing last year, was second in scoring and second in rushing. The Oak Grove Indian is the squad's fastest man.

JUST 5 LETTERMEN

Delhi Undertakes Rebuilding Task

DELHI, La. (Special) — "Young, small, and inexperienced" are descriptives fitting the Delhi Black Bears this season.

Coach Raymond Richards and assistant James Hogue and "Boots" Thurman could count only five lettermen — and just three of those regulars from 1961 — when the 35-man squad reported for football training recently.

From the 30 inexperienced young athletes Coach Richards must fill big gaps in the Bruin lineup in hopes of fielding a team that will measure up to the kind of Bear machine to which Delhi fans have become accustomed during Richards long reign as coach here.

"Bugs" Irby, 150-pound senior end; Bob Kyle, 130-pound junior center; and Ted Gilly, 150-pound senior fullback, comprise the thinned ranks of returned regulars, and other lettermen back are even leaner — Myer Irby, 150-pound sophomore fulback; and Donald Sikes, 200-pound sophomore tackle.

And Gilley will be playing in an unaccustomed spot. An end last year, he is being moved to a backfield job.

Departed regulars of '61 are Bobby Caviness, Charlie Gaharan, Jerry Sharplin, Jimmy Strong, Penny Pennabaker, Joe Bob Wilson, Bob McKay, Milton Ringle, and L. E. Clifford.

Already, the new machine is shaping up with LeRoy Piercy sharing left end with Bugs Irby, Sikes and Harrison Graham at tackles; Charles Parker and Bo Cooksey at guards; Kyle at center; Shots Adams at right end; Roy Junkin or Frank McKinney, quarterback; Andy Snider and Billy F. Washburne, halfbacks; and Ted Gilley, fullback.

Other squadsmen include Claude Williams, Bobby Dockery, Donald Nichols, Steve Echols, and Bill Bryan, backs; Don Blackwell, Jimmy Gilley, Zack Spivey, Marvin Allen, and Richard Garley, ends; Put Martin, Mike Wilson, Rodney Clarkson, and Michael Mitchell, tackles; Mike Poynter, Sam Bradley, Frank Rundell, Phillip Curtis and Bill Troha, guards; and Lawrence Higgins and Dee Gaharan, centers.

Probably the heaviest conference schedule of any team in the state will be challenged by Delhi, a Class A contender is district two. Every member of the nine-team district, including newcomer LaSalle of Olla, is on the ten-game slate that shows only two non - conference foes, Holly Ridge and Crowville. Half the games will be played at home.

FIGHTING FIFTEEN

Newellton Grid Ranks Are Thin

By JACK POE

NEWELLTON, La. (Special) — The number one problem confronting Coach Frank Mobley as he makes his debut at Newellton High School this season is squad depth. Opening day of fall practice on August 15th found 22 hopefuls checking in but after a couple of days of practice this dwindled down to 15. Two of these have had no varsity experience.

The teams seems to line up with Allen Bozeman at quarterback, Edwin Preis and George Cooper at halfback, and Allen Perritt at fullback. These will be assisted by Lamar Barnett, the smallest man on the squad at 120, and Mike Parker.

Up front Mobley has placed Danny Kifer and Danny Cannon on the flanks, Hoyt Arnold, Paul Higginbotham, and Mack Shellgrove at tackle, James Taylor and Charles Tullos at Guard and Lyn Beasley at center. Irvin Roby is utility man for the middle of the line.

Those are the troops to do battle for the maroon and white of Newellton for 1962 unless school bells bring more recruits. Its the smallest squad in numbers seen at Newellton in many years.

But there are some good things that coach Mobley and assistant Coach Buddy Palmer have for consideration. First of all 13 of these fellows saw some action last year. And even tho they had a miserable 2-8 season last year, Edwin Preis managed to carry 81 times for 399 yards while Perritt carried 114 for 599 yards. Either of the two are dangerous runners. Futhermore, with Bozeman and Cooper both better than average passers and Kifer and Cannon being two pretty fair receivers, the game promises to open up. That seems to be what the fans enjoy - and it does put the pressure on the defense.

Not wanting to get too far out on the old pole we will have to make the preseason forecast that these 1962 Bears will win at least five of their games, maybe more, depending on the kind of injury luck. We can see some All District material in Edwin Preis, George Cooper, James Taylor and Danny Kifer, with Lyn Beasley in the running. We believe that the Newellton fans will enjoy this season.

The squad may be lean, but the schedule is as tough as ever, calling for the same list of opponents that beat the Bears eight out of ten last year.

The schedule, with '61 scores in parenthesis. Newellton's listed first:

Sept. 7—Winnsboro, there (6-13)
Sept. 14 —Black, here (7-26)
Sept. 21 —Crowville, here (33-7)
Sept. 28 —Columbia, there (27-26)
Oct. 5 —Tallulah, here (7-45)
Oct. 12 —Vidalia, there (7-27)
Oct. 19 —Wisner, here (7-26)
Oct. 26 —Open
Nov. 2 — Davidson, here (6-26)
Nov. 9 —Sicily Island, there (13-50)
Nov. 16 —Waterproof, there (7-20)

OPEN THURSDAY

Waterproof Club Up With 'Hustle'

WATERPROOF, La. (Special) —The ranks of the Waterproof High School Tigers are thin as usual, but Coach Bill Lansing in welding a young and inexperienced squad into a club that shows lots of hustle with intentions of furnishing 3-B rivals a contender.

A small school like Waterproof can't take a cut in the regular ranks like the loss of ends Charles Powell and Calvin Rabb, tackle Edward Berry, guard Billy Hale, and halfbacks Charles Welch and Vic Mahoney and be expected to find replacements ready made.

Eight returning lettermen are the main asset of the Tensas Tigers. These include tackle Phillip James, 185-pound senior; guard Freddy Hughes, 200-pound senior; end Byron Butler, 150-pound senior; and backs Howard Walker, 155, and Myles Hopkins, 150, both juniors, all regulars last season.

They're supported by lettermen William Clarke, 210-pound junior tackle; George Johns, 150-pound senior end; and Robert Mize, 150-pound senior back.

Newcomers appearing ready to crack the Waterproof lineup are Mal Lancaster, a guard and center; halfback Sammy Martein; and Walter Butler, Ricky Silvertooth and Tru Goldman or Lancaster, all fighting it out for the pivot job.

Bill Walker is teaming with Hopkins as passer and punter in the multiple-T machine being developed by coaches Lansing and Dan Poole.

Waterproof opens a ten-game schedule here Thursday with the Southside Pelicans of Monroe.

NEWELLTON HIGH leans strongly on senior fullback Allen Perritt, a power runner who led scoring for the Bears last season. Also passes and plays strong defense.

Other home games follow with Chamberlain Hunt Academy, Sept. 14; Davidson of St. Joseph, Sept. 28; Block of Jonesville, Oct. 25; and Newellton, Nov. 16.

Build New Team At Sicily Island

SICILY ISLAND, La. (Special) —The Sicily Island Tigers hope this football season won't have such lean pickings as their forecast indicates.

Loss of ten seniors from last year's stellar district championship playoff outfit, including the four starting backs, leaves principal-coach Raymond Peace with lots of work to plug the leaks.

Twenty-nine boys reported to coaches Peace and Bill Coney for the start of practice and they're busy with their retread job.

Only three regulars are back from the team that finished in a regular season tie with district champion Vidalia for the 3-B crown, and only two of those are back in a familiar role.

Joe Raymond Peace, a 190-pound senior who was all-district center last year, is making the big switch to the backfield. He's being groomed to replace departed Jerry Hinton at fullback.

Regulars back for duty in their usual slot are all-district tackle Kenneth Bird, 175-pound senior, and tackle Jerry Wells, 270-pound junior.

Loss of four starting backs like Hinton, Johnny Young, Albert Krause, and Talmadge Ashley along with regular linemen ends Bill Crawford and Benton Blackman, and guards Carey Fairbanks and Henry Parker, plus having to develop a pivot replacement for Peace is enough to give any Sicily Island fan and idea of what the Tigers have to do.

Lettermen who'll get first crack at filling the empty shoes are Craig Brooks, 166-pound senior end; Marvin Nolen, 161-pound sophomore center; Robert Alexander, 160, and Charles Mason, 131, sophomore guards; Gus Watson, 170-pound sophomore tackle; Bill Stubbs, 167, sophomore halfback; Deryle Price, 140, sophomore quarterback; and Bobby Ashley, 130, sophomore fullback. (This list of sophomores should be heartening for 1963 and '64 prospect).

Some non-lettermen getting attention this season will be guard Joe Bondurant, already ticketed for a starting job along with Arnold Ready and possibly John Dennis, halfbacks.

Peace, Dennis and Stubbs are handling passing chores with Peace and Dennis as punters and Bondurant as extra point picker in the Islanders' Notre Dame box system.

Three straight games at home open the Sicily Island schedule. There's Jena "B" of Sept. 7, Crowville, Sept. 14, and Mangham, Sept. 21. Other home dates include Waterproof, Oct. 5, and homecoming with Davidson of St. Joseph, Oct. 19.

The road schedule is Wisner, Sept. 28; Winnsboro, Oct. 12; Cathedral of Natchez, Oct. 26; Newellton, Nov. 9, and Block of Jonesville, Nov. 16.

CONTRASTS AT OUACHITA are exemplified by this trio of Lion gridders. Freddie Monroe, center, a halfback, is the lightest squadman at 130 pounds. Heavyweights of the team are Larry Lolley (77), a 225-pound tackle, and Harvey Carsey (76), also a tackle and tilting the scales at 215. All are juniors. (Staff photo by John Fogleman)

Kicking Artist, Bud Alexander, On Ruston Staff

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Norris "Bud" Alexander, toe artist with the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs in recent years, becomes coach Alexander this year as he takes over duties as freshman coach at Ruston High School.

Alexander wrote his name to two Louisiana Tech kicking records in the last two years by booting four field goals in 1960 and 19 extra points in 1961.

The varsity RHS staff continues as L. J. "Hoss" Garrett, a veteran of the high school coaching farternity, and assistants "Moose" Phillips and Fred Higginbotham.

'LOST TOO MANY MEN'

Winnfield Joins Twin-A Circuit

WINNFIELD, La. (Special) — That old yarn about abdicating a hot skillet to risk the open flame might well fit the Winnfield High Tigers this year.

Winnfield was high ranked statewide in Class A last year before being eventually halted by state champion Tallulah. Now Coach Charles "Hoss" Newman is taking his Winn Tigers into the even tougher double-A jungle.

It's not bad enough that Winnfield now must enter the double-A ranks, but just look at the district these Bengals are in--Neville's defending state champions, Ruston's always dangerous and also former champions, plus rugged Jonesboro-Hodge and Haynesville.

District 2-AA is a tight, compact circuit, but for years it has shown the state's strongest title challengers. Rival coaches will probably be saying: "And now now they have made it tougher by including Winnfield."

But Winnfield is just a shadow of the team that swept through eleven consecutive victories last year before being stopped by Tallulah in the playoffs.

"We are in a rebuilding year and do not expect too much," Coach Newman said. "We lost too many (18) men from last year's squad."

Only Rodney Lenard, 205-pound senior tackle, and Jimmy Bolton, 160-pound senior halfback, are returned from the fine '61 regular lineup.

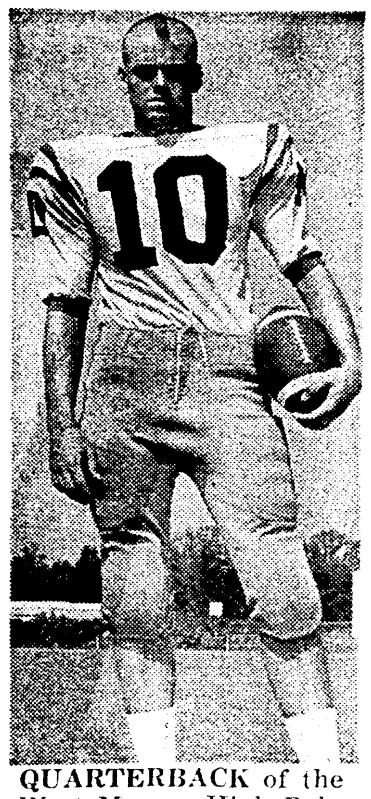
Only other returning lettermen are seniors Ronald Skains, 180, end, and Ronnie Parker, 145, halfback; and juniors Tom Trawick, 190, tackle, Cully Warren, 150, quarterback, and Bob Wyatt, 155, fullback.

Crippling graduation losses have taken such regulars as David Adams and Billy Barton, ends; Wayne McFarland, tackle; Cecil Taylor and Don Jones, guards; Carroll Long, center; quarterback Mike Tinnerello, halfback James Collins, and fullback Rusty Melton.

New faces already apparent in the regular lineup are Kenneth White and Skains, ends; Trawick, tackle; Vernon Blair and Eddie McManus or Joe Spence, guards; Otis Peterson, center; Warren quarterback; Parker at left half; and Wyatt, fullback.

Winnfield opens at home with Ville Platte next Friday night, and home games follow with Homer, Sept. 21; Ruston, Oct. 5; Neville, Oct. 19; and Jonesboro, Oct. 26.

Games that catch Winnfield traveling are Mansfield, Sept. 14; Coushatta, Sept. 28; Natchitoches, Nov. 2; Jena, Nov. 9; and LaSalle at Olla, Nov. 16.



QUARTERBACK of the West Monroe High Rebels is "Buz" Heard, 170-pound senior, who earned his first letter last year.

Tech Center Is Labeled Lonesomest

RUSTON (Special) — J. R. (John Robert) Williamson, Louisiana Tech's outstanding junior center from El Dorado, is described by Tech Coach Joe Aillet as the "lonesomest" center in the Gulf States conference.

Williamson was a holy terror on defense in game after game for the Techmen last season. Aillet labeled him the "lonesomest" center because there is no experience behind him at the Tech pivot post.

Aillet says Williamson is the finest defensive center at Tech since Leo Sanford, the ex-Tech great who went on to play pro football for nine years with the Chicago Cardinals and Baltimore Colts.

"Williamson worked hard on offense during spring training and we think he will easily be the outstanding center in the conference this fall," Aillet said.

"This is not much praise, but Williamson has great speed and can catch any of our halfbacks. He has a natural ability to diagnose plays on defense — he has the uncanny ability to sense where the football is," Aillet said.

Williamson is a bruising tackler as opponents can attest and constantly makes tackles from sideline to sideline.

J. R. is one of the few Arkansas grid products to escape Frank Broyles and his Arkansas dragnet and the Porker mentor must still visualize Williamson in the "monster" role of Arkansas' defense. David Williamson, now an El Dorado assistant coach, was a star halfback at Tech and is John Robert's brother.

The shortage of talent at center will probably result in Williamson having to put in extra duty at the pivot spot. John Blake of Hodge is a returning squad member and Tommy Tilley of Springhill and Mike Cheatham of Eagle Lake, Tex., are frosh center prospects.

All in all, Williamson is likely not only to be the "lonesomest" center in the GSC, but also the busiest.

Three members of Penn State's football coaching staff — Jim O'Hara, Sever Tomaso, and Dan Radakovich — are Penn State graduates.

BENCH WEAKER

Vidalia Defends With New Backs

By BUCK PEDEN

VIDALIA, La. (Special) —The Vidalia Vikings will find a tough row to hoe when they begin defense of their initial district 3-B championship. The red, white and blue clad varsity has the task of completely rebuilding their backfield.

The Vikings of 1961 waded through a 10 - game schedule without a defeat or a tie while massing 348 points and holding their opponents to only 21. This unit graduated four outstanding senior backs, an all - state tackle (Jerry Richardson), an end (Maurice Greer) that was the first one selected in his position to play in the annual Louisiana all - star football game, and a halfback (George Franklin) that participated in the annual prep All - American game.

The 1962 roster reveals a much weaker bench, which was one of their greatest assests last season. The entire varsity roster includes only 25 players this season. Of these fifteen earned letters during 1961 competition.

These fifteen will make up the nucleus of the new squad. They are Ends — Bill Doyle, Bruce Byrd, and Larry Richardson; Tackles — Eddie Housley, Wally Wallace, and Harry Spinks; Guards— Cliff Feduccia, Ray Moncrief, and Homer Hewitt; Center — Eddie Wisner; Quarterback — Butch Wiggins; Wingbacks — Mike New, Wilbur Nations and Bill Poole; Fullbacks — Mike Greer.

Other players on the team battling for first team berths are Ends — Andy Housley, Jim Aarons, Ronnie Hawthorne, and Frank Talley; Tackle — Wesley Sale; Guard — Al "Moose" Frazier; Center — Ronnie Hebert; Quarterback — Jamie Jackson; and Fullback — Jerrol Cox.

The line will miss Greer and Richardson, but will still be considered one of the toughest in the district with returning starters such as Ed Housley (168), Wallace (190), Feduccia (189), and Wisner (189) furnishing valuable experience.

Last season Wisner was utilized mainly on offense and Wallace specifically on defense. This season they are expected to see dual action and plenty of it with the stiff ten - game schedule.

Like it or not the Vidalia school will probably have the enrollment to enter the Class "A" school group in a few more years. In anticipation head coach, Dan Chase is gradually adding class A opponents to his schedule. This year they will meet three — Ferriday, La Salle, and Oak Grove.

Assisting Chase with the varsity this year will be Fred Foster. Coach Benny Milligan will handle the reins of the junior high squad and will be assisted by Julius Huhn.

Chase said recently he thought his young, green, squad would "come around sooner, but they were awful slow so far.

"However, we couldn't ask for a group to work any harder than they have been doing," the stocky mentor praised.

Vidalia Quarterback Club president Royce Whittington, helping to push advanced sale of tickets for the school, has club members working with school officials to insure good support. Season tickets for adults are $5, and for students the price is $2 for a schedule of five home games.

New Head Grid Coaches At 5 Area Schools

Just about every season there's a new head football coach or two moving into the northeast Louisiana athletic picture.

This season the number is unusually large with five men stepping into new jobs as chief grid coaches.

The list shows Pete McKinley at Bastrop, Jim Knox at Rayville, Frank Mobley at Newellton, Clyde Thompson at Crowville, and Pete Mangum at Lake Providence.

LINE HOLDS KEY

Mangham Short Reserve Strength

MANGHAM, La. (Special) — If the Mangham High School Dragons had a little more depth in reserve strength the Purple and White could possibly give Coach Armed Mathews a team that would look more like those titled combinations he was boasting not too long ago.

But the word from Mangham High's campus this year says look for a good running team with line strength hobbled by the absence of depth in reserves.

How quickly reserves develop and how much full-steam work regulars can give without substitute help could determine how far the Dragons, a power in district 2-B for the past several years, can go this season.

Heading the list of returned talent are six old regulars, four of them seniors and two after their third football letters.

Halfback Noble Hatch, 160-pounder, and tackle Frank Hendrix, 182, are seniors who have already earned two monograms.

Other regulars back are seniors Robert Boughton, 186-pound guard, and Jerry Gilley, 131-pound halfback; junior Jimmy Lee, 170-pound tackle; and sophomore Billy White, 151-pound fullback.

Coach Mathews, busy getting the Dragons ready for their opener at Wisner Friday night, teams with assistants Dalton Faircloth and Thee Jones, in moulding a new split-T machine with Jerry Mercer being moulded as team gunner in the passing department and Hatch listed for punting duty in addition to all-around ironman work in the backfield.

Squadmen indicating they'll give the Dragons lots of help this season are backs George Marlowe, Lee Booth, Earl Pailette and Carl Pailette, and center Ronnie Mercer.

Regulars missing from last year are guard John Lee, tackle George Ducote, guard-tackles Hiram Coughran and Johnny Georgia, center Robert Harwell, wingback-end Charles Owens, end Douglas Wilkinson, and quarterback Dee Faircloth.

Mangham had a 5 won-5 lost season in 1961, showing wins over Wisner, Southside of Monroe, Lake Providence, Sterlington, and Crowville but bowing before Sicily Island, Columbia, Holly Ridge, Rayville, and Delhi.

The Dragon's first four games—Wisner, Southside, Sicily Island, and Lake Providence—are on the road, and they won't show in Mangham until October 4 against Columbia in a conference battle.

Columbia will be the first of five straight home games and followed by Bernice, Oct. 12; Sterlington, Oct. 19; Crowville, Nov. 2; and Holly Ridge, Nov. 8.

Road games are Wisner, Sept. 7; Southside at Monroe, Sept. 14; Sicily Island, Sept. 21; Lake Providence, Sept. 28; and Rayville, Nov. 16. October 26 is an open date.

STILL PASSING TEAM

Louisiana Tech Has Early Stress On Ground Game

RUSTON, La. (Special)—Emphasis on developing a stronger ground game and a better all-around defense may get priority with the Louisiana Tech grid squad that opened drills Saturday in preparation for the opener here Sept. 29 against McNeese State, rated a co-favorite with Northwestern State in the Gulf States conference race.

It is a safe bet that the Techmen will again have a strong passing attack with Mickey Slaughter back in the kennel along with such receivers as Jerry Griffin, Charlie Bouregois, Billy Keever, Paul Labenne and other younger players.

A third or fourth place finish has been forecast for the Techsters in the GSC race, but Tech and its pro-type offense is likely to cause opponents plenty of misery during the campaign.

Tech's defense was adequate most of the time last season, but was not up to Tech standards of previous seasons. Nor could the Bulldogs three and four-yard the opposition into submission on the ground as in the past.

A real strong ground attack would make Slaughter's passing even more effective and no one knows that better than Coach Joe Aillet and his Tech staff. Operating behind Slaughter will be Pat Shows of Ruston, Bruce Weaver, North Caddo soph, and Billy Laird, frosh from Woodlawn of Shreveport.

There should be a real scramble for the halfback jobs. Paul Labenne of Shreveport and Bob Ashley of Minden may rate shots at the starting berths but they will draw stiff competition from such as Jitterbug Jack Odom of Fair Park, Kenny Tidwell of North Caddo, Mickey Strother of Farmerville, Wayne Noland of Tallulah, Corky Corkern of Bossier City, Tommy Robertson of North Caddo, Jerry Barr of Shreveport Jesuit, Jack Hopkins of Waterproof, Dwain Nettles and Alvin Ballard of Baton Rouge Istrouma, and Jay Westbrook of Ruston.

Nothing is set at fullback either and any one of four players could cop the top berths there. Wally Martin of Ruston and Ronnie Carson of Jonesboro-Hodge are more experienced but Charlie Miller of Sicily Island and Gerald McDowell of Sulphur, both red shirts last year, could oust them.

A good old fashioned intrasquad battle for backfield positions seems assured at Tech during training prior to the Sept. 29 opener.

72-MAN SQUAD

'Big' Fits West Monroe's Size, Must Prove Ability

The answer to West Monroe High's football success in 1962 may lie in the game's key positions - quarterback and the interior of the line.

If enough men come through at these spots the Rebels of Coach Cecil Pirkey should roll. And right now Pirkey feels he'll have sufficient quality at these posts and the other positions to field one good team. He is praying no one will get injured.

Only eight lettermen were lost from the 1961 team, while 16 return. But the losses were heaviest at center, guard tackle and quarterback.

KEY LOSSES

Gone are veteran linemen Gene Averett, Neil Young, Jewell McBroom, Butch LaBrano, Richard Cook and Barry White. One index of their worth to West Monroe is that LaBrano signed a football scholarship to Louisiana State, McBroom to Northeast, and Averett will run track for the Indians.

The backfield losses were quarterback Fred Nexton and fullback J. C. Lizer.

Otherwise, the Rebels, who have 72 men out for varsity football, are bigger than a year ago and have a hard running, fast backfield. A lot of college teams won't field a bigger eleven.

HEARD QUARTERBACK

The answer to the quarterback problem will have to be senior Faz Heard (170). Heard is not an expert passer and may be a bit slow, but he knows the mechanics of quarterbacking well and makes up for any shortcomings with extra effort.

At fullback are speedsters Woody Woodcock (170) and Charlie Van Zile (180). Woodcock was West Monroe's leading rusher a year ago with 659 yards and a spectacular 10.2 per carry average. Van Zile clipped off 445 yards for a healthy 5.1.

At fullback the Rebels have bruising Bobby Brice (190) who really came on his own in late season last fall. Brice rambled 229 yards, most of it up the middle where the going was rough. He could be one of the best backs in 5-AAA this fall.

With a backfield that can roll with good quarterback, tackle-

-ship, the only other question is the line.

GOOD ENDS

End is relevantly well manned with Chuck Crawford (190), Reggie Pleasant (185) and Richard Jones (215) battling for the two top positions.

But the interior of the line is another question.

Pirkey has one returning tackle and nine other boys out for the position. The returnee, Mike Shepherd (220), has one post just about nailed down. Right now the other spot is still up for grabs, but transfer Howard May (200) has the inside track. May played for Morgan City before moving to West Monroe.

At guard, the Rebels have a six - man race going on for the two positions. Charles Womack (200), Jerry Gilbert (180), Roger Bell (180), Rodney Shean (175), Charles Beasley (180), and Glenn Carter (200) are all scraping for the openings.

WESTON AT CENTER

Morgan Weston (190) should handle offensive center duties, turning the defensive over to Larry Pittard (170).

Any way you look at it, West Monroe will be big, a good bit bigger than last year.

If the quarterback, exterior line and depth questions clear up it could be a banner year for the Rebels.

Even Pirkey feels they will clear up, at least enough to predict having a better team than the 6-4 edition which won six and lost four.

But, he pointed out, this won't guarantee a better year in the won, lost column. Just about everybody else in the district should be stronger too.

Like all football teams, the 1962 West Monroe club is pretty much a question mark before the season opens. You'll have to wait and see to know what the Rebels can do.

Fullback Jim Taylor of the Green Bay Packers spends the off-season tending his ranch with 20 head of Black Angus cattle in Louisiana.

The Detroit Lions have played before 10,201,459 paying customers in 326 games since they entered the National Football League in 1934.

McCULLEY HERDS RAMS

Bastrop Striving For Speed, Depth

BASTROP, La. (Special) — Seventeen returning lettermen and adequate materials at each position seem to insure Coach Pete McCulley of a good team in his first year as head mentor at Bastrop High this fall.

The former Louisiana Tech quarterback is not overly optimistic, however. McCulley, who was an assistant at Stephen F. Austin and the University of Houston before coming to Bastrop, is afraid he lacks the speed and depth to be outstanding in the tough 1-AAA race.

Though his Bastrop Rams do have 17 back from the squad that won six and lost four a year ago, they also lost 12 lettermen. Among this number are some that will be hard to replace, such as tackle Dan Irby, guard Lawrence Nugent, quarterback Ed Worley and halfbacks Wade Akins and Pete Perot.

Nor does the new coach feel the number of lettermen he has necessarily indicates his team's strength.

The backfield is in good shape with two top quarterback prospects and a number of fine running backs on hand. In the line the Rams will be well manned at center and adequate at tackle. But McCulley is worried about guard where he has only one letterman back and end where the trouble is inexperience.

McCulley should have a good quarterback in Rickey Head (165), who is a capable passer, an intelligent play caller and an all-round athete. McCulley feels he has great potential. Head will get backing from Rickey Reynolds (165).

Fullback will be one of the better positions with Billy Deville (180) back for another year. Deville gained around 700 yards in '61. Depth is present in sophomore John Bailey (185). He's another boy with good prospects and should see lots of action this fall.

The halfback positions are well managed. On board are James Chunn (160), who ground out over 600 yards last fall, letterman Mickey Michaud (170), Scott Rawls (145) and Howard Carver(145). McCully isn't completely sure who he'll use yet.

The biggest question mark is the line.

Two lettermen return at center. Mike Freeland (178) should get the starting nod, with support coming from Bill Nunnally (185).

At tackle the Rams have four lettermen back. Starters will be John Croswell and Sam Boyd (210). Croswell stands 6-3 and weighs 215. He could be one of the best linemen in the district. Others on hand are Bill Ramer (180) and Leonard Benoit (190).

Three lettermen ends return. All three are relatively light. Starters should be Morris Funderburgh (170) and Delbert Kelly (155). Warren Myers (160) could break into the starting eleven.

Charles Brumfield (175), a transfer from Hahnville, could be one answer to the guard problem. Glynn Murphy (185), the only other lettermen, is also gunning for starting berth. Other figures in the guard picture are Ronnie Yates (170) and Nelson Orr (190).

McCulley teams in the past have been noted for their passing ability and the new Ram mentor has indicated it is an important part of his attack plan, not just a third-down and five measure.

With Reynolds and Head under center McCulley may have the material he needs for this type strategy. If he does and the line turns out well, Bastrop could be rough in '62.

CHARLES McCLENDON steps into a major task as head coach of the Louisiana State Tigers this year. A proven ability indicates he'll be equal to the job.

MOODY IS QUESTION

LaSalle Entering Tough 2-A Loop

By ROBERT C. WAGNER

OLLA, La. (Special) — Reorganization of Louisiana high school football has put LaSalle of Olla in probably the toughest Class A district in the state, 2-A.

The district includes such powerhouses as Ferriday, Delhi, Tallulah, Rayville and Lake Providence.

Also in the district are Winnsboro, Farmerville, and Oak Grove.

New opponents for coach Lowell Morrison's Tigers leave game prognosticators a little wary but an even bigger question mark is LaSalle star Jimmie Moody.

The speedy halfback sparked the Tiger offense last year, leading in scoring and yardage gained and performing the extra point kicking.

Moody suffered a knee injury near the close of the season, however, and is still not at full speed. In early practice sessions, he was not working out in pads. Nine lettermen among seven seniors, three juniors and 22 sophomores and freshmen mean Morrison will have to rely on sophomores to fill out a starting lineup. He faces the job of building a group of young, inexperienced boys into a potent football machine.

Lettermen returning include Tommy Cruse, Billy Masters, Buddy Williams, Jimmie Moody, David Williams, Wendell Roberts, Mike Baker, Bobby Loe and Roger Price.

Squadmen are Petey Randall, Kenneth Mauterer, Dwain Kirkham, Danny Cornett, Damon Bradford, Smith Hopkins, Jeffrey Zeagler, Allen Maxwell, Buddy Harris, Everett Williams, David Miles, Phillip Mapp, Bobby Moreau, Joe Cruse, Billy Walsworth, Ricky Tyler, Terry Head, Gary Nelson, Paul Gates, John Coleman, Mike Russell, Mike McCartney and Tim Callender.

Five home games are on the LaSalle schedule that opens as a conference scramble right from the start when the Tigers host Delhi's Black Bears on Sept. 7. Jena will be here Sept. 14, and Winnsboro delivers another 2-A challenge Sept. 21. Other home dates are Mansfield, Oct. 19, and Winnfield, Nov. 16.

The Tigers travel for games at Vidalia, Sept. 28; Lake Providence, Oct. 12; Ferriday, Oct. 26; Rayville, Nov. 2; and Columbia, Nov. 9. Only open date on the LaSalle slate is Oct 5.

Techman Lee Ready To Try Job As Wing

RUSTON, La. (Special) — Louisiana Tech grid fans are apt to see a lot more of David Lee, frosh punting specialist from Minden last year, who will step out of the specialist category this campaign.

Lee, who averaged 40 yards on 49 punts last season, had a shoulder injury that confined his action to kicking. A successful off-season operation has him ready to battle for one of the end positions on the Bulldog team.

Many persons contend that the Minden product could already punt with the best of them in the professional ranks. He can consistently boot the ball from 60 to 80 yards in the air and has made good progress in the last year.

Lee was an exceptionally good pass receiver at Minden in the prep ranks and could become one of Mickey Slaughter's top targets this fall. The sophomore terminal is 6-4 and 200 pounds, has good hands but is not exceptionally fast.

Despite distance in punting, Lee's kicks caused Tech some misery early last season. He was kicking the line drive, which enabled the enemy to return them. However, by mid-season, Lee also had the loft to go with the distance and very few kicks were returned.

"We feel our kicking game will be in good shape with Lee and other capable punters on the squad. It is hard to improve on a 40.0 average, but we expect to cut down sharply the number of returns made by opponets in comparison with last year," Coach Joe Aillet said.

SOUTHSIDE OF MONROE

Just 3 Pels Have Grid Experience

Coach Charles Denham begins his second year at Southside High with hopes of improving on last fall's 3-8 record, but a woefully inexperienced squad with which to do it. Only three of Denham's Southside Pelican's have any previous experience.

The three are guard Vernon Weaver (160), end Ronnie Holliday (145) and halfback Albert Thibodeaux (160). Weaver was a starter for Southside in 1961, Holliday was a squad member last year and Thibodeaux did his playing elsewhere.

Yet Denham believes the job can be done. "With work we have prospects of a better season than a year ago," he said, adding that the '61 record was the worst at Southside in several years.

Denham, who has 44 candidates out, already knows who will start at most of the posts but still has battles going on at tackle, guard and end.

His top loss off the '61 team was probably left halfback Wilson Sepulvado, a good all-round athlete. To take his place Denham is counting on 155 - pound Charles Alford.

Thibodeaux will probably team with Alford at the other halfback spot, while Carl Lucas (160) seeems to have the fullback job sewed up. Richard Ladner (150) is the number one quarterback at present.

Other backfield candidates who may break through are quarterback Bradley LaBrosse (160), halfback George Myers (135) and fullback Donald Johnson (175).

Harold Moore (155) gets the nod at center, Weaver or John Bertrand (160) will handle one guard post with James McGraw (165) at the other.

At tackle, James Barnhill (170) is anchoring one spot while Frank Grice (160) and Johnny Schexneyder, the one really big boy on the team at 270, battle for the other.

Anothery Johnny Schexnayder (160), this one spelled with an a, is heir to one end position and Holliday and Haskell Whittington (160) are waging a fight for the other.

At present Southside's schedule is incomplete.

RUSTON HIGH School will be depending a lot this season on back Melvin Ray Shows, veteran Bearcat quarterback.

IF GARY PAPPAS can start the 1962 season like he ended the 1961 campaign he could be one of Neville High's outstanding backs. After playing in the shadow of more experienced stars all last year, Pappas scored the winning touchdown in the double-A state championship game with Lee of Baton Rouge to end the season.

TROJANS NUMBER 49

Tallulah Defends Class A Throne

By N. A. "BOB" WHITE
Editor, the Madison Journal

TALLULAH, La. (Special) — Forty-nine grid hopefuls reported to Tallulah High School football coaches R. A. "Racer" Holstead, Billy Laird and Martin Verhagen to carry the fortunes of the Trojans in defense of their state Class A championship. Of this number only 12 are lettermen, including five starters from the 1961 championship team.

Trojan followers can look for a much lighter backfield than usual for Tallulah, but Coach Holstead indicates his ends and tackles will about measure up to that to which Tallulah has become accustomed. But there's need to build at the guards to bring the line back to par.

After all, you can't lose such linemen as Donald Hodge and Billy Ross Graves, or backs like Chapman Lee and Leonard Neuman and expect to take up where you left off last season.

Supporting the five regulars back in the lineup will be eight other lettermen, but the big need is to develop more experience in the reserve talent.

Lettermen back, including the regulars, are ends Richard Peeples, John Howard Watts, James Reeves and Bill Gilfoil, but the latter may miss the full season because of a foot operation; tackles Jerry Wilson and Shelton Eubanks; guards Buster Erwin and Ludia Westmoreland; center Tommy Bishop; halfbacks James Wilson and Ed Yerger; fullback Mike Luckett; and quarterback Donald Trichell.

Supporting squadmen, many to play important roles in the new campaign for THS include ends Shelby Watson, David Godfrey, Chris Friis, Claude DeMoss, Kenneth Graham and Don Morton; tackles Allen Williams, Tony Russell, Danny Watson and Lane Wilson; guards Donald Rich, Johnny Trichell, Ronald Hancock, James Durr, A. J. Whitley and Brooks Nichols; centers Donald Lee, Charles Wilson, and James Thomas; halfbacks Kenneth Smith, Jerry Goings, Bobby Todd, Ed Lee, Woody Cagnolatti, Wayland Durr, Howard Morgan, Wayne White, Artie Bray, John Purvis and Danny White; fullbacks Buddy Caldwell, Bobby Morgan, Sammy Weems and Donny Neumann; and quarterbacks Donald Collins, Billy Wayne Laird and David Cagnolatti.

As usual, Tallulah will open the season against the tough Big Eight Conference Mississippi rivals, Cooper High Greenies, at Vicksburg next Friday night, and the Trojans will still be in Mississippi a week later to face Magee on Sept. 14 before appearing in their home opener against the Farmerville Farmers in a Sept. 21 2-A district conference game, to be followed a week later by another conference scrap with Oak Grove here, Sept. 28.

THE STRONG ARM of Mickey Slaughter, veteran Louisiana Tech back, should again make the Bulldogs one of the Gulf States Conference's most feared passing teams.

Other home games will include Bayville, Oct. 12; Lake Providence, Oct. 19; Neville of Monroe, Oct. 26; Ferriday, Nov. 9; and Delhi, Nov. 16.

The Trojans will travel for dates other than the early Mississippi trips to Newellton, Oct. 5 and Winnsboro, Nov. 2.

Ruston Going 'T' For Hoss Garrett

RUSTON, La. Special—After nearly a quarter of a century as an exponent of the Notre Dame box system of football, coach L. J. "Hoss" Garrett starts his 25th year at Ruston High School with a switch to the winged-T.

And the quarterbacks to run the T-model machine will come from Melvin Ray Shows, Tommy Folk, Lee Mitchell and Bill Jones, the latter a son of W. A. "Dub" Jones, onetime Ruston High and professional football star.

A 48-player squad answered the opening call for football practice with the roster broken down into ten seniors, 17 juniors, and 21 sophomores.

Seniors are Billy Works, Jimmy Dodds, Jimmy Tait, Carroll Cathy, Tommy Hlburn, Wayne Martin, Bobby Jeffcoat, Wesley Irby, Jimmy Moore and James Gouedy.

Six of Ruston's eleven games this year will be played at home, starting with Minden next Friday night.

MARRUS RETURNS

43 Grid Players Toiling For J-H

By RAYMOND JEFFRESS

JONESBORO, La. (Special) — A total of 43 candidates, including nine lettermen from the 1961 team, reported to head coach E. J. Lewis as the Jonesboro - Hodge Hgih School Tigers began practice for the 1962 football season.

The Tigers open their season at home against Bastrop September 7, then go to Ouachita Sept. 14, to West Monroe Sept. 21, to Minden Sept. 28, and to Neville for their first district 2-AA game October 5.

They play Natchitoches at home Oct. 12, and Haynesville at home Oct. 19, the latter a district game. Then they go to Winnfield for a district game Oct. 26, to Pineville November 2, and end the campaign with a home district game against Ruston November 9.

Last year, Jonesboro - Hodge won five, lost five, and tied Mansfield 7-7 in the Jonesboro Paper Bowl.

Robert Marrus, a 198-pound senior, was the leading scorer in District 2-AA last season with 74 points, was a unanimous All-District selection, and is expected to be a contender for All - State honors in 1962. He has two previous letters, as has 172-pound senior halfback Jim Jones. Other lettermen include halfbacks Alden Reeves and Johnny Dye (the latter a transfer student from Virginia), end Johnny Shows, guards Jim Gregory, Richard Vail and Tommy Frey, quarterback Phil Marrus, and center Johnny Dennis.

Co-captains elected by the team are halfback Alden Reeves and guard Jim Gregory.

At quarterback, 147- pound junior Phil Marrus is expected to start. He lettered at the position last year, and will be backed up by 172 - pound sophomore Randy Moffett.

There are nine halfback candidates. Left halfback Jim Jones, 172, a senior with two letters, and 175 - pound senior right halfback Aldern Reeves, give the Tigers as fine a pair of halfbacks as they have had in many a year.

Jones is expected to be an outstanding punter this year, and his passing ability makes him a real triple - threat back. Reeves, a fine blocker, also is a good pass-receiver. Both are hard runners with plenty of speed.

They will be backed up by Johnny Dye, who earned two letters in a Virginia military school and is very fast; Bill DeCou and Eddie McMillan, both expected to see lots of action; Marvin Cavett, Gary Boone, Barry Womack, and Terry Terrell.

At fullback is the incomparable Robert Marrus, who broke all kinds of individual school records last year with his bruising running, giving the Tigers an outstanding backfield. Lowell Mize will also see action at this position, along with Mike Kelly and, if necessary, Johnny Garlington can transfer from his starting end position to play here.

The probable starters at end are 151 - pound senior Johnny Shows, who showed Tiger fans last year some fine pass - catching ability, and 187 - pound junior Johnny Garlington, a fine all-round ballplayer who can play either end or fullback, and has run the 100 - yard dash in 10.5. Ernie Bamberg, Richard Buchan, Mike Page, Rodney Alexander, Kenneth Walker, Gerald Alexander, Ronnie Walsworth, and Travis Ayres are the other end candidates.

Of the nine tackle candidates, not a single one has earned a previous letter. However, 176-pound sophomore Mike Garrett and 197 - pound senior J. W. Tumlin should man these positions quite capably. Robert Harper and Lynn Duke, the latter a 222-pound junior, also will see lots of action.

Other tackle candidates include David Tumlin, Andy Roby, Jerry Pyles, Gary Gatlin, and Gerald Foster. Foster weighs 275 pounds as a 15-year-old junior.

The seven guard candidates are all small, but 138 - pound senior Tommy Frey and 145-pound senior Richard Vail are as tough as they come. Aubrey Futrell and LeRoy Ashley will play a great deal, along with Jim Gregory, a 148 - pound junior linebacker who was outstanding last year, and is a team co - captain. David Stewart and Edward Sones are juniors who are improving steadily.

At center, 181 - pound junior Curtis Swanner will probably start but 152 - pound junior Johnny Dennis will see plenty of action, also. Danny Spring, a sophomore, is the other center candidate.

WIDE OPEN JOBS

Winnsboro Plugs Holes

By OTIS HASSELL

WINNSBORO, La. (Special) — Coach Milford Andrews, starting his second year at Winnsboro High School, said that all eleven Winnsboro Wildcat team positions are "wide open" even though he has 13 lettermen and five squadmen returning from last year.

Coach Andrews and assistant coaches John Pickett and Monroe Fowler will have to use these 18 men and a transfer from Rayne High School to replace eight first stringers of the 1961 team who were lost by graduation, and then use them and the new man who have come out in an attempt to mold a winning combination which will top last years record of only three wins in 11 starts.

Lettermen lost by graduation were quarterback Bobby Boyett, fullback David Elkin, halfbacks Randy Shirley and Harold Schooler, end Fabian Geisman, guard Devone Killingsworth, and tackles Bob Schwendimann and Thurman Dickey.

The transfer member of the Wildcat squad is 140 - pound senior Oliver Tyson who comes to Winnsboro from Rayne where he was an outstanding halfback.

The returning lettermen include six seniors, Roger Elkin, Kerry Gordy, Bruce Kolb, Bubba Shaw, Buddy Smith and Jerry Thomas; five juniors, Bill Griffing, Donnie Johnson, Bill Marioneaux, Charles Priest and Danny Priest; and two sophomores, David Shirley and Bobby Smith. Returning squadmen are Donnie Emfinger and Joe Hooper, juniors; and Joe Smith. Returning squadmen Curtis Tyson, Larry Polk and Buie Mays, sophomores.

Coach Andrews said that although the squad as a whole is young and inexperienced and there is a lack of overall team speed, the seniors are expected to do a good job and that the success of the 1962 edition of the Winnsboro Wildcat eleven will depend on the hard work and leadership of the seniors.

SHORN OF SPEED

Neville's Dire Situation Warning Enough For Foes

Neville football opponents, look out. The overall picture at the Monroe school reads like a sheet torn out of the 1961 forecast.

First, the Neville Tigers have 15 lettermen back. Second, only four of them were starters last fall. And third, Head Coach Bill Ruple isn't too happy about the situation.

In 1961 Neville had 13 returning lettermen. Two of them were starters the year before. And Ruple was very unhappy.

Yet, on a cold, rainy night in December last year, halfback Gary Pappas picked off a Lee High pass at Brown Stadium in Monroe and returned it 43 yards for a touchdown that gave Ruple's Tigers their second state AA championship in three years.

In between, Ruple's poor, little boys had blitzed through 11 other opponents with a group of relatively inexperienced boys who were almost too small to play football. What Ruple had done was mold them into the most precision drilled and fastest machine in the state.

SIZE FOR SPEED

Now in '62, despite the other similarities, the philosophy must change. Neville has lost its speed. And this is one of the things that makes Ruple unhappy.

Most of the speed loss is in the backfield where eight men have departed. However, the Tigers will also be without some of their quickest linemen.

Among those who will be missed most are arrow - swift backs: Ralph Roberts, Don Brant, Jerry Jones, Wilson and Payne. In the line the Tigers will be without stellar performers Hershal Walker, Bunzy Bryant, Steve Jefferson, Bob Duncan and defensive specialist Don Christiansen. Both Jefferson and Bryant were on the Tiger relay teams.

What Neville has lost in speed, it must make up with size. It shouldn't be hard. With one exception, Neville's tentative starters on offense weigh as much as a lot of college performers.

That one exception is halfback Jimmy Howard (160), one of the fastest from the lightning-swift corps of backs Neville had last year.

DEPTH PROBLEM

Ruple's other big worry is depth. The Tigers had boys to spare in '61. They could use one - way specialists at key posts on defense and when one boy got hurt, another was ready to take his place. Best example of this was halfback Mike Wilson's electrifying replacement job for injured Robert Payne.

This year Ruple fears he will have one good unit and very little to back it up. How valid his fears are is yet to be seen. Ruple divided his men into two units in the spring squad game and they battled each other to a hearty, mistake - free tie, 19-19.

One big factor in Ruple's favor is his ability to get the most of what he has. In seventeen years at Neville Ruple teams have won 134 games, lost 40 and tied two. He has seen one losing season. A record like this doesn't come from poor coaching.

ONE BACKFIELD STARTER

Neville's experience trouble may be worst in the backfield where Howard is the only returning starter.

However, he will have a good quarterback in 190 - pound Don Saget. The big boy is a fine runner, and appeared much more polished in the intra - squad game. He can throw a long ball and even Ruple expects him to be a "fair" passer before the season is over.

Kurt Guelzow (175), who was switched from end, should be Howard's running mate at the other halfback post. Guelzow also performed well during the spring game, shining on both offense and defense.

Don Johnson, a 170 - pounder is the tentative starter at fullback.

In the line, the worst losses were at end and guard. In addition, the transfer of Guelzow to halfback has made the flanker post even weaker.

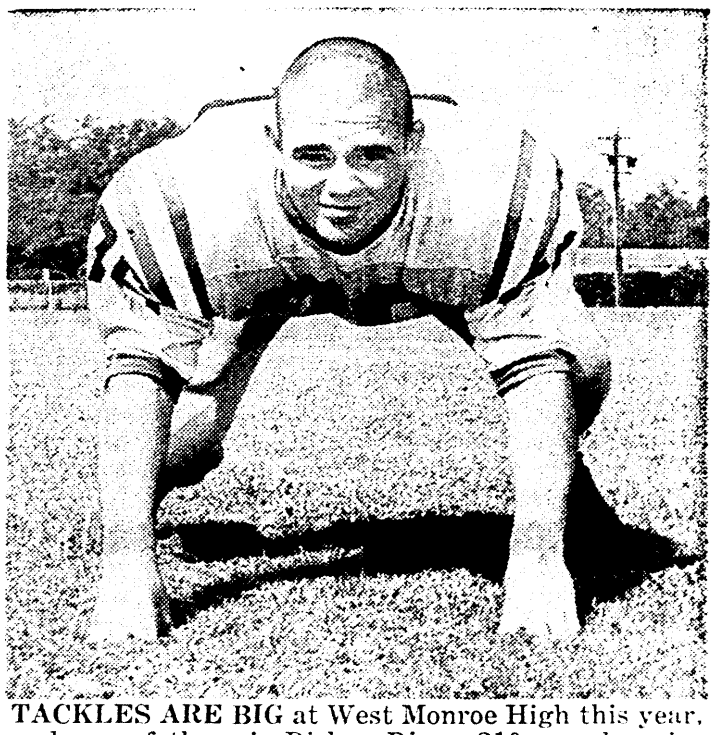
BIG ENDS

Just the same Ruple will have a pair of big boys at end in Gary Hart (175) on offense and Ronald Killen (179) both ways. On defense, the Tigers will switch offensive right guard Jim Willis (183) to left end.

Pete Terzolas (170), will team up with Willis at offensive guard, while Nick White (195) and Pappas will take charge of the defensive guard chores.

Tom Sparks (200) should get the starting nod at center, with Andy Mapp (195) and John Segars (245) handling the tackles. Mapp, who was an offensive guard last year, has been moved over to replace Duncan, one of the finest tackles in school boy football a year ago.

On defense Neville will operate mainly from what is basically a 6-2-3, though the 5-4-2 will still be used some. In addition to the defensive guards and ends, the Tigers will use Mapp and Segars at tackle, Sparks and Johnson at linebacker, Howard and Guelzow as the halfbacks and Saget at safety.



TACKLES ARE BIG at West Monroe High this year, and one of them is Rickey Riser, 210-pound senior letterman. (Staff photo by Ben Bradford)

TALENT-DEPTH PROBLEM

Wisner Strength In 25-Man Squad

By OTIS HASSELL

WISNER (Special)—Coach Wilton Hoggatt and assistant coach W. E. Meredith have 24 boys out at Wisner High School who are working very hard to have a well rounded team.

Lack of sufficient depth is the same old problem, but Coach Hoggatt reports that the entire squad is showing lots of determination, enthusiasm and hustle. The 24-man squad will be led by nine returning lettermen and the Class B Wisner Bulldogs should provide some stiff competition as they campaign in the tough District 3-B.

Returning lettermen are Morgan Ensminger, quarterback; Mike Caldwell and Mickey Carroll, halfbacks; W. H. Sanders, fullback; Jerold Beach, Tom Gough and Kenneth Milby, tackles; Larry Lachney, end, and Joe Pike, center.

Other members of the Bulldog squad are: Henry Beach, Walter Beach, Butch Calhoun, Dale Clark, Bobby Dampier, Thomas Edwards, Tommy Ensminger, Buddy Ferguson, Ronnie Ferrington, Lionell Hilburn, Tommy King, Jerry McManus, David Moore, Gene Pickering and David Roach.

Wisner will open its season against the Mangham Dragons here September 7.

Following home games will be with Waterproof, Sept. 20; Sicily Island, Sept. 28; Vidalia, Oct. 5, and Crowville, Nov. 16.

23-MAN SQUAD

Thompson Takes Crowville Reins

By OTIS HASSELL

CROWVILLE, La. (Special) — Coach Clyde Thompson in his first year as head coach at Crowville High School has his work cut out for him.

The District 3B Crowville Bulldogs have won only one game in the past two years and have a 23-man squad out this year which includes nine returning lettermen.

Coach Thompson is 25 and comes to Crowville from Vidalia High School where he was assistant coach for the past two years. Last year Vidalia was District 3-B champion and lost out in the semi - finals in the state playoff.

Thompson is a product of Delhi High School and Louisiana Tech. He quarterbacked the Delhi Bears from 1952 through 1955 and was quarterback for the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs. He graduated from Tech in 1958.

Coach Thompson and his asstants Judson Warren and Claude Ezell have been holding two-a-day practice sessions since August 15 and report that although the squad is young and inexperienced, they have been working hard and that there is a great deal of improvement especially in the younger players.

First action for the Bulldogs will be on September 7 when they host Davidson High School of St. Joseph at Crowville in a conference tilt.

FIGHTING FIFTEEN

Newellton Grid Ranks Are Thin

By JACK POE

NEWELLTON, La. (Special) — The number one problem confronting Coach Frank Mobley as he makes his debut at Newellton High School this season is squad depth. Opening day of fall practice on August 15th found 22 hopefuls checking in but after a couple of days of practice this dwindled down to 15. Two of these have had no varsity experience.

The teams seems to line up with Allen Bozeman at quarterback, Edwin Preis and George Cooper at halfback, and Allen Perritt at fullback. These will be assisted by Lamar Barnett, the smallest man on the squad at 120, and Mike Parker.

Up front Mobley has placed Danny Kifer and Danny Cannon on the flanks. Hoyt Arnold, Paul Higginbotham, and Mack Shellgrove at tackle, James Taylor and Charles Tullos at Guard and Lyn Beasley at center. Irvin Roby is utility man for the middle of the line.

Those are the troops to do battle for the maroon and white of Newellton for 1962 unless school bells bring more recruits. Its the smallest squad in numbers seen at Newellton in many years.

But there are some good things that coach Mobley and assistant Coach Buddy Palmer have for consideration. First of all 13 of these fellows saw some action last year. And even tho they had a miserable 2-8 season last year, Edwin Preis managed to carry 81 times for 399 yards while Perritt carried 114 for 599 yards. Either of the two are dangerous runners. Futhermore, with Bozeman and Cooper both better than average passers and Kifer and Cannon being two pretty fair receivers, the game promises to open up. That seems to be what the fans enjoy - and it does put the pressure on the defense.

Not wanting to get too far out on the old pole we will have to make the preseason forecast that these 1962 Bears will win at least five of their games, maybe more, depending on the kind of injury luck. We can see some All District material in Edwin Preis, George Cooper, James Taylor and Danny Kifer, with Lyn Beasley in the running. We believe that the Newellton fans will enjoy this season.

The squad may be lean, but the schedule is as tough as ever, calling for the same list of opponents that beat the Bears eight out of ten last year.

The schedule, with '61 scores in parenthesis, Newellton's listed first:

Sept. 7—Winnsboro, there (6-13)
Sept. 14 —Black, here (7-26)
Sept. 21 —Crowville, here (33-7)
Sept. 28 —Columbia, there (27-26)
Oct. 5 —Tallulah, here (7-45)
Oct. 12 —Vidalia, there (7-27)
Oct. 19 —Wisner, here (7-26)
Oct. 26 —Open
Nov. 2 — Davidson, here (6-26)
Nov. 9 —Sicily Island, there (13-50)
Nov. 16 —Waterproof, there (7-20)

OPEN THURSDAY

Waterproof Club Up With 'Hustle'

WATERPROOF, La. (Special) —The ranks of the Waterproof High School Tigers are thin as usual, but Coach Bill Lansing in welding a young and inexperienced squad into a club that shows lots of hustle with intentions of furnishing 3-B rivals a contender.

A small school like Waterproof can't take a cut in the regular ranks like the loss of ends Charles Powell and Calvin Rabb, tackle Edward Berry, guard Billy Hale, and halfbacks Charles Welch and Vic Mahoney and be expected to find replacements ready made.

Eight returning lettermen are the main asset of the Tensas Tigers. These include tackle Phillip James, 185-pound senior; guard Freddy Hughes, 200-pound senior; end Byron Butler, 150-pound senior; and backs Howard Walker, 155, and Myles Hopkins, 150, both juniors, all regulars last season.

They're supported by lettermen William Clarke, 210-pound junior tackle; George Johns, 150-pound senior end; and Robert Mize, 150-pound senior back.

Newcomers appearing ready to crack the Waterproof lineup are Mal Lancaster, a guard and center; halfback Sammy Martein; and Walter Butler, Ricky Silvertooth and Tru Goldman or Lancaster, all fighting it out for the pivot job.

Bill Walker is teaming with Hopkins as passer and punter in the multiple-T machine being developed by coaches Lansing and Dan Poole.

Waterproof opens a ten-game schedule here Thursday with the Southside Pelicans of Monroe.

NEWELLTON HIGH leans strongly on senior fullback Allen Perritt, a power runner who led scoring for the Bears last season. Also passes and plays strong defense.

Other home games follow with Chamberlain Hunt Academy, Sept. 14; Davidson of St. Joseph, Sept. 28; Block of Jonesville, Oct. 25; and Newellton, Nov. 16.

2 REGULARS RETURN

Oak Grove Does Remodeling Job

OAK GROVE, La. (Special) — "Three-five-one" is Coach Woody Boyles' pre-season forecast of Oak Grove High School football fortunes although it could be a much happier year with the figure bigger on the front and more like zero in the middle.

Last year Oak Grove won three, lost five, and tied two, and a young and inexperienced club that shows only two starting seniors is grounds enough for Coach Boyles to anticipate a near repeat of the 1961 record.

Four juniors and five sophomores will comprise the starting lineup for a squad that lost 18 lettermen last spring.

The only regulars back on duty are quarterback Mitchell Butler, 155-pound senior, and Dennis Sanford, junior right tackle at 152 pounds.

Lettermen returned are fullbacks Lloyd McMillan and Mickey Broadway, both sophomores and 160 each; halfbacks Vernon Bankston, 155, senior, and David Kennedy, 162, junior; center Kent Davis, 162, junior; tackle Jerry Hagan, 178, tackle; and end Mickey Turner, 165, junior.

New faces moving into the line with Sanford and Butler are unsettled, and apparently the only additions already near clinching jobs are tackle Hagan, guard Colburn Colquette, center Davis, and backs Mike Gammill, Kennedy, and Broadway.

It's tough to lose boys like ends Bobby Bonnett and Joe Pat Phillips, tackle Carlton Smith, guards James E. Shivers and Billy Turner, outstanding pivotman Zane Tubbs, and backs Sammy Smith, Roger Hudson, and George Murphy and come up with a winner overnight.

Except for one tackle, the defensive unit seems nearer polish than the offense. McMillan and Phillip Smith have been installed at guards; Hagan at a tackle, Gammill and Murphy at ends; Davis and Jim Boyles, the latter a 14-year-old freshman, as linebackers; Kennedy and Butler as halfbacks, and Broadway at safety.

Columbia and Eudora, Ark., teams that beat Oak Grove by identical 20-14 scores last year, have been dropped from the new schedule, the places taken by Vidalia, defending district 3-B champion, and Plain Dealing. The Tigers can't be expecting easier foes as Vidalia and Plain Dealing together amassed 21 victories last season.

Only three games will be played on home soil-Sterlington here Sept. 21; Farmerville, Oct. 12, and Vidalia, Nov. 9.

The rest of the schedule will be met on the road at Delhi, Sept. 14; Tallulah, Sept. 28, Rayville, Oct. 5; Winnsboro, Oct. 26, Plain Dealing, Nov. 2; and Lake Providence, Nov. 16.

WEIGHT SHORTAGE

Columbia Has Swifter Eleven

COLUMBIA, La. (Special) — Coach Jim Turner won't have quite as heavy a team as has been the case at Columbia High School the last few years, but it might be that weight is being sacrificed for speed.

There's evidence that the Crimson Tide, with its multiple-T offense will have a little more speed than usual, and by the time Coach Turner and assistant Glenn Meredith turn their Red and White charges loose that Columbia can claim a leading contender in the 2-B district race.

Return of regulars like Fox McKeithen and Larry Ellerbe at ends, tackle Billy Bolton, guard Virgil Stamper, center Chet Taylor, and halfbacks Jimmy Duff and Bruce Kenney give the Tide a strong hub around which the rest of the club is being built.

Duff, Ellerbe, Kenney, McKeithen, and Traylor are two-year lettermen, and Ellerbe is a sophomore at 155 pounds. McKeithen, 160, is a junior, while Duff, 160; Kenney, 145; and Stamper and Traylor, each 155, are seniors.

Some of the heaviest members of the squad are lettermen back from the 1961 club with more important roles this year, and this list includes a trio of two-year lettermen in fullbacks Bobby Durham, 150, senior, and Clint Thornton, 160, junior; and left end John Bolton, 160, senior.

Loss of right guard Jerry Stapleton and fullback Larry Curry from last season's club have been sore blows to the Tide's offense, but Billy Bolton already seems due to take Stapleton's place in the line, while Clint Thornton is expected to take over at fullback.

There are two changes this year in the Columbia schedule. The Bernice Bears, swinging into a 2-B competition in a switch over from 1-B, replaced Oak Grove, a team Columbia defeated 20-14 last year, and tough LaSalle of Olla, returning to the Columbia slate to renew neighboring parish rivalry, gets the spot held last year by Lake Providence, a Class A club that barely beat the Tide, 13-12.

'LOST TOO MANY MEN'

Winnfield Joins Twin-A Circuit

WINNFIELD, La. (Special) — That old yarn about abdicating a hot skillet to risk the open flame might well fit the Winnfield High Tigers this year.

Winnfield was high ranked statewide in Class A last year before being eventually halted by state champion Tallulah. Now Coach Charles "Hoss" Newman is taking his Winn Tigers into the even tougher double-A jungle.

It's not bad enough that Winnfield now must enter the double-A ranks, but just look at the district these Bengals are in--Neville's defending state champions, Ruston's always dangerous and also former champions, plus rugged Jonesboro-Hodge and Haynesville.

District 2-AA is a tight, compact circuit, but for years it has shown the state's strongest title challengers. Rival coaches will probably be saying: "And now now they have made it tougher by including Winnfield."

But Winnfield is just a shadow of the team that swept through eleven consecutive victories last year before being stopped by Tallulah in the playoffs.

"We are in a rebuilding year and do not expect too much," Coach Newman said. "We lost too many (18) men from last year's squad."

Only Rodney Lenard, 205-pound senior tackle, and Jimmy Bolton, 160-pound senior halfback, are returned from the fine '61 regular lineup.

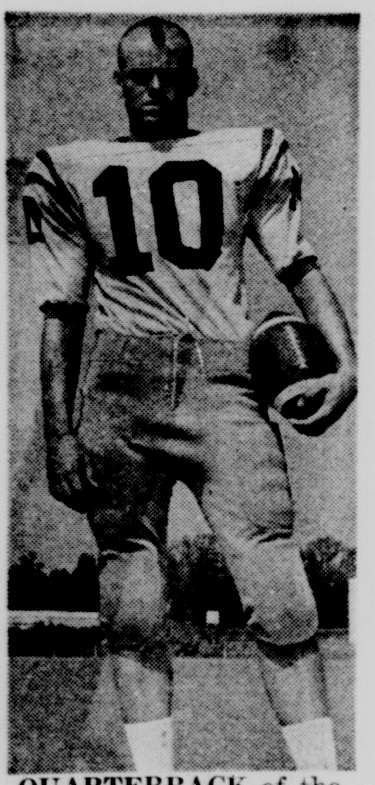
Only other returning lettermen are seniors Ronald Skains, 180, end, and Ronnie Parker, 145, halfback; and juniors Tom Trawick, 190, tackle, Cully Warren, 150, quarterback, and Bob Wyatt, 155, fullback.

Crippling graduation losses have taken such regulars as David Adams and Billy Barton, ends; Wayne McFarland, tackle; Cecil Taylor and Don Jones, guards; Carroll Long, center; quarterback Mike Tinnerello, halfback James Collins, and fullback Rusty Melton.

New faces already apparent in the regular lineup are Kenneth White and Skains, ends; Trawick, tackle; Vernon Blair and Eddie McManus or Joe Spence, guards; Otis Peterson, center; Warren quarterback; Parker at left half; and Wyatt, fullback.

Winnfield opens at home with Ville Platte next Friday night, and home games follow with Homer, Sept. 21; Ruston, Oct. 5; Neville, Oct. 19; and Jonesboro, Oct. 26.

Games that catch Winnfield traveling are Mansfield, Sept. 14; Coushatta, Sept. 28; Natchitoches, Nov. 2; Jena, Nov. 9; and LaSalle at Olla, Nov. 16.



QUARTERBACK of the West Monroe High Rebels is "Buz" Heard, 170-pound senior, who earned his first letter last year.

Tech Center Is Labeled Lonesomest

RUSTON (Special) — J. R. (John Robert) Williamson, Louisiana Tech's outstanding junior center from El Dorado, is described by Tech Coach Joe Aillet as the "lonesomest" center in the Gulf States conference.

Williamson was a holy terror on defense in game after game for the Techmen last season. Aillet labeled him the "lonesomest" center because there is no experience behind him at the Tech pivot post.

Aillet says Williamson is the finest defensive center at Tech since Leo Sanford, the ex-Tech great who went on to play pro football for nine years with the Chicago Cardinals and Baltimore Colts.

"Williamson worked hard on offense during spring training and we think he will easily be the outstanding center in the conference this fall," Aillet said.

"This is not much praise, but Williamson has great speed and can catch any of our halfbacks. He has a natural ability to diagnose plays on defense — he has the uncanny ability to sense where the football is," Aillet said.

Williamson is a bruising tackler as opponents can attest and constantly makes tackles from sideline to sideline.

J. R. is one of the few Arkansas grid products to escape Frank Broyles and his Arkansas dragnet and the Porker mentor must still visualize Williamson in the "monster" role of Arkansas' defense. David Williamson, now an El Dorado assistant coach, was a star halfback at Tech and is John Robert's brother.

The shortage of talent at center will probably result in Williamson having to put in extra duty at the pivot spot. John Blake of Hodge is a returning squad member and Tommy Tilley of Springhill and Mike Cheatham of Eagle Lake, Tex., are frosh center prospects.

All in all, Williamson is likely not only to be the "lonesomest" center in the GSC, but also the busiest.

Three members of Penn State's football coaching staff — Jim O'Hara, Sever Toretti, and Dan Radakovich — are Penn State graduates.

FRESH TALENT at Louisiana Tech can be personified by Wayne Noland, Tallulah, a fullback who helped make the Trojans Louisiana's Class A champions. He's 195-pound power runner high in Tech's grid plans.

PICTURE IMPROVED

Ouachita Has Better Size, But Still Needs Experience

Things are beginning to look up for the Ouachita High Lions. Fifty candidates for varsity and B-team berths greeted Head Coach Bob Ellen the first day of practice, one of the biggest Lion squads in some time. In addition it will be one of the heaviest.

But only six of the fifty were starters a year ago and the Lions will lack depth in the line. In addition Ouachita will field a fairly young team with six seniors, 25 juniors and 19 sophomores.

FAST BACKS

Ellen has a good supply of running backs. They are small, but fast. He has a good punter in end Jack Trimble (160) who averaged 42 yards per kick last year, and a big, if inexperienced forward wall.

Both first string ends were starters last year. In addition to Trimble, Ellen has Billy Gerson (170). Backing must come from sophomores Wayne Stover (170) and Elmer Smith (160).

Junior tackles Larry Lolly (225) and Harvey Carsey (215) get the starting nod and obviously will give Ouachita plenty of heft here. Lolley was a starter in '61 and Carsey lettered as a JV. Behind them are two more sophomores, John Brooks (195) and Bobby Nixon (175).

INEXPERIENCED GUARDS

Guard may be the most inexperienced spot. Tentative starters are Hughie Parker (190), a senior who is playing his first year of varsity ball and Merrill Moody (155) a sophomore, who lettered last fall. Juniors Ron Powell (205) and Arthur Garlington (150) could break into the starting lineup.

Senior Warren Ward (175) gets the nod at center. He started 50 per cent of the games a year ago. Other centers are Gene Howell (140), a sophomore, and junior Steve Rader (165).

RUNNING QUARTERBACK

Ouachita will get good quarterbacking from junior Kenneth Slusher. At 180, Slusher is the biggest boy in the Lion backfield. He can throw well and is a fine runner, particularly on the option play.

Behind Slusher is Carl Gilstrap (140), a senior who should see action this fall. Gilstrap lettered as a JV in '61 and will provide the Lions with quarterbacking depth.

At right half Ouachita should go with Ronnie Walling (150), Walling, a junior, transferred from Pine Bluff, Arkansas this year.

Junior Freddie Monroe (130) and sophomore Charles Hill (140) can back up Walling.

POWELL AT HALF

Donnie Powell (150), a junior in his first year of varsity ball, is the number one candidate at left half. Any pressure will come from senior Randolph Bowles (150) and sophomore Jimmy McGuffie.

Ellen's biggest boon is the number of boys he has out this year. The drawback is the lack of experience. With the 25 juniors back for another season, '63 could be the big year.

This fall may be too soon for the Lions to really move, though they should be stronger than a year ago and may pull a lot of surprises.

FISHERMEN IS HANDICAPPED

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—A local golfer and a local fishermen were arguing the relative merits of their hobbies.

Finally, the golffer told the fisherman "I have the advantage over you."

"How come?" said the angler.

"Well," said the golfer, "you have to have something to prove your story."

HALF COACHES NEW

LaGrange Looks Like 2-AAA Best

By CHARLIE MEYERS
Written for The Associated Press

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — New coaches will ride at the helms of exactly half of the Southwest District triple-A football teams when the season opens Sept. 7, but it will be the same old story as far as the championship race is concerned — La. Grange.

The Gators, district champions in 1959 and 1960 and the runner-up a year ago, have another power-packed unit this season, one that most observers feel to be head and shoulders above any other in the league.

Jimmy Austin, whose presence is responsible for no small part of the wave of optimism that has swept through Gator fans, will be experiencing his first year as LaGrange head man after a long and successful tenure at Lake Charles High.

And, as one may suspect, quite an array of talent graces the camp of the south Lake Charles school, but the Gators are also not without their problems.

A big question mark is at quarterback, where a converted guard —Lloyd Christ—is counted on to fill the bill. But LaGrange coaches feel that the powerful, 6-foot-2, 195-pounder could develop into a real star. If so, he should be right at home in a gigantic backfield that includes John Demarie, another big (210) ex-lineman at fullback and Rusty Fry (190) at halfback.

Lettermen Terry Esthay and Dickie New will lead a line corps that is amply stocked with big, eager performers.

The race to see who will have the task of challenging the Gators should be a hot one, indeed, with Lafayette, Lake Charles, and Sulphur the most likely candidates for runner-up honors.

Bolton's youthful Bears could challenge this group, but even a wisdom born of 28 years of successful coaching is not expected to enable Faize Mahfouz to lift New Iberia out of its accustomed cellar position in his first year in the Yellow Jacket camp.

Roy Collins, taking over at Lake Charles, will face the problem of inexperienced personnel, but this situation should not be nearly so acute as a year ago when the Wildcats won only two of ten. Improved size and depth could spell a good season for the 'Cats, particularly should a group of eager sophomores develop.

Quarterback Delman McNabb and fullback Paul DeMary, a big, 195-pounder, will be the offensive stars, while tackle Richard Cretini and end James Wolt should anchor the line.

Sulphur coach Jack Doland will be plagued by the loss of every single performer from his 1961 state semi-finalists with the exception of placekicker C. T. Campbell. But all is not gloom in the Tor camp, since the replacements —while small—are the possessors of exceptional speed and attitude. Best bets for stardom this year are Campbell, who will play at end, guard Terry Lyons, tackle Jimmy Istre and quarterback Frank Blake.

Lafayette, bidding for second after last year's third-place finish, should field a sturdy defensive unit, but will depend chiefly upon untried performers for its offensive punch. Tackles Robert Heflin and Jon New and end Walter Dillenback will anchor a sturdy line, but halfback Gerald Hebert is the lone back with real game experience.

New Iberia will have five 1961 regulars and a total of 11 lettermen on hand—the best figures in the district. But it must be remembered that this is the same group that compiled an 0-9 record a year ago. While Mahfouz can be counted on to eventually rejuvenate the Jacket grid fortunes, the accomplishment of that task in 1962 is too much to ask of anyone. Arthur Mazerold, who threw often and quickly behind a porous line last year, will provide real talent at quarterback, but behind him, the Iberians are of unknown quality.

TENNESSEE, TECH CLOSE

LSU, 'Bama, Ole Miss Are 1-2-3 In Southeastern Race

Here is a capsule report of strengths and weaknesses as the start of fall practice nears:

Alabama: Must replace team leader and ace quarterback Pat Trammell. Best bet is sophomore sensation Joe Namath. Fullback Mike Fracchia, SEC rushing leader in 1961, reinjured his left knee and may be lost for the season. Some sophomores will have to deliver as line reserves if the Tide is to maintain its brilliant defensive record.

LSU: Main job is replacing leading scorer Wendell Harris, leading rusher Earl Gros and All-America guard Roy Winston. Rich in talent, LSU should be improved on attack with sophomores Pat Screen (quarterback) and Danny LeBlanc (halfback) joining veterans Jerry Stovall and Lynn Amedee. Interior line may not be quite as strong.

Mississippi: Will rely on more sophomores than usual on second and third units. First team, guided by quarterback Glynn Griffing, should be terrific. Fullback problem could be solved with shift of Perry Lee Dunn from quarterback. Line is very solid.

Tennessee: Tailback star Mallon Faircloth will duel LSU's Stovall for back of the year honors. Vols are bigger and stronger and deeper and may have their best team since 1956 SEC champions.

Georgia Tech: First line will average 222 pounds and should be one of nation's best. Reserves currently under par. Backfield should be stronger with addition of sophomores Jeff Davis, Tommy Jackson and Gerry Russell. Dave Watson at guard might make All-America.

Florida: With more depth than disappointing 1961 team, Gators figure to come back strong. Halfbacks Dick Skelly, Lindy Infante and Bob Hoover among best in the league. Line will be larger, stronger.

Auburn: Line is the problem since most 1961 regulars departed. Back's represent Auburn strength. Keep your eye on sophomore halfback Tucker Frederickson, 215-pound speedster. Maybe a year away from contention for championship.

Kentucky: Rebuilding with new coach, Wildcats nevertheless sport one of nation's great passing combinations in quarterback Jerry Woolum and end Tom Hutchinson, the latter a two-time all-SEC pick. Weak interior line. Also short on backfield speed.

ONE REGULAR BACK

Bernice Enters 2-B Grid Race

BY A. J. LAUTIGAR

BERNICE, La. (Special) — Coach Malvin Sistrunk moved his Bernice High School Bears, who have been campaigning in 1-B, into the 2-B circuit this year with just one regular back from the 1961 club that won five, lost two, and tied three.

"Gone, but not Forgotten" is a phrase that fits 14 departed lettermen, especially all-district Charles Colvin, who was a mention for all-state tackle; Johnny Buckley, halfback who was an all-district mention last year; and end Robert Jackson and guard Jerry Lautigar.

Other departed seniors are tackles Harold Jones and David Jackson, centers Johnny Paine and Woody Reeder, guard Larry Green, end Kermit Pilgreen, quarterback Ronny Fitzgerald, halfbacks Ricky Albritton and Minor Patton, and fullback Roger Reeves.

Right halfback Larry Fitzgerald, 155-pound senior, stands alone as the only starter back from the '61 machine.

Six other lettermen back him up and form the core of the squad coach Sistrunk and assistant Simon Pearson are trying to mould into a winner.

These are Raymond Abercrombie, 155, senior, and Benjamin Farrar, 165, junior, at the tackles; William Lynn, 160, and Henry Lunsford, 145, junior ends; Danny Otts, 150, junior guard; Billy Harry Colvin, 160, junior fullback; and M. L. Moore, 150, senior halfback.

Others making bids for places on the team include Wayne Abercrombie, 140, Ronny Lautigar, 150, Cal Colvin, 135, and Steve Martin, 130, guards; Rudy Hurst, 115, Leo Reeder, 150, Charles Jackson, 155, and James Hurst, 140, ends; Ricky Aden, 145, and Mike Grafton, 145, quarterbacks; Ronny Evans, 135, Johnny Marsh, 115, and Randal Aden, 135, halfbacks; and Roger Simpson, 140, center.

Promising freshmen are Jimmy Lindsey, 160, center; Kenneth Boyett, 160, and Travis Jones, 180, tackles; Ronny Jenkins, 110 and Paul Brazzel, 125, ends; Robert Harkins, 130, and Dickie Roach, 130, guards; and Bruce Dendy, 115, halfback.

Team tri-captains have been named as Fitzgerald, Moore, and Billy Harry Colvin.

The winged-T with an unbalanced line again will be presented by Bernice along with the "shotgun" passing offense.

In making the switch to 2-B, Bernice has added Columbia, Mangham, Sterlington, and defending champion Holly Ridge to its schedule in order to contend for the Class B title. Dropped from the slate were Sarepta, Benton, and Plain Dealing, all former 1-B rivals.

All but four of the eleven games scheduled will be played at home. The Bears will host Strong, Ark., Sept. 14; Columbia, Sept. 21; Mangham, Oct. 12; Junction City, Ark. (homecoming), Oct. 26; Holly Ridge, Nov. 2; Arcadia, Nov. 9; and Sterlington, Nov. 16.

Bernice travels to Farmerville, Sept. 7; Haughton, Sept. 28; Coushatta, Oct. 5; and Cotton Valley, Oct. 19.

Northwestern Begins Sixth Clayton Year

NATCHITOCHES, La. (Special) —Football fortunes of the Northwestern State College Demons for 1962 went into orbit Thursday with the arrival of more than 60 candidates for Coach Jack Clayton's grid squad.

The gridders got together for their first meal on campus Thursday evening. Friday was devoted to physical examinations, issuance of equipment, and the annual photography session.

Saturday the players got down to the serious business of conditioning drills. Only 12 practice days separate the Northwestern team from its opening conflict with the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks, a State Fair Stadium encounter at Shreveport billed as the "Battle for the Wooden Indian."

Clayton begins his sixth year as head coach with a record of 29 wins, 18 losses, and a tie. Last season's record was seven wins and three losses and the Demons were in contention for a share of the Gulf States Conference title until the final game.

A tough ten-game card faces this year's squad without an open date. High point in the schedule will be the five games against GSC opponents, members of, perhaps, the toughest small college league in the country. In addition, the Demons have one international tilt scheduled, an Oct. 26 afternoon date with Mexico Poly at Mexico City. Newcomers to the NSC schedule are Florence (Ala.) State, and Tarleton (Tex.) State.

Ferriday Boosts Sale Of Ducats For Home Tilts

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) — Reserve seat tickets to Ferriday home football games are on sale at the Ferriday High School according to Principal Charles A. Loomis.

Prinicpal Loomis said that anyone who had a reserve seat ticket last year may get the same one this season.

He added: "If you did not have one please come by my office at the high school and make plans to reserve whatever number you may need."

The principal declared: "It will be nice to come to each game just a few minutes before game time and your seat will be waiting for you. We have six home games and a reserve seat for these games will be $6.00.

BENCH WEAKER

Vidalia Defends With New Backs

By BUCK PEDEN

VIDALIA, La. (Special) —The Vidalia Vikings will find a tough row to hoe when they begin defense of their initial district 3-B championship. The red, white and blue clad varsity has the task of completely rebuilding their backfield.

The Vikings of 1961 waded through a 10 - game schedule without a defeat or a tie while massing 348 points and holding their opponents to only 21. This unit graduated four outstanding senior backs, an all - state tackle (Jerry Richardson), an end (Maurice Greer) that was the first one selected in his position to play in the annual Louisiana all - star football game, and a halfback (George Franklin) that participated in the annual prep All - American game.

The 1962 roster reveals a much weaker bench, which was one of their greatest assests last season. The entire varsity roster includes only 25 players this season. Of these fifteen earned letters during 1961 competition.

These fifteen will make up the nucleus of the new squad. They are Ends — Bill Doyle, Bruce Byrd, and Larry Richardson; Tackles — Eddie Housley, Wally Wallace, and Harry Spinks; Guards— Cliff Feduccia, Ray Moncrief, and Homer Hewitt; Center — Eddie Wisner; Quarterback — Butch Wiggins; Wingbacks — Mike New, Wilbur Nations and Bill Poole; Fullbacks — Mike Greer.

Other players on the team battling for first team berths are Ends — Andy Housley, Jim Aarons, Ronnie Hawthorne, and Frank Talley; Tackle — Wesley Saia; Guard — Al "Moose" Frazier; Center — Ronnie Hebert; Quarterback — Jamie Jackson; and Fullback — Jerrol Cox.

The line will miss Greer and Richardson, but will still be considered one of the toughest in the district with returning starters such as Ed Housley (163), Wallace (190), Feduccia (180), and Wisner (180) furnishing valuable experience.

Last season Wisner was utilized mainly on offense and Wallace specifically on defense. This season they are expected to see dual action and plenty of it with the stiff ten - game schedule.

Like it or not the Vidalia school will probably have the enrollment to enter the Class "A" school group in a few more years. In anticipation head coach, Dan Chase is gradually adding class A opponents to his schedule. This year they will meet three — Ferriday, La Salle, and Oak Grove.

Assisting Chase with the varsity this year will be Fred Foster. Coach Benny Milligan will handle the reins of the junior high squad and will be assisted by Julius Huhn.

Chase said recently he thought his young, green, squad would, "come around sooner, but they were awful slow so far.

"However, we couldn't ask for a group to work any harder than they have been doing," the stocky mentor praised.

Vidalia Quarterback Club president Royce Whittington, helping to push advanced sale of tickets for the school, has club members working with school officials to insure good support. Season tickets for adults are $5, and for students the price is $2 for a schedule of five home games.

New Head Grid Coaches At 5 Area Schools

Just about every season there's a new head football coach or two moving into the northeast Louisiana athletic picture.

This season the number is unusually large with five men stepping into new jobs as chief grid coaches.

The list shows Pete McCulley at Bastrop, Jim Knox at Rayville, Frank Mobley at Newellton, Clyde Thompson at Crowville, and Pete Mangum at Lake Providence.

LINE HOLDS KEY

Mangham Short Reserve Strength

MANGHAM, La. (Special) — If the Mangham High School Dragons had a little more depth in reserve strength the Purple and White could possibly give Coach Armed Mathews a team that would look more like those titled combinations he was boasting not too long ago.

But the word from Mangham High's campus this year says look for a good running team with line strength hobbled by the absence of depth in reserves.

How quickly reserves develop and how much full-steam work regulars can give without substitute help could determine how far the Dragons, a power in district 2-B for the past several years, can go this season.

Heading the list of returned talent are six old regulars, four of them seniors and two after their third football letters.

Halfback Noble Hatch, 160-pounder, and tackle Frank Hendrix, 182, are seniors who have already earned two monograms.

Other regulars back are seniors Robert Boughton, 186-pound guard, and Jerry Gilley, 131-pound halfback; junior Jimmy Lee, 170-pound tackle; and sophomore Billy White, 151-pound fullback.

Coach Mathews, busy getting the Dragons ready for their opener at Wisner Friday night, teams with assistants Dalton Faircloth and Thee Jones, in moulding a new split-T machine with Jerry Mercer being moulded as team gunner in the passing department and Hatch listed for punting duty in addition to all-around ironman work in the backfield.

Squadmen indicating they'll give the Dragons lots of help this season are backs George Marlowe, Lee Booth, Earl Pailette and Carl Pailette, and center Ronnie Mercer.

Regulars missing from last year are guard John Lee, tackle George Ducote, guard-tackles Hiram Coughran and Johnny Georgia, center Robert Harwell, wingback-end Charles Owens, end Douglas Wilkinson, and quarterback Dee Faircloth.

Mangham had a 5 won-5 lost season in 1961, showing wins over Wisner, Southside of Monroe, Lake Providence, Sterlington, and Crowville but bowing before Sicily Island, Columbia, Holly Ridge, Rayville, and Delhi.

The Dragon's first four games--Wisner, Southside, Sicily Island, and Lake Providence--are on the road, and they won't show in Mangham until October 4 against Columbia in a conference battle.

Columbia will be the first of five straight home games and followed by Bernice, Oct. 12; Sterlington, Oct. 19; Crowville, Nov. 2; and Holly Ridge, Nov. 8.

Road games are Wisner, Sept. 7; Southside at Monroe, Sept. 14; Sicily Island, Sept. 21; Lake Providence, Sept. 28; and Rayville, Nov. 16. October 26 is an open date.

STILL PASSING TEAM

Louisiana Tech Has Early Stress On Ground Game

RUSTON, La. (Special)—Emphasis on developing a stronger ground game and a better all-around defense may get priority with the Louisiana Tech grid squad that opened drills Saturday in preparation for the opener here Sept. 29 against McNeese State, rated a co-favorite with Northwestern State in the Gulf States conference race.

It is a safe bet that the Techmen will again have a strong passing attack with Mickey Slaughter back in the kennel along with such receivers as Jerry Griffin, Charlie Bouregois, Billy Keever, Paul Labenne and other younger players.

A third or fourth place finish has been forecast for the Techsters in the GSC race, but Tech and its pro-type offense is likely to cause opponents plenty of misery during the campaign.

Tech's defense was adequate most of the time last season, but was not up to Tech standards of previous seasons. Nor could the Bulldogs three and four-yard the opposition into submission on the ground as in the past.

A real strong ground attack would make Slaughter's passing even more effective and no one knows that better than Coach Joe Aillet and his Tech staff. Operating behind Slaughter will be Pat Shows of Ruston, Bruce Weaver, North Caddo soph, and Billy Laird, frosh from Woodlawn of Shreveport.

There should be a real scramble for the halfback jobs. Paul Labenne of Shreveport and Bob Ashley of Minden may rate shots at the starting berths but they will draw stiff competition from such as Jitterbug Jack Odom of Fair Park, Kenny Tidwell of North Caddo, Mickey Strother of Farmerville, Wayne Noland of Tallulah, Corky Corkern of Bossier City, Tommy Robertson of North Caddo, Jerry Barr of Shreveport Jesuit, Jack Hopkins of Waterproof, Dwain Nettles and Alvin Ballard of Baton Rouge Istrouma, and Jay Westbrook of Ruston.

Nothing is set at fullback either and any one of four players could cop the top berths there. Wally Martin of Ruston and Ronnie Carson of Jonesboro-Hodge are more experienced but Charlie Miller of Sicily Island and Gerald McDowell of Sulphur, both red shirts last year, could oust them.

A good old fashioned intrasquad battle for backfield positions seems assured at Tech during training prior to the Sept. 29 opener.

72-MAN SQUAD

'Big' Fits West Monroe's Size, Must Prove Ability

The answer to West Monroe High's football success in 1962 may lie in the game's key positions - quarterback and the interior of the line.

If enough men come through at these spots the Rebels of Coach Cecil Pirkey should roll. And right now Pirkey feels he'll have sufficient quality at these posts and the other positions to field one good team. He is praying no one will get injured.

Only eight lettermen were lost from the 1961 team, while 16 return. But the losses were heaviest at center, guard tackle and quarterback.

KEY LOSSES

Gone are veteran linemen Cline Averett, Neil Young, Jewell McBroom, Butch LaBrano, Richard Cook and Barry White. One index of their worth to West Monroe is that LaBrano signed a football scholarship to Louisiana State, McBroom to Northeast, and Averett will run track for the Indians.

The backfield losses were quarterback Fred Newton and fullback J. U. Liner.

Otherwise, the Rebels, who have 72 men out for varsity football, are bigger than a year ago and have a hard running, fast backfield. A lot of college teams won't field a bigger eleven.

HEARD QUARTERBACK

The answer to the quarterback problem will have to be senior Buz Heard (170). Heard is not an expert passer and may be a bit slow, but he knows the mechanics of quarterbacking well and makes up for any shortcoming with extra effort.

At halfback are speedsters Woody Woodcock (170) and Charlie Van Zile (180). Woodcock was West Monroe's leading rusher a year ago with 659.5 yards and a spectacular 10.2 per carry average. Van Zile clipped off 435 yards for a healthy 5.1.

At fullback the Rebels have bruising Bobby Brice (190) who really came on his own in late season last fall. Brice rambled 223 yards, most of it up the middle where the going was rough. He could be one of the best backs in 1-AAA this fall.

With a backfield that can roll with good quarterback leadership, the only other question is the line.

GOOD ENDS

End is relevantly well manned with Chuck Crawford (190), reggie Pleasant (185) and Richard Jones (215) battling for the two top positions.

But the interior of the line is another question.

Pirkey has one returning tackle and nine other boys out for the position. The returnee, Mike Shepherd (220), has one post just about nailed down. Right now the other spot is still up for grabs, but transfer Howard May (200) has the inside track. May played for Morgan City before moving to West Monroe.

At guard, the Rebels have a six - man race going on for the two positions. Charles Womack (200), Jerry Gilbert (180), Roger Bell (180), Rodney Shean (175), Charles Beasley (180), and Glenn Carter (200) are all scraping for the openings.

WESTON AT CENTER

Morgan Weston (190) should handle offensive center duties, turning the defensive over to Larry Pittard (170).

Any way you look at it, West Monroe will be big, a good bit bigger than last year.

If the quarterback, enterior line and depth questions clear up it could be a banner year for the Rebels.

Even Pirkey feels they will clear up, at least enough to predict having a better team than the '61 edition which won six and lost four.

But, he pointed out, this won't guarantee a better year in the won, lost column. Just about everybody else in the district should be stronger too.

Like all football teams, the 1962 West Monroe club is pretty much a question mark before the season opens. You'll have to wait and see to know what the Rebels can do.

Fullback Jim Taylor of the Green Bay Packers spends the off-season tending his ranch with 20 head of Black Angus cattle in Louisiana.

The Detroit Lions have played before 10,201,459 paying customers in 326 games since they entered the National Football League in 1934.

IF GARY PAPPAS can start the 1962 season like he ended the 1961 campaign he could be one of Neville High's outstanding backs. After playing in the shadow of more experienced stars all last year, Pappas scored the winning touchdown in the double-A state championship game with Lee of Baton Rouge to end the season.

TROJANS NUMBER 49

Tallulah Defends Class A Throne

By N. A. "BOB" WHITE
Editor, the Madison Journal

TALLULAH, La. (Special) — Forty-nine grid hopefuls reported to Tallulah High School football coaches R. A. "Racer" Holstead, Billy Laird and Martin Verhagen to carry the fortunes of the Trojans in defense of their state Class A championship. Of this number only 12 are lettermen, including five starters from the 1961 championship team.

Trojan followers can look for a much lighter backfield than usual for Tallulah, but Coach Holstead indicates his ends and tackles will about measure up to that to which Tallulah has become accustomed. But there's need to build at the guards to bring the line back to par.

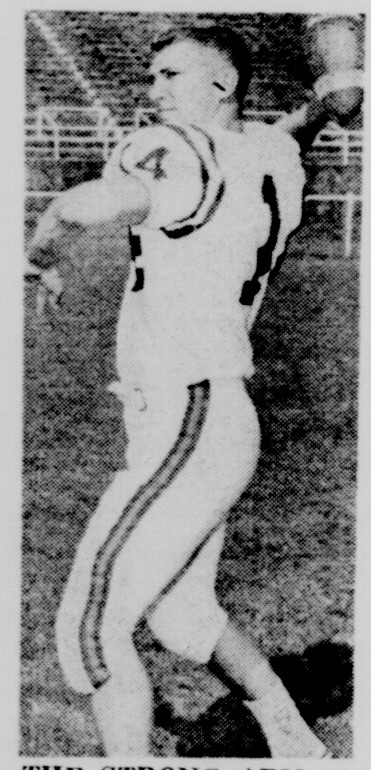
After all, you can't lose such linemen as Donald Hodge and Billy Ross Graves, or backs like Chapman Lee and Leonard Neuman and expect to take up where you left off last season.

Supporting the five regulars back in the lineup will be eight other lettermen, but the big need is to develop more experience in the reserve talent.

Lettermen back, including the regulars, are ends Richard Peeples, John Howard Watts, James Reeves and Bill Gilfoil, but the latter may miss the full season because of a foot operation; tackles Jerry Wilson and Shelton Eubanks; guards Buster Erwin and Ludia Westmoreland; center Tommy Bishop; halfbacks James Wilson and Ed Yerger; fullback Mike Luckett; and quarterback Donald Trichell.

Supporting squadmen, many to play important roles in the new campaign for THS include ends Shelby Watson, David Godfrey, Chris Friis, Claude DeMoss, Kenneth Graham and Don Morton; tackles Allen Williams, Tony Russell, Danny Watson and Lane Wilson; guards Donald Rich, Johnny Trichell, Ronald Hancock, James Durr, A. J. Whitley and Brooks Nichols; centers Donald Lee, Charles Wilson, and James Thomas; halfbacks Kenneth Smith, Jerry Goings, Bobby Todd, Ed Lee, Woody Cagnolatti, Wayland Durr, Howard Morgan, Wayne White, Artie Bray, John Purvis and Danny White; fullbacks Buddy Caldwell, Bobby Morgan, Sammy Weems and Donny Neumann; and quarterbacks Donald Collins, Billy Wayne Laird and David Cagnolatti.

As usual, Tallulah will open the season against the tough Big Eight Conference Mississippi rivals, Cooper High Greenies, at Vicksburg next Friday night, and the Trojans will still be in Mississippi a week later to face Magee on Sept. 14 before appearing in their home opener against the Farmerville Farmers in a Sept. 21 2-A district conference game, to be followed a week later by another conference scrap with Oak Grove here, Sept. 28.



THE STRONG ARM of Mickey Slaughter, veteran Louisiana Tech back, should again make the Bulldogs one of the Gulf States Conference's most feared passing teams.

Other home games will include Rayville, Oct. 12; Lake Providence, Oct. 19; Neville of Monroe, Oct. 26; Ferriday, Nov. 9; and Delhi, Nov. 16.

The Trojans will travel for dates other than the early Mississippi trips to Newellton, Oct. 5 and Winnsboro, Nov. 2.

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

DEAR HELOISE:

If you get chewing gum on a shoe (especially if it is suede) just put the shoe in the deep freeze until the gum is frozen solid and then flick it off with your fingernail. The shoe can be put in a plastic bag first so the frost will not adhere to it.

This is also wonderful for removing chewing gum from little boys' blue jeans and shoes. If you scrape the gum off immediately, it seems to embed itself in the fabric and is so messy.

Another way to remove gum is to hold a piece of ice under the fabric . . . this will make the gum very hard and it will scrape off easily without damaging the fabric.

—Wilma Lawrence

TO BE PINK

DEAR HELOISE:

Did you know that if you used an emery board on that old felt hat with rain spots, it would look like new again? Perks it up real pretty.

This is also nice for suede coats that are worn in spots.

Treva Dindall

OLD STAND-BY

DEAR HELOISE:

I really believe in a feather duster. It's perfect for things and places I wouldn't dream of dusting with a cloth . . . even my son's collections of model airplanes. And I use a man's discarded shaving brush to remove dust and lint from my sewing machine parts. It's wonderful!

Mrs. D. M. A.

LOOSEN LINING

DEAR HELOISE:

I just made new curtains for the house. Now . . . what did I use to line my draperies with? Old sheets! Of course, some of the linings may have one or two seams but they are always neatly stitched and pressed and anyway, who sees 'em?

Not an original idea, I know, but one of my neighbors said, "Well, now, aren't you clever? I just tear mine up for rags."

Mrs. McKay

STORING FOOD

DEAR HELOISE:

Why don't people think to use coffee cans for storing food? They are wonderful!

Instead of fruit jars (which are vacuum packed and no one ever has one big enough) use those one and two-pound coffee cans. They will prevent those nasty weevils from jumping from one condiment to the other, in case one should bring some varmints home from the store. The cans can be painted or covered with contact paper and labeled.

—Elizabeth

LOOK SHARP

DEAR HELOISE:

For those who have trouble keeping creases in their sons' school trousers, here is a hint that will help keep them there much longer after mother irons the trousers.

While pressing the trousers, put a little starch in the water used to wet the pressing cloth. This will hold and set the crease until the pants are laundered again.

Mrs. F. T.

CURTAIN UP!

DEAR HELOISE:

Six years ago I made a bathroom curtain out of yellow dotted nylon dress material.

When it needs washing, I take curtain and rod down together (it's a rustproof rod) and swish the whole thing around in lukewarm suds. Rinse, shake free of excess water, and rehang immediately on the window. I have never ironed it and it looks like new after all these years.

Catherine Whitten

GREAT IDEA

DEAR HELOISE:

I found that an aluminum tea-ball caddy (the kind on a chain) can be filled with spices and immersed when cooking stews and soups, etc.

After cooking, remove the caddy, and your food will be free of cloves, garlic buds, bay leaves and all spices.

Madeline Szuminsky

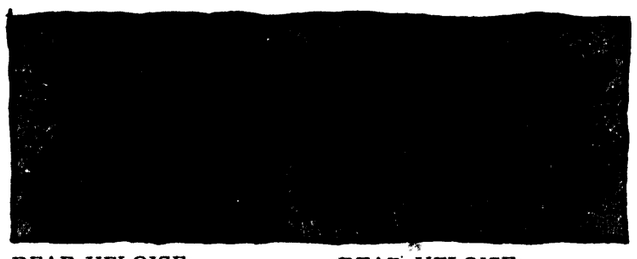
CHAIR IN SHOWER

DEAR HELOISE:

The most fabulous hint that you have ever published was from a mother who told us to put our babies' high chairs in the shower and turn the shower on them to get them clean.

I had struggled with this chore for years. Now I just put the chair under the shower, turn it on and close the curtain. When it is clean I wipe it with a cloth and leave it in the shower to dry. So nice and sanitary.

—Two Hi-Chairs (Twins!)



DEAR HELOISE:

Cutting pizza with a knife was always a chore for me. I solved that little ol' problem by learning to use a pair of kitchen scissors for this job. Works wonders. Quick, clean and sharp without cutting your pan (or foil if you use foil to line the pan before baking).

Mrs. Richard Hetzel

DEAR HELOISE:

When I use a collapsible clothes rack for drying starched clothes (anything I don't put in the dryer) . . . I find the bathtub a convenient place to set up the rack.

This eliminates drips on the floor and gets the clothes out of the way.

Mrs. Farwell Lindley

DEAR HELOISE:

If you rip a hem at the office or school, or even at home—and just have to wear the garment, use Cellophane tape to anchor the hem! Sure has saved me lots of embarrassment. And time.

Gloria Dunn

RUG WASH

DEAR HELOISE:

When I wash my rugs, I use the starch left from the weekly laundry and pour it into the washing machine over the rug, then agitate and spin dry—only slightly—the rug itself.

I find that the little bit of thin starch left on the rug keeps it clean, gives it just enough body so that it will lie flat on the floor, and is easier to sweep.

Ruston Going 'T' For Hoss Garrett

RUSTON, La. (Special)—After nearly a quarter of a century as an exponent of the Notre Dame box system of football, coach L. J. " Hoss" Garrett starts his 25th year at Ruston High School with a switch to the winged-T.

And the quarterbacks to run the T-model machine will come from Melvin Ray Shows, Tommy Folk, Lee Mitchell and Bill Jones, the latter a son of W. A. "Dub" Jones, onetime Ruston High and professional football star.

A 48-player squad answered the opening call for football practice with the roster broken down into ten seniors, 17 juniors, and 21 sophomores.

Seniors are Billy Works, Jimmy Dodds, Jimmy Tait, Carroll Cathy, Tommy Hlburn, Wayne Martin, Bobby Jeffcoat, Wesley Irby, Jimmy Moore and James Gouedy.

Six of Ruston's eleven games this year will be played at home, starting with Minden next Friday night.

SHORN OF SPEED

Neville's Dire Situation Warning Enough For Foes

Neville football opponents, look out. The overall picture at the Monroe school reads like a sheet torn out of the 1961 forecast.

First, the Neville Tigers have 15 lettermen back. Second, only four of them were starters last fall. And third, Head Coach Bill Ruple isn't too happy about the situation.

In 1961 Neville had 13 returning lettermen. Two of them were starters the year before. And Ruple was very unhappy.

Yet, on a cold, rainy night in December last year, halfback Gary Pappas picked off a Lee High pass at Brown Stadium in Monroe and returned it 43 yards for a touchdown that gave Ruple's Tigers their second state AA championship in three years.

In between, Ruple's poor, little boys had blitzed through 11 other opponents with a group of relatively inexperienced boys who were almost too small to play football. What Ruple had done was mold them into the most precision drilled and fastest machine in the state.

SIZE FOR SPEED

Now in '62, despite the other similarities, the philosophy must change. Neville has lost its speed. And this is one of the things that makes Ruple unhappy.

Most of the speed loss is in the backfield where eight men have departed. However, the Tigers will also be without some of their quickest linemen.

Among those who will be missed most are arrow - swift backs: Ralph Roberts, Don Brant, Jerry Jones, Wilson and Payne. In the line the Tigers will be without stellar performers Hershal Walker, Bunzy Bryant, Steve Jefferson, Bob Duncan and defensive specialist Don Christiansen. Both Jefferson and Bryant were on the Tiger relay teams.

What Neville has lost in speed, it must make up with size. It shouldn't be hard. With one exception. Neville's tentative starters on offense weigh as much as a lot of college performers.

That one exception is halfback Jimmy Howard (160), one of the fastest from the lightning-swift corps of backs Neville had last year.

DEPTH PROBLEM

Ruple's other big worry is depth. The Tigers had boys to spare in '61. They could use one - way specialists at key posts on defense and when one boy got hurt, another was ready to take his place. Best example of this was halfback Mike Wilson's electrifying replacement job for injured Robert Payne.

This year Ruple fears he will have one good unit and very little to back it up. How valid his fears are is yet to be seen. Ruple divided his men into two units in the spring squad game and they battled each other to a hearty, mistake - free tie, 19-19.

One big factor in Ruple's favor is his ability to get the most of what he has. In seventeen years at Neville Ruple teams have won 134 games, lost 40 and tied two. He has seen one losing season. A record like this doesn't come from poor coaching.

ONE BACKFIELD STARTER

Neville's experience trouble may be worst in the backfield where Howard is the only returning starter.

However, he will have a good quarterback in 190 - pound Don Saget. The big boy is a fine runner, and appeared much more polished in the intra - squad game. He can throw a long ball and even Ruple expects him to be a "fair" passer before the season is over.

Kurt Guelzow (175), who was switched from end, should be Howard's running mate at the other halfback post. Guelzow also performed well during the spring game, shining on both offense and defense.

Don Johnson, a 170 - pounder is the tentative starter at fullback.

In the line, the worst losses were at end and guard. In addition, the transfer of Guelzow to halfback has made the flanker post even weaker.

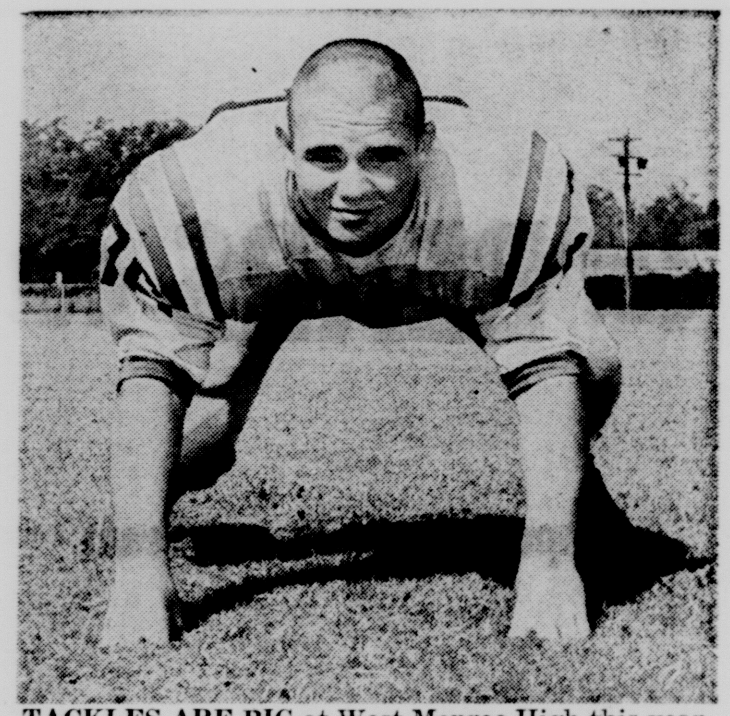
BIG ENDS

Just the same Ruple will have a pair of big boys at end in Gary Hart (175) on offense and Ronald Killen (179) both ways. On defense, the Tigers will switch offensive right guard Jim Willis (183) to left end.

Pete Terzolas (170), will team up with Willis at offensive guard, while Nick White (195) and Pappas will take charge of the defensive guard chores.

Tom Sparks (200) should get the starting nod at center, with Andy Mapp (195) and John Segars (245) handling the tackles. Mapp, who was an offensive guard last year, has been moved over to replace Duncan, one of the finest tackles in school boy football a year ago.

On defense Neville will operate mainly from what is basically a 6-2-3, though the 5-4-2 will still be used some. In addition to the defensive guards and ends, the Tigers will use Mapp and Segars at tackle, Sparks and Johnson at linebacker, Howard and Guelzow as the halfbacks and Saget at safety.



TACKLES ARE BIG at West Monroe High this year, and one of them is Rickey Riser, 210-pound senior letterman. (Staff photo by Ben Bradford)

TALENT-DEPTH PROBLEM

Wisner Strength In 25-Man Squad

By OTIS HASSELL

WISNER (Special)—Coach Wilton Hoggatt and assistant coach W. E. Meredith have 24 boys out at Wisner High School who are working very hard to have a well rounded team.

Lack of sufficient depth is the same old problem, but Coach Hoggatt reports that the entire squad is showing lots of determination, enthusiasm and hustle. The 24-man squad will be led by nine returning lettermen and the Class B Wisner Bulldogs should provide some stiff competition as they campaign in the tough District 3-B.

Returning lettermen are Morgan Ensminger, quarterback; Mike Caldwell and Mickey Carroll, halfbacks; W. H. Sanders, fullback; Jerold Beach, Tom Gough and Kenneth Milby, tackles; Larry Lachney, end, and Joe Pike, center.

Other members of the Bulldog squad are: Henry Beach, Walter Beach, Butch Calhoun, Dale Clark, Bobby Dampier, Thomas Edwards, Tommy Ensminger, Buddy Ferguson, Ronnie Ferrington, Lionell Hilburn, Tommy King, Jerry McManus, David Moore, Gene Pickering and David Roach.

Wisner will open its season against the Mangham Dragons here September 7.

Following home games will be with Waterproof, Sept. 20; Sicily Island, Sept. 28; Vidalia, Oct. 5, and Crowville, Nov. 16.

23-MAN SQUAD

Thompson Takes Crowville Reins

By OTIS HASSELL

CROWVILLE, La. (Special) — Coach Clyde Thompson in his first year as head coach at Crowville High School has his work cut out for him.

The District 3B Crowville Bulldogs have won only one game in the past two years and have a 23-man squad out this year which includes nine returning lettermen.

Coach Thompson is 25 and comes to Crowville from Vidalia High School where he was assistant coach for the past two years. Last year Vidalia was District 3-B champion and lost out in the semi - finals in the state playoff.

Thompson is a product of Delhi High School and Louisiana Tech. He quarterbacked the Delhi Bears from 1952 through 1955 and was quarterback for the Louisiana Tech Bulldogs. He graduated from Tech in 1958.

Coach Thompson and his asstants Judson Warren and Claude Ezell have been holding two-a-day practice sessions since August 15 and report that although the squad is young and inexperienced, they have been working hard and that there is a great deal of improvement especially in the younger players.

First action for the Bulldogs will be on September 7 when they host Davidson High School of St. Joseph at Crowville in a conference tilt.

2 REGULARS RETURN

Oak Grove Does Remodeling Job

OAK GROVE, La. (Special) — "Three-five-one" is Coach Woody Boyles' pre-season forecast of Oak Grove High School football fortunes although it could be a much happier year with the figure bigger on the front and more like zero in the middle.

Last year Oak Grove won three, lost five, and tied two, and a young and inexperienced club that shows only two starting seniors is grounds enough for Coach Boyles to anticipate a near repeat of the 1961 record.

Four juniors and five sophomores will comprise the starting lineup for a squad that lost 18 lettermen last spring.

The only regulars back on duty are quarterback Mitchell Butler, 155-pound senior, and Dennis Sanford, junior right tackle at 152 pounds.

Lettermen returned are fullbacks Lloyd McMillan and Mickey Broadway, both sophomores and 160 each; halfbacks Vernon Bankston, 155, senior, and David Kennedy, 162, junior; center Kent Davis, 162, junior; tackle Jerry Hagan, 178, tackle; and end Mickey Turner, 165, junior.

New faces moving into the line with Sanford and Butler are unsettled, and apparently the only additions already near clinching jobs are tackle Hagan, guard Colburn Colquette, center Davis, and backs Mike Gammill, Kennedy, and Broadway.

It's tough to lose boys like ends Bobby Bonnett and Joe Pat Phillips, tackle Carlton Smith, guards James E. Shivers and Billy Turner, outstanding pivotman Zane Tubbs, and backs Sammy Smith, Roger Hudson, and George Murphy and come up with a winner overnight.

Except for one tackle, the defensive unit seems nearer polish than the offense. McMillan and Phillip Smith have been installed at guards; Hagan at a tackle, Gammill and Murphy at ends; Davis and Jim Boyles, the latter a 14-year-old freshman, as linebackers; Kennedy and Butler as halfbacks, and Broadway at safety.

Columbia and Eudora, Ark., teams that beat Oak Grove by identical 20-14 scores last year, have been dropped from the new schedule, the places taken by Vidalia, defending district 3-B champion, and Plain Dealing. The Tigers can't be expecting easier foes as Vidalia and Plain Dealing together amassed 21 victories last season.

Only three games will be played on home soil--Sterlington here, Sept. 21; Farmerville, Oct. 12; and Vidalia, Nov. 9.

The rest of the schedule will be met on the road at Delhi, Sept. 14; Tallulah, Sept. 28; Rayville, Oct. 5; Winnsboro, Oct. 26; Plain Dealing, Nov. 2; and Lake Providence, Nov. 16

WEIGHT SHORTAGE

Columbia Has Swifter Eleven

COLUMBIA, La. (Special) — Coach Jim Turner won't have quite as heavy a team as has been the case at Columbia High School the last few years, but it might be that weight is being sacrificed for speed.

There's evidence that the Crimson Tide, with its multiple-T offense will have a little more speed than usual, and by the time Coach Turner and assistant Glenn Meredith turn their Red and White charges loose that Columbia can claim a leading contender in the 2-B district race.

Return of regulars like Fox McKeithen and Larry Ellerbe at ends, tackle Billy Bolton, guard Virgil Stamper, center Chet Taylor, and halfbacks Jimmy Duff and Bruce Kenney give the Tide a strong hub around which the rest of the club is being built.

Duff, Ellerbe, Kenney, McKeithen, and Traylor are two-year lettermen, and Ellerbe is a sophomore at 155 pounds. McKeithen, 160, is a junior, while Duff, 160; Kenney, 145; and Stamper and Traylor, each 155, are seniors.

Some of the heaviest members of the squad are lettermen back from the 1961 club with more important roles this year, and this list includes a trio of two-year lettermen in fullbacks Bobby Durham, 150, senior, and Clint Thornton, 160, junior; and left end John Bolton, 160, senior.

Loss of right guard Jerry Stapleton and fullback Larry Curry from last season's club have been sore blows to the Tide's offense, but Billy Bolton already seems due to take Stapleton's place in the line, while Clint Thornton is expected to take over at fullback.

There are two changes this year in the Columbia schedule. The Bernice Bears, swinging into a 2-B competition in a switch over from 1-B, replaced Oak Grove, a team Columbia defeated 20-14 last year, and tough LaSalle of Olla, returning to the Columbia slate to renew neighboring parish rivalry, gets the spot held last year by Lake Providence, a Class A club that barely beat the Tide, 13-12.

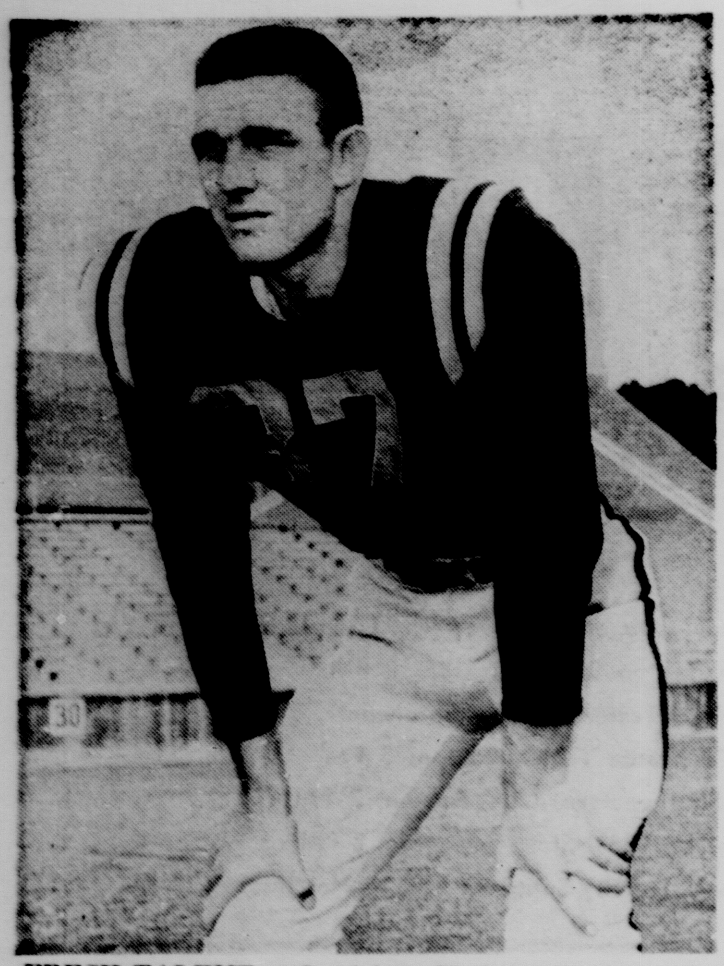
HAN-DEE STOP

No. 1 and No. 2 To Serve You Better



FRESH TALENT at Louisiana Tech can be personified by Wayne Noland, Tallulah, a fullback who helped make the Trojans Louisiana's Class A champions. He's 195-pound power runner high in Tech's grid plans.

PICTURE IMPROVED

Ouachita Has Better Size, But Still Needs Experience

Things are beginning to look up for the Ouachita High Lions. Fifty candidates for varsity and B-team berths greeted Head Coach Bob Ellen the first day of practice, one of the biggest Lion squads in some time. In addition it will be one of the heaviest.

But only six of the fifty were starters a year ago and the Lions will lack depth in the line. In addition Ouachita will field a fairly young team with six seniors, 25 juniors and 19 sophomores.

FAST BACKS

Ellen has a good supply of running backs. They are small, but fast. He has a good punter in end Jack Trimble (160) who averaged 42 yards per kick last year, and a big, if inexperienced forward wall.

Both first string ends were starters last year. In addition to Trimble, Ellen has Billy Gerson (170). Backing must come from sophomores Wayne Stover (170) and Elmer Smith (160).

Junior tackles Larry Lolly (225) and Harvey Carsey (215) get the starting nod and obviously will give Ouachita plenty of heft here. Lolley was a starter in '61 and Carsey lettered as a JV. Behind them are two more sophomores, John Brooks (195) and Bobby Nixon (175).

INEXPERIENCED GUARDS

Guard may be the most inexperienced spot. Tentative starters are Hughie Parker (190), a senior who is playing his first year of varsity ball and Merrill Moody (155) a sophomore, who lettered last fall. Juniors Ron Powell (205) and Arthur Garlington (150) could break into the starting lineup.

Senior Warren Ward (175) gets the nod at center. He started 50 per cent of the games a year ago. Other centers are Gene Howell (140), a sophomore, and junior Steve Rader (165).

RUNNING QUARTERBACK

Ouachita will get good quarterbacking from junior Kenneth Slusher. At 180, Slusher is the biggest boy in the Lion backfield. He can throw well and is a fine runner, particularly on the option play.

Behind Slusher is Carl Gilstrap (140), a senior who should see action this fall. Gilstrap lettered as a JV in '61 and will provide the Lions with quarterbacking depth.

At right half Ouachita should go with Ronnie Walling (150), Walling, a junior, transferred from Pine Bluff, Arkansas this year.

Junior Freddie Monroe (130) and sophomore Charles Hill (140) can back up Walling.

POWELL AT HALF

Donnie Powell (150), a junior in his first year of varsity ball, is the number one candidate at left half. Any pressure will come from senior Randolph Bowles (150) and sophomore Jimmy McGuffie.

Ellen's biggest boon is the number of boys he has out this year. The drawback is the lack of experience. With the 25 juniors back for another season, '63 could be the big year.

This fall may be too soon for the Lions to really move, though they should be stronger than a year ago and may pull a lot of surprises.

FISHERMEN IS HANDICAPPED

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—A local golfer and a local fishermen were arguing the relative merits of their hobbies.

Finally, the golffer told the fisherman "I have the advantage over you."

"How come?" said the angler.

"Well," said the golfer, "you have to have something to prove your story."

HALF COACHES NEW

LaGrange Looks Like 2-AAA Best

By CHARLIE MEYERS
Written for The Associated Press

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — New coaches will ride at the helms of exactly half of the Southwest District triple-A football teams when the season opens Sept. 7, but it will be the same old story as far as the championship race is concerned — La. Grange.

The Gators, district champions in 1959 and 1960 and the runner-up a year ago, have another power-packed unit this season, one that most observers feel to be head and shoulders above any other in the league.

Jimmy Austin, whose presence is responsible for no small part of the wave of optimism that has swept through Gator fans, will be experiencing his first year as LaGrange head man after a long and successful tenure at Lake Charles High.

And, as one may suspect, quite an array of talent graces the camp of the south Lake Charles school, but the Gators are also not without their problems.

A big question mark is at quarterback, where a converted guard —Lloyd Christ—is counted on to fill the bill. But LaGrange coaches feel that the powerful, 6-foot-2, 195-pounder could develop into a real star. If so, he should be right at home in a gigantic backfield that includes John Demarie, another big (210) ex-lineman at fullback and Rusty Fry (190) at halfback.

Lettermen Terry Esthay and Dickie New will lead a line corps that is amply stocked with big, eager performers.

The race to see who will have the task of challenging the Gators should be a hot one, indeed, with Lafayette, Lake Charles, and Sulphur the most likely candidates for runner-up honors.

Bolton's youthful Bears could challenge this group, but even a wisdom born of 28 years of successful coaching is not expected to enable Faize Mahfouz to lift New Iberia out of its accustomed cellar position in his first year in the Yellow Jacket camp.

Roy Collins, taking over at Lake Charles, will face the problem of inexperienced personnel, but this situation should not be nearly so acute as a year ago when the Wildcats won only two of ten. Improved size and depth could spell a good season for the 'Cats, particularly should a group of eager sophomores develop.

Quarterback Delman McNabb and fullback Paul DeMary, a big, 195-pounder, will be the offensive stars, while tackle Richard Cretini and end James Wolf should anchor the line.

Sulphur coach Jack Doland will be plagued by the loss of every single performer from his 1961 state semi-finalists with the exception of placekicker C. T. Campbell. But all is not gloom in the Tor camp, since the replacements —while small—are the possessors of exceptional speed and attitude. Best bets for stardom this year are Campbell, who will play at end, guard Terry Lyons, tackle Jimmy Istre and quarterback Frank Blake.

Lafayette, bidding for second after last year's third-place finish, should field a sturdy defensive unit, but will depend chiefly upon untried performers for its offensive punch. Tackles Robert Heflin and Jon New and end Walter Dillenback will anchor a sturdy line, but halfback Gerald Hebert is the lone back with real game experience.

New Iberia will have five 1961 regulars and a total of 11 lettermen on hand—the best figures in the district. But it must be remembered that this is the same group that compiled an 0-9 record a year ago. While Mahfouz can be counted on to eventually rejuvenate the Jacket grid fortunes, the accomplishment of that task in 1962 is too much to ask of anyone. Arthur Mazerold, who threw often (and quickly) behind a porous line last year, will provide real talent at quarterback, but behind him, the Iberians are of unknown quality.

TENNESSEE, TECH CLOSE

LSU, 'Bama, Ole Miss Are 1-2-3 In Southeastern Race

Here is a capsule report of strengths and weaknesses as the start of fall practice nears:

Alabama: Must replace team leader and ace quarterback Pat Trammell. Best bet is sophomore sensation Joe Namath. Fullback Mike Fracchia, SEC rushing leader in 1961, reinjured his left knee and may be lost for the season. Some sophomores will have to deliver as line reserves if the Tide is to maintain its brilliant defensive record.

LSU: Main job is replacing leading scorer Wendell Harris, leading rusher Earl Gros and All-America guard Roy Winston. Rich in talent, LSU should be improved on attack with sophomores Pat Screen (quarterback) and Danny LeBlanc (halfback) joining veterans Jerry Stovall and Lynn Amedee. Interior line may not be quite as strong.

Mississippi: Will rely on more sophomores than usual on second and third units. First team, guided by quarterback Glynn Griffing, should be terrific. Fullback problem could be solved with shift of Perry Lee Dunn from quarterback. Line is very solid.

Tennessee: Tailback star Mallon Faircloth will duel LSU's Stovall for back of the year honors. Vols are bigger and stronger and deeper and may have their best team since 1956 SEC champions.

Georgia Tech: First line will average 222 pounds and should be one of nation's best. Reserves currently under par. Backfield should be stronger with addition of sophomores Jeff Davis, Tommy Jackson and Gerry Russell. Dave Watson at guard might make All-America.

Florida: With more depth than disappointing 1961 team, Gators figure to come back strong. Halfbacks Dick Skelly, Lindy Infante and Bob Hoover among best in the league. Line will be larger, stronger.

Auburn: Line is the problem since most 1961 regulars departed. Back's represent Auburn strength. Keep your eye on sophomore halfback Tucker Frederickson, 215-pound speedster. Maybe a year away from contention for championship.

Kentucky: Rebuilding with new coach, Wildcats nevertheless sport one of nation's great passing combinations in quarterback Jerry Woolum and end Tom Hutchinson, the latter a two-time all-SEC pick. Weak interior line. Also short on backfield speed.

ONE REGULAR BACK

Bernice Enters 2-B Grid Race

BY A. J. LAUTIGAR

BERNICE, La. (Special) — Coach Malvin Sistrunk moved his Bernice High School Bears, who have been campaigning in 1-B, into the 2-B circuit this year with just one regular back from the 1961 club that won five, lost two, and tied three.

"Gone, but not Forgotten" is a phrase that fits 14 departed lettermen, especially all-district Charles Colvin, who was a mention for all-state tackle; Johnny Buckley, halfback who was an all-district mention last year; and end Robert Jackson and guard Jerry Lautigar.

Other departed seniors are tackles Harold Jones and David Jackson, centers Johnny Paine and Woody Reeder, guard Larry Green, end Kermit Pilgreen, quarterback Ronny Fitzgerald, halfbacks Ricky Albritton and Minor Patton, and fullback Roger Reeves.

Right halfback Larry Fitzgerald, 155-pound senior, stands alone as the only starter back from the '61 machine.

Six other lettermen back him up and form the core of the squad coach Sistrunk and assistant Simon Pearson are trying to mould into a winner.

These are Raymond Abercrombie, 155, senior, and Benjamin Farrar, 165, junior, at the tackles; William Lynn, 160, and Henry Lunsford, 145, junior ends; Danny Otts, 150, junior guard; Billy Harry Colvin, 160, junior fullback; and M. L. Moore, 150, senior halfback.

Others making bids for places on the team include Wayne Abercrombie, 140, Ronny Lautigar, 150, Cal Colvin, 135, and Steve Martin, 130, guards; Rudy Hurst, 115, Leo Reeder, 150, Charles Jackson, 155, and James Hurst, 140, ends; Ricky Aden, 145, and Mike Grafton, 145, quarterbacks; Ronny Evans, 135, Johnny Marsh, 115, and Randal Aden, 135, halfbacks; and Roger Simpson, 140, center.

Promising freshmen are Jimmy Lindsey, 160, center; Kenneth Boyett, 160, and Travis Jones, 180, tackles; Ronny Jenkins, 110 and Paul Brazzel, 125, ends; Robert Harkins, 130, and Dickie Roach, 130, guards; and Bruce Dendy, 115, halfback.

Team tri-captains have been named as Fitzgerald, Moore, and Billy Harry Colvin.

The winged-T with an unbalanced line again will be presented by Bernice along with the "shotgun" passing offense.

In making the switch to 2-B, Bernice has added Columbia, Mangham, Sterlington, and defending champion Holly Ridge to its schedule in order to contend for the Class B title. Dropped from the slate were Sarepta, Benton, and Plain Dealing, all former 1-B rivals.

All but four of the eleven games scheduled will be played at home. The Bears will host Strong, Ark., Sept. 14; Columbia, Sept. 21; Mangham, Oct. 12; Junction City, Ark., (homecoming), Oct. 26; Holly Ridge, Nov. 2; Arcadia, Nov. 9; and Sterlington, Nov. 16.

Bernice travels to Farmerville, Sept. 7; Haughton, Sept. 28; Coushatta, Oct. 5; and Cotton Valley, Oct. 19.

Northwestern Begins Sixth Clayton Year

NATCHITOCHES, La. (Special) —Football fortunes of the Northwestern State College Demons for 1962 went into orbit Thursday with the arrival of more than 60 candidates for Coach Jack Clayton's grid squad.

The gridders got together for their first meal on campus Thursday evening, Friday was devoted to physical examinations, issuance of equipment, and the annual photography session.

Saturday the players got down to the serious business of conditioning drills. Only 12 practice days separate the Northwestern team from its opening conflict with the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks, a State Fair Stadium encounter at Shreveport billed as the "Battle for the Wooden Indian."

Clayton begins his sixth year as head coach with a record of 29 wins, 18 losses, and a tie. Last season's record was seven wins and three losses and the Demons were in contention for a share of the Gulf States Conference title until the final game.

A tough ten-game card faces this year's squad without an open date. High point in the schedule will be the five games against GSC opponents, members of, perhaps, the toughest small college league in the country. In addition, the Demons have one international tilt scheduled, an Oct. 26 afternoon date with Mexico Poly at Mexico City. Newcomers to the NSC schedule are Florence (Ala.) State, and Tarleton (Tex.) State.

Ferriday Boosts Sale Of Ducats For Home Tilts

FERRIDAY, La. (Special) — Reserve seat tickets to Ferriday home football games are on sale at the Ferriday High School according to Principal Charles A. Loomis.

Prinicpal Loomis said that anyone who had a reserve seat ticket last year may get the same one this season.

He added: "If you did not have one please come by my office at the high school and make plans to reserve whatever number you may need."

The principal declared: "It will be nice to come to each game just a few minutes before game time and your seat will be waiting for you. We have six home games and a reserve seat for these games will be $6.00.

Heloise's Hints

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

DEAR HELOISE:
If you get chewing gum on a shoe (especially if it is suede) just put the shoe in the deep freeze until the gum is frozen solid and then flick it off with your fingernail. The shoe can be put in a plastic bag first so the frost will not adhere to it.

This is also wonderful for removing chewing gum from little boys' blue jeans and shoes. If you scrape the gum off immediately, it seems to embed itself in the fabric and is so messy.

Another way to remove gum is to hold a piece of ice under the fabric . . . this will make the gum very hard and it will scrape off easily without damaging the fabric.

—Wilma Lawrence

TO BE FIRM

DEAR HELOISE:
Did you know that if you used an emery board on that old felt hat with rain spots, it would look like new again? Perks it up real pretty.

This is also nice for suede coats that are worn in spots.

Treva Dindall

SID STAND-BY

DEAR HELOISE:
I really believe in a feather duster. It's perfect for things and places I wouldn't dream of dusting with a cloth . . . even my son's collections of model airplanes. And I use a man's discarded shaving brush to remove dust and lint from my sewing machine parts. It's wonderful!

Mrs. D. M. A.

LOOK! NO RODS

DEAR HELOISE:
I just made new curtains for the house. Now . . . what did I use to line my draperies with? Old sheets! Of course, some of the linings may have one or two seams but they are always neatly stitched and pressed and anyway, who sees 'em?

Not an original idea, I know, but one of my neighbors said, "Well, now, aren't you clever? I just tear mine up for rags."

Mrs. McKay

STORING FOOD

DEAR HELOISE:
Why don't people think to use coffee cans for storing food? They are wonderful!

Instead of fruit jars (which are vacuum packed and no one ever has one big enough) use those one and two-pound coffee cans. They will prevent those nasty weevils from jumping from one condiment to the other, in case one should bring some varmints home from the store. The cans can be painted or covered with contact paper and labeled.

—Elizabeth

LOOK SHARP

DEAR HELOISE:
For those who have trouble keeping creases in their sons' school trousers, here is a hint that will help keep them there much longer after mother irons the trousers.

While pressing the trousers, put a little starch in the water used to wet the pressing cloth. This will hold and set the crease until the pants are laundered again.

Mrs. F. T.

CURTAIN UP!

DEAR HELOISE:
Six years ago I made a bathroom curtain out of yellow dotted nylon dress material.

When it needs washing, I take curtain and rod down together (it's a rustproof rod) and swish the whole thing around in lukewarm suds. Rinse, shake free of excess water, and rehang immediately on the window. I have never ironed it and it looks like new after all these years.

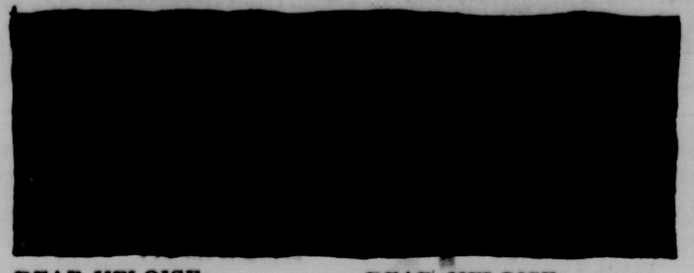
Catherine Whitten

GREAT IDEA

DEAR HELOISE:
I found that an aluminum tea-ball caddy (the kind on a chain) can be filled with spices and immersed when cooking stews and soups, etc.

After cooking, remove the caddy, and your food will be free of cloves, garlic buds, bay leaves and all spices.

Madeline Szuminsky



DEAR HELOISE:
Cutting pizza with a knife was always a chore for me. I solved that little ol' problem by learning to use a pair of kitchen scissors for this job. Works wonders. Quick, clean and sharp without cutting your pan (or foil if you use foil to line the pan before baking).

Mrs. Richard Hetzel

CHAIR IN SHOWER

DEAR HELOISE:
The most fabulous hint that you have ever published was from a mother who told us to put our babies' high chairs in the shower and turn the shower on them to get them clean.

I had struggled with this chore for years. Now I just put the chair under the shower, turn it on and close the curtain. When it is clean I wipe it with a cloth and leave it in the shower to dry. So nice and sanitary.

—Two Hi-Chairs (Twins!)

DEAR HELOISE:
When I use a collapsible clothes rack for drying starched clothes (anything I don't put in the dryer) . . . I find the bathtub a convenient place to set up the rack.

This eliminates drips on the floor and gets the clothes out of the way.

Mrs. Farwell Lindley

DEAR HELOISE:
If you rip a hem at the office or school, or even at home—and just have to wear the garment, use Cellophane tape to anchor the hem! Sure has saved me lots of embarrassment. And time.

Gloria Dunn

RUG WASH

DEAR HELOISE:
When I wash my rugs, I use the starch left from the weekly laundry and pour it into the washing machine over the rug, then agitate and spin dry—only slightly—the rug itself.

I find that the little bit of thin starch left on the rug keeps it clean, gives it just enough body so that it will lie flat on the floor, and is easier to sweep.
